SYRACUSE CREWS SURPRISE EXPERTS

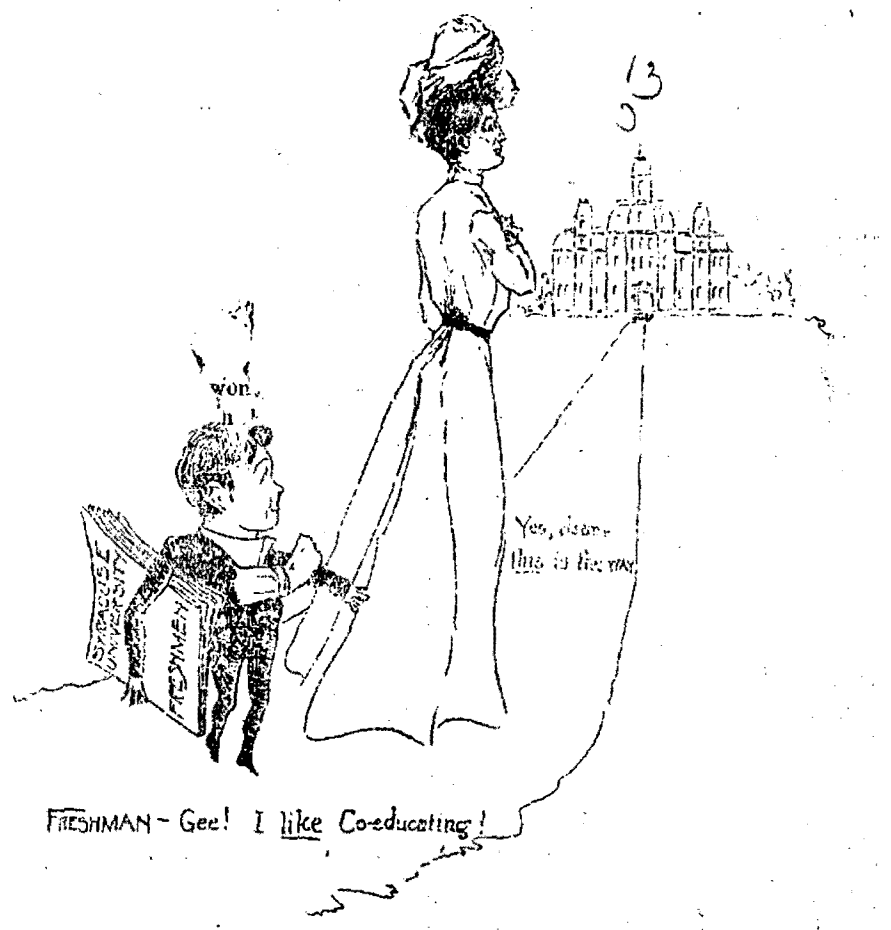
Great Freshman Crew---Stone Elected Captain of 'Varsity.

The races at Poughkeepsie last June were attended with a great surprise. Cornell, as was expected, captured first honors in the 'Varsity four-oared, eight-oared and freshman contests. The surprise, however, was the work of Syracuse and Georgetown, two unknown quantities in the racing colony. Georgetown gave Cornell a fair fight for first place in the 'varsity eight-oared, and the Syracuse freshmen pulled such a splendid struggle that it was very doubtful in the last half mile which crew would win. One expert on the observation train said that the Orange youngsters would have won had the course been twenty yards longer.

The freshman race was the most exciting of the day. Soon after the contest commenced it developed into a struggle between the Red and White of Cornell and the Orange of Syracuse.

It was a much better race than the 'varsity race, because three crews had a fighting chance in it, whereas the 'varsity was a procession with Cornell as leader. At the mile Syracuse had the nose of Wisconsin's boat amidships. At the mile and a half the Badgers spurted desperately. They brought their boat abreast of Syracuse and from the shore the regular, rhythmic dip of the bodies of the two crews looked very pretty. But Wisconsin had met a better crew and it required only the word from Coxswain Miller and Packard hit up the stroke and pulled away easily and surely from their Wisconsin rivals and started after Cornell, barely a length in the lead.

Thirty thousand people from the train, from the boats, from the shore and bridge watched the Syracusans set out to catch their Ithaca rivals and watched Courtney's perfectly trained oarsmen put more strength in their stroke, more energy in their pull, bend to their work with every bit of power in their bodies in their efforts to get a stretch of river between their stern and the bow of the Syracuse boat.



When the flag on Edwin Gould's yacht, the Aileen, fell, announcing that the race had been won and lost, every man who held a watch knew that Syracuse had forced Cornell out to break the world's record. A few minutes later the time, 2.18, was hung out on the bulletin boards. The record was broken by a second and a half, and then Cornell men, Syracuse men, Wisconsin, Georgetown, Pennsylvania and Columbia men cheered in chorus.

The freshmen rowed in this order: Packard, captain and stroke; Falkey, bow; Bradley, No. 2; Kimberley, No. 3; Magoon, No. 4; Rice, No. 5; Salisbury, No. 6; Bump, No. 7. It would be a good idea to paste their names in your scrap book for they are comers.

The knowing ones had said that Coach Ten Eyck must be judged by the performance of his freshman and not his 'varsity crew. The freshmen were trained by him from the beginning. With the 'varsity the case was different. The men in the boat were veterans. They had been taught to row Sweetland's style and to attempt to teach them a new stroke would be to spoil them. So Ten Eyck labored under the difficulty that one coach encounters when he tries to teach another coach's stroke. And if the 'varsity won no laurels he is not to be blamed.

But Syracusans are naturally jubilant over the aquatic future of the university. They believe that it has at last emerged from back in the ranks and that with the example of Ten Eyck's freshmen before them, men will get out for the crew next year to make it certain that Syracuse will be an important factor in the next regatta at Poughkeepsie.

NEW BUILDINGS ON CAMPUS

Haven Hall, Heating Plant and New Library Wing.

Syracuse University continues to grow under the masterful hand of Chancellor James R. Day. There are two new buildings and a new wing to the library now in course of construction. The new buildings are Haven Hall, a dormitory and a central heating plant. All the buildings were planned by Professors Frederick W. Rovels and Earl Hollenbeck of the Architecture Department of the University.

Haven Hall, at the northwest corner University Ave and Place, as well as the other additions to the campus, was started early in summer. The building is to be of the Italian Renaissance style, four stories above the basement. The base to be of Onondaga limestone and the upper part of brick trimmed with Ohio sandstone.

Haven Hall will be 110 feet long and 54 feet deep. It will front on University Place. The main entrance will be from a court twenty feet deep. There will be an entrance to the main dining room from both University Ave. and University Place. Also an entrance to the private dining room from University Place. There will be an entrance on the west side to the servants' rooms in the basement. There are four entrances, both to the basement and first floor. The main entrance feature is a vestibule of the Pure Doric order, extended up through the entire building. This entrance is of carved stone with pilasters, pedimented window and ornamented gables.

There are seventy-five rooms, which can be rented and with more than one person occupying a suite there will be accommodations for one hundred and fifty students. Each suite is arranged with a study room, for the most between two bedrooms. A suite can be arranged to accommodate three or four if the study room is used as a bedroom.

The corridors are fire proof like the stairs, and the fire escapes are especially well arranged. The building is arranged in a U shape, giving the maximum of light to every room. Most of the rooms face on the campus.

The basement is to contain a large dining room, a private dining room, culinary apartments, rooms for trunks and bicycles. The culinary apartments include a kitchen, pastry room, cold storage room and a cellar for vegetables.

The first floor includes a large clubroom, 40 by 20 feet, ornamented with columns and [illegible] places. The main entrance is flanked by a large parlor on either side of the entrance. For receptions, parlors and clubroom can be opened into one large apartment.

Haven Hall is to be completed by next June. It will be enclosed this fall. The plumbing and electric wiring is to be installed this winter. The plastering will be finished next spring.

The central heating plant is also to be completed by next spring. It is located in the valley back of Smith College near the Archbold Field. It will save a large amount of money to the authorities, and at the same time be very up-to-date and an ornament to the campus.

The outside of the building will be of cut Ohio sandstone, the same material as was used for the L. C. Smith College of Applied Science. The roof will be built of tile and the interior will be faced with pressed brick.

Miss C. Elizabeth Smalley.

The death of Miss C. Elizabeth Smalley occurred last Wednesday night at No. 607 University avenue. Miss Smalley had been ill about three weeks with Bright's disease. Her sudden decease was a stunning surprise to a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Miss Smalley was a member of the class which was graduated from Syracuse University last June. She pursued the philosophical course at college and attained the highest honors in scholarship, an election to Phi Beta Kappa. She was a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority and took a leading part in many lines of college work.

The funeral took place last Saturday afternoon. Dean Smalley of Liberal Arts College and Mrs. Smalley have the sympathy of their daughter's many friends and acquaintances.

Chancellor James Roscoe Day returned home last Saturday from a trip in Europe with his wife, daughter, Miss Imogene Day, and niece, Prof. Jean Marie Richards. The Chancellor left Syracuse last June for a two months' trip, which included England, France, Switzerland, Holland and Belgium. He visited many of the great universities of those countries, including technical schools, to compare foreign with American methods.

ANNUAL SALT RUSH POSTPONED

Exciting Flour Rush Last Night ---Entering Class Very Large.

The advance guard, and most of the main body of the freshman class, is with us according to all reports. They have come from all quarters of this country, also from many foreign parts. The authorities believe the 1907 class will ultimately be the largest in the history of the University. This means the number may reach nine hundred to one thousand students when all the colleges shall have commenced.

The usual happenings and some unusual take place in the actions of the green and inexperienced class. The new boxes for letters in the Hall of Languages seem to attract general attention from the freshmen. One lad wished to know who was postmaster and the method by which freshmen could draw their mail. A joking "soph" put up the notice the other day "No freshman shall talk in the halls of this college." Many freshmen by their silence seemed to take the sign in earnest.

The sophomores have issued the following proclamation to the class of 1907:

HARK! HARKEN!!

PROKLAMASHUN

To the Innocents of '07.

The gentlemen and gentle ladies, rustici et rusticae, from Snodgrass Corners, Reuben Junction, Loonlyville, Tranquility, Matilda Center, etc., greeting:

We humble sophomores, to whose solicitude and care you as fresh men and women are entrusted, freely and pleasurably offer the following suggestion for your guidance and preservation:

1. Memorize the following rules:

2. Your presence in chapel is required every morning. Chapel seats for term can be obtained for 25 cents of any member of sophomore class.

3. Fail not to attend the sophomore-freshman reception, Thursday night. Men of freshmen class will bring sophomore ladies. Gentlemen of sophomore class will care for the freshmen ladies.

4. Always tip your hat to members of classes above you, and to ladies.

5. Hand the name of the "frat" you wish to join to the Executive Committee of the sophomore class.

6. Always raise your hand before addressing the professor in class.

7. Get permission from faculty before calling at Winchell Hall.

8. Examination in these rules will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. in room 15 Liberal Arts.

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT, 15.

Four years ago a student entered Syracuse University. Since that time by her charming personality, loyalty to the college and enthusiasm for all good causes she made a name for herself that may well be envied by others pursuing the college course. She was an ideal Syracuse girl. As a student she was ever conscientious in doing her best, persevering until she attained success. In the moral and social life of the University she was a worthy representative of all that was noblest.

During the past week an all-kind Father has recognized her noble work here on earth, and called her to his great University on high. Her self-sacrifice, devotion and love for all that was noblest and best, has finally been rewarded and given greater scope by the Master.

Those who knew her can hardly realize that they will no longer see her kindly face and enjoy her presence. Their sympathy, as well as that of the whole student body, is extended to Dean and Mrs. Smalley in the loss of a loving and devoted daughter. Her earthly presence will not be with us. Her influence, however,, still remains to make all those who knew her better because she lived and worked with them. Higher reward can none of mankind desire or attain.

Syracuse University seems to have departed from the old rut during the last ten years, in the remarkable growth of its buildings and resources. Not only has the Chancellor seen, as through a vision, a wonderful future for the University; but he has grasped every opportunity for realizing his plans. The result is seen in the splendid array of buildings and departments added to the University during the last decade, or since he has been Chancellor.

The most recent additions are the new dormitory, Haven Hall, named after Chancellor Haven, the second chancellor; the new central heating plant and the new wing to the library. These buildings fill a great need in the University for increased facilities. Haven Hall is the second link in a chain of dormitories ultimately to be erected about the campus. It is a sign of greater growth in University fellowship. The new heating plant is a decided step in advance for the University. Excellent results should come from its use. The addition to the library fills, for a time, a want for a great University library worthy of Syracuse.

As the students live and act in sight of this new growth, may they grow in loyalty, enthusiasm and devotion to Old Syracuse.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Syracuse University has always been conservative in its growth. This applies to the journalistic enterprises as to all other departments. Soon after the college was founded a body of the students started the monthly which has continued its high standard to the present day. In the early nineties a weekly was published, which with a few changes in name, has come to us in its present form. A tri-weekly also held sway for a time six or seven years ago. Since then the growth of the University along all lines has been remarkable.

Now, with its splendid student body of over two-thousand, its large faculty and great resource, the time has come when Syracuse University takes its rank with the leading colleges of the country in publishing a daily newspaper.

The SYRACUSE DAILY ORANGE is the title by which the official daily newspaper of the University shall be known. The enterprise was first broached by some of the students early in January last. After much thought and work which insured a successfull outlook, the plain was laid before the Chancellor and faculty early in March. It received their official sanction. Since that time the plan for its success, both financially and as a literary paper worthy of the University, have been perfected, with the result which you see before you.

The ORANGE aims to furnish all the college news while it is news, to serve as a bulletin both for Professors, and for student activities, to give the alumni news and news of other colleges, and in all things to unifiy the interest of all the Syracuse colleges into one great and ever-growing University.

The management of the ORANGE wishes its many friends and critics to over look the crudities and mistakes, which may appear from time to time. We are all human and bound to make mistakes. This is especially true in a daily newspaper staff. We have labored long and hard for success. We cannot be perfect in literary style or selection, but we shall endeavor to attain an excellence in the ORANGE which shall make for it an honored name in college journalism.

THE DAILY ORANGE WELL RECEIVED.

The Faculty Give New Enterprise Their Hearty Approval.

The plans of the ORANGE have been well received by the various members of the faculty, and many of the alumni throughout the country. The student body generally favor the new project. Concerning the paper, Chancellor Day, according to The Post-Standard of May 22, 1903, is in favor of such an endeavor as it is a sign of Greater Syracuse. Dean Smalley said of it that after learning fully the plans of the promoters, and discovering that they had studied the situation, it seemed feasible and desirable. Professor E. A. Emens emphasized the need of such a medium, saying:

"A DAILY IS NEEDED IN SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY AS MUCH AS IT IS NEEDED IN ALL LARGE UNIVERSITIES. THE FACULTY AND STUDENT BODY NEED A DAILY BULLETIN AND ALL IMPORTANT DAILY NEWS."

Professor Franklin Holzworth said: "A DAILY PAPER WILL BE A DECIDED STEP IN ADVANCING THE INTERESTS OF THE UNIVERSITY."

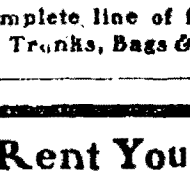
Professor Peck said: "YES, IT'S A MIGHTY GOOD THING. YOU CAN COUNT ON MY HEARTY SUPPORT."

"Doc John" Cunningham was very enthusiastic and said he would "BE WILLING TO DELIVER THEM HIMSELF, IF NECESSARY; TO HELP THE GOOD CAUSE."

Professor Peritz said: "THE PROJECT OF A UNIVERSITY DAILY IS TO MY MIND A PLEASING INDICATION OF THE GROWTH OF OUR UNIVERSITY. OUR FACULTIES AND STUDENTS ARE NOW SO SCATTERED IN DIFFERENT LOCALITIES AND BUILDINGS THAT WE NEED TO BE DAILY REMINDED THAT WE ARE MEMBERS OF THE WHOLE. A UNIVERSITY DAILY THAT WILL FURNISH THE NEWS OF ALL DEPARTMENTS IS CALCULATED TO FOSTER COLLEGE SPIRIT AND UNIVERSITY FELLOWSHIP AND I AM HEARTILY IN FAVOR OF IT."

The Sunday Herald of May 24th also quotes a number of professors who are deeply interested in the ORANGE. Professor Mace says that a daily paper is a splendid thing and wishes it the greatest success. Reverend R. Alfred Waite, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., expresses substantially the same opinion.

To-day the students are given the first issue of a daily college paper devoted to their interests and to the growth of Syracuse University. It is their property to improve as time goes on. It has a noble ideal before it and hopes the students will give its announcement careful attention to see its aims.



The ORANGE desires the hearty co-operation of the student body, faculty and alumni. It will endeavor to give the latest and best news every day. It does not and has not desired to interfere in any way with any of the other University publications. The staff is representative of the five colleges. It is open in competition to all students. Several new men will be appointed at mid-year. The men who do the best work will be chosen. Everyone has a chance. It is our desire to be impartial in all the departments of the Daily Orange. We are working for the best interests of Old Syracuse and hope you are with us in doing likewise.

FRESHMEN ORGANIZED.

The first meeting of the Freshmen class was held yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. Building. R. E. Bacon of Syracuse was elected temporary chairman and E. Hanke of Buffalo temporary secretary. A special committee was appointed to arrange for the class rush last evening, Arthur Hartigan being chosen chairman. Mr. Schauf was appointed a committee to have the class song printed. Parkhurst, Carlson and Mount were appointed rush captains for last evening. The yell chosen for 1907 is as follows:

Rip them up, what's the use, 1907, Syracuse.

The Salt Rush, which occurs after chapel the first day of college, has been postponed for a week. Mr. Arthur Hollingsworth, who is president of the sophomore class, met the Chancellor at his office yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The rush was postponed in accordance with the views of the class of 1905 and with the hearty approval of the Chancellor. It was done in deference to the memory of Miss C. Elizageth Smalley, daughter of Dean Smalley.

In an interview with an ORANGE representative immediately after this action, Chancellor Day said: "The action of the sophomore class in postponing the salt rush at this time is very gratifying to me." The postponement for one week will give the freshmen an opportunity to become acquainted and thus give the sophomores a harder tussle.

It is to be hoped that the Salt Rush will not be omitted because of this action. It is one of the distinctive customs of Syracuse University and should not be allowed to go over a year. The omission of such a custom this year means a probable failure to revive it next year. The reasons for such failure are self-evident to those who have ever participated in a salt rush. The customs distinctive of Syracuse are very few. It is hard to start new customs with such a scattered student body, so we should keep and strengthen all those we now have, for they are all good.

Flour night, another custom of note, had its annual votaries perform last night. The battle of sophomores loaded with small bags of flour, and the freshmen with flour and lamp black took its usual course last night between 8 and 10 o'clock. It was fought on the campus and through Walnut Park.

The sophomores, a mighty band of men led by Black Chief Packard, gathered early on their stamping ground in front of Liberal Arts College. The sophs took to the trail so soon as they heard the freshman tribe was approaching. Chief Packard did not need to teach his followers in tactics. They were veterans of many campaigns and hard knocks. So they advanced, knowing full well what was coming. The freshmen, of little experience, but great valor, also gathered in the still watches of the night in the vicinity of the battle ground. They had numerous scouts and leaders on duty, who, being given the nevessary password, allowed the new recruit to pass within their lines. After all had gathered the scouts shouted: "Advance, 1907!"

The batte was waged long and earnestly. All were in a humor which prevented any hard fighting or accidents. The upper classmen also took care of matters and prevented many disputes.

When all was over the freshmen marched about, gave their yell and song, then departed, having been duly initiated into the mysteries of Flour Night.

DELTA GAMMA CONVENTION

The July number of the "Anchora," the official organ of the fraternity, gives a comprehensive account of the thirteenth biennial convention of Delta Gamma, held with the Omega Chapter in Madison, Wis. The delegates from Rho Chapter, Syracuse University, were Miss Florence Distin, '04, and Miss Frances Morgan, '02. In the same number of the "Anchora" Miss Cooley, '05, gives an interesting account of happenings in the local chapter.

WEATHER REPORT.

Tuesday—Rain and cooler.

Some time before the first issue of the ORANGE, "Dr. John" Cunningham stopped the business manager and inquired if the list of subscribers had yet been made out. "I want you to put my name down for the first," he said, and thereupon paid his subscription. At all times "Dr. John" is one of the most enthusiastic and loyal men. Should everyone show such splendid spirit Syracuse would lead everywhere.

OOTBALL PRACTICE ON THE OVAL

Excellent Prospects This Year --- Schedule For This Season.

Forty men have reported so far and been ted out with suits. Yesterday nearly l the men reported between 3 and 4 clock. The line men were taken in charge y Graduate Coach Parish, while the back eld was drilled by Graduate Coach Brown. oth squads were given a few simple for- ations, then followed practice in starting, unting and falling on the ball. The work ncluded with a run several times about e oval.

The new men average up much heavier an the Varsity of last fall. It is a ques- on, however, whether the new material ill all prove to be Varsity timber.

The old men who have reported include aptain O'Neill, 1904; Brane, 1904; Robert ark, 1905; Irving Smallwood, 1906; Seward ice, 1906; D. L. Tucker, 1906; J. L. Lane, 905; H. S. Van Dusen, 1906; C. H. Evans, 906, and L. B. McMickle, 1906.

There are many promising freshmen. mong the number is Walter North of Syr- cuse, formerly tackle on the High School eam. He is heavy and fast for his weight. N. Crawford of Cazenovia Seminary is howing up well. He played a strong game ack of the line at "prep" school. He also s a promising man for the high jump in rack work. Sidney Lanctot is one of the est performers among the 1907 men. He layed a star game at right tackle last fall n the Masten Park team of Buffalo. He as a worthy confederate in Abe Erismann, who olayed half back on the same team. Erismann also played third base on the Masten Park baseball team.

Several of the Varsity men have failed to report so far, but are expected to do so in the near future. Fred Schade, 1906, has de- cided not to return this fall. He has an ex- cellent position on the electric construction work of a railroad running near Batavia, N. Y. Efforts are being made to have him reconsider his determination. George Moore, 1904, as captain of the baseball team, has much work cut out for him. He expects to report in about two weeks. George Hares, 1904, who was substitute tackle last year, has determined not to play this fall. This means the loss of an excellent man in the line.

Rumor had it that Van Duyne, the giant hammer thrower, was to take Wikoff's place at center. Van Duyne emphatically denies this statement.

Manager Rubin is busy every day, assist- ed by Harry Baker, 1904, in fitting out the new men with suits. He says: "We are as busy as beavers getting into shape for the Cortland game this Saturday."

The training table was started with fif- teen men last evening at 113 Waverly ave- nue. Most of these men were of last year's squad. New men will be taken to the table as they come to the standard of the old men.

The following are the men who have thus far reported:

S. E. Andrews, '07; H. Belcher, '06; F. C. Byrne, '05; H. Dargert, '06; A. Krake, '06; I. Smallwood, '06; B. P. Boehim, '06; D. L. Tucker, 06; O. E. Cummings, '07; H. B. Yard, '05; R. S. Moore, '07; F. G. Jones, '07; R. L. Lee, '07; R. B. Wayne, '07; G. Ruben- stein, '07; R. E. Smith, '07; Robert Park, '05; C. B. Dempster, '05; A. Erismann, '07; J. L. Meachem, '05; Captain O'Neill, '04; L. B. McMickle, '06; A. G. McGovern, '04; W. J. Walters, '07; E. P. Rumsey, '06; O. K. Har- wood, '07; H. L. Howes, '07; N. C. North, '07; A. Hollingsworth, '06; C. M. Cortelyou, '06; E. Twombly, '04; W. J. Crawford, '07; J. L. Lane, '05; Ch. H. Evans, '05; H. S. Van Dusen, '06; S. Rice, '06; A. Hartigan, '07; S. Lanctot, '07; N. Crawford, '07; D. F. Brane, '04.

The following is the official schedule for the season.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Thirty-two new tables have been fur- nished the drafting room of the Lyman C. Smith College of Applied Science.

The new heating plant contractors say the building will be completed November 1.

The Chancellor is going to prohibit the upper classmen attending the sophomore- freshmen reception this year. He will an- nounce it in chapel this morning.

The sophomore class has adopted a cap for the freshmen similar to that worn by the freshmen in other colleges. The con- sent of the junior class has been obtained and negotiations are now pending with the senior president. If the consent of both upper classes is obtained it is the intention to have all freshmen wear the cap.

One of the new features in the Hall of Languages is the recently installed system of mail boxes. It is a large wooden case with a small compartment for each letter of the alphabet. Separate compartments are arranged for the men and the women.

The need of such an excellent system has been long felt. The students, now that they have this case, should not misuse it. They should not misplace letters when they have found that the same do not belong to them. Of course no one will ever open a letter which is not his or her prop- erty. They should be careful not to leave wrappers scattered around after taking them off papers. The case will long serve its useful purpose to the students by a little forethought and care on their part. It is but a small sign of the University's growth, but a significant one.

H. M. GALPIN.

A telegram was received last night at 11 p. m. at the Phi Delta Theta chapter house informing the fraternity that Henry M. Galpin, 1905, died yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Galpin was born at Candor, N. Y., June 22, 1882. He was the son of the Rev. Stephen D. Galpin.

He prepared for college at the Candor High School. During his two years at Syra- cuse he played on the 1905 football team, rowed on the 1905 crew, and rowed bow oar on the 1903 'varsity crew. He was pursuing the Latin scientific course at college. He resided at Danby from which place the funeral will occur next Friday.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

The local chapter of Psi Upsilon wishes to announce to the student body and public that they are going to observe strictly the rule which they gave out last June respect- ing rushing. They will not pledge any man until the end of the first semester, nor give any promise beforehand of such pledge.

FIRST CHAPEL IN CROUSE COLLEGE

Chancellor's Speech To Enter- ing Class- - Song- - Find- ing List.

The first chapel exercises were held in John Crouse College yesterday morning at 9.40. The organ offertory was played by Instructor Alexander Russell. Then the faculty in cap and gown, led by Chancellor Day, marched in and took seats on the plat- form.

There was a large crowd of visitors from the city who attended the exercises. The four classes were present, the freshmen be- ing seated on the right.

After prayer given by Rev. Dr. Fahne- stock of the First Ward Presbyterian Church, Chancellor Day gave an informal address to the entering class. In the course of his remarks he said: "The small things of college life are those which we see with natural eyes; the large things being those which lay just beyond the horizon. We understand the latter by a sort of wireless telegraphy: "We do not always realize," he said, "that we, no matter how great we may become, go on to a greater life when translated to the Beyond."

"We with a firm faith in a loving God should live and work together for all that is good and noble." He gave the freshmen a brief review of the administration, and the powers of the various officers in the Uni- versity. He also expressed his gratification with the action of the sophomores in de- ferring the Salt Rush in deference to Dean Smalley.

The Deans of the colleges then made their announcements and chapel was dismissed with benediction by Rev. Dr. Packard.

After chapel the sophomores met outside and sang their song. The freshmen also tried their new song, which follows:

1907 CLASS SONG.

Oh, here's to 1907, drink her down;
Oh, here's to 1907, drink her down;
Oh, here's to 1907, for we're on our way to Heaven,
Drink her down,
Drink her down,
Drink her down, down, down.

When both classes had finished their vocal exercises they returned to classes to regis- ter.

As it is difficult to keep track of the fresh- men the ORANGE gives a finding list, which will be revised later when more freshmen have entered.

WED. MORNING, SEPT, 16.

Syracuse has at last earned what she deserves, a place among the leaders in aquatics. The Orange Navy is only four years old. Its growth has been gradual, but its achievements noteworthy. It has fought against heavy odds many times, always striking for success.

Former Coach Sweetland, though he did not bring back a winning crew, or one of the leaders from Poughkeepsie, nevertheless deserves special mention for his indefatigable efforts and many self-sacrifices in bringing the navy to the high standard which it had, when he left.

Coach Ten Eyck is deserving of great praise for the wonderful work he has done. Entering late upon his duties as coach last spring, he worked wonders with the freshman crew; and accomplished much with the 'varsity.

We would give three cheers for the 'varsity, which worked hard under new methods, and still did fine work in the race. The services of four veteran oarsmen, Captain Elden, Lynn Wikoff, Ancil Brown and De Forrest Phelps, are ended. It will not fall to the lot of many to secure such high honors in aquatics, or serve so long as did these men.

Three times three cheers for the sturdy freshman crew who did so nobly for their Alma Mater. They have a brilliant future in the coming three years. May they continue their success in upholding the honor of Old Syracuse.

Another class has entered the University to try its forces with the University curriculum and life. It is doubtless the largest class that ever entered Syracuse. As is customary with a new class, everything is strange, and funny incidents of various kinds have occurred. We would ask the sophomore class to deal kindly with the newcomers when playing any jokes upon them. The freshmen will naturally deal gently with the sophomores when the rushes come in the near future.

Becoming more serious, we would advise the members of the entering class to do their work conscientiously from the beginning. When in trouble about the work, go to the various professors; and they will assist all they can. They are willing and patient, so do not fail in your duty because of being afraid to approach a professor. As a body the faculty of Syracuse is one of the best in the country.

Above all things, live an honorable and upright life. Do not forget home and parents. Your parents and family are watching you every day, and are solicitous for your progress. So with an honorable purpose and high ideal let us all commence this college year.

NEW BUILDINGS ON CAMPUS

Haven Hall, Heating Plant and New Library Wing.

The building will be 45x80 feet and will contain a two-story boiler room and a one-story engine room. The tower wing, which will be fifty feet high, will contain the pump, engineer's and work room. On one corner of the tower will be an octagonal smokestack after a medieval style, giving a pleasing appearance. The building will be gabled in a Romanesque style. The smokestack will have an up-to-date smoke consumer. The main elevation of the building will face College Place.

There will be a coal storehouse 40x80 feet, built of steel and fireproof concrete construction, at one side of the building. It will be supported by cast iron columns and teams can dump the coal without touching a shovel. There will also be a room for the ashes and an elevator to lift them to the surface.

A narrow gauge railroad will connect the coal storehouse with the boiler and ash rooms. Besides the engines and dynamos there will be accommodations for six large 100-horsepower boilers. Two boilers, one from Crouse College and one from the Hall of Physics, will be installed, besides two new ones. Reserve space will be left to install two more as they are needed. A large pump will be installed to give the college buildings on the campus fire protection.

The construction of the conduits and connections with the buildings is in charge of Mr. Harte Cunningham, superintendent of buildings. The digging commenced on Monday, July 6. The outside work will be completed by Thanksgiving.

The main tunnel, 6x5 feet inside, is of concrete. It runs from Smith College to the heating plant, and is so arranged that later branch conduits may be run to the new engineering buildings of the future.

The main conduit runs west from the heating plant. It is made of French brick and has a concrete bottom. The conduit carries two pipes, one for taking the steam under pressure to the buildings; the other to bring back the condensed steam to be used again.

A duct is built alongside the tunnel to carry the electric wires for lighting all the buildings. The steam pipes are placed on rollers ten feet apart to allow for expansion. At every expansion joint is a manhole to allow examination whenever accidents may happen. The pipes are inclised in logs fitted with tar, asbestos, wood and sawdust made in the form of a log so as to carry the pipes. These prevent radiation. All joints and angles are fitted with asbestos.

A branch conduit runs from the main line to each building for heating and lighting.

The pipes are all run to grade so as to carry back the condensed steam, excepting to Winchell Hall, and from there it will be pumped back. The main conduit is of the same width as far as the Hall of Physics. At that point and beyond it is of sufficient width to allow for a new building behind John Crouse College.

The old system will be used most of this college year, or until the new plant is finished. The new plant will be used also for experimental purposes by the mechanical and electrical engineers. The plant when completed will cost $60,000.

The new west library wing will be completed in the near future, it is expected. It is similar to the other wing in appearance and interior arrangements. The library classes will occupy most of the rooms. The Co-operative Association will have a room in the basement. All of the space has already been assigned.

During Prof. Hawley's absence in Europe, Miss Grace L. Evans will act as substitute. She will instruct in cast drawing. Her preparation is of the best, as she comes from Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts at Philadelphia.

Prof. Walker, in connection with his former work, will assist in the instruction of the architectural students in drawing.

Miss L. E. Newton has been added to teach china painting. She has had the best instruction at Rochester and is experienced as a teacher.

Edward Hanlon, who has coached Columbia's crews for several years, retired from his positoin yesterday, September 15. The alumni of the University held a meeting last July and unanimously recommended Jasper T. Goodwin, Columbia, '76, for the place. The meeting was held shortly after the Poughkeepsie races, and with the poor showing of the Columbia crews fresh in mind. However, it was stated after the meeting that no criticism of Coach Hanlon or his methods was offered, the only expressions concerning him being those of regret that he was no longer able to put Columbia crews in a place on a level with the best.

Reports have been circulated during the summer that Georgetown University would not be represented next year in the intercollegiate races at Poughkeepsie. Such seeemed to be the prospects at one time, because of the heavy expense involved in sending a crew such a distance. Georgetown is usually represented in the regatta by a 'varsity crew only. This year's crew made such a fine showing that the alumni of the University have responded liberally and without doubt the crew bearing the dark blue and gray will be seen at Poughkeepsie as usual.

SYRACUSE CREWS SURPRISE EXPERTS

Great Freshman Crew---Stone Elected Captain of 'Varsity.

The comment of the New York papers on the showing of the Syracuse freshmen follows:

The Herald—Syracpse was a surprise in this event, holding second place from start to finish and coming exceedingly close to the old record.

The Journal—The Syracuse crew never let up until the bark of the gun that announced the finish of the race. The Cornellians won by three-quarters of a length, in 9 minutes 18 seconds. They had achieved the distinction of making a new record, but they were completely exhausted from the effort.

The Sun—In the freshman race Cornell broke the record, rowing two miles in 9.18. The Ithacans led from the first half-dozen strokes and won by a good length from Syracuse, the Salt City boys showing the result of careful coaching at the hands of James Ten Eyck.

Cornell in the 'varsity eight-oared race failed to break the record because at no time after the first half mile was she pressed by any crew in the race.

The surprise of the race was that Georgetown's crew, the adherents of which had not dared to back her for better than fourth or fifth place, rowed out of the bunch in the last mile, and while never a competitor of Cornell showed four other well advertised crews a clean pair of heels.

During the first half of the race, second and third places were contested for by the crews—Cornell safely in first place—in two divisions, Georgetown, Wisconsin and Columbia for second and Pennsylvania and Syracuse fighting gamely for third.

The brilliant feature of the race was the contest for fourth place, which put Wisconsin upon her best efforts even to defend third. Down the last mile they came in a bunch, amid the roaring of cheers, Cornell leading by full 10 lengths, easily pulling a stroke not exceeding 30 to the minute, Georgetown safely second, Wisconsin holding third and Pennsylvania and Syracuse all but in a dead heat for fourth place—Columbia away in the rear. And so they finished.

Syracuse 'varsity rowed as follows: Stone, stroke; Captain Elden, No. 7; Phelps, No. 6; Dempster, No. 5; Becker, No. 4; Brown, No. 3; Wikoff, No. 2; Galpin, No. 1, and Curtiss, coxswain.

The order and results follow: 'Varsity four-oared race, 2 miles—Cornell first, time 10 minutes, 34 seconds; third of a length over Pennsylvania, second, time 10 minutes, 35 4-5 seconds; third, Wisconsin, time 10 minutes, 55 3-5 seconds; fourth, Columbia, time 11 minutes and 14 seconds.

Best previous time in four-oared race 10 minutes, 31 1-5 seconds, made by Pennsylvania in 1900.

Freshman race. Eight-cared, two miles—Cornell first, time 9 minutes, 18 seconds; Syracuse second, time 9 minutes, 22 1-5 seconds; Wisconsin third, time 9 minutes, 32 seconds; Columbia fourth, time 9 minutes, 41 seconds; Pennsylvania fifth, time 9 minutes, 45 seconds.

Best previous time 9.19½, made by Yale in 1897.

'Varsity race, four miles, eight-oared—Cornell first, time 18 minutes, 57 seconds; Georgetown second, time, 19 minutes, 27 seconds; Wisconsin third, time, 19 minutes, 29 2-5 seconds; Pennsylvania fourth, time 19 minutes, 33 3-5 seconds; Syracuse fifth, time 19 minutes, 36 2-5 seconds; Columbia sixth, time 19 minutes, 54 1-5 seconds.

Best previous time 18.35 1-5, made by Cornell in 1901.

Robert R. Stone, 1904, of Marcellus, was elected captain of the next year's 'Varsity crew after the races. Stone rowed at No. 5 in the freshman boat his first year at college, and also captained that crew.

IRST CHAPEL IN LIBERAL ARTS

lass Meeting for the ORANGE and Other College Papers.

he first chapel held in Liberal Arts College yesterday morning was crowded with den's. The Chancellor made a short address, which included some timely advice the freshmen. He spoke of the necessity eliminating the upper classmen from the phomore-freshman reception because of e great danger which attends the crowd- of the gymnasium running track with icious upper classmen.

After the Chancellor's address Dean ailey made a number of routine announcements. He then turned the meeting er to The DAILY ORANGE and the eekly, calling on George Hares, president the Athletic Association, to take charge. essrs. Eddy and Evans, editor-in-chief d business manager respectively of the eekly, then spoke in the interests of that blication.

Chairman Hares then called on Rev. Karl hwartz. His theme was "Impossibilis," applying this term to the attitude ken by some individuals in regard to a racuse University daily newspaper. He id that University baseball, track and otball teams and the navy were successely viewed as "impossibilities." He oke of their glorious successes and theord that the DAILY ORANGE must necesrily follow in their footsteps because of a rtain "overflowing energy" always to be und among S. U. men.

Dr. Charles Jewell then made one of his opular "speeches" in advocating the suport of the DAILY ORANGE.

Robert Rubin, '04, manager of the 1903 otball team, was called upon from the tudent body and made a strong appeal to he students to subscribe for the DAILY RANGE and so support "one of the most mportant of the institutions in Syracuse niversity."

CLASS MEETING.

The freshmen class held a special meeting yesterday morning after chapel for the urpose of electing temporary officers. Arthur Hartigan of Syracuse was elected president, B. Kenney was chosen football manager and H. A. Robinson manager of the baseball team. An executive committee of five was also appointed, to hold only temporarily.

A special meeting of the junior class was held yesterday morning immediately after chapel to take action upon the death of Henry M. Galpin. A committee consisting of Earl G. Rice, Arthur Rider and Clifford Searle was appointed to draft proper resolutions.

RECEPTION TOAST LIST.

The sophomore-freshman reception will be held in the Gymnasium Building tonight. Following is the list of toasts:

Toastmaster, A. J. Croft, 1906; "Welcome to 1907," President Arthur Hollingsworth, 1906; response, President Arthur Hartigan, 1907; "College Spirit," J. C. Tressler, 1906; "Afterwhiles," William C. Bryant, 1907; "Religious Societies," R. B. Cook, 1906; "The College Girl," Miss Ada C. Trollan, 1906; "Athletics," O. J. Brown, 1906; remarks by the chancellor.

UNIVERSITY BUILDING.

The students at the Law College, located in the University Block, have been registering the past few days, and the work is now under way. The entering class promises to be very large this year. The class was received by Dean Brooks Tuesday, and have duly organized themselves. Temporary officers have been chosen, and the class will undoubtedly be heard from in the near future.

The second and third year students met yesterday at 9 a. m. and 10 a. m., respectively. Nearly all the old students are back this fall, and the year promises to be prosperous in every way.

THE SUMMER SCHOOL.

The second annual session of the Syracuse University Summer School was held during the past summer. Courses of six weeks' duration were offered by eleven of the leading departments of the University. The success of this session can be judged by the fact that fifty students were present to take advantage of the opportunity of studying in close contact with some of the most prominent members of the University faculty.

The student body was drawn from four classes:

(a) Students having college conditions.

(b) Students and prospective students wishing to remove entrance conditions.

(c) Students wishing to shorten their college course to three years.

(d) Alumni and others, for the most part teachers, wishing to take special work in some one department.

Prof. Street, when interviewed relative to the success of the Summer School, said: "It is true that this summer's session has been more successful than that of the previous session. There was an increase of 25 per cent. in the student body, but there was an even larger percentage of increase in the teaching force. Judging the matter from this standpoint the success of this session of the Summer School has not been as great as might have been expected.

"However, there certainly is a need for a summer school at Syracuse, and if meeting a need be success the summer session of 1903 has been successful."

SMITH COLLEGE NEWS.

The attendance at Smith College this fall is much larger than that of any previous year. This has necessitated an increase in both faculty and facilities. Prof. Nugent now has an assistant, Prof. O. M. Jones of Vanderbilt University. Prof. Jones, who has had a wide experience in mechanical work, will have charge of surveying and railroad work.

Professor Graham of the electrical department has two assistants this year. H. F. Connell, a graduate of last year's class will assist in the department of electrical measurements. George E. Quick from the General Electric Co., will assist in the laboratory and in the dynamo room. The electrical department has two new three phase alternates, belt driven by motors and arranged so as to be used in parallel or separately.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The courses offered in the department of pedagogy are the same as those which were offered last year. In addition to his regular work Prof. Street will give during the fall and winter a course of twelve lectures on sacred pedagogy before the students of Auburn Theological Seminary. In these lectures Prof. Street will apply the principles of pedagogy and psychology to meet the needs of the preacher.

There has been an important change in the headquarters of the department of pedagogy. Lectures will be given in room 35, Steele Hall of Physics, instead of in the Smith Hall of Applied Sciences.

Manager Bateman, 1904, of the band states that this year the University will have a better band than ever before. A large supply of suits and instruments is on hand, and abundant material is reported in the freshman class. Band positions are open to competition, and the manager wishes everybody in the entering class who has any ability to try for a place.

THUR. MORNING, SEPT, 17

The resignation of Dr. Hamilton of the sociological department is greatly regretted, both by faculty and students. Many students are also much disappointed because they will be unable to get work under this department. As Dr. Hamilton goes to his work among the city's poor, the ORANGE and the entire student body extend to him their best wishes and hope for his continued success in his new field of labor.

One of the hardest problems the University authorities have had to solve during the summer has been how to accommodate the large number of students expected this fall. The space is very limited, while the student body is greatly increasing from year to year. It is hoped that during the coming college year the friends of the University will give such financial aid as will enable the erection of several much needed buildings in a short time. Several new instructors have been obtained and new facilities added for this year, but even with these additions nearly all the departments are crowded.

It will be noticed that in yesterday's issue of The ORANGE was a partial list of the freshmen registered in the Liberal Arts College. The balance of this list, as well as that of the entering classes of the various other colleges, will be printed during the next few days as space permits. If the students will save these lists and put them with the last annual catalogue of the University they will then have a complete list of all the students of the University this year, together with their addresses. Such a list is very often a great help in many ways.

The news of the death of Henry M. Galpin came like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky. He was a member of the Varsity crew which rowed at Poughkeepsie last June. The students remember him as a fine fellow of hale and hearty manner. He had a bluff good humor which won him friends everywhere he went. He had only lived two years of the college life, but there was no man more loyal to Old Syracuse. He always did his best as an athlete, and, although not a star, he worked many hard hours on the gridiron and water to uphold the standard of his alma mater. May we, looking upon his loyal life, be more loyal in the duty and acts of our lives.

SOPHOMORES RECEIVE ENTERING CLASS

Upper Classmen Not Allowed in Gymnasium--Toasts--Songs.

The annual reception given to the freshmen by the sophomore class was held last night in the gymnasium. The request made by the Chancellor to the upper classmen, asking them to stay away on account of the weakness of the gymnasium running track, which is used as a gallery, made this reception somewhat of an innovation in the routine of University affairs. The threats made by many upper classmen as to the dire things that they would do had the effect of frightening the committee in charge so that they thought it best to secure a detail of policemen to guard the buildings and contents. Outside of a very slight disturbance, however, nothing was done to break up the function itself.

The reception room was tastefully decorated in Orange and Purple bunting, the Orange predominating. The decorations were pleasing to all, as they were not torn down before the arrival of the guests; the usual occurrence of former years.

Those of the faculty who received were: Dean and Mrs. Brooks, Dean and Mrs. McChesney, Professor and Mrs. F. D. Losey, and Professor and Mrs. P. O. Place. These were assisted by members of the executive committee of the sophomore class. Deans Smalley and Kent were unable to attend.

Music was furnished by the University orchestra. The refreshments were served about 9.30 o'clock and with little difficulty, this too marking a great change from past years. After all had been served, the toastmaster, Albert J. Craft, called for the following toasts:

"Welcome to '07.....Arthur L. Hollingworth
"Sir, you are welcome to our house;
It must appear in other ways than words,
Therefore I scant this breathing courtesy."
Response .....Arthur W. Hartigan
"We will answer all things faithfully."
"College Spirit" .....Jacob C. Tressler
"No wild enthusiast ever yet could best,
Till all mankind were like himself possess'd."
"The Faculty" .....Miss Grace Zimmerlin
"Absence makes the heart grow fonder."
"Afterwhiles" .....William Cullen Bryant
"After a while one intends
To be kinder to his friends."
"Spiritual Life" .....Ruford B. Cook
"True Christianity depends on fact;
Religion is not theory, but act."
"The College Girl" .....Ada C. Trolan
"Women are the poetry of the world."

Instead of being provided with the exuberance of gesture and attitude that has marked the toasts at other receptions, every toast showed a marked effort on the part of each speaker. The applause which followed showed that each in turn was appreciated. Mr. Tressler's toast on "College Spirit" was especially well received, it being of a humorous vein.

After the toast list had been given, the song, Alma Mater, was sung. Soon after the guests departed. Those who were strangers upon entering were now certain that they were really welcome members of Old Syracuse.

The reception lacked some of the fire and spirit, so characteristic of other receptions; but at the same time more effort was spent in making the newcomers acquainted with those who were already students at the University; and in making the evening enjoyable for everyone. It seemed to be the opinion of all present that the reception was much more pleasant than it could have been with spectators in the gallery; especially when those same spectators sometimes expressed a desire to take a part in entertaining the guests. "Doc John" expressed himself by saying that he thought the reception the best that had yet been held.

The committee having the affair in charge were: Evan M. Jones, chairman, Mary E. Mott, Luella M. Miller; Lulu C. Sherman, Ada C. Trolan, Cyrus E. Griffith, Robert Clark, Wm. Y. Boyd, Friend Wells, Oscar J. Brown, Arthur L. Hollingworth and Frank E. Phelps.

It is estimated the attendance was eight hundred.

THE NORTHFIELD CONFERENCE.

The annual Northfield Student Conference held at Northfield, June 26 to July 5, was of unusual interest this year. There were in attendance nearly eight hundred students representing 125 different institutions. Among the eminent men who addressed the conference were Campbell Morgan, Robert E. Speer, W. F. McDowell, R. J. Campbell, of London, and John R. Mott. The fact that these men were the leaders makes it evident that the conference was of a high order.

Aside from the instructive features of the conference, too high an estimate cannot be placed upon the privilege of mingling in the lecture halls and on the athletic field with nearly a thousand Christian men from our leading colleges.

Syracuse was represented by the following men: Edward C. Jenkins, '99; R. Alfred Waite, '01; Charles E. Woodley, '01; M. W. Greenfield, '01; Harry T. Baker, '04; Arthur E. Moody, '05; Charles E. Fenton, '04; E. R. Smith, '04; Robert Greisser, '04, and Roscoe M. Hersey, '05.

If the real value of a ten days' visit at Northfield could be appreciated by Syracuse men the delegation for next year would be greatly increased.

NEW PHYSICAL INSTRUCTOR.

Professor J. A. R. Scott, physical instructor of the University, will have as his assistant this year Miss Katharine Sibley, a graduate of Baron Posse Normal School of Boston, class of 1903. Miss Sibley will have charge of the women's gymnasium classes.

Miss Sibley is particularly adapted to fill the position for which she has been chosen. For two years she was captain of the Baron Posse basket ball team. She received instructions in fencing under Captain A. William Seahahn of the English cavalry, and C. Pierre Plannelli, a graduate of the French Military Academy in Paris.

Miss Sibley is deeply interested in corrective and medical gymnastics, having spent several months observing their results on the deformed in the Boston City Hospital, the New England Dispensary and the Children's Hospital of Boston.

It is earnestly hoped that classes in fencing and swimming can be started as early as possible. Basket ball teams will be organized both in the different classes and for the University.

By her ready sympathy for the needs of the girls, Miss Sibley has won the respect of all those in Winchell Hall, where she rooms. She will be glad at any time to talk with any of the women personally concerning their work. This is an opportunity which should be improved, as in this way the students will get the greatest possible benefit from their gymnasium classes.

She is the undisputed champion in golf of the Meadow Club of Quincy, Mass., having won the title for three successive years.

Dean Smalley reports that Liberal Arts College is full to overflowing. All departments are crowded, but arrangements are being made to accommodate the increase by using all available facilities. Dr. Hamilton's classes, excepting the graduate work, have been dropped, thus affording some room.

The registration according to latest figures is much greater than last year at this time, and there is still the Medical College freshman class to enter when that college opens. The faculty of Smith College is going slowly and very carefully in allowing new students to enter. They are most rigorous in examining credentials.

Fred Wiley, '05, a member of the Sophomore debating team last year, has entered Harvard this fall.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION GIVE RECEPTION

All Classes Invited to Attend Excellent Program--Everyone Welcome

No pains are being spared to make the reception of the Christian Association on Saturday evening next the best in the history of the University. For years past it has been the custom of the Y. M. C. A., together with the Y. W. C. A., to extend a welcome to the entering classes during the first week of the college year. Not only are the freshmen represented, but every class in the University takes an interest and pride in this function.

This year the event will be in charge of the social committees of the two associations as heretofore. The committee from the Young Men's Association consists of: Hyzer W. Jones, '04, chairman; Irving R. Templeton, '04; Arthur H. Ferguson, '04; Roy L. Smith, '04; Charles A. Hargitt, '05; Claude L. Kimmel, '05; Oscar J. Kimberly, '06; Wendell G. Wilcox, '06, and W. W. Andrews, '06. The committee from the Young Women's Association is announced as follows: Miss Beatrice Throop, '04, chairman; Miss Alice Hosley, '04; Miss Helen Ross, '04; Miss Hazel King, '05; Miss Alice Colvin, '05; Miss M. E. Mott, '06.

The reception committee will consist of representative members of the faculty and student body.

The toast list, as far as completed, has been announced as follows:

Toastmaster.....Grove S. Brown, '05
Welcome.....R. A. Waite, '01
The Faculty .....
Y. M. C. A.....Harry T. Baker, '04
"The Man."
Y. W. C. A.....N. Grace Baird, '04
"The Woman."
Football.....George S. G. Hares, '04
"Last Down, Five Yards to Gain."
Track.....Cornelius Van Duyn '04
"First at the Tape."
Baseball.....George O. Moore, '04
"Three Strikes and Out."
Crew.....Robert S. Stone, '05
"Ready All."
Basket Ball.....Miss Helen Ross, '04
"Captain, Ready."
Journalism.....I. R. Templeton, '04
"The Knights of the Pen."

The committees in charge desire to have it understood that the reception is to be strictly informal. Every freshman in college is urged to attend in order to meet his own classmates and members of the higher classes as well. Senior, Junior, Sophomore or Freshman, all will be cordially welcomed at the gymnasium on Saturday evening, September 19, 1903.

DAILY ORANGE BRIEFS.

The Cabinet of the Y. M. C. A. held a meeting yesterday afternoon at 5 p. m. General plans for the future were discussed.

Mr. B. Keeney, manager of the Freshman football team, has issued a call for candidates who care to try for that team.

Mrs. Jane W. Ames of East Dorset, Vermont, has recently given $3,000 to the University. This will make a total given by her of $13,000 during the year.

There has been quite an amount of discussion during the past week as to what class the first year law students belong. Some years previous it has been generally understood that they were Freshmen for the first semester and Sophomores the second semester. On account of these unsatisfactory divisions many difficulties have arisen as to which class teams the first year law men should play on.

The matter was finally laid before the Chancellor for his decision. Yesterday morning in chapel such decision was announced by Dean Smalley. The law students are to be Freshmen the first year and Juniors the second year.

FINE ARTS COLLEGE

The Architectural Year Book for 1903 has just been completed. It was published by the Sigma Rho Alpha Fraternity.

Editor-in-chief, M. F. Reed.
Assistant editor, H. L. Gardner.
Managing editor, G. R. Morris.
Assistant manager, C. F. Park.

The cover is of a grayish brown color and the color design was competed for by the members of the department. The design of Fred R. Lear, '05, was accepted as the best of those submitted.

The paper of the book is of the best glazed variety. There are about eighty pages and over fifty half tones and cuts.

The engravings are representations of the best work in architectural design, beaux arts problems, free and life drawing executed in the department last year.

The book compares well with previous issues both as to size and quality. The cuts are clear and as a whole the book has a clean cut appearance.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The entrance committee held a special meeting yesterday afternoon in order that students who failed to register at the scheduled time might have another opportunity.

The constantly increasing interest in debate in Syracuse University was shown by the large number of men who reported at noon yesterday, for the first meeting of Professor Losey's class in Forensics and Debate. More than forty men are registered in this course, a larger number of men than Professor Losey considers suited for a class of this nature. Those who have not had sufficient preparation and those who do not have a firm intention of working hard in furthering the debating interests of the University were urged to drop out of the class. From the large number of men who will doubtless remain in the class there will be developed men who will uphold Syracuse in the intercollegiate debates of the future.

When it is considered that only those men who have passed--or are taking Professor Losey's course in Debate will be allowed to contest for positions or intercollegiate debating teams, the importance of a large and enthusiastic class is realized.

Professor Losey announced to the class that, although he had made every effort to arrange for a return debate with Brown for this year, he had as yet been unable to make definite arrangements. It is very uncertain whether or not the contest can be arranged. However, the debate with Wesleyan is sure to take place. Every effort will be made to produce a strong team to meet Wesleyan's representatives.

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT, 18

The football season is now at hand and all are hoping for the best from an ORANGE standpoint. Syracuse has made a remarkable record in the past few years. There was a time not long ago when St. Johns Military Academy and Colgate were considered foes worthy of our best efforts. Two years ago the Light Blue and White of Columbia was trailed in the dust by the standard bearers of the Orange. Last year Syracuse had a long, hard schedule, with several of the hardest games close together. As a consequence several men were injured or in bad shape when needed.

This fall finds a larger number of men out than ever before. Much of the material is excellent, but there are still good men who have not yet appeared in suits. We would urge most strongly that these men come out and try. There is a chance for everyone. Do not think that simply because a man is in line this year, who played last season, that he is sure of a place. The coaches, and they determine the line up, do not go on this supposition for a minute. The best man for the place is what they say.

Those who, on account of other work or physical inability, are unable to get out and play should at least come out to practice. Take a few minutes off every day and go out to see the men practice. Learn the names of the men, so that whenever a line up is made you will know every man in line. So familiarize yourself with the best players, names and characteristics, that you will be able to tell them when covered with mud. Cheer the team often and each individual when a good play is made. Give the men the glad hand both in victory and defeat. Let us all pull together and make the coming season an unbroken series of victories.

It is noted by tennis enthusiasts that the courts on the campus are in very bad condition this fall. Perhaps such condition is somewhat excusable on account of the campus being torn up more or less in building the heating plant. There are, however, a large number of students who enjoy tennis and would greatly appreciate a few better courts on the campus.

There is a page in this year's handbook issued by the Christian Associations entitled "Pointers for Freshmen." Among all the timely advice given here, one of the most important is the last instruction—subscribe for at least one college paper. This does not mean that one person in a club or boarding house should take the paper and all the others there read it. Every college student and alumnus should subscribe for the ORANGE. The ORANGE gives all the news while it is news; serves as a daily bulletin and calendar for students; keeps students in touch with alumni and other colleges; and, in short, is the only means to keep in touch with the college world.

But not only for these reasons should each student subscribe personally for the ORANGE, but also because every student should keep a file of each issue. In this way he will have a complete record of the entire college year. Such a record one will come to value more as it grows older. To look over such a record of one's college days in years to come should alone be sufficient argument why each and every students should subscribe.

The Orange Advertisers.

STUDENTS: With a view to creating a sentiment among the students in Syracuse University to patronize only those firms who are interested enough in the University to patronize its publications, the following list of advertisers is given. When buying goods of them, if you will speak about their adv. in the ORANGE you will greatly help the DAILY.

Syracuse Knights of the Gridiron Play Cortland on Archbold Field.

ORANGE MEN PROMISE WELL FOR CONTEST

Coaches Expect To Try Out Much New Material

Probable Line Up --Game Called 3:30 P. M.--Officials.

This afternoon Syracuse will play the first game on her football schedule. The game is a practice one with the Cortland Normal School. Most of the men have been out for practice for only four days and some for but two. Among the old men who have not appeared yet are "Baldy" Moore, guard; Morris, fullback; Rutherford at quarter, and Burrell at end. It is expected that all these men will report during the next two weeks.

Brane, the great guard of last year, and George Hares, the sturdy tackle, have reported the past two days. They will strengthen the team very materially.

Yesterday the men were given hard practice. The weather was much colder than usual and added rather than detracted from the good work accomplished. Running, punting, dropping on the ball and tackling were practiced. Three elevens were then lined up for a time. A scrimmage was indulged in for a short time to give the men a line on to-morrow's work. Graduate Coaches Parish and Brown were kept very busy correcting faults in the elevens lined up. They trained the men in the simple formations and worked them out with speed.

Much comment is being made on the new rules to be used.

It was not to be expected that all the prominent football coaches of the country would be in agreement regarding the value of the changes to be made in the playing rules for this fall. To a great degree the objections to football as a sport have been based on the using of mass plays. These simply mean the concentrating of the efforts of a number of men in the attack in one point of the defence. Why is it that these mass plays have taken such a prominent place in the game of recent years? We think the reason can be found in the material strengthening of the defensive game. The players in large colleges are now so proficient in checking the ordinary methods of attack that mass plays have been adopted as the only sure way to advance the ball. The changes that have been made in rules are, to a great extent, restrictions on mass plays in certain sections of the field. Until these rules have been tested in actual games it is impossible to say just what their result will be. Already the coaches at all the colleges where the game is played with a high degree of skill are making their plans as to how best to combine their eleven men in a concentrated attack under the rules that are to govern play this fall.

During the past few days the coaches have been assisted somewhat by Mr. Carl Dorr, captain of the ninety-nine eleven, and Mr. Patton, captain of the nineteen hundred eleven. This is but one of the many good results coming from the graduate system of coaches. The alumni are taking more interest than formerly and those who can are willing to come up on the Oval and help.

The coaches have decided to use several sets of backs, and a number of lines to play to-day's game. They expect to get a fair idea of the abilities of the new candidates by using about thirty men in the game. It is probable the following men will line up during the first half, but the order is uncertain: McMickle, center; Brane, S. Rice or Tucker, guards; Hare, Dempster or O. Harwood, tackles; Boland, Lane or Yard, ends; Captain O'Neil, quarterback; R. Parks, S. Lanctot or Byrne, halfback, and Cortelyou, fullback.

The referee is Mr. C. Freeman of Princeton and umpire Mr. Southworth of Harvard. The linesmen are still to be picked. The game is to be called at 3:30 and the length of the halves will probably be 15 minutes.

Syracuse with the excellent material on hand should show up fairly well in this game. During the past two years the score made by Syracuse against Cortland was 35 to 0.

Every student is demanded on the field when the game begins, to cheer for the men. To get behind the men early in the season and stay with them all the season is what Manager Rubin and the authorities wish.

1903 FOOTBALL CAPTAINS.

FINE ARTS COLLEGE

The problems for the underclasses in architecture have not yet been posted. But juniors and seniors will have a ten-hour sketch. The subject is a country clubhouse for a membership of three hundred. The building is to be constructed of any desired material, located upon a slight eminence about twenty feet above a nearby river.

The main feature is a large club room with fireplace, around which are to be grouped locker rooms, baths, kitchen, bowling alley, etc. A plan and perspective are the drawings required. These are due September 24.

The classes in cast drawing are so large it is hard to allow each member the necessary room.

Lee Wallace, '05, spent his summer vacation at the Thousand Islands.

Harold B. Truran, '01, was with Manley Cutler, a New York Architectural, during the summer.

George A. Hamilton, '01, had a position with J. Foster Warner, a Rochester architect. He has returned to take up his work in college.

J. N. Cook was drafting in the office of Makepeace of Syracuse during the summer.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The first meetings of the Christian Associations will be held to-morrow. The Y. W. C. A. will hold a devotional meeting at 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon in the upper room of the Gymnasium Building. All women are cordially invited to attend. The Y. M. C. A. will hold their first prayer meeting of the year Sunday afternoon at o'clock in room 33-34, Liberal Arts College. All members are invited to attend.

A new course has been offered in the History Department by Professor Flick. The course will be known as Recent European History, and will cover all the important phases of the history of Europe of to-day. The class was organized yesterday, and will meet two hours a week, at 12 o'clock Mondays and Wednesdays.

Such a course offers exceptional opportunities to the students, as Professor Flick has just returned from a year's travel in Europe, where he has made special preparation to present such a course. It will be given alternate years with French Revolution.

A new member, Mr. Orlando Stetson, has been added to the Mathematics Department. Mr. Stetson is a graduate from Dartmouth, 1901, and a member of Phi Beta Kappa, having previously pursued a course in civil engineering at Worcester Polytechnic Institute. In 1902 Mr. Stetson was senior fellow at Clark University. He is a Membre de la Societe Mathimatique de France, and also Member Deutsche Mathematische-Vereinigung.

About thirty more students have registered for the Law College. The second and third year men have not all arrived as yet. The college course will be stronger and the attendance larger than last year.

Several important changes have been made in the German department this fall. Dr. Walter Otto of Leipzig has taken the place of Instructor M. P. Tilley, who goes into the English department. Dr. Otto studied in Leipzig and Heidelberg. His special subject was Germanics, Literature and Languages. The subject of his thesis was "William C. Bryant and His Relation to German and English Literature." Instructor J. L. Boysen will be retained in this department. Mr. William Lowe, 1903, has been appointed fellow in the department and will take graduate work. Mr. Edward Roeder has also been appointed instructor and will do graduate work. He is a graduate of Central Wesleyan University and also of Northwestern University. He will teach two divisions of the freshman class.

The class in old High German will meet at 8.50 on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The students in German Seminary will meet in room 31 on Monday, September 21, at 7 p. m.

DAILY ORANGE BRIEFS.

Everything is in readiness for the reception of the Christian Associations to be held in the gymnasium to-night. Once more the committees in charge desire to extend a welcome on behalf of the two associations to all the students of the University, and especially to the members of the Freshmen class. The affair will be strictly informal. That considerable interest is being manifested is shown in the fact that several of the college women have signed an agreement to go unattended.

From the present outlook the largest attendance for several years will be recorded for Saturday night. Come and bring your friends.

Captain George Moore will issue a call to-day for all candidates for the baseball team to report on the Oval Monday at 2 p. m. This fall practice is to get a line on the freshmen.

The manager to be elected for baseball will probably be a player, in order to save on expense. The fall baseball game between the sophomores and freshmen will be held next Wednesday afternoon on the Oval.

Rev. Theron R. Greene, one of the financial secretaries of Syracuse University, yesterday announced a gift of $1,000 to the University. It was from George W. Cook, '82, in memory of Sidney H. Cook, '81, his brother, who died in 1890.

The following students rooming in Winchell Hall have entered Syracuse with advanced standing: Lena G. Baldwin enters the sophomore class from the Women's College of Baltimore; Dorothy Lyons, the course in library economy from Vassar; Loneva Barton, the sophomore class in music from the Chicago Conservatory of Music, Florence McMillan, the sophomore class; Eleanor McMillan, as a junior from the New York city Normal College.

Messrs. George Morry, '04; Andrew Taft, '04; Arthur Hollingworth, '06; H. F. Russell, '05; Claire C. Bateman, '04, and Dr. C. F. Wiley, '91, from the local chapter of Phi Delta Theta will act as pallbearers at the funeral of H. M. Galpin to-morrow afternoon, which will be held from the home of the deceased at Danby, N. Y.

NOTICES.

All freshmen candidates for baseball report at gymnasium for practice at 2 p. m. Monday. Use any suitable baseball uniform you may have.

H. D. COSTELLO, Coach,
G. O. MOORE, Captain.

The state preliminary examinations will be held Thursday and Friday, October 8 and 9, instead of the last Thursday and Friday of September. Freshmen and sophomores who expect to teach should look after this at once.

German I, sections b and c, will meet Saturday at 8.50 in room 33-34. J. L. Boysen.

Sections A, B, C and D of English I. will meet in the library lecture room on Monday next at 12 o'clock for the lecture period.

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT, 19

The DAILY ORANGE announced as one of its purposes its intention to serve as a bulletin for the faculty and for student activities. It has done fairly good service in this direction up to the present time, but it wishes to improve steadily. We are very solicitous that every professor or instructor who has a notice to give to the students should hand it in to the ORANGE the preceding day or e... Everyone who is connected with any society or enterprise and wishes the public to know of its meetings or activities should give such announcements to representatives of the ORANGE beforehand.

In this way faculty and students will be kept in constant touch with one another. All interests of every college will become unified and each and every one will have the greater loyalty and more enthusiasm for old Syracuse.

Varsity's First Practice Game Trys Out Much New Material.

Syracuse started the season well last Saturday in defeating the Cortland Normal eleven with a score of 23 to 0. Nearly a score and a half candidates were tried out in this preliminary or practice game. From the showing the new men made there should be some excellent material grafted into Varsity eleven this fall.

No 'Varsity men appeared in the line-up during the first half. The checkerboard was in good condition for the game, the tall grass proving a fair mat to fall on. The game was commenced about 3.40 o'clock, when Syracuse kicked off to Cortland. Hart, Clark and Butterfield, the Cortland backs, tried in vain to run the ends and buck the orange line. Syracuse getting the ball on downs tried the same tactics under the leadership of Earl Twombly '04 (acting captain) at quarter. The Normal men secured their distance the first down after regaining the pigskin, only to lose it again. Thus the game went for the first eleven minutes of play. Several times the orange men were within striking distance of the Cortland goal, but lost the ball on poor interference or fumbling. During the last four minutes of play "Speedy" Seckner circled the end and ran thirty-five yards for a touchdown. Yard failed at the goal, Cortland decided to kick off, Crawford, the Cazenovia star, caught the kick and ran it back for forty-five yards. Line bucking was tried repeatedly. When the first half ended Cortland had the ball on its twenty-five-yard line.

The second half saw an entirely new line-up. Five 'Varsity men went into the game. "War Horse" Brane took his old place at left guard, Hares went in at right tackle, Boland and Lane at ends, where they have always played a brilliant game; O'Neil (captain at quarter, where he has an unsurpassed record.

Play was much faster and snappier. Bob Parks, Parker and Cortelyou, the new set of backs, worked like old timers. Parks and Parker circled the ends and butted the line for gain after gain. Cortelyou proved to be of sterling quality at full back. He boosted the ball four times thirty-five to fifty yards each kick. Once the ball on his kick, near the Syracuse goal, was blocked, but quick at a cat he was on it.

During this half Parker, behind excellent interference, made two touchdowns. Parks secured the other. The three goals were kicked, making a score of 23 to 0. Thus it stood at the end of the game.

Among the new men and last year's subs who showed up well were McMickle at center; S. Rice and Brown, guards; Harwood and Dempster, tackles; Yard, at end; Twombly, quarter, and both sets of backs.

Next Saturday at 3.30 o'clock Syracuse will try conclusions with the Onondaga Indians. A large crowd of the latter witnessed Saturday's game to get a line on the Syracuse players.

The attendance was over 1,000, the largest crowd that ever witnessed the annual game with Cortland.

The line-up follows:

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI NEWS.

Napoleon Ross, '06, has secured a position as soloist in one of the large churches of New York City.

L. D. Rhoades, a speaker on the sophomore debating team of last year, has entered Harvard this fall.

Miss Maud Millington, '05-ex, of Herkimer and Miss Maisa Parker, '04-ex, are visiting at the Kappa Alpha Theta house. Miss Millington has almost recovered from her cousting accident in the winter and will enter college again in January. Miss Parker is teaching in Central Square, N. Y.

J. M. Seehner, '05, is back in the Law College.

George Young, E. E. '05, was dangerously ill with typhoid fever during the summer. He is in college at present.

Miss Ara Marr, '04-ex and Miss Lura Emens, '03, are visiting at the Alpha Phi house for a few days.

Walter Collins of Newburg, N. Y., who entered the Fine Arts College as a musical student this fall, was summoned home on Friday by a telegram announcing the sudden death of his father. It is very doubtful whether Mr. Collins will be able to return to Syracuse. A committee has been appointed by the Orange Club to draft suitable resolutions and to send them to the family.

R. E. Smith, '06, has charge of one squad of freshman football candidates and is drilling them in formations.

Nora K. Dunn, '06-ex., has entered Stamford University, California. Her Syracuse friends will soon have the pleasure of hearing from her as she will act as an ORANGE correspondent in Stanford.

Edward Ellis and C. E. Trindar are again in college in the C. E. course. They left the latter part of last year to work on the engineering corps of the C. & N. W. Railway. Their duties took them to Iowa, Nebraska, North and South Dakota and Minnesota.

Ethelwynne M. Adamson, '06,-ex, has entered Smith College this fall and will finish her course there.

Mr. Lynn E. Jennison, '02, was married to Miss Hester M. Shields at Union Center, N. Y., September 7, 1903. At home after October 1, at Asbury Park, N. J.

John B. Swinney, '04, is spending a few days in Utica, where he formerly resided.

SCANLON HAS SIGNED WITH NATIONAL LEAGUE

William D. Scanlon, the crack pitcher on the Orange team last season, has just signed with the Pittsburg club of the National league for the next season. Scanlon has been pitching in fine form the past season on the Ilion State League team.

Mr. Scanlon attended the Medical college here last year. He received his A. B. degree from Fordham college. He is the son of Alderman John D. Scanlon of this city.

Professor Hamilton, whose resignation as head of the Sociology Department was announced in chapel Wednesday, has accepted the position of head worker in the University Settlement in New York city. Although Professor Hamilton's sudden resignation came as an entire surprise to nearly all those connected with his department, his nearest friends were not surprised at the announcement. Ever since the death of Mrs. Hamilton last spring the professor has been in poor health and a change of environment and associates was deemed necessary to restore him to his wonted vigor. Syracuse will be fortunate if she is able to again secure the services of Professor Hamilton, after the rich experience that he will secure in his every day work in New York city.

Y. M. C. A. RECEPTION ENJOYED BY MANY

First General College Social Function A Complete Success.

One of the most enjoyable social functions which has been held on the hill for several years was the reception which was tendered to the faculty and student body by the Christian associations on Saturday evening last. Old and new members of the faculty, students of all classes and their friends crowded the gymnasium floor to the utmost for standing room. It was estimated that during the evening fully 800 were present.

The guests were received by Dr. and Mrs. Parker and Dr. Beebo of the Fine Arts faculty, Prof. and Mrs. Mace of the Liberal Arts College, Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Waite and Miss N. Grace Baird. The reception room was tastefully decorated with palms and orange ribbon.

Passing from the reception room, the guests entered the floor of the gymnasium. On the north side of the gallery, behind a bank of palms and bay trees, the orchestra was seated. By 9.30 o'clock every one of the seats on the floor was filled, as well as a large number in the gallery.

After light refreshments had been served the following toast list was responded to: Toastmaster, Grove S. Brown, '05; welcome, R. A. Waite, '04; the faculty, Dr. I. J. Peritz; Y. M. C. A., Harry T. Baker, '04, "The Man;" Y. W. C. A., N. Grace Baird, '04, "The Woman;" football, George S. G. Hares, '04, "Last Down, Five Yards to Gain;" track, William C. Lowe, '03, "First at the Tape;" music, Anna Titus, '04, "Ad Libitum;" baseball, George O. Moore, '04, "Three Strikes and Out;" crew, Robert S. Stone, '04, "Ready All;" basket ball, Evelyn Waterbury, '06; "Captain, Ready;" Journalism, I. R. Templeton, '04, "The Knights of the Pen."

Especially enjoyable was Dr. Peritz's impromptu toast to the faculty. The singing of the alma mater concluded the programme.

DAILY ORANGE BRIEFS.

A new course open to juniors will be offered in the elocution department by Prof. Ayres. This course will be known as history of oratory and will include the delivery of orations and extemporaneous speaking. Prof. Ayres will meet the class next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock to arrange for a definite hour of meeting.

The Orange Club has secured the Raynor mansion at the head of Irving avenue as its clubhouse and is at present completing the work of fitting up the house for club purposes. The house is beautifully located in the midst of an estate of several acres of well kept lawns and orchards and commands an excellent view of the city.

The building is admirably adapted to its purposes as a clubhouse, the second and third floors providing accommodations for nearly thirty men, and the spacious parlors and library being very well suited to the needs of the club. The work of furnishing the rooms is rapidly nearing completion.

Don, the old canine friend of all the students, is around the hill again this fall. It will be remembered that Don was rushed very hard last year by all the fraternities. Don always comes around for his share of good things during the first few weeks of college.

A number of the students are organizing a cross country running team. They will take a long but easy cross country jaunt every afternoon and when they have attained sufficient form will challenge any team which may wish to compete with them. Freshmen are invited to come out in suit to run. Information can be obtained from W. Y. Boyd, '06, or K. B. Squires, '06.

The faculty of the University of Michigan have bought the U. of M. daily, the student newspaper, paying $2,250. The faculty will make the paper a part of the English courses. Its plans even extend so far as the removal of the publication from the town printing offices, and the installment of the press in a campus building.

MONDAY MORNING, SEPT, 21

Every Syracuse student is wishing for many big victories in athletic and other lines of college activity during the coming college year. Of course all will assist in uplifting the Orange banner, but let us not lose excellent opportunities for celebrating victories when they come.

Last year after conquering such well known colleges as Amherst and Williams we had no celebration worthy of mention. We were waiting to use all such enthusiastic outburst for victories over Columbia and West Point. Everyone knows how disappointingly those games resulted. While we waited our enthusiasm lost much of the growth it would have gained by being nurtured on the fruits of victory.

College life must have such celebrations to bring out the latent energy and loyalty in the student body. A good rousing time following an important conquest puts new vigor into the students, does away with the monotony of routine work and develops a deep and abiding loyalty for old Syracuse. It shows the alumni that the true Syracuse spirit still holds sway, and proves to other people that the University is full of life and healthy vigor.

There is no reason why we should not celebrate as much when we beat Williams as when we conquer Brown. Naturally we are bound to do both. But whatever happens let us pull together in victory or defeat and celebrate on a large scale when occasion permits.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

A new book in Advanced Algebra has been prepared by Dr. Roe and Professor Bullard of the faculty for use by their classes this year.

The entering class in Library Economy is larger than usual. Over thirty have registered. New writing tables have been placed in the library reading room for the use of students. The periodicals have been gathered into a department of the library and arranged alphabetically for rapid use in reference.

The hand book published annually by the Christian Associations for the new students has been in great demand during the past week. It exerts a quiet but powerful influence in winning friends to the associations, and especially in drawing into them new students. The value of this little book can hardly be overestimated, as it contains just the information needed by the freshmen in their new surroundings. Some of the more important features of the book are the University calendar, an explanation of the work of the association, giving the names of the officers and committeemen, a church directory, description of the college buildings, athletics, yells, college songs, location of the different fraternity chapter houses, a list of places of interest, mail collections, fire alarm signals and a diary for the college year.

The book was prepared for publication by Roscoe M. Hersey, '05, managing editor; Laura G. Weller, '05, and Luella C. Miller, '06, assistants.

FOOTBALL PUNTS AND PASSES

Fred Schade the star Tackle Returns---Outlook is Excellent.

The football squad has been augmented by the presence of Fred Schade and a number of new men this week. "Baldy" Moore, the big 'varsity guard of last season, is expected out in the near future. With Moore and Schade back in the game, the 'varsity will take on some of its former appearance and old-time vim.

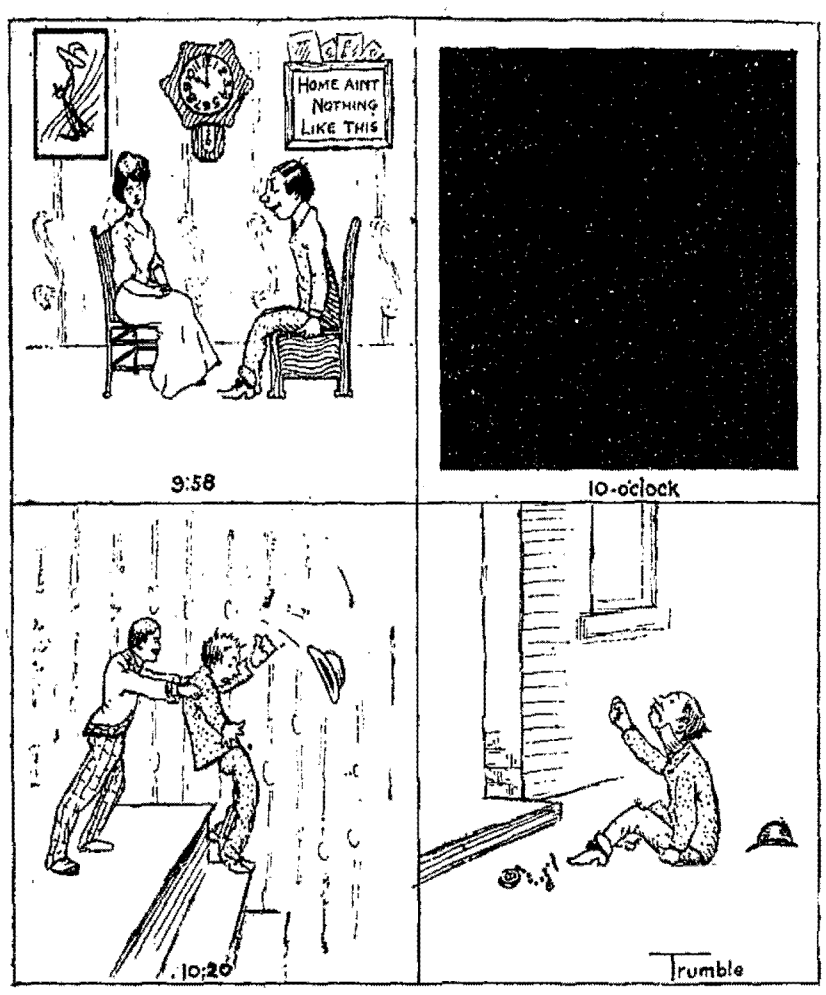
Schade's return to college is hailed with joy by all the students. Old and new students alike know of his great ability on the checkerboard. He was one of the stars of last year's eleven, playing in tackle position. As he was only a freshman then his record is a most enviable one. Whenever he was used in the tackles back formation the ball was almost sure to be advanced. His weight with every ounce of muscle he could bring to bear was used most effectively in defense also.

Before entering college Schade played halfback on the crack Masten Park eleven for several years. It is because of this fact and his work last season that the coaches may put him permanently behind the Orange line.

The new tackling dummy was in shape at noon yesterday. It should prove of great value during the remainder of the season, and especially for green men.

It is probable that Mr. Carl Dorr and Mr. Patten, former captains of the 'varsity, will be on hand to assist in coaching during most of the season. Their services will be of great value to Graduate Coaches Parish and Brown, since both men have had a wide experience and keep up to date in everything pertaining to football.

Regular training with early hours began last night. The disciples of the weed, with its pleasure giving smoke, will now and henceforth for several months leave such things aside. The coaches' word is now the law of the land to everyone aspiring to honors on the football field.



The usual practice was held yesterday. The coaches expect to give the men some good scrimmage work this week to try them out.

To the Editor Syracuse Daily Orange:

Dear Sir:—A perusal of the revised rules governing the game of football leads to the conclusion that there will not be radical changes in consequence of the alteration in the code. A moderate improvement along certain lines may, however, be expected, emanating as much from the desire of the coaches and players to free the game from objectionable features as from the change in the law. Remodeled and new plays will doubtless be inaugurated, and the tendency will be to use intelligence and speed rather than brute force, yet the latter will doubtless be in evidence as the law cannot entirely change human nature. The officials will be of more importance than ever and great care should be observed in their selection; so that a knowledge of the rule and the moral force and decision to enforce it may be unquestioned.

Requiring seven players to be on the line of scrimmage while the play is between the twenty-five yard lines is undoubtedly a move in the direction for securing "open play," a feature that all true lovers of the sport desire. If the massing of men in this prescribed territory is effected it will have to be done with the players on the move and cannot be done by the stupid massing of players on a certain point before the ball is passed, permitting the opponents to see where the ball is going and preparing for the onslaught, making the result depend entirely on who is strongest.

Freshie's First Experience With Winchell Hall.

(Note to the Uninitiated— The lights at Winchell Hall, the women's dormitory, are momentarily extinguished at 10 oclock. This is a final signal to depart.)

THE HUNTINGTON SOCIETY.

The Huntington Society is an association of all the Episcopalian students and members of the faculty for mutual help and social intercourse. In its present form it was started a year ago, taking its name from that of the bishop of the diocese.

During last year social meetings were held each month.

In Advent and Lent special sermons were preached by visiting clergymen at Grace Church.

The society hopes soon to gather for the first time this college year any members among the newcomers or any of our old friends who have not yet joined us.

FRESHMAN TRACK TEAM.

At present the outlook for the freshman track team seems to be very promising, and it is believed that the entering class will make a good showing in the meet, which will be held early next month between the sophomore and freshman classes.

Although it is not known definitely yet who the freshman candidates for the track are, Manager Parkhurst states that the probable candidates will be as follows:

100-yard dash—Cole, Semple, Hawkins, Housel, Robinson, Meter, Pierce, Collister and Woolever.

Half-mile runners—Temple and Wiedrick.

One mile—Carlson, Sheldon, Lewis and Rice.

Two mile—Temple, Carlson and Rice.

120-yard hurdles—Hawkins.

220-yard hurdles—Hawkins.

Running high jump—Miller and Hawkins.

Running broad jump—Crawford.

Pole vault—Meter, Miller, Heroy and Rice.

Shot put—Robinson, Carlson, Rice, Mount and Sloan.

With the above material and that which is still to turn out, the entering class should have a well-rounded team. Among those mentioned there are no particular stars, but many are above the average ability. Head Coach Scott expects a great deal from the freshman class this year. The Varsity team is in need of much valuable material.

Rev. R. Alfred Waite, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., left the city for the M. E. conference at Olean late yesterday. He will there take his examination in ordinance. He will be gone several days.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Miss Aurelia Cobb, ex-'03, now of Columbian University, Washington, D. C., entertained last evening at No. 405 University Place in honor of Misses Nina Raymond, '06, and Bertha Dodge, '07.

Dr. Franklin J. Holzwarth, head of the German Department, was unable to appear at his office yesterday. He was ill at home with tonsilitis, but hopes to be back at work in a day or so.

The physical examinations for the freshmen by Dr. Mills will be continued in the gymnasium this week during the afternoons between 2 and 5 o'clock.

Mr. Charles S. McDougall, '00, was married last Saturday to Miss Edna A. Porter of Brocton.

Many of the freshmen responded to the call for baseball candidates to report for practice yesterday afternoon. Graduate Coach Costello, assisted by Captain George O. Moore, saw that the candidates were given ample opportunity to try a hand at the game. Captain Moore gave some of the men work in batting at one end of the field, while Coach Costello had general supervision over both infielders and outfielders. Some of the newcomers showed such good form as to forebode ill to the sophomores in the game between the two, which takes place to-morrow afternoon.

All students who registered in Biology I., and do not intend to take the course this year, will please see Dr. Smallwood at once.

The state preliminary examinations will be held Thursday and Friday, October 8 and 9, instead of the last Thursday and Friday of September. Freshmen and sophomores who expect to teach should look after this at once.

The revised divisions in freshman mathematics are as follows:

Section A, A to B, inclusive....Dr. Bullard
Section B, C..... Mr. Stetson
Section C, D to G inclusive.....Mr. Pratt
Section D, Gl to K inclusive.... Mr. Stetson
Section E, L to O inclusive.... Dr. Bullard
Section F, P to Q inclusive .....Dr. Roe
Section G, R to S inclusive ..Mr. Stetson
Section H, T to Z inclusive ....Mr. Stetson

W. K. METZLER.

N. B.—The same divisions will hold in English. F. SMALLEY.

DEPARTMENTAL NOTES.

Philosophy Department.

Owing to the large number of students registered in Philosophy II. (Psychology) there will be three divisions of this class instead of two. This third division will be known as division C, and will meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 8.50 in room 71, Liberal Arts Building. Mr. Skinner will instruct this class. The original two divisions will meet at the time and place originally determined upon.

The number of graduate students is the largest in the history of the department, eight being already registered as graduate students. Professor Coddington desires to meet the graduate class Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in his office.

Political Economy Notes.

Professor Hawkins' class in Trusts and Monopolies began its work yesterday, listening to a lecture on "The Present-day Problem," and receiving assignments of work. A novel plan is being adopted by the department this year. Instead of using a uniform text book each member of the class studies a different authority. In this way all the various points of view on this very important subject are secured.

Professor Hawkins, in his lecture yesterday, impressed the class with the vast importance of the "Trust Problem" and the tremendous responsibility that the people of the United States are shouldering in trying to solve it.

Regarding labor unions, or "Labor Trusts," Professor Hawkins said: "The trouble at present is that the people are turning their magnifying glasses and telescopes on the capital trusts and are shutting their eyes to the labor trusts. It is this attitude which has led to the arrogance of the unions which is now asserting itself."

NOTICES.

There will be a special meeting of the Sophomore Class Tuesday morning after chapel.

The freshman class will hold an important meeting in the chapel of Liberal Arts College Tuesday at 2 o'clock to elect permanent officers.

There will be a meeting of the Junior class Tuesday at 4 o'clock, September 22, in room 60 for the election of class officers and such offices of the 1905 Onondagan as the present vacancies demand.

J. ARTHUR DISTIN, President.

Freshmen must report for their medical examination in their respective divisions at 2 o'clock, as follows: Freshmen who fail to report will have to pay fifty cents for a special examination and will not be registered in classes until they have had medical examination:

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 22

There is one department of college work which is growing rapidly from year to year, but is not getting the support of a large number that should be interested in it. This is the Christian Association's work. The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. have long endeavored to get every student into their organization. These associations represent the moral side of our college life, the Christian manhood and womanhood that we should develop and carry with us into the great outside world.

Every year the entering class becomes larger. The number of men and women who take an interest in the Christian Association should grow in corresponding measure. We are all, more or less, striving for that which is noblest and best. There is no place where such endeavor will be better aided than in contact with the sturdy Christian characters to be found among the Christian Association workers. We would urge the freshmen to so arrange their correspondence and other Sunday hours that they can each and everyone help the association meetings by his or her presence, at 4 p. m. every Sunday in the gymnasium.

The sophomore-freshman track meet will take place the first part of October. Fall practice has already begun. The sophomores know their abilities along this line, but the freshmen do not, as yet, realize their own strength. The strength or weakness of the 'Varsity track team depends on the material in the freshman class. Last year the entering class put some excellent men on the track.

Reports say that the 1907 class is unsurpassed in the number of good men who do track work. Some of these are indifferent and lack confidence in their power to cope with 'Varsity material. Such we can only ask to put away their fears and come out to do their best. Those who have intentions in that direction, but have never tried before, should do likewise. We know from observation, that some of our best track athletes have been men who never did anything in that line before entering college. Come out, then, and allow the coaches to get an idea of your ability. Try at least to support the freshman track team and beat the sophomores. Do likewise in all other branches of sport. While you are doing this the coaches may find just what they demand for the betterment of their teams.

JUNIOR CLASS MEETING.

The juniors held a class meeting yesterday afternoon for the purpose of electing officers for the next semester, and for filling vacancies on the 1905 Onondagan Board.

Wesley Douglass was elected business manager to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James Dwelle. Howard S. Jarvis and Frank Brundage were elected to the Board in place of N. L. Adsit and Chas. M. Rebert, who do not return to college this fall.

The following officers were elected: President, Clarence J. Houseknecht; first vice-president, Miss Elsie Jones; second vice-president, Miss Hazel King; secretary, Miss Lulu Umbrecht; treasurer, Chas. J. Wells; toastmaster, C. S. Ferguson; historian, Miss Edyth Hedges; poet, Arthur Rider; chairman executive committee, Roscoe M. Hersey; cheermaster, Fred Lare.

A committee, consisting of Lloyd L. Cheney, chairman, Frank Bohr and Vernon Stewart, was appointed to investigate a suitable uniform cane for the junior class. The committee will report at a special class meeting sometime before next Saturday's game, in order that every junior may carry a cane at that time.

The executive committee of the class was authorized to confer with the sophomores and arrange a suitable time for the salt rush.

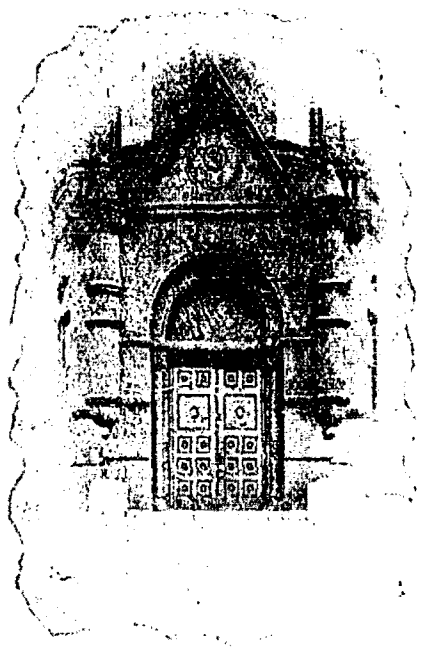
Lynch, High Bridge, shortstop; E. Folley, Syracuse, centerfield.

DEPARTMENTAL NOTES.

Dr. Coddington is ill and was unable to meet his classes this week. He is in hopes of meeting them to-day.

The new course in Kant and Post-Kantian Idealism will hold its first meeting today at 2.30 p. m. in Room 30.

Prof. F. J. Holzwarth's new book, "Goethe-Schiller Leitfaden," of 120 pages, in German, has just been published. It is intended for use in Course VII., and treats of the lives and works of these two great German poets in a unique manner.



The life of each poet is divided into periods which are illustrated by poems and outline of dramas.

Literary maps aid the student in locating the places where Goethe and Schiller lived, loved and labored.

Prof. Flick will assist in the History Seminar work which the seniors in that department take under Dr. Mace every Monday evening.

Dean Smalley announced in chapel yesterday morning that all the classes in college should always get authority to hold their meetings before announcing that a meeting will be held in a certain room.

He said that chapel is used principally by the Fine Arts students in organ work, and they wish to be undisturbed. For this reason the class presidents should avoid having meetings in chapel when they conflict with such practice.

Architects' Problems --- New Departure in Chorus Work --All Departments Increased.

Freshman Problem, Department of Architecture.

It is proposed to erect a gateway at the entrance of a large government stock farm, where horses are raised for the army. The grounds are surrounded by a stone wall and will have several entrances. The one in question will be for pedestrians and carriages. It will be constructed of stone and the Roman Tuscan order will be used in the design. The gateway to be an arch flanked by columns on pedestals or on the ground resting on plinths. An attic or balustrade treatment may be used.

Finished Drawings.
Plan and Section.
Elevation.
Detail of Order.
All to be finished before October 31, 1903.

Miss Marion Cassing will be unable to return to college this fall.

Because of sickness Miss Sargent, instructor in Italian, has been unable to meet her classes as yet. She hopes to meet them at an early date. Her classes will meet as formerly in the Dean's lecture room.

The Dean's lectures in History of Fine Arts begin this week. Sophomore lecture Wednesday at 11 o'clock. Junior lecture Thursday at 11 o'clock.

Before this year the choruses have been entirely composed of women. But now as the number of gentlemen taking music has greatly increased it is desired to organize a mixed chorus.

The Advanced Chorus will meet Wednesday at 10 o'clock in Dr. Parker's room. All men who can read music are requested to be present.

The Beginning Chorus will meet in the same place at 8.50 Wednesday. Gentlemen members are expected to attend as well as lady members. Persons from other colleges as well as Fine Arts can attend these choruses, and thus receive one hour a week of vocal music without extra expense.

Allen R. Lemplar and Fred R. Lear spent Sunday at Elbridge, N. Y.

The entering classes in Architecture and all other departments are the largest they have ever been. More than one hundred students are still expected to enter up in Fine Arts College.

THE FRESHMEN ORGANIZE.

The freshman class held a meeting at 2 p. m. yesterday in room 51 to elect permanent officers. After some preliminary balloting the following were elected officers of the class for this semester:

Arthur W. Hartigan, Syracuse, President.
Bertha D. Wood, South Butler, N. Y., Vice-President.
Vera Belle Hurlbutt, Gouverneur, Secretary.
Burton P. Fowler, South Butler, N. Y., Treasurer.

The President was given the power to appoint the Executive Committee. This will be given out in a few days. The toastmaster will be elected at the next regular meeting.

The class has adopted a dark green cap, Eton style, with a yellow button on it. The lining will be yellow sateen with "Syracuse Freshman" sewed into it. These caps are to be worn every day excepting Sunday. The caps will be furnished by Edwards & Sons.

A question was brought up as to the class yell and the sentiment of the class was strongly in favor of changing the yell so as to bring the numerals at the end.

It was moved and carried that each member pay a fee of 5 cents a month for dues, to meet all the debts of the class.

At the suggestion of the president it was decided to hold the regular meeting the first Monday in each month at 3 p. m. in room 53 of the Liberal Arts College.

Arrangements were also made for a captain of the salt rush.

NOTICES.

The English department has cancelled the meeting of the freshman class in English, which was to be held Thursday at 3 p. m.

ANNUAL SALT RUSH TODAY

Upper-Classmen Will Have Charge--Held in Rear of Steele Hall--All Are Ready.

There has been much interest around the Hill the past week concerning the annual salt rush, which was postponed on the opening day of college. There has been some fear that this custom, which is peculiarly Syracusan, would be dropped this year. But the fondest hopes of the upperclassmen and the gravest fears of the sophomores are at last to be realized. The salt rush will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Crouse College hill, the field upon which many classes have struggled for supremacy, will be the scene of this year's conflict.

The upperclassmen, however, have devised a somewhat different plan of attack. The freshmen will be required to assemble in the low ground at the rear of Steele Hall, while the sophomores will form upon the top of the hill, where they will plant the 1906 flag. This will give the second year men a much better opportunity to administer a thorough salting than the custom practiced in previous years. The freshmen will charge up the hill, and if they are able to endure the salting of the sophomores and capture their flag the upperclassmen will declare the freshmen the winners of the rush.

DAILY ORANGE BRIEFS.

Miss Annie Ferris, '02, of Boston is spending a few weeks in Syracuse.

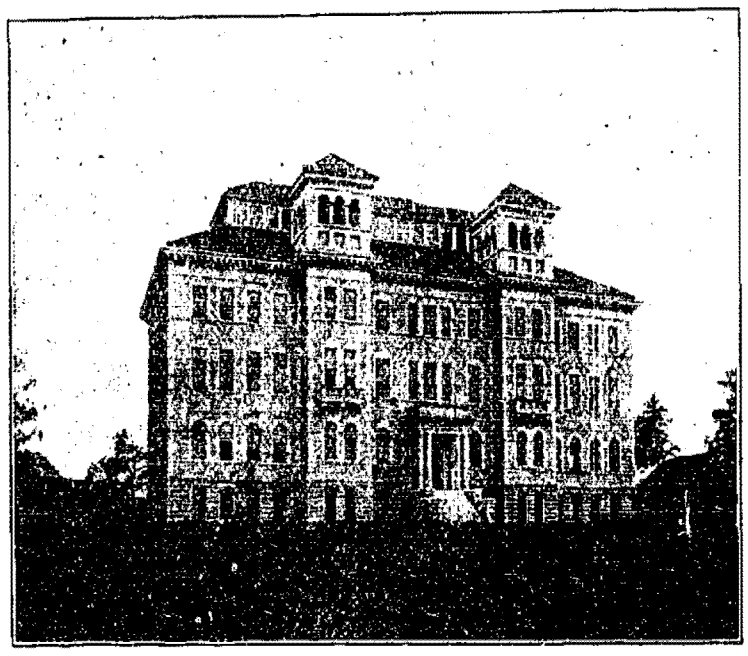
A reception to college students will be given by the Epworth League of the Furman Street M. E. Church Thursday evening, Sept. 24, in the church parlors.

Charles Woodley, '04, returned to college Tuesday.

The University Club will meet in the club parlors in the Larned Block next Saturday evening. Head Coach Parrish, Carl Dorr, Harley Crane, Charles Jewell and others are expected to be present and make rousing speeches in the interests of football.

Judson P. Davis, the president of last year's graduating class, is beginning his work as physical director at Maple Wood Institute, Concordville. "Jud" is expecting to develop a winning football team this season.

Prof. Street has commenced the erection of a new residence on Comstock avenue. The house, when completed, will face the University and will command an excellent view of the entire campus. Prof. Street is personally supervising the work of construction.



Mr. R. M. Hersey, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Junior class, has appointed the following committee for this semester: Miss Maude Reynolds, Miss Floy Shaf, Miss Catherine Lewis, Harry Myron, Earl Rice, Grove Brown, Herbert Comfort and C. S. Dopp.

Miss Marian Balliet, '05-ex, has entered the College of Fine Arts after a year's absence.

The students in philosophy were all glad to greet Prof. Coddington when he took up his work yesterday after his enforced absence during the last few days.

The graduate class in philosophy met Prof. Coddington at 4 o'clock yesterday and received assignments of special work. The graduate class in philosophy is larger this year than ever before.

Have you eaten any J. B.?

L. C. Smith College of Applied Science.

L. C. SMITH COLLEGE.

Dean Kent gave his class in elementary steam engineering a practical problem involving the new heating plant. Each building to be heated, each pipe line and the building of the heating plant itself was given to sections of the class for inspection. Reports, including size of buildings, floor space, window space, volume, material of floors, walls and roof, will be handed in by the different sections inside of a month. It is just such a problem as confronted the engineer who planned the heating plant. The work given to the sections is as follows: Alger, Badger and Barden, Crouse College; Bourlier, Bowker and Brady, Hall of Languages; Brockett, Crockett and Crysler, Library Building; DellPlain, Eastman and Edson, College of Applied Science; Flynn, Gere and Glass, Steele Hall of Physics; Gray, Knapp and Meacham, Gymnasium; Miller, Nelson and Phillips, Winchell Hall; Quick, Stobo and Stone, Haven Hall; Wendt, Smith and Fenton, Power House; Wilcox and Woodhull, trench line; Yard and Young, tunnel; Schuyler, general senior assistant to committees on buildings.

FOOTBALL SCRIMMAGE.

The order of the day for this week is scrimmage work. Graduate Coaches Parrish and Brown are being assisted this week by Messrs. Carl Dorr, Harley Crane, Patten and Drs. Van Lengen and Goodwin, all graduates and former wearers of the Orange.

Yesterday the men were drilled in line work, breaking through and simple formations. Signal practice was also given. The coaches are working hard to develop a center to take "Dutch" Wikoff's place. So far Brane, '04; McMickle, '06, and Belcher, '06, have shown the most promise.

Now that a line has been obtained on the baseball candidates, practice in that sport should give way to football. Big "Baldy" Moore will have to work hard to make guard if he does not get into the game soon. Such is the sentiment of many close observers of practice work.

The game with the Onondaga Indians this Saturday should attract all the students and many others.

The revised schedule as posted on bulletins for freshman mathematics will be permanent for the semester.

Prof. Flick has received an invitation to deliver an address on October 16 before the Association of Principals of High Schools which convenes at Cherry Valley, N. Y. At previous sessions of the association such speakers as President Stryker of Hamilton and C. W. Bardeen of this city have spoken. This shows that Prof. Flick's attainments are appreciated by the association.

FRESHMAN NINE DEFEATS SOPHOMORE

Men of Entering Class Show Up Well on Diamond -Good 'Varsity Material.

The freshmen defeated the sophomores yesterday afternoon in a most interesting game of baseball on the Oval. The entering class should furnish some very valuable men to the 'Varsity if yesterday's game is a forecast of their usual work.

Before the sixth inning the game was close and exciting, but thereafter it was a walk-away for 1907. The final score was 20 to 5.

So far as combination went the honors were divided between the men from Syracuse and Buffalo. Schade of Buffalo, the star football man, won fresh laurels by covering short for the sophs in a manner creditable to a veteran. Abe Erisman, '07, of Buffalo, did himself proud both at third base and at bat. Johnny Powell, also of Masten Park, Buffalo, aided the freshmen by doing good work in right field.

The Syracuse contingent was in evidence from the start. Lynch, '07, not only did excellent work at shortstop for the freshmen, but did well at bat. Dineen, captain of the 1907 nine, proved himself to be good material for the 'Varsity pitching staff. He not only has speed, but a good assortment of curves. After more practice he will gain the necessary control that will go to make him a man to be feared in the box. Folley, '07, also of Syracuse, did well both at first base and in the field. He is weaker at bat, however, than the men already mentioned.

All the honors did not come to the above men. Brelos, 1907, caught an excellent game for the new men. He also hammered out some safe hits. He formerly caught on the Williamsville High School team. With consistent practice he should make one of the 'Varsity catchers the coming season.

Ward, '07, proved good both at second base and later in the box. Smith, '07, performed well in center, stopping some difficult balls.

Altogether the freshmen baseball nine is by far the best that ever played under that name in Syracuse University. There are a half dozen men that played on the 1907 team who will give some of the 'Varsity men a hard fight for positions next spring.

Harry Baker, 1904, umpired most of the game. He was succeeded by John Dunn of Syracuse.

The line-up follows:

Sophomores—P., Cross, Boland; c., Gray; 1b., Tucker; ss., Schade; 2b., Drew; 3b., Cortelyou; c. f., Hammond; r. f., Meatyard; l. f., Williams.

Freshmen—Ss., Lynch; 2b., Ward; l. f., Dutton, Pendergast; c., Brelos; 3b., Erisman; p., Dineen, Ward, Hannon; c. f., Smith; 1b., Folley; r. f., Powell, Truax.

CLASSES CLASH.

There was an exciting rush between the sophomores and freshmen immediately after the baseball game yesterday afternoon. The sophomores got off the Oval first and then closed the gates, shutting in the 1907 men.

This was the signal for the rush. The sophs, in order to keep the gates closed, braced them with planks of wood. This availed not against the mighty onslaught of the freshman horde. So soon as the new men had broken through the gates they divided into squads and had scrimmages all along the line.

Not satisfied with working in groups, the two classes separated and had individual struggles. President Hartigan of 1907 offered himself as a sacrifice at various times to the sophomores. Ross, Bacon and Sheldon also did valiant service for the freshmen. Barry, the stalwart crew man, performed gallant deeds of untold number for the sophomores. All was done in good spirit and no accidents resulted.

After the rushes were over two men, Blump and "Curly" Squires, were chosen to defend sophomore honors in individual wrestling matches with 1907. McGovern and Spencer upheld the freshman end. These matches were carried out under the supervision of the seniors. Both the sophomores won their matches and the laurels for 1906.

THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 24

One of the very pleasing features of college life in Liberal Arts is the custom which the classes have of assembling after chapel and singing their class songs. The upper class men have their songs well in hand. They not only get speed into them, a peculiar characteristic handed down by preceding classes, but they also get a swing or rythm which is effective.

The under classes have not succeeded in reaching the desired goal in this line. The entering class is entirely excusable in this matter. With a year's practice they should improve greatly. The surprise comes in the sophomore class. So far this year their vocal exercises have been of such a ragged order as to give the freshmen hope of beating them with a week's more practice. Sophomores, look to your laurels; it is easily within your power to surpass the new men in this respect.

Among the improvements that could be made in Liberal Arts College is the decoration of the bare walls in the class room. Framed pictures suitable to every department could be placed in these class rooms and make a marked difference.

It has been said that nothing aids in developing and bringing out the best in man more than to be surrounded with pleasant pictures. These need not necessarily be works of art. Take such pictures in American history as our national heroes. The history class rooms and the Seminary rooms have taken an excellent lead in the matter. When every department has fixed its class rooms as well as some rooms are now, the college men and women will appreciate their Alma Mater even more than at present. This means much to the whole University.

The west room of the Lyman C. Smith College has been turned into a drafting room, and the present drafting room is to be used for lectures.

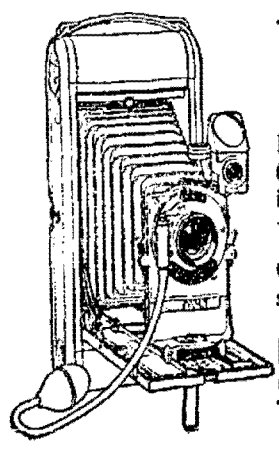
HOBART'S NEW COACH,

The first practice of candidates for the Hobart football team was held Thursday afternoon, September 10, on the college campus. Practice is being given by the coach, H. G. Weeks. Captain James Maddigan has expressed a great deal of satisfaction in being able to get the men together nearly a week before college opened. Maddigan has been laid up on account of an injury to his knee, but this fall he says that the knee will give little or no trouble because he expects to wear a bandage during the whole season. While there is plenty of good material for the team, Maddigan says the ends and backfield are the weakest points in the make-up at present.

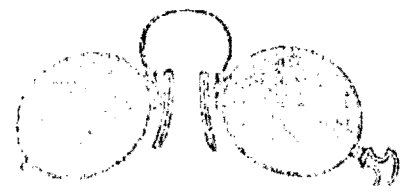
Hobart's line will be heavier this fall than for several years. Of the old line men Summers, who weighs 225 pounds at present; Sinclair, who tips the beam at 190 this fall, are the most promising candidates for guard. At tackle there are Weeks and Gutches of the "old guard" and big "Buster" Little of last year's Geneva High School team. Hollands, the star half of last year, is back and trying for his old position at left half. Whitney, last year's captain, showed up well at right half near the end of the season last fall, and will probably be tried at that position this fall. Wasey, who played in several games last year, is back in college and will try for right half.

Coach Harry G. Weeks, last year's fast right half on the Syracuse University team, says that he wants to develop a fast team in Hobart. "There are three things," said Mr. Weeks, "which I think will help toward this desired end. The first one is: I intend to have two complete sets of backs and other substitutes who will be able to go in the game at any time and play as hard as the regulars. This team will be no eleven man 'Varsity. It will rather be a twenty man 'varsity, and I shall expect every man on the team to play his hardest from the time the whistle blows. If one man is hurt there will be others to put in. We will have no loafing.



"The second point is fast signals. The signals for the play must be given immediately after the ball is down and the play must start on the moment the line-up is completed. There will be no waits and men who will not get into condition to play hard, fast football, will not be used no matter how good they are."

"The third point is in training. A training table will be established as soon as possible, preferably at some hotel where all the men on the squad will be required to board. It is expected that board can be given for $5. Every man who plays on the team must board at this training table. The men must take care of themselves, retire early and leave off smoking. Any man who breaks training will be dropped at once. There will be no fooling with him. We have hard games to play this year and unless the men realize this and train, we shall be unable to win, no matter how much good material we have."



Hobart plays Cornell at Ithaca this Saturday.

AN EXCITING RUSH.

Freshmen Storm Sophomore Stronghold--Heroic Deeds Done by Both Classes --Large Crowd Sees the Fun.

The long awaited for salt rush has come and gone, with its victory and defeat for the individuals and the lower classes. Every "soph" and "freshie" who had the honor to participate, now has his tale of heroic deeds to tell.

The rush took place yesterday afternoon, in the hollow at the rear of Steele Hall. The battle waged for one full hour. In this rush the freshmen had a great advantage over former entering classes. They had a week in which to get acquainted and lay their plans for victory.

At 2 o'clock a large crowd composed of students and city people was assembled on the ridge overlooking the battle field. On the height opposite were gathered the mighty warriors of the 1906 class. Their chiefs were "Black Chief" Packard, and his "Crewsirs" Bump, Squires and Chandler. All these men had proved their superb skill at "paddling their own canoe" at Poughkeepsie last June. Now they were to do yeoman service on a new battle field, and with different weapons.

Behind these gallant leaders were grouped a motley crowd of warriors, large and small. Each had a costume that would have shamed that of any of the Revolutionary Minute men. In the ranks were some with sweaters of all colors, which combined would have dazzled the rainbow. Others had on their oldest habiliments and each part was intended to be torn, ripped or taken away by the warlike youngsters of 1907. Every sophomore was loaded with small bags of salt. Eagerly they waited and watched for their friends "the enemy."

While they stood thus arrayed that ever-zealous individual, the "camera fiend," got in his deathly snap-shots. Unable to stand the strain of this bombardment some of the sophs found a vent for their feelings on "Bill" Boyd, one of the "snap shooters." After he had taken a few shots at the people he started down into the valley. He was not unaccompanied, however, for soon he heard bags of salt whizzing by his head. He ran for his own safety, and that of his camera, until he was out of reach.

Just then the band of freshmen came into sight, on the opposite ridge, behind the spectators. The sophs gave a mighty yell of derision and defiance at this appearance of the valiants of 1907. Under the leadership of Robinson, Keeney, Schafer and Baker the freshmen divided into two sections, each with two chiefs. All the 1907 men were attired even as were their enemies, the sophs.

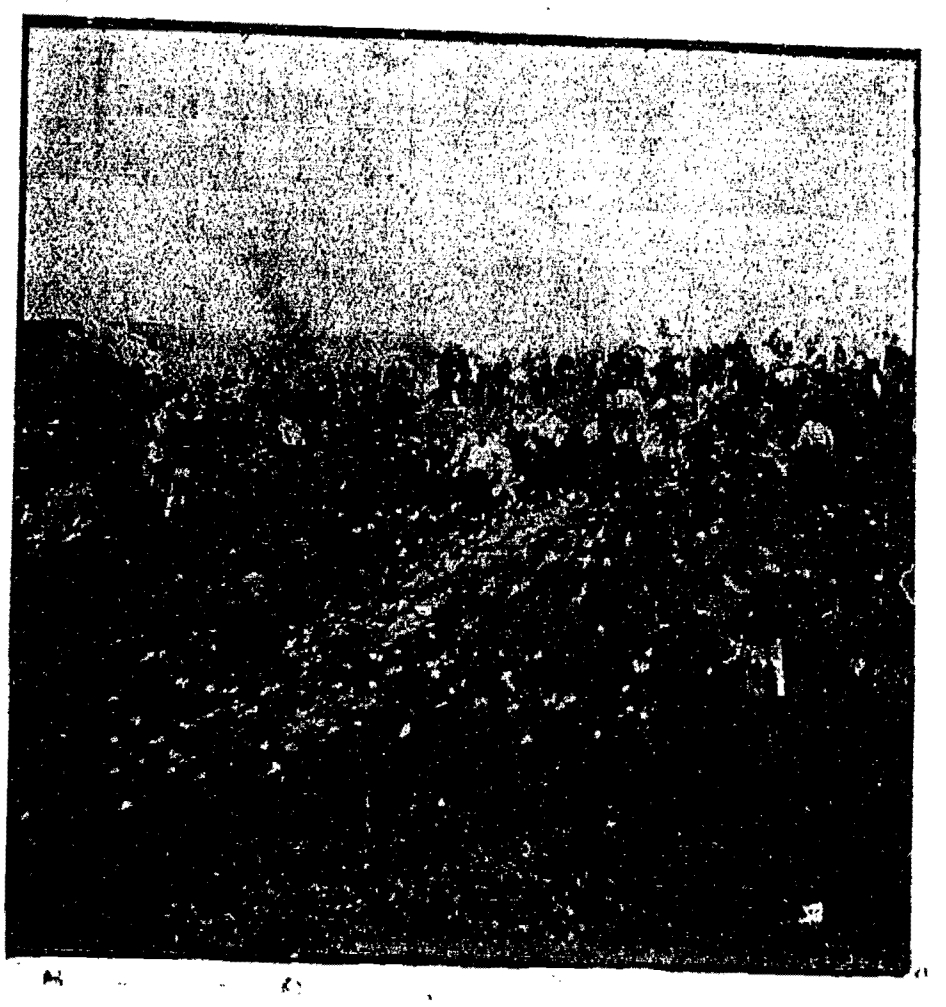
The attack was then commenced. The freshmen forming two solid bands, which were 100 feet apart, advanced down the slope.

When they arrived in the valley they were bombarded most vigorously by the sophs from above. Undaunted they continued their slow but steady onward movement. Not that a man left the solid ranks in either section of the freshmen division, nor did one fall by the wayside.

The sophomores had also formed in two divisions to meet the coming bands. The old timers remembered well how they had been treated a year since. The freshmen continued thereafter to feel the result of this sophomore memory ordeal. When all the salt bags had been thrown at the unheeding freshmen, the sophomores rushed into them pell mell to keep them back. After the shock of meeting was over the 1907 men again advanced, and most of their number gained the hill top or sophomore stronghold.

The most exciting part of the rush was still to come. Individual freshie measured his own strength and that of his clothes with the same on each soph. Old shirts were torn, new shirts were turned into ragged flags, which the wind blew around. Sophs and freshies formed whirligigs, and with locked arms and legs did somersaults down the hill. Landing in the Valley of Defeat, they grinned at each other, ran up the hill to get new partners and try it all over again. These spectacles formed great laughing stock for the gallery of spectators.

Among the best actors in the comedy, besides the leaders were the three Squires warriors. They were always in the thickest of the fray. Their gallant service for the sophs was equalled with like work by Mount, Spencer, Robinson and Keeney for the freshies. Beeler, Oscar Brown and Williams accomplished heroic deeds for 1906, while Schafer and Baker were gaining fresh laurels for 1907. So the battle went on to its termination.



The freshmen won the day by gaining the sophomore stronghold. There was no sophomore flag there, however, for them to capture.

SOUVENIR EDITION.

NINETEEN-SEVEN'S VALIANT CHARGE UP THE HILL.

The freshmen formed in two columns, four abreast, and charged up the hill to capture the sophomore's flag. The freshmen well salted.

1906 DEFENDING THE FLAG—THE THICK OF THE BATTLE.

The salt has been thrown and the clash between the classes is at its height.

President Hartigan had his left arm hurt so badly in the rush of the preceding day that he was unable to get into the salt rush. He was on hand, however, to aid and encourage his classmates all he could.

James Trumble was taken with a fit in one of the rushes down hill and fell exhausted. He was not injured by the rush. Dr. Mills and Prof. J. A. R. Scott attended him. He did not regain consciousness at once so was taken to the House of the Good Shepherd. Mr. Trumble is a member of the freshman class and lives in this city on Crouse avenue near East Genesee street.

The 1907 men tried out their new yell yesterday. It is this:

SOPHIES DOUGH!
FRESHIES LEAVEN!
RAISE 'EM UP! 1907.

FINE BASKET BALL PROSPECTS.

At a meeting of the Athletic Governing Board held Wednesday evening it was decided to place basket ball under the management of the Board. This action places basket ball upon the same footing with base ball, football, and the navy.

It has not as yet been decided whether those who make the 'Varsity team will be awarded the block S or not, but they will probably be granted letters similar to those given the members of the Athletic Association. A committee consisting of Professors Peck and Emens, and Mr. Gramlich and Earl Rice, manager of the team, was appointed, and given full power to decide concerning the awarding of suitable insignia, and all other matters which might fall to this department of athletics.

With this advance in basket ball, the prospects for a successful season are especially bright. Nearly all of the players on last year's team are back this fall, and much new material has come in with the entering class. Among the new candidates are Kinney and Millen, well-known players of the city, and Powell and Kirchgasser of Buffalo. The latter two men have played on the German Y. M. C. A. team of Buffalo, one of the strongest basket ball teams in the state.

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 25

The football season has had an auspicious opening. Everything in connection with this sport is promising for the future with one exception.

This is the presence of students and others inside the ropes, or where they are not wanted. This year especial care has to be taken of the checkerboard so that the five-yard cross-section lines be not obliterated. If for no other reason than this the crowd should keep off the field. There are ropes all around the field. They were put there for a purpose readily understood by such an intelligent community as is our own. The practice and play can be seen just as well by keeping outside the bounds.

We certainly do not wish to retard the progress of that which is our pride, the Orange eleven. Let everyone then constitute himself a committee of one to keep the field clear in practice and play alike. It is the least we can do to help the 'Varsity on to victory.

It is a gratifying fact that the annual salt rush between the lower classes was not to be postponed indefinitely, as was thought might be the result. There are some customs in vogue at Syracuse which are purely local, and which the students have come to expect and look forward to as much as they do for the various vacations. One of these customs is the salt rush. As the rush is usually carried out no serious accidents result, but the under classmen are given an hour of good, solid college fun. Such rushes tend to promote class spirit, and a student body without class spirit is unable to manifest any great amount of college spirit. For a student cannot become enthusiastic over class supremacy without imbibing loyalty to his college.

Room 77½, a new class room just finished, is the room on the third floor north of the elocution room.

THE SILVER BAY CONFERENCE.

Of the six hundred Young Women's Christian Association delegates present at the Student Conference at Silver Bay, Lake George, from June 26 to July 7, none were more enthusiastic than the Syracuse delegation in spite of the fact that its numbers fell far below those of Vassar, Smith, Mt. Holyoke, Wellesley and others, each being represented by an average of fifty girls.

Miss Ruth Paxson (Iowa State University) and Miss Conde (Smith), National student secretaries who planned the auditorium meetings, impressed all present with their spiritual and intellectual power. The morning hours from 8 to 12.30 were filled with a Missionary Institute, a Student Conference and Auditorium meeting and Bible Study classes, conducted by Mr. H. W. Hicks, Miss Blodgett and Dr. Stone of Baltimore.

Some of the more prominent speakers were Bishop Thoburn, John R. Mott, Robert E. Speer, Rev. R. J. Campbell (London), Miss Woolley (President of Mt. Holyoke) and Rev. Floyd Tompkins of Philadelphia.

On the afternoon of the Fourth of July, Wellesley won the boat races; on field day Vassar gained most points in the different events; the college day procession will long be remembered for the brilliant array of college colors, the vim and vigor of the songs and yells and the enthusiasm of each delegation for itself and for all others.

Syracuse University was represented by Caroline E. Pierson, '03; Maude E. Reynolds, '05; Alice Stafford, '04; Maude E. Saxe, '04; Bessie Howland, '04; Clara Moore, ex-'05; Jennie Wood, '05; Maude Tucker, '04; Maude McLachlan, '04, and Grace N. Baird, '04.

These appointments have been made at Columbia University: John G. Curtis, acting dean of the school of medicine; Laura D. Gill, adviser to women undergraduate students; Christian A. Hester, professor of pharmacology and therapeutics; George L. Meyala, adjunct professor of physical education and medical director of the gymnasium; Ernest F. Nichols, professor of experimental physics; Frederick H. Sykes, director of the extension department of Teachers' College; Amasa Trowbridge, adjunct professor of mechanical engineering; Marshall H. Saville, Loubat professor of American archaeology; James B. Scott, professor of law; Henry Carr Pearson, principal of Horace Mann Elementary School.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI NEWS.

Mr. Ernest F. Fox, '05 Law, of Cornell, has been visiting his sister, Miss Grace Fox.

Word has just reached Syracuse that Prof. Cabeen and his family are now in Grenoble, after spending the summer in Paris.

While Prof. Cabeen is pursuing his studies in French literature at the University of Grenoble his son and daughter will study in the French schools.

Mrs. Cabeen is devoting her time to the study of the French language.

Miss Elizabeth Hallam of Madison, Wis., joined them last month. She will remain with the family until they return to this country.

Mrs. Eaton of Eaton, N. Y., spent Wednesday with her daughter, Miss Grace Eaton, '07, of Winchell Hall.

Mr. Lawrence Ellis, Cornell '05, was at the Phi Delta Theta Chapter House on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Clark of 205 Euclid avenue gave an informal reception to the student members of the Young Ladies' and Young Men's Bible classes of the First M. E. Sunday school last evening.

Charles M. Cortelyou, '06, is pledged to Delta Upsilon.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Professor Flick decided Wednesday morning that unless further trouble arose the class in European History would meet on Mondays and Wednesdays at 12.

At present the class is meeting in the Historical Seminar room. It is hoped that before long they will be able to use the regular history room as the maps in that room are necessary to the best understanding of their subject.

The members of the Huntington Society living in Winchell Hall will entertain the society at its first regular meeting, Friday evening, October 2. It is earnestly hoped that all members will be present.

Some of the membership committee of the Y. M. C. A. are taking a census of the students. This is to help them in Y. M. C. A. work the coming year.

Dr. Hugh H. Lenahan, a former student at the Syracuse Medical College, has been appointed interne of the General Hospital in Utica. Dr. Lenahan graduated last June from the Medical College and was well and favorably known by the students of the University.

The State Board of Law Examiners, of which William P. Goodelle of this city is president, has made its report on the papers of the 510 law students of the state who tried the examinations for admission to the bar in June. There were thirty members of the graduating class of the College of Law of Syracuse University, of whom twenty-one passed. This is a better percentage than in most parts of the state. In the whole state about 35 per cent. failed. Of the 110 of this Judicial Department only 27 per cent. failed, showing a decided advantage over other sections.

The following members of the Syracuse College of Law passed: Peter A. Anderson, Marcellus R. Atwell, Clifford Axtell, Jose B. Colon, Charles M. Doyle, Merchant B. Hall, Alanson C. Houghton, Harvey N. Henderson, Grover W. Hinman, Gerrard S. Johnson, Saul R. Lavine, William F. Lewis, Thomas H. Low, Clair S. McGavern, John A. Molloy, Herbert B. Myron, Miss Bessie Mabel Seeley, Edward Schoenick, Edward Snyder, Arthur S. Vall, Chester Wilcox and William S. Estabrook.

SYRACUSE MEETS ONONDAGANS TODAY

The Game With the Indians Promises to be an Exciting Contest--Orange Warriors Well Prepared.

To-day the 'Varsity candidates will try conclusions with the warriors from the Onondaga reservation. The game is called for 3 o'clock and it is hoped a large crowd will be on hand to watch the game.

Manager Rubin announced the officials to be Mr. C. Freeman of Princeton, Mr. P. Carver of the All-Syracuse team and Mr. I. P. Steinberg of the All-Philadelphia professional team.

The 'Varsity men are in much better shape than last Saturday. A week of hard work, consisting mostly of fast scrimmage work, has done wonders for the old and new men alike.

Several new combinations have been tried out during the past few days with varying results. The 'Varsity has had only one freshman in its usual make-up. This man is Harwood at tackle, and to all appearances he is doing excellent work. Schade, Parks and Cortelyou have proved an excellent set of backs and are getting into form in rapid manner. McMickle is doing finely at center. He passes the ball accurately and fast, also blocks his opponent like a veteran. Captain O'Neill is running the team with his old-time vim and vigor. Lane and Boland are upholding their reputations on end work, while Brane, Rice and Tucker are making things hot for their opponents.

To-morrow's team will be chosen from the first and second 'Varsity, which lately have been playing as follows:

'Varsity.	Second 'Varsity.
Lane	Meecham
Left end.
Harwood	Farrington, Van Duser
Left tackle.
F. S. Rice	Smallwood
Left guard.
McMickle	Belcher
Center.
Brane	Brown, L. Rice.
Right guard.
Tucker	Dempster, Hares
Right tackle.
Boland	Yard, Cummings
Right end.
O'Neil	Twombly
Quarterback.
Schade	Lanctot, Parker
Left halfback.
Park	Erisman
Right halfback.
Cortelyou	Hanners, Smith
Fullback.

The Onondaga Indians are not going to be taken unawares by this game. As the ORANGE announced last Monday, they were present last Saturday watching the game. They will also come prepared to meet twenty or more men in the 'Varsity line-up through the game. Last year their complaint was that the 'Varsity put too many men against them, or, as the right guard on their team said after one of the plays, "Too much man."

Manager Rubin wishes all the men who have suits not in use to turn them in at once.

Other games for to-day are as follows:

Columbian and Wesleyan, at New York.

Cornell and Hobart, at Ithaca.

Harvard and Williams, at Cambridge.

Amherst and Willistown, at Amherst.

Georgetown and Maryland Agricultural College, at Washington.

United States Military Academy and Colgate, at West Point.

University of Pennsylvania and Dickinson, at Philadelphia.

Carlisle Indians and Gettysburg, at Carlisle.

Tufts and Monmouth College, at Illinois.

University of Vermont and Montpelier, at Vermont.

Michigan and Albion, at Ann Arbor.

ALUMNI RECORD SUPPLEMENT.

Dean Smalley has suspended work temporarily on the Alumni Supplement. He expects, however, to get it out this fall or early in winter. The supplement will contain 500 pages, covering the history of Syracuse during the last five years—or since the Alumni Record was issued. It is hoped that one can be issued every five years hereafter.

Most of the data and material for the supplement have already been collected. The edition of the Alumni Record now in use contains only 1,000 pages, so it will readily be seen how complete is the supplement. It will bring the Record up to date and contain all the names and addresses of the alumni, faculty members and historical data not contained in the latest edition. The number of degrees given since the publication of the Record, five years ago, will exceed 800, or more than 33 per cent. of the number previously conferred since 1871.

FINE ARTS COLLEGE

The first problem of the year given to the juniors and seniors was completed Thursday at 6 o'clock.

The second problem has already been posted—"A Facade of a City House in the Colonial Style." The house to be situated in the middle of a block, to be four stories in height and to be built of brick with stone trimmings. The lot is twenty-four feet wide. Plan of front wall and vestibule, and an elevation drawn in pencil and rendered in water color.

Sketches due October 1, 1903.

Mrs. Honsinger will take up the work in Italian next week as substitute during Miss Sargent's illness.

Shortly after 11 o'clock yesterday there was a little excitement in the architectural department. One freshman architect had continued to wear a mustache after entering college. Several days ago the sophomores notified him of the college custom. He did not comply, so yesterday morning as he came from one of his classes he was aided into the drafting room. As he lay upon a drafting table, held quiet by second year men, one side of his mustache was clipped off. He did not show any resistance and took it all good naturedly, so was allowed to go in peace.

The first sophomore problem for the year has just been posted. It consists of the study of the plans and elevations of some public buildings of considerable importance to be selected from the Beaux Art designs.

Plans and elevations to be enlarged to a convenient scale. All drawings to be studied in detail before the finished drawings are made.

Required:

A sheet of details.
One plan.
Front elevation.
One section.

This problem is due Saturday, Oct. 31.

The coaches wish these men to be in their football suits and on the field for practice at 4 p. m. promptly.

Captain Dineen, the star twirler for the 1907 aggregation, will doubtless pitch the entire game for the youngsters. G. Hannon, the other freshman ball twister, was hurt by a batted ball in the last game, and will not be in the game. Prospects are good for another freshman victory.

—Dr. Earl E. Sperry of the History Department has become assistant superintendent of Grace Church Sunday School, and also assists the rector as lay reader.

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT. 26

Syracuse has good reason to be proud of many things. Her rapid growth, the unity of her five great colleges and the success gained by her representatives on field and platform enthuse the soul of every Syracusan.

Accustomed as we are to success in everything, we dislike being told that we are weak in any department of college life. However, in justice we must admit that this is true of one department of our university that ought to be particularly strong. We have not the number and variety of songs that a university of the size and enthusiasm of Syracuse should possess. "Alma Mater" and "O Syracuse" have been sung so often that we fail to render them with the vim that should characterize a college song.

What we need is a song dominated by the spirit of Syracuse, the spirit of go, a song that is distinctively Syracusan both in words and music.

Many of us have the literary ability, even more of us have the music in our natures. The spirit of activity, of union, of fellowship is present to crystallize this ability into a form that will be of lasting service.

Does the desire of expressing in song or poetry your loyalty and devotion to Alma Mater ever animate you? When the wave of poetical or musical feeling next comes, yield to the impulse. You may not produce the song, you may not compose anything of value except to yourself. However, you will have aroused a creative instinct, an instinct that may ere long manifest itself in some worthy production.

Should this cause receive your every effort? You whose hearts are in tune with the spirit of Syracuse answer with a song.

Some of the freshmen are showing considerable ability on the tennis courts. However, there are a few players who have not yet provided themselves with tennis shoes. As a result the courts on which these candidates have been practicing have already become unfit for fast play.

It is all right for a man to want to make his mark, but we should draw the line when it comes to tennis courts.

SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM.

Joseph Pulitzer has provided $2,000,000 to establish a school of journalism at Columbia University. A new building for the school will be built on Morningside Heights at a cost of $300,000. The school will hold toward the university a relation similar to that of the law school, the school of medicine and the school of mines, and like them will be national in scope. An important feature will be an advisory board, to be nominated by the donor, to aid in devising a course of instruction.

Seven members of this advisory board have already been designated by the donor and with others to be selected hereafter will be nominated to the trustees of Columbia University at their meeting in October. They are: Nicholas Murray Butler, ex-officio; Whitelaw Reid, John Hay, Saint Clair McKelway, Andrew D. White, Victor F. Lawson of Chicago, General Charles H. Taylor, sr., of Boston, and Charles W. Eliot, president of Harvard.

President Eliot's duties in connection with his own university will prevent him from serving on the permanent advisory board, but he has cordially approved the plan, has given counsel to the founder and will give to individual members of the advisory board the benefits of his experience and knowledge. All the others named have signified their willingness to serve. In making announcement of Mr. Pulitzer's gift,

Students purposing to enter upon the career of journalism will find accessible here courses of study that will for this profession be equivalent to what other professional schools supply for other professions. While young men already engaged upon the newspapers and desiring to advance themselves more rapidly by the cultivation of their aptitudes may find in these courses a valuable assistance. It is believed this will be an advantage to them immediately and ultimately to the press of the whole country.

At the time of the last census, there were in the United States 114,093 lawyers and 30,098 persons classed as journalists. The legal profession was provided with trained recruits by 100 law schools, with 1,105 professors and instructors. For a fair proportion there should have been at least twenty-six colleges of journalism, with faculties 20 strong. There was not one.

President Eliot of Harvard has provided an outline of subjects to be covered in the school, including newspaper administration, newspaper manufacture, the law of journalism, ethics of journalism, history of journalism, the literary form of newspapers, and reinforcement of existing departments of instruction. It is probable that the scheme of instruction will include several of the academic courses now taught in the university.

The buildings for the school will, probably, be finished by the autumn of 1903, and the school may be opened soon afterward. The course of study will be two years. Candidates will be admitted upon an examination as to good character and intelligence, but previous collegiate courses will not be required.

ADVANCED STANDING.

The following students have entered on advanced standings from other colleges. Their classes have not as yet been determined. Several others have entered provisionally, but have not as yet been accepted by the committee on advanced standings:

Lena Graudin Baldwin, Woman's College, Baltimore; Charles Walter Billings, Colgate; John D. Billings, Colgate; R. D. Foster, University of California; Fannie E. DAILY ORANGE BRIEFS.

The end of an interesting romance has just come to light in the marriage of Robert Albright, '04-ex, to Miss Irene Copley, '04-ex. It occurred last week, September 16, in this city.

Mr. Albright was a member of Phi Delta Theta and Mrs. Albright of Gamma Phi Beta while in college.

They are residing at the "Adella," in South Warren street, this city.

--Frank Sornberger, '06, is spending the day at his home in Cortland.

Yale may lose two of her football stars this season. Foster Rockwell, the crack quarterback of last year's team, and Ralph Bloomer, old Eli's star tackle, it is said, will not be in the 1903 squad.

The Classical Club of the University will begin its work of the year about October first. Last year the Classical Club met every two weeks. Several interesting lectures were given by men from out of the city, and were enjoyed by the members. Refreshments were usually served at each meeting.

It is intended to continue the club along the same lines this year. The members of the faculty and major students who are in the classical department are those most interested in the club's welfare.

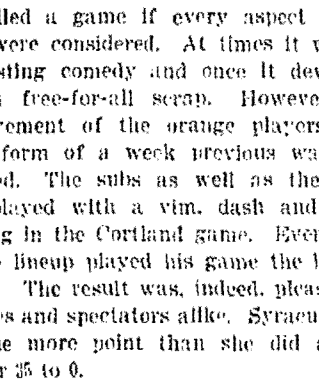
VOL. I. NO. 12. SYRACUSE, N. Y., MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

SYRACUSE 35; INDIANS 0.



The Contest Partly a Comedy of Errors--'Varsity Candidates Much Improved in Work.

The contest last Saturday could hardly be called a game if every aspect of the play were considered. At times it was an interesting comedy and once it developed into a free-for-all scrap. However, the improvement of the orange players over their form of a week previous was very marked. The subs as well as the regulars played with a vim, dash and unity lacking in the Cortland game. Every man in the lineup played his game the best he could. The result was, indeed, pleasing to coaches and spectators alike. Syracuse won by one more point than she did a year ago, or 35 to 0.

The only 'Varsity man in the lineup during the first half was the veteran Brane, who played center. He is showing promise of being a worthy successor to "Dutch" Wikoff. He played with his old time vigor and grit throughout the game. His opponents found him a hard proposition, both in offensive and defensive work. His passing was sure and accurate at all times.

The first half was chiefly of interest as a tryout for the new men. Acting Captain Twombly, at quarter, ran the eleven well during this period. He was in the play every time. He is quick both in thought and action and has the stuff in him to make a good substitute for Captain O'Neill.

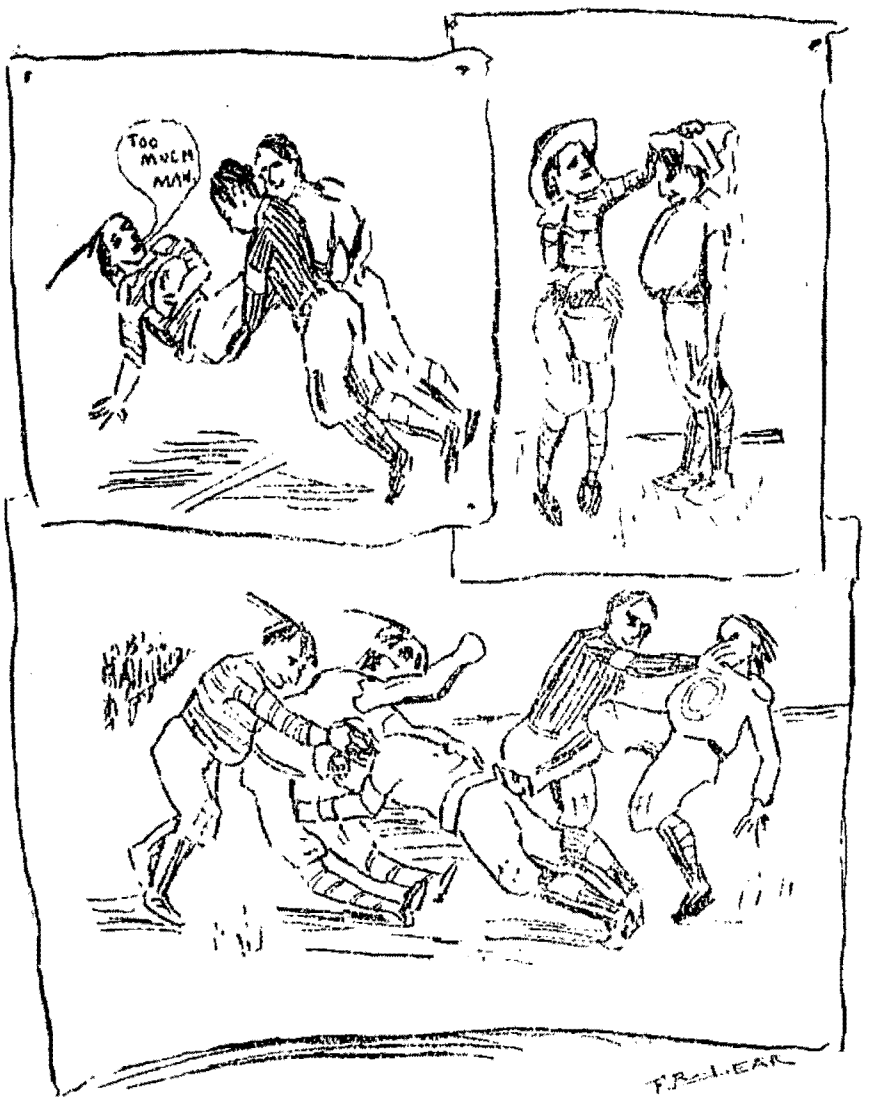
The back field, consisting of Parker at right half, Erisman at left and Hanners, fullback, showed up well in all plays. Their interference was loose and ragged at times, but effective towards their opponents. Parker made the first touchdown after a long run and Yard kicked a pretty goal. Erisman did some excellent work on the defensive, breaking through the Indians' ranks repeatedly.

Syracuse lost the ball several times on fumbles and once or twice showed very ragged work in this respect. They also were penalized several times, as were the Indians.

Boland failed to convert the second touchdown into a goal. This was the only failure in the six chances.

Toward the end of this half Captain O'Neill replaced Twombly at quarter. Lane and Boland took care of the ends, while later Cortelyou, Schade and Park were put in the back field. It was before the latter change that Erisman at left half made the most sensational run of the day. Getting the ball on a lineup near the center of the field, he circled the right end for a touchdown. He had excellent interference for the first ten yards, but thereafter he pushed off the Indians unaided.

Parker, the brilliant speed merchant, made the last touchdown during this half after a twenty-yard sprint around the end. O'Neill kicked the goal. Score, 23 to 0.



The second half saw some splendid performances by Schade and Park in end running, Cortelyou in line bucking and Lane and Boland in tackling. Once on a punt the Indian who played back and caught the ball was downed in his tracks by both Lane and Boland at the same time. It was his sincere belief afterwards that he was up against "Too much man."

The half ended with the score at 23 to 0. After the game the regulars lined up against the scrubs for a ten-minute half. Graduate Coaches Parish and Brown were assisted by Messrs. Carl Dorr, Fay Robinson, Dr. Van Lengen and Prof. W. M. Smallwood, all former wearers of the orange.

The lineup and officials follow:

'Varsity.	Positions.	Indians.
Meachem, Lane	Left end	Hill
Harwood	Left tackle	Brown, E. S. Thomas
F. S. Rice	Left guard	C. Jacobs, E. Lyons
Brane	Center	S. Isaacs
Brown, Dempster	Right guard	H. Isaacs, Ed Thomas
Tucker	Right tackle	Logan
Yard, Boland	Right end	R. Thomas, Conway
Twombly, O'Neil	Quarterback	J. Lyons, Powless
Parker, Park	Right halfback	Beckman
Hanners, Cortelyou	Fullback	I. Lyons, E. Jacobs

Officials—Pat Carver, Union, referee; Charles Freeman, Princeton, umpire; linesmen, I. P. Steinburg, Philadelphia Athletics, for Syracuse; Thomas Lewis for Indians; timekeepers, E. Schanadore and I. P. Steinburg. Touchdowns—Parker, 2; Erisman, 1; Hanners, 1; Park, 1; Schade, 1. Goals kicked—Yard, 1; O'Neil, 4.

No. 1 shows Lane and Boland downing an Indian warrior in his tracks after catching a punt.

No. 2 shows how the Indians' coach rejuvenated the redskin warriors.

FINE ARTS COLLEGE

Friday afternoon, during the period that all good architects are supposed to be in the freehand drawing room, the freshmen of that department quietly left the drawing room one by one and, under the supervision of the juniors, who stood on guard, stacked the sophomore room in a manner that deserves much credit. Tables were piled one over another, contents of various drawers were strewn about the room, while drawing boards and stools formed a pyramid in the center of the room with a crown of hats and coats. When the sophomores returned, they were like the little boy who had nothing to say, and could only vow vengeance on the daring freshies who had invaded their domain.

MONDAY MORNING, SEPT. 28

A letter of recent date has been received by the ORANGE management. It comes from New York city. The author, Mr. F. J. Marlen, says that the New York city alumni are greatly displeased over this fall's football schedule. The principal reason is that no Columbia or West Point game is found on the list.

The point may be well taken. We do not know the reasons why the football manager did not arrange either of those games. He may have the use of our paper to explain his point of view, and satisfy the New York Alumni. We know that games with both West Point and Columbia were played last year with unsatisfactory results. We also perceived that such a heavy schedule as was last year's impracticable for this fall. Last season our best men were in poor shape with so many big games, and the year did not end so well as it began. It is Manager Rubin's task to state his views to the New York Alumni.

Manager Herbert C. Miller of the Yale football eleven has made a radical change this year in the training table plans for the team. Heretofore the training table has been in private residences. For two years Mrs. Paterson has had it at 42 College street and the service has been very satisfactory. This year an experiment will be made in taking it to the Yale commons. The service there has been exceptionally good under the management of F. T. Deshon, who has been given in addition to the university dining hall work, many of the largest contracts for catering, formerly given to New York firms, like the senior and junior promenade. These have been filled with great credit and the football management has fallen into line and will have its players quartered there all this fall. The removal of the training table from private boarding houses to the university commons marks another of the important changes incident to the introduction of the commons here.

One by one the private boarding houses have been closed in this city as students went to the commons to eat. Some of the university training tables have been taken from private boarding houses to the University Club on York street. The plan of taking them to the commons has often been discussed but has not been put into effect before. It is claimed by the athletic authorities that the commons will be much cheaper as the stock is bought at wholesale and as the commons is conducted without making profit for anybody except a public saving for the boarders.

THE FOOTBALL REVIEW.

Preliminary football practice at most of the colleges is well under way. The Carlisle Indians were the earliest in the field, as they started practice the first week of September.

Of last year's football eleven at Yale seven players form the nucleus of the team that begins the season's work. Yale loses by the graduation of Holt, center; Goss, guard; Chadwick, halfback; Hamlin, substitute guard and tackle; Wilhelmi, substitute halfback, and Vanderpoel, substitute fullback. Yale also loses Glass of Syracuse, the giant guard, who will still be in college, but who, it is understood, is ineligible. Captain Charles D. Rafferty, who succeeded George Chadwick, will have a difficult question to face in picking his team. It will be particularly hard to find three new men who can fill the places of Holt, Goss and Glass in the center trio of positions. The back-field loses the best halfback Yale has had in recent years.

Holt's loss at center is hard to make up, as he was very steady, strong and clever at playing in combination with his two giant guards. Morton and Lewis, last year's substitutes, are the principal candidates for his position. Goss at right guard leaves a big hole, with only Brown of last year's substitute list to call upon for his place. The loss of Glass at left guard is the greatest individual loss. It is probable that Kinney, the strapping tackle of last year, will take a guard position, where he was accustomed to play at school. At tackle Yale will be fortunate this year. Hogan and Kinney return, and it is possible that Bloomer will be able to play again in his old position. Shevlin, last year's end, is too heavy this season, and may be shifted to tackle, and of the substitutes last year Bissell and Turner were first-class men. Of last year's ends Captain Rafferty and Shevlin return, and there will be Hare, who played in Rafferty's place in both of the big games for part of the time; Stillman, Ward, Moorhead and Neal of last year's substitute list.

Behind the line there promises to be a shake-up. Metcalf, last year's halfback, will again play his position, and the other halfback will be picked probably from Owsley, Allen, Preston and Soper. At fullback there will be Bowman, Farmer and MacMahon.

George Chadwick, who was captain last fall, will have charge of all the field coaching and Walter Camp, Yale's veteran athletic adviser, will act as general coach and director, as last season. Mike Murphy will again have charge of the conditioning and training of the 'varsity eleven and will act as coach for the second team.

Among the big colleges of the East, Harvard lost more veteran players by graduation last spring than any of her rivals. Of the players that faced Yale at New Haven last November, but four are still in college this season. They are Captain Carl Marshall, quarterback; Andy Marshall, the 215-pound guard; P. O. Mills, who played at end, and C. A. Shea, the 200-pound tackle. W. S. Sugden, the center, may return and take a course in the law school, but it is questionable if he will again don his uniform and try for his place. E. Bowditch, the end, and D. Knowlton, tackle, may also return. There is no lack of promising substitutes and freshmen, and Head Coach John S. Cranston has plenty of material to start work.

This was demonstrated at the spring practice of the squad, when nearly sixty candidates responded in unfavorable weather. Among the most promising substitute players of last season with the positions they played the following are the leaders: For full-back, T. G. Meier, W. T. Harrison, H. Schaelkopf; for half-back, D. T. Hurley, T. P. Lindsay, F. W. C. Foster, R. W. Weatherbee; for quarter-back, H. S. Parker, W. McElkins, W. C. Mather, S. H. Noyes; for guard, E. C. Hovey, R. G. Coburn, S. Wilder; for ends, W. J. Clothier, J. T. Jones, J. A. Burgess, A. Crocker, jr., W. C. Mathews; for tackle, R. M. Bleakie, R. Oveson.

WORLD'S FAIR GAMES.

The final meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union's Olympic committee has been held. After a lengthy discussion, the representatives of the Western Association of the A. A. U., which controls this district, decided that their association would register free of charge all athletes from any foreign country who have satisfactory evidence that they are amateurs.

Endeavors will be made to have the winners of the National and American League pennants play three games under the Olympic auspices for the championship of the world.

The following is the official programme as arranged:

The Olympic international world's all-around dumb-bell contest, in ten sections, divided into two sections, five out of the ten sections each day.

September 3—One hundred-meter run, throwing the discus, dumb-bell, second section; 1,500-meter run, 4,000-meter steeplechase, 110-meter hurdle race, pole-vault for height, three standing jumps and international team race, 5,000 meters, each country to start five men.

August 29—One hundred and twenty-yard hurdle, running broad jump, 880-yard run, putting the sixteen-pound shot.

August 31—One-mile run, 100-yard run, high jump, pole vault.

September 1—Two hundred and twenty-yard run, handicap; 220-yard hurdle, handicap; throwing the discus, throwing the 56-pound weight.

September 3—Sixty-yard run, 440-yard run, throwing the hammer and a handicap team race open to teams of four men, each man to run 440 yards, less the handicap.

The committee also took up the question of scheduling the important athletic championship fixtures of America, and the following dates and events were unanimously decided upon for the Amateur Athletic Union's track and field championships and handicap meeting:

1905 ONONDAGAN.

A meeting of the Board of Editors of the 1905 Onondagan was held Friday afternoon to make plans for the publication of this year's book. Plans are now well under way, and success for the 1905 Onondagan is already assured. Cheney, Miss Florence Giles and Miss Theresa Tobin; Fine Arts College, Miss Daisey Best and Fred Lear; Applied Science, Samuel Birdsall and Howard S. Witmer; Law College, E. L. Cross and P. F. DAILY ORANGE BRIEFS.

This is an extract from The Buffalo Express of last Saturday (Sept. 26), showing how two former Syracuse men are regarded in football matters. The game referred to was between Masten Park and Olean High Schools:

The Reverend R. B. Adams will referee the game. Mr. Adams is an old favorite at Buffalo Athletic Field because of his just decisions and hearty co-operation with the game and the players. He has been found by long experience to be absolutely unbiased in his work. Having been twice captain of the Syracuse football squad in the responsible position of quarter, has given him a thorough and practical knowledge of the game. Mr. D. Cummings, of national reputation, will umpire and needs no introduction to the public.

The Sophomore class in History I is the largest ever registered in that course. It numbers 165 and it is probable another division will be formed soon. The work is given by Professor Flick and Dr. Sperry.

The enrollment in Dr. Mace's course in English history has reached 88, a third larger than last year.

CALL FOR CHESS PLAYERS.

A meeting of the University Chess Club will be held at the Psi Upsilon House, Saturday afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock. All college men who are at all interested in the game are strongly urged to attend this meeting.

There are many students in the University who know something about the game, but who think they do not play a sufficiently strong game to stand a show of making the team. These men ought to come out and try for the team. The purpose of the Chess Club is to take these inexperienced players in hand and by regular and consistent practice develop them into strong players. If there turns out to be some good new material our University can put out a strong team this year, as three of last year's team are still in college, Rader, Truran and Scripture.

Last year the team had a very successful season. Their first match was with the team of the University Club. Our team won by a score of 3½ games to 2½. Next the Citizens' Club defeated the University team by the score of 3½ to 2½. A return match with the Citizens' Club resulted in a tie, 3 to 3. The match with Hamilton College resulted in a tie, 4 to 4.

This year the team will play several matches with the Citizens' Club and the University Club. An attempt will be made to interest the University faculty and, if possible, a match will be played with them up on the Hill. Matches may be arranged with Cornell, Hamilton and other colleges. Toward the end of the second semester a ten or twelve board match will be played with a team composed of city experts.

In order that we may have a strong team this year it is very necessary that all who play chess should give us their support. We therefore hope that we shall have a big attendance at the first meeting on Saturday afternoon.

PARKER F. SCRIPTURE,
President of Chess Club.

NEW PRIZE OFFERED.

Mr. John C. Tennant, '01, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., has established an annual prize of twenty-five dollars to be known as the "John C. Strong Prize" in the Department of Semitic Languages and Biblical Literature. The requirements are an essay of about five thousand words. Competition for the prize is open to major students and those who take the equivalent of major work in the department.

The subjects will alternate between the Old and New Testaments. The subject for 1903-4 is "The Babylonian Monuments and the Bible."

Those wishing to compete are requested to consult with me.

ISMAR J. PERITZ.

LAW COLLEGE BRIEFS.

Two classes in elocution have been organized in the Law College, under the supervision of Miss Sherwood. The one class is composed of freshmen, the other of juniors and seniors. The latter class will take up debate work for the first half of the year. The first debate will be held next Friday afternoon upon the question: "Resolved, That the State of New York should build a 1,000-ton barge canal." The affirmative side will be taken by Messrs. Black (leader), Race and Hennessey, the negative by Messrs. Backus (leader), Orchard and Young.

FOUND—On the campus after the Salt Rush, a brown leather purse. Owner may have same by inquiring at Treasurer's office and paying for this advertisement.

FOOTBALL REVIEW.

What the Other Colleges are Doing--New Men Prospects for the Future.

PRINCETON.

Princeton is another team which lost few players by graduation in June. Only two members of the eleven which played in the Yale game went out with the class of 1903. They were S. W. McClave, halfback, and F. G. Pearson, the quarter. The Tigers have a long list of available players to draw upon, and there is every prospect of a team that will equal if not exceed the record made by the Orange and Black last fall. Many of the leading football experts think that the new rules will be greatly in favor of the Princeton style of game this year. The Tigers have been noted in the past for their open style of play, and it can safely be said that mass plays and close formation tricks did not emanate from the New Jersey university. The rule which provides for seven men on the line between the 5-yard lines will be a big help to the Princeton game, which has always tended to open field gains and end rushes. The rules this season put a premium on the kicking game and in Captain De Witt Princeton has the best punter and drop kicker on the field to-day. In the Yale-Princeton game last year De Witt scored the only points for Princeton by a 48-yard drop kick in the early part of the game and later nearly duplicated the performance. He scored the only points made in the Princeton-Cornell game with two drop kicks from the field and has repeatedly demonstrated his ability to send the ball half the length of the field.

Captain J. R. De Witt and Head Coach A. E. T. Hillebrand have the following seasoned players to pick from:

Ends, R. T. Davis, H. H. Henry, K. B. Crawford, N. B. Tooker, P. M. Brasher, F. Brown, J. A. Forney, H. C. Smith; tackles, R. R. Reed, E. E. Brown, H. Short, N. Caruthers, C. S. Whelan, D. S. Pond, H. E. Newman, J. C. Semple, E. C. Hardy; guards, J Bradley, E. L. Rafferty, J. R. De Witt, A. T. Baker, O. Dutcher, C. T. Tittmann, C. S. Whelan; centers, E. L. Barney, A. T. Baker, H. Short; quarterbacks, T. J. Burke, E. C. Chandlee, R. Vetterlein, A. F. King; halfbacks, W. L. Foulke, S. E. Bush, H. R. Hart, J. D. Kafer, H. C. Smith, C. R. Simpson, A. H. Oals, E S Ward; fullbacks, R McClave, J C. Ames, J. D. Kafer, W. Delaney. Princeton will also strengthen her football squad by the addition of several promising preparatory school players.

TRACK OFFICIALS.

The officials for the sophomore-freshman track meet this Saturday have been chosen as follows:

Referee, J. A. R. Scott; starter, C. D. Whittemore; timers, C. Terry, '04, H. Cornwall, '03, E. Wharff, '03, S. A. Ralph, '05; judges at finish, D. Decker, '03, W. Lowe, '03, G. Moore, '04; field judges, H. Barber, '04, C. Van Dyne, '04, R. Stone, '04, R. Allen, '04, S. Stokley, '05, R. Benedict, '05; clerk of course, George Hares, '04; assistants, F. Plumb, '06, F. Phelps, '06.

WANTED—At Winchell Hall, a woman student to work for her board; apply on Tuesday between 4 and 6.

Until further notice the registrar is obliged to limit the time when students may call for reports on their work to Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. This is to give time for booking up the records.

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 29

Few students realize the great importance of the work of the musical clubs in furthering the interests of Syracuse University. On their vacation tours they represent the University before thousands of people whose estimate of Syracuse largely depends upon the quality of the work of these clubs.

Are you eager that the large public which will hear the clubs this winter shall learn something of the real worth of Syracuse University? Do you wish to invest your musical ability, be it great or small, where it will bring in the largest dividends both to yourself and to your university?

As the clubs have lost some of their best men by graduation it is imperative that a large number of new men shall step in and fill up the breaks. The Glee Club trials take place Thursday afternoon in Crouse College. Be there with your music, whether it be an Italian Aria or Mr. Dooley.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Walter D. Collins of Newburgh, whose father's sudden death necessitated his return to Newburgh, is again in Syracuse ready to take up his studies in the Fine Arts College. Mr. Collins' father, Prof. Isaac Collins, was very widely known throughout the Hudson Valley as a musical director of very exceptional ability.

All the Western universities are busy these days whipping their men into the game.

Phil King, the famous quarterback of Princeton, will coach the Georgetown 'Varsity eleven.

A plan is on foot in New York to organize a team composed of college graduates. Raymond Starbuck, Carnello, and other prominent knights of the pigskin are interested.

The impression seems to have been circulated this fall that the number of students in the Latin department had decreased in comparison with last year's registration. The professors in this department report, on the contrary, a marked increase, which is very pleasing to them. It shows that the efforts to make this course attractive to the average individual are beginning to tell.

ATTENTION, STUDENTS.

The athletic governing board of the University made certain recommendations some time ago, that the student body submit to them a fixed method for the election of the student members of the board. These recommendations have not been complied with. The result is the following recent action by the board:

Whereas, certain recommendations were made by the athletic governing board to the effect that the student body adopt a uniform and fixed method for the election of members of the student body to the governing board.

Whereas, the governing board has not been notified of any such action on the part of the student body.

Therefore, be it resolved, that the student body be requested to give this matter their attention at chapel exercises and to prepare such plans for a uniform election, and to submit the same in writing to the governing board.

President George S. Hares of the Student Athletic Association will call a meeting of the student body to consider this subject after chapel this Wednesday. He wishes a large attendance of all the classes and a thorough consideration of the subject.

FOREIGN COLLEGE NEWS.

There will be two new crews in the big intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie next year. Word has recently been received to the effect that not only will the University of California have an eight in the 'varsity race, but that the University of North Carolina is also making preparations to send a 'varsity crew.

This will make a total of eight crews in the big race, the following colleges being represented: Syracuse, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Cornell, Georgetown, Wisconsin, California and North Carolina.

Each succeeding year sees this regatta on the Hudson taking a more important position in the world of college sports. It has already completely eclipsed the family struggle between Yale and Harvard at New London, and in the opinion of many collegians it is now only a matter of time when the Crimson and the Blue will be represented in the annual intercollegiate struggle on the Hudson.

The decision of the Columbia Rowing Association to substitute graduate for professional coaching of future crews places all the Columbian sports where they should be—upon a basis of strict amateurism—as the football team was last fall for the first time in some years coached by graduates led by the strenuous Mr. Morley.

The professional coaches might have lasted longer if they had "got results." Hanlan, personally one of the finest oarsmen ever floated, did not succeed in developing winning crews. Courtney, of Cornell, with a record of three straight victories both this year and last at Poughkeepsie, is probably in no danger of losing his occupation. So Yale, where Kennedy's pupils won "three straight" this year, looks with less disfavor upon professional coaching than does Harvard, which employes a professional only to teach beginners the rudiments of rowing.

Yet the sentiment in favor of discarding professional methods is undoubtedly growing in our colleges. Is there any reason why it should not? If paid coaches shall teach college boys to row, why not hire professionals to do the rowing and restrict the "exercise" of the onlooking collegians wholly to their lungs?

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING OF THE COLLEGE YEAR BY THE STUDENTS OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY.

VOL. I. NO. 14 SYRACUSE, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

STUDENT ELECTIONS.

Method Must be Devised for Electing Students' to Governing Board--Opinions of Alumni.

Since the adoption of the new system of government over the athletics of the University last year, there has been much discussion concerning the election of students to office. The principal trouble is in the electioneering features used when student managers or assistants were elected, as in several cases last year. Further, there is no definite method fixed as yet for the election of students to the Athletic Governing Board.

These difficulties need to be remedied at once. It is the desire of the alumni and others interested that this be given the earnest attention and thought of the students.

The following letter explains itself:

September 29, 1903.

Editor Syracuse Daily Orange, Syracuse, N. Y.:

Dear Sir--During the last college year objection was raised on the part of certain students to the methods of voting on student managers. The matter was taken to the Athletic Governing Board, and I was one of a committee appointed by that board to hear the evidence which students might care to give concerning that election. The evidence which came before us at that time showed the system of voting to be irregular in some respects and in need of reform, and it was agreed by the Athletic Governing Board that the attention of the undergraduate body ought to be called to this matter. We, therefore, did call the attention of the undergraduate body to this matter, and requested that a committee be appointed to adopt some uniform system of voting for undergraduate managers and undergraduate members of the Athletic Governing Board, the points which especially ought to be covered being that the polls be opened in all colleges at the same hour and closed at the same hour; that no college, by reason of a late beginning, should be deprived from casting its vote; that electioneering in the immediate vicinity of the polls be prohibited, and that no one be permitted to vote by proxy.

Nothing seems to have been done about this matter, and it ought to be taken up by the Athletic Association without delay. It would seem to me that if regular class marshals were elected to conduct the cheering that they might properly constitute a permanent board of election inspectors, who should conduct the machinery of all undergraduate elections. But, in any event, something ought to be done in order that our elections be conducted with perfect equality and fairness. Yours truly,

GEORGE H. BOND.

The Athletic Governing Board also wishes special attention called by the ORANGE to the following resolutions:

Whereas, certain recommendations were made by the athletic governing board to the effect that the student body adopt a uniform and fixed method for the election of members of the student body to the governing board.

Whereas, the governing board has not been notified of any such action on the part of the student body;

Therefore, be it resolved, that the student body be requested to give this matter their attention at chapel exercises and to prepare such plans for a uniform election, and to submit the same in writing to the governing board.

President George S. Hares of the Athletic Association will call a meeting of the student body at chapel to-day to consider this matter. It is desired that all classes be well represented.

THE ORANGE APPRECIATED.

Expressions of Approval From Alumni and Friends of the University--The Daily Progresses.

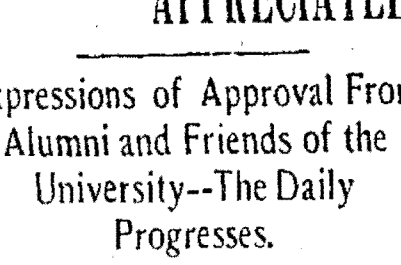
The DAILY ORANGE is steadily progressing every day. The management has worked long and hard to put the paper on a high standard of excellence and please all patrons. It will continue to work for the best interests of the University and students at all times.

The paper has been appreciated by many of the alumni and friends of the University throughout the country. We are printing letters to-day received from some of them. We wish to have over one thousand subscribers before the year ends. We have made a good beginning and hope you will help on the good work.

Some of the letters follow:

"352 W. Clinton St., Elmira, N. Y.

"September 22, 1903.



"Business Manager of The SYRACUSE DAILY ORANGE, Syracuse University:

"Dear Sir--The first numbers of the ORANGE have reached me, and I congratulate you on the courage of your enterprise. Soon, I trust, I may further congratulate you upon its great success. Nothing connected with Syracuse University fails to interest me, and especially such tokens as this of its honorable ambitions to take high rank among modern university enterprises.

"Please find inclosed a check for $2.50, that I may not lose a number of this interesting daily.

"Yours for the Orange and all its color represents.

"ESTHER BAKER STEELE."

IN THE ORANGE OFFICE—

It may not be known to some that the writer of the above pleasing letter is one of the most generous supporters of the University. It was she who contributed the money for the erection of Steele Hall of Physics.

The following is from an alumnus who in his college days was the most successful newspaper man in college. He was editor and business manager of The Forum, the former weekly:

CANISTEO, N. Y., Sept. 18, 1903.

Business Manager Syracuse Daily Orange.

Dear Sir: I enclose check for $2.00 for which kindly send me the DAILY ORANGE for one year, beginning with No. 1. The first three issues were received this morning and to say that as an alumnus, I am agreeably surprised in the many good features and the general excellence of THE ORANGE is putting it somewhat mildly. A more important fact than the down-to-date qualities of the new daily, however, is that Syracuse University has a daily paper. That the time is fully ripe for such an enterprise must be apparent to everyone watching the recent course of events in this institution, which has developed more rapidly in every way during the administration of James R. Day than any other institution of learning in America, in proportion to conditions; and the founding of a daily publication is a wide step forward for Syracuse University along the highway of rapid progress and prosperity; as such THE ORANGE is, I believe, deserving of ample support on the part of the University officially and from the alumni and undergraduates. Yours respectfully,

J. CLAUDE LATHAM, '99.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI NEWS.

Miss Helene Johnston, '04-ex, has recently been visiting at the Delta Delta Delta fraternity house. She left the city yesterday for New York city. There she intends to enter a course of training at the Nurses' Training School on Blackwell's Island.

The students who attended chapel Monday enjoyed a treat in a talk given by the Reverend Arthur Beard, the senior corresponding secretary of the American Missionary Society.

Chancellor James R. Day in introducing him said he was one of the pioneers in aiding the growth of Syracuse at its beginning, and also had acted as an advisor of Senator Stanford in the building of Leland Stanford University. Dr. Beard is a graduate of Yale and at present a trustee of that great institution.

He spoke briefly on the advantages of a present day college education, introducing several very good stories. He said that a college education to-day should give us three things:

First—Elevation or broad outlook on life. Second—Atmosphere, clear and free from the fog of doubt. Third—Eye-sight unhindered by any difficulty.

In closing he congratulated the University and students on the wonderful growth of Syracuse.

DEPARTMENTAL NOTES.

Twenty men were present Monday evening at the meeting of the Political Economy Seminar. Prof. Hawkins announced that the seminar would devote its attention to the various phases of the Labor Union question.

The plan adopted is very similar to that employed by the Political Economy Seminar of Johns Hopkins University. During the first semester the work is to be mainly theoretical and fundamental. During the second semester the emphasis will be upon the practical workings of the labor unions. Representatives of the unions in this city and well known employers of labor will present before the seminar the results of their experience.

WANTED—At Winchell Hall, a woman student to work for her board; apply on Tuesday between 4 and 6.

Until further notice the registrar is obliged to limit the time when students may call for reports on their work to Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. This is to give time for booking up the records.

WED. MORNING, SEPT. 30

To-day sees the ORANGE printed in a new office with a large stock of material and other improvements at hand. This is only one sign of many which has, and will mark its progress during the college year.

The DAILY ORANGE is here to stay, and give "the news while it is news." We think we have succeeded in doing fairly well up to the present. In the future it will be our earnest endeavor to do even better. In order to do so we must have the support of the student body and Faculty in several things.

It has come to our notice on several occasions that certain students, instead of subscribing for the paper, make a practice of daily reading subscribers' papers, which are left in the mail box. Not only does this show a decided lack of college loyalty in supporting the publication, but it also often proves a source of much trouble to the management, as the papers are frequently replaced in wrong boxes.

Notwithstanding all this we are steadily going forward encouraged by the pleasing support already shown us on the part of the alumni, student body and Faculty.

We desire in the news line, that the Faculty and students send in all official notices on time and properly signed. Always write on one side of the paper and do not abbreviate unnecessarily. Boxes for news items can be found in Liberal Arts and Fine Arts Colleges near the entrances. News should be in the boxes by 4 p. m. of the day previous.

There is a goodly number of men now working to make the staff. We desire many more to try. Several appointments will be made at Thanksgiving, and again at Christmas and Easter time. Every one has a chance. Hand in, or send your name to the editor at 118 College Place.

The Daily Orange takes much pleasure in announcing the promotion of Lloyd L. Cheney, 1905, to the new position of news editor. The duties of the editor-in-chief are so many that he finds it necessary to create the new position in order to relieve him of part of his heavy burden. The announcement is also made of the promotion of Arthur Stanley Copeland, 1904, to the position of leading associate editor. Both these men are very efficient workers and deserve the hearty co-operation of the students and faculty in getting news.

NEW WOMEN'S COLLEGE.

Ground was staked out for a new building and a new institution in Geneva this summer,—a women's college to be founded, built and endowed by the well known nurseryman, William Smith, and to be known as the William Smith College for Women. Plans for the building have been drawn and submitted to the contractors and builders for estimates.

The site of the new college will be the floral park on Castle Heights, just beyond the present residence of William Smith, a beautiful plot of twenty or thirty acres of ground.

The plans under consideration call for a main building with a frontage of 211 feet with two wings at either end, each 144 feet long. It will be of a Romanesque style of architecture and will be built of light brown brick with Medina sandstone trimmings. The central part of the building will be known as the administration building, while one wing will be designated "the educational pavilion" and the other "the residence pavilion." The latter will be the dormitory and will have seventy-five rooms. The building will be three stories high, with basement, the latter being above ground.

The ground floor plan of the central portion calls for a grand entrance and hallway, with an office and council room on one side; a reception parlor and library on the other.

The upper floors will be devoted to dormitory purposes. The basement will also be utilized to advantage. The dormitory wing or residence pavilion will be entirely devoted to dormitory purposes, except in the basement there will be a large recreation hall, 50 by 112 feet in dimensions.

In the educational wing, the basement will contain at one end a domestic science demonstration hall, while at the other end will be located the dining room. There is a central hall running through, on one side of which are the class rooms, and the other a steward's room, pantry and kitchen.

On the floor above there will be a demonstration hall, 28x42, while at the opposite end will be an assembly hall, 50x70. There will be three class rooms on either side of the hall running through the center.

This, in brief, is a general outline of the building which it is proposed to erect. It will be modern in every respect, heated with steam from a seperate plant outside the building and the residence portion. The cost of the building is estimated at $100,000 to $150,000 and it will take at least a year to build it. There is a possibility that these plans may not be adopted and that others may be substituted, but it is the intention at any rate to proceed at once with the erection of a fine modern building, second to none of its kind in the country.

Not only will Mr. Smith build and equip this expensive and elaborate building, but he will also endow the institution, setting aside the greater part of his estate of a million dollars or more for this purpose. The building and college will be turned over to a board of trustees, who are to control and manage it.

Students of the Texas State University are responsible for the following college yell, which seems to have been written expressly to characterize the hardy cowpunchers of the state from which it sprung:

Rattle to Thrat, to Thrat, to Thrat,
Long Horn! Cactus Thorn!
Texas! Texas! Texas;
M-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o-o.
T-E-X-A-S!
Sis-s-s-s-s-s-s-s-s!
Boom-m-m-m-m-m-m!
Ye Hoo!
T-E-X-A-S!
One a-zippa, Two a-zippa, Three a-zippa Zam!
Texas, Texas don't give a Hobble Gobble Razzle Dazzle
Siz Boom Bah!

While not exactly a thing of beauty, or a joy forever, it offers an excellent opportunity of letting off a whole lot of steam and hot air. Not more than three or four utterances of these simple melodious strains are needed to warm the heart's cockles of the most excited crowd of rooters that ever crowded about a college gridiron.

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING OF THE COLLEGE YEAR BY THE STUDENTS OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY.

VOL. I. NO. 15. SYRACUSE, N. Y., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

FOOTBALL PUNTS AND PASSES.

Action of Athletic Governing Board. What the Players are Doing.

The Athletic Governing Board has, as usual, early declared for clean athletics at Syracuse this year Only recently in order to enforce the one year rule they placed Cortelyou '06, Brown '05, and Yard '05, three of the most promising Varsity candidates on the list of ineligibles for regular Varsity games. These three men have been attending other colleges within a year past

Cortelyou was giving great promise at full back, Brown at guard and Yard at end. Some of the students seemed to be much wrought up over this just decision of the Governing Board. The men however said, they expected it. They had been played so far this season but the regular Varsity games have not commenced as yet. So far only practice games have been contested. G. Stanley Brown the big guard said "I did not expect to make the Varsity since I played on Wesleyan last year." Harry Yard, the speedy end, declared the Boards action just and that he would be in the game with his best efforts as usual next season.

The coaches are not giving the men scrimmage work every day this week. This work alternates with the more open work of punting and catching the ball, running with it and tackling the dummy. Much amusement is given both coaches and spectators by the work on this effigy of a football knight.

It is expected that "Baldy" Moore the veteran guard will appear on the field next week. He will make a good addition to the aspirants for the line. Brane and McMickle are alternating at center. With Moore, Dempster and Rice as the most likely men for guards, Brane doubtless will be made a fixture at center.

The half backs Schade and Parks, with subs Erisman and Parker, are showing up well, In place of Cortelyou it is probable Hanners will be utilized for a short time. Medical College opens next week and Morris the crack full back will doubtless report for practice. He will fill a place upon which must depends this year. As a punter Syracuse has not had his equal in many years.

Hares and Harwood are putting up the most consistent game at tackle.

The coaches do not expect a hard game with Clarkson Tech this Saturday. Last year Syracuse won 23 to 0.

LAW COLLEGE BRIEFS.

A meeting of the Law Freshmen was called to order Tuesday P. M, by the temporary chairman. Officers for the first Semester were chosen as follows: President, S. G. Prime, Vice Pres., V. H. Harding, Secretary, Wm. Gerber, Treasurer, J. M. Seymour, Cheer-Master, G. Rubenstine, Athletic Manager, A. S. Carlson, Asst. Athletic Manager, W. J. Crawford. The officers of the class are confident of a strong organization and are well backed by an enthusiastic class.

STUDENT MEETING.

Yesterday morning after chapel a meeting of the Student Athletic Association was held to devise a fixed method for the election of students to the Athletic Governing board.

Mr. George S. Hares opened the meeting to the students for suggestions. Mr. J. Rubin moved that a committee be appointed by the president, to consist of one member from each college, to draw up the plans for future election. W. Boyd '05 seconded the motion and was carried.

Mr. Hares appointed the following committee after which the meeting was adjourned.

Mr. J. Gramlich, '04, of Smith College, Mr Baldrey, '04, of Liberal Arts College, Mr. H. Gardner, '04 of Fine Arts College, Mr. Armstrong, '04, of Medical College, Mr. Caulfield, '04, of Law College.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Many inquiries have been received as to the original photographs from which the half-tone engravings in the salt rush souvenir edition of the Orange were made. Mr. B. L. Graves, 726 Crouse avenue, took the pictures and is selling them at a very reasonable price.

The registration in the Bible study classes of the Christian Association is constantly increasing. The men's classes now have a total attendance of fifty, and the young ladies classes of thirty-seven.

The first regular meeting of the Huntington Society will be held at Winchell Hall on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. It is hoped that all old members will be present to help welcome the new members in the freshman class.

All members of the freshman class who attend the Episcopal Church or who prefer the Episcopal form of worship are entitled to membership. In so far as possible invitations have been sent to the members of the class of 1907. Any person who has not received such invitation will however be welcome as it has been impossible for the committee to reach all.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI NEWS.

Ned Wharff '03, left for Chicago last Tuesday to take an important engineering position in that city.

Miss Carolyne Washburne, '04 ex, has been spending a few days with friends on the hill. She has accepted a position as violinist with a lyceum company, and will soon travel with them in the South.

Professor Cabeen and his family are now in Switzerland, where they will remain two weeks. They were joined last week by Prof. Carl Hawley of the Fine Arts College.

H. D Sanford, '05, last year's 'Varsity first baseman, returned to college yesterday. He has been in the Adirondacks all summer.

Mr. James W. Heffernan, '04, resumed his work in the law college yesterday. Every one who was in the university last year will remember his efficient work as as a pitcher on the 'Varsity nine.

THURSDAY MORNING, OCT. 1.

The University Band is now organizing for the season, and will probably appear at the Colgate game on the Oval.

Among the many organizations which denote that our University is up-to-date, in the requirements of a great University, the Band is one of the foremost. Organized only a few years ago through the hard work and earnest endeavor of Charles Dayton, it has come to deserve the hearty recognition of the student body and outside world.

Many times has its majestic strains brought victory out of defeat on the football and baseball field. It has always served its purpose well, and deserves the sincere support of the students, alumni and friends of our great and growing University.

There are many in college who have played band instruments, and have not as yet appeared for this year's trials. We urge that old members also, who have not so far come out, appear at the next meeting and help the splendid cause along.

The freshmen are showing a lamentable lack of college spirit after chapel these days. Many have been seen to pass on down stairs after chapel without even stopping to lift their voice in their class song, or a good college yell.

This, to say the least, is showing lack of class enthusiasm and, more important, college loyalty. If the students do not imbibe that wholesome love for class and college in their first year, when will they do so?

A number of the staff and candidates for the Daily Orange are members of the Historical Association, or on the 1905 Onondagan Board. In deference to their wishes the regular meeting of the Daily Orange is postponed from this Saturday to next Tuesday at 7.30 P. M.

I. R. TEMPLETON, Editor.

Syracuse is bound to have a great Glee Club this year. In Stilwell the club has a leader that will enthuse his men to put dash and ginger in their work. If you desire to work and to avail yourself of the advantages which that work will bring, be on deck with a song this afternoon in Crouse College.

FOOTBALL REVIEW.

What the Other Colleges are Doing - New - Men Prospects for the Future.

PENNSYLVANIA.

The football powers-that-be at the University of Pennsylvania decided early this year that no effort would be spared to put an eleven on the field that would be worthy the Red and Blue of old Penn. The team last season was erratic and uncertain, lacked weight, and the coaches knew as little about what would happen when the players went into the game as did the spectators. This year is to be different. It is certain that the Quakers will have a fast but heavy team, fully conversant with the fine points of the game and far surpassing the Pennsylvania teams of the past few years. As a nucleus the Quakers have Capt. Metzger, the 170 pound end; Fortnice, the 170-pound halfback; Piekarsky, 190 pound guard; Mitchel, guard, 220 pounds; Bennett, fullback, 80 pounds; McCabe center, 104 pounds; Wechsler, halfback, 170 pounds; Hoffman, tackle, 185 pounds, and Reynolds, 170 pounds, who can play either halfback or quarterback. While depending to some extent upon the veterans; of whom there are enough to fill five places on the line and three in the back field, the coaches are building their hopes on the new players and those who were ineligible last fall. Among these men the following are notable examples, with their weight and positions, but not all: Ziegler, Penn. Charter School, 170 pounds, fullback, and may be tried at quarterback, A. Ziegler, Ursinus Preparatory School, 2 0 pounds, guard: McGregor, Peddie Institute, 195 pounds, guard: Stuart, Mercersburg Academy, 200 pounds, guard: Zillinger, former Utah University, second-year man, 220 pounds, Buttenbrock, of Colorado second year man, 225 pounds: Butkeweiz, second-year law school man, who played two years on the Princeton, varsity, 195 pounds; Smith, second year man and former fullback of Pennsylvania State College, 195 pounds: Drake, second year man and halfback, 180 pounds and Bogardus, end rusher from Boston High School, 170 pounds. When it is considered that the fore-going is only a part of the material for the Quakers this season, it can be understood why the coaches are jubilant. The early start and the ease with which the players took hold of the work also help to encourage the Quaker followers in the belief that they are at last coming into their own again. There will be no lack of coaches for the eleven. Dr. Carl Williams, former quarter at Pennsylvania, will head the squad He will be assisted by Dr. Hedges, Samuel Boyle, Truxton Hare, Jack Minds, George Brooks, Herbert Carnot and others The schedule contains twelve games, of which all but one will be played in Philadelphia.

All the games will be played on the new Franklin Field, which is said to be one of the finest athletic fields in the country and the equal of the Harvard Stadium, now in process of construction. It will seat 30,000 people without crowding. The seats rise in tiers on both sides and on one end of the playing field, forming an immense U-shaped stand.

DEPARTMENTAL NOTES.

The first regular meeting of the Historical Association will be held next Saturday evening at 7:30 P. M. in the History seminar room. The election of officers for the ensuing year and transaction of business is the routine for the evening. All major and minor students in this department, also others who are interested, are invited to come.

For the benefit of those students who expect to teach mathematics, the Mathematical department would like to call attention to the impression, too common among students, viz., that they are competent to teach the mathematics of secondary schools when they have completed the algebra, solid geometry and trigonometry of the freshman year

This impression is erroneous and the department cannot recommend a student, thus equipped, to teach mathematics anywhere. As a minimum requirement for the department recommendation, we would add to the above subjects analytical geometry and the teachers' course. In the case of those who are to spend all or most of their time teaching mathematics in secondary schools we would add as a further requirement calculus and possibly theory of equation.

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING OF THE COLLEGE YEAR BY THE STUDENTS OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY.

VOL. I. NO. 16. SYRACUSE, N. Y., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

DEAN SMALLEY ADDRESSES 1907.

The Dean gives freshman class a talk on athletics. Speech well received.

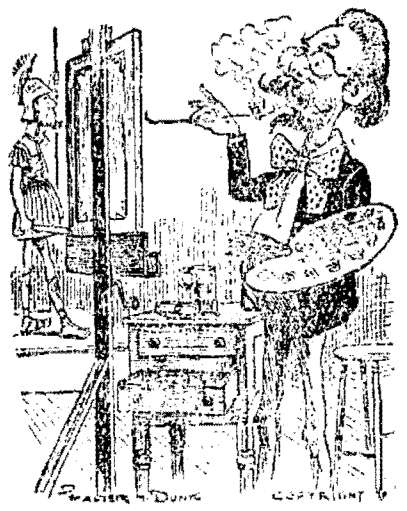
Dean Smalley gave the men of the freshmen class in Roman History an interesting talk on athletics yesterday morning. In opening his remarks he stated that this talk had become an annual occurrence with him, as at this time he was better enabled to speak to the freshman class alone than on any other occasion.

The dean said in part: "I advise all the men of the freshmen class to get into some class of athletics. As to what class you prefer or are better adapted for I leave you to judge. But at any rate get into some branch of athletics and get in to stay." "Make up your mind that you will excel—become expert—in whatever you may undertake."

"The faculty and the upper classmen are always deeply interested in the showing made by the men of the freshman class. Remember that the faculty are with you at all times. You may see them along the side lines or near the tape, throwing their hats into the air when a freshman makes a good point, with as much enthusiasm as his fellow classmen. The University looks towards the incoming class to furnish men who shall uphold the honor of Syracuse on the athletic field

"Many of you are doubtless better capacitated for athletics than you may think. Even if you cannot take first, get out and make second or third place. It is not so much for the honor of taking a place as for the excellent training it gives, that you should take up this branch of college life.

"I have been asked as to whether a man can do this and still maintain his standard in the class, and I think I can answer conscientiously, Yes. I understand that when you have been out all afternoon for practice that you return early tired out and do not feel like studying much that evening. But I think you may be able to so arrange your time that you can do your study- ing and still have time for athletics.



"In closing let me again say that I would be extremely glad to see every man in this class in some branch of athletics and there to stay."

It is indeed hoped that very many of the men of the freshman class will profit by the dean's advica and soon make themselves known on the athletic field, for it is to thif class that the coaches, the faculty and the student body look for the men who shall some day make a mark for themselves and their Alma Mater.

FINE ARTS COLLEGE.

The Competition of the Beaux Arts Society will be held Saturday, Oct. 3.

Syracuse Junior and Senior Architectural Students will meet in the Architectural Drafting room to make their sketches. The drawings must be made "in logs" within nine consecutive hours The problem is not known to the student until he enters the competition. It must then be worked up and drawn in ink within the time limit and without reference to plates, photographs or other aids

These sketches are sent to New York City and judged by the committee, according to their value as designs. A two years course in the Beaux Arts School in Paris is offered as a prize to the person having the best standing.

The best schools of architecture everywhere take part in these problems. Syracuse has had students in several previous competitions and last year two of the department secured mention.

DEPARTMENTAL NOTES.

The first meeting of the German club is to be held in the Gymnasium Tuesday, Oct. 13, at 7:30 P. M. Dr. Otto will speak on the German school system. Light refreshments will be served. The club promises to be very large this year.

The first meeting of the Biological Association will be held in Steele Hall on Monday next at 7:30 P. M. The first part of the evening will be taken up for the election of officers for the ensuing year, after which Dr. Smallwood will lecture on malaria fever. This meeting being the first of the year, it is especially important that all juniors and seniors in the Biological courses should be present.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

A much larger number entered the trials for the Glee, and instrumental Clubs this year than last. The trials were held yesterday afternoon in Crouse College. Leaders Stilwell and Firdsall expect first class Clubs to develope from the trials.

Phi Mu Epsilon, the new Fine Arts musicial society, held a rushing party in the Winchell Hall parlors Wednesday evening. The charter members are:

Miss Louise Allen, Katherine Bemis, Mrs. Davis, Anna Loomis, Bessie Hilton. Olive Lane, Ethel Mott, Mrs. Nichols, Louise Perry, Prudence Richards, Annette Snell, Anna Titus, and Evelyn Ward. Other members are Caroline Doolittle, Elizabeth Lewis, Frieda Parker and Marion Swalm

A. Q. CUMBER'S AWAKENING.

The discussion of Contracts was dragging wearily along yesterday afternoon when an interruption occurred which left a happy smile on every lawyer's face that even the long, dreary hour of Bills and Notes following could not dispel.

The class was deeply engrossed in a discussion of the circumstances in which a tort could be waived in order to take up a civil proceeding when a tap, a gentle gloved tap, was heard at the door.

A moment later Mr. Walker announced that Mr. Cumber was wanted at the door. There was no answer. "Is Mr. Cumber in the room?" Mr. Walker asked. No answer except a suppressed snore from one corner of the room.

In a moment the eyes of the whole class were on the peaceful slumberer, who, all unconscious of the merriment which he was causing, was dreaming peacefully, expressing his dreams in a vocal way.

Notwithstanding the roar of laughter which followed, the vocal dream continued for several moments. However, the slumberer, after a particularly violent outburst of laughter arrived at the borderland between sleep and wakefulness. All the members of the class pitied Cumber. It was hard luck to lose the last part of such a delightfully exppressed dream; but judging from the happy, contented look on his face after interviewing his fair visitor, Cumber was content with the change from dream to reality.

MANAGER RUBIN EXPLAINS.

J. R. Rubin, manager of the football eleven wishes to explain his position to the New York alumni in connection with scheduling a West Point or Columbia game. He says that the Yale game was scheduled before definite understanding could be had in regard to the other two. When it was found that the only date on which either of these colleges could play Syracuse was the date of the Yale game of course conclusion is foregone.

Nothing would have pleased Mr. Rubin or the authorities better than to have scheduled these games. It is hoped the New York Alumni will bear this above statement distinctly in mind when they look over the football schedule. That the best interests of the University are being carefully conserved is easily understood by the close observer.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI NEWS.

Miss Ida Lucile Love, '04, has left college. Miss Love's departure is greatly regretted by her many friends.

L. O. Burrell, '04, the crack third baseman and substitute end on last year's football team, has returned to college. Burrell's return to gridiron will strengthen the team very measurably.

The election of the junior members of the athletic governing board has been postponed until October 15, to accommodate the students of the medical schooi which opens October 6.

NOTICES.

There will be a meeting of the Historical Association Saturday evening Oct. 3. All students who are interested in this work are invited to be present. Officers will be elected at this meeting.

Students who have left note books with the Chemistry Department for entrance credit or for courses I. or III. of last year are requested to call for them.

E. N. PATTEE.

Candidates for the basket ball team are requested to meet at 7:30 Saturday evening in the Gymnasium.

C. J. HOUSEKNECHT,
Captain.

The "Huntington Society" of Syracuse University will hold a reception at Winchell Hall on Friday evening, Oct. 3, at 6 P. M. All students connected with the Episcopal church are cordially invited to be present.

ISABELLE P. COFFIN,
Secretary.

A number of the staff and candidates for the Daily Orange are members of the Historical Association, or on the 1905 Onondagan Board. In deference to their wishes the regular meeting of the Daily Orange is postponed from this Saturday to next Tuesday at 7.30 P. M.

FRIDAY MORNING, OCT. 2.

At the football games played during the past two weeks systematic cheering for the Varsity has been notable, chiefly by its absence. The spectators in the grand stand, and elsewhere, have failed to give this encouregement and assistance to those battling for Old Syracuse.

Last year a good system was in vogue for all contests held on Archbold Field.

There were two or three cheermasters to lead the Hill students, and one or two leaders for the Medics and Law men. At every game the good old cheers and yells were given with a vim worthy of progressive Syracuse.

Let us have some arrangement for the coming games that will put matters on a sure basis for the ensuing year.

We should have not only good cheering but good singing as well. The latter is a notable feature on other college fields, but lacking somewhat of its just importance at Syracuse.

FINE ARTS COLLEGE

This week the painting students have "The Oyster Gatherers" for a composition.

There was a mis-statement printed in the "Weekly" that henceforth all of the Belle Lettre work would be done in Fine Arts College.

Dean McChesney wishes to correct this. Part of the work will be elected from the other colleges as formerly. No changes will be made.

Harry D. Pheonix has entered the Architectural course. He will take the "Special Course.

Geo. Lester Crabb '06 has received an appointment to teach school in Brooklyn, N. Y. He left Wednesday morning to take up his work.

Syracse is bound to have a great Glee Club this year. In Stilwell the club has a leader that will enthuse his men to put dash and ginger in their work. If you desire to work and to avail yourself of the advantages which that work will bring, be on deck with a song this afternoon in Crouse College.

FOOTBALL REVIEW.

What the Other Colleges are Doing - New Men - Prospects for the Future.

COLUMBIA.

The candidates for places on the Columbia University football eleven have begun work at South Field, New York city, in answer to the call of Capt. R. S. Smith. The prospects for a fast team at the university are exceedingly good this season. While there are no players of the stamp of Harold Weekes or William Morley in sight at the present time, the team will have the services of a number of veterans of last year to start work with. These players are J. R. Fisher, fullback; W. C. Duell, tackle; F. H. Duden, centre; C. L. Framback, halfback; D. H. Brown, tackle; R. S. Smith, halfback; R. S. Stangland, guard, and J. Tomlinson, guard or tackle. All these players are trying for the team this fall, in addition to several players who were barred by the one-year rule last season. H. S. Richards of the Yale team two years go is an example of his class. Another addition to the veteran squad will be E. B. Bruce, who was a member of the 'varsity team for three years. Last fall he was ineligible, but under the new Columbia athletic rules he will be allowed to play another year. He should prove a strong addition to the line at either guard or tackle. The freshman class is expected to furnish some sterling players for the Light Blue and White. Of these is J. S. Thorp of De La Salle a brother of Thomas Thorp of last year's squad. He has a record as an all-around athlete, and considerable experience on the football field.

The eleven will need to be both strong and well coached to go through the season with credit to themselves and the university, for the schedule of games that they will play is hard and trying.

CORNELL.

Captain S. B. Hunt and Coach W. J. Warner are at the training quarters daily preparing the players. The situation that confronts the captain and coach is the same that faces the leaders at the other colleges and universities. The players must be taught many points that have never arisen in the game before, and the players of other seasons have less start than usual over their under classmates. Nevertheless, such veteran players as W. J. Warner, guard; Halfback Harry Purcell, S. J. Tydeman, at end, and others are missed and their places hard to fill. Captain Hunt will play his old position at right guard, and Brewster, Cornell's great quarterback, will again direct the plays of the eleven. W. H. Coffin will try for halfback. Shepard is expected to make fullback. There are a number of promising candidates expected from the freshman class. Of last season's substitutes who are reckoned on by the coaches are M. Smith, 185-pound tackle; R. B. Drake, for end, and J. H. Costello, captain of the baseball team, weighing 185 pounds, who will try for a tackle position. Kittle, Snyder, Lee, Lawrence, Lapaign and Stace are other men who may blossom out as 'varsity players this season. The majority of these players are heavy men, and it is expected that the Cornell eleven will be considerably heavier when it plays Pennsylvania than it was a year ago, when the average weight of the players was 173 pounds.

The players will not lack for coaches, for, in addition to Warner, Manager C. P. Brady has arranged for Joe Beacham, Wyckoff, Clint Reed, T. F. Fennell, Harry Clinton, Frank Cool and H. Schoellkopf to spend portions of the season at Ithaca coaching the players. The team will be unable to play any games in this year's schedule on the new field, as the work is far from completion.

ADVERTISE IN THE "ORANGE."

As an advertising medium there is no doubt that the SYRACUSE DAILY ORANGE excels. No other advertising scheme compares with the DAILY ORANGE in getting advertisers' goods before students "on the Hill." Every morning, six times a week, the advertiser's name comes up before the students, displayed in an attractive manner and on the same page with reading matter. The University students are beginning to fall in line with other colleges and are showing college spirit by patronizing only those concerns which advertise in the University publications.

The advertisements of the DAILY ORANGE are as important a feature as the news matter. They are news. Through them students are informed where they can get the best goods for the least money. Special sales are announced at the time of their occurrence so that students may take advantage of them.

One advertiser said, "AS FAR AS IT REACHES I HAVE NEVER FOUND A BETTER ADVERTISING MEDIUM THAN TH DAILY ORANGE." Another stated that he "had never had one of his ads mentioned so much as was his business notice in the ORANGE." Another said, "I find that it pays to spend time and money on my advertisement in the DAILY."

Students, who cannot afford to subscribe for the ORANGE, can at least mention the paper when buying goods from ORANGE advertisers. This vastly helps the paper. Another way of helping the paper is to ask firms who do not use the DAILY why they do not in this way bring their names before the students.

STOP AND THINK. By investigating prices and goods of some market other than the one which you have usually patronized, you may save many dollars each week on your provision bill. Give us a trial order. We will save you much money.

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING OF THE COLLEGE YEAR BY THE STUDENTS OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY.

VOL. I. NO. 17. SYRACUSE, N. Y., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

SYRACUSE VS. CLARKSON.

The 'Varsity in Good Shape for a Victory Over the Tech. Eleven—Officials—Game Called at 3:30.

The game with Clarkson Institute of Technology will be called at 3.30 sharp today. The men are well prepared for the contest, and with the presdnt weather conditions the checkerboard should be in fine shape.

During the past few days the squad has been greatly strengthened in the addition of three new men. These are Burrill '06, Rutherford '06 and Curtis '07.

The two former men are candidates trying for end end quarter back respectively. Last season they made excellent records in football and on the diamond. Both are speed, quick on punts, sure at catching, hard tacklers and heady players.

Curtis '07 is a new man at varsity work, dut is very promising candidate for back of the line. He has an excellent record back of him for "prep" school work.

The line up today will be practically the same as last Saturday with the addition of these new men.

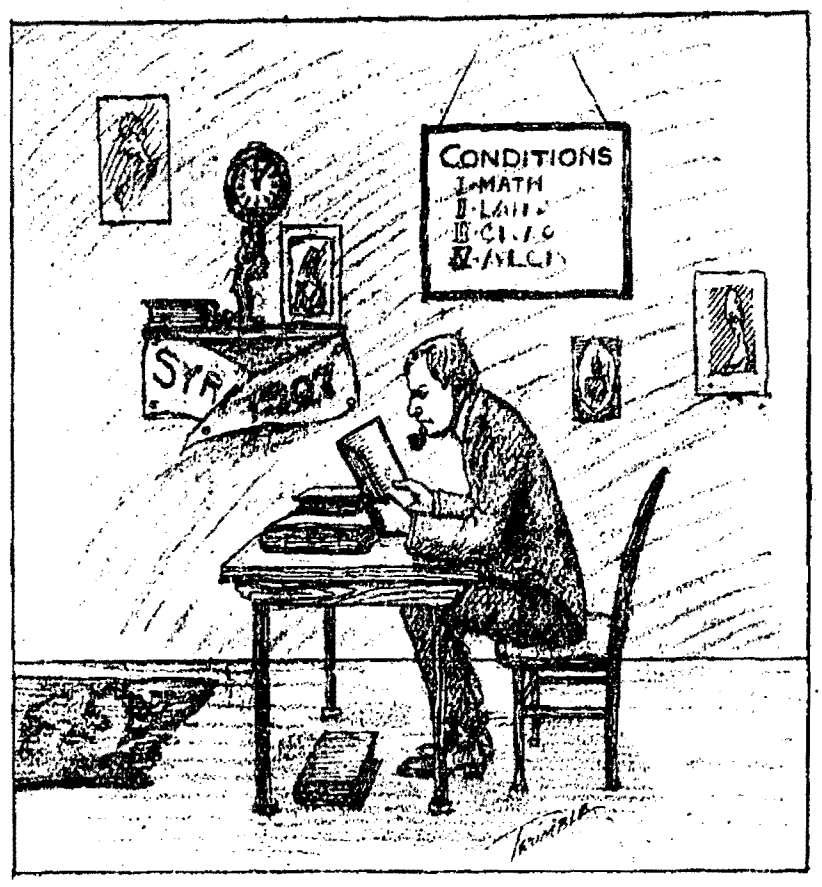
Mr. Freeman of Princeton and Mr. Garver of Union will be the officials.

DIAGNOSES.

Chemistry has been removed from the requirements to enter medical college. This is done because a great many come with no knowledge of chemistry whatever. The Freshmen chemistry begins the subject now.

Mr. Steel has returned from his vacation in the Adirondacks.

At present there are only about 23 "stiffs" in our cold storage room. We hope for more before dissecting season opens.



Dr. Clark has returned from his European trip to take full charge of the courses in Physiology during the medical college year now opening.

The state medical examinations are being held at the Medical College this week.

Dr. Covell has resigned his position as instructor in chemistry. Dr. Hanford, Yale '99, assisted by Dr. Groat and Mr. Porter, will conduct the chemistry department.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI NEWS.

Professor J S. Clark, Syracuse '77, a former member of the English Department of Syracuse Uniuersity, now at the head of the Englih Department of Northwestern University, has introduced a new course which is the subject of much newspaper comment. The course offered to the students of Northwestern is in the art of writing stories and magazine articles.

SATURDAY MORNING, OCT. 3.

Debating and Oratory should have the hearty support of the student body this year. Last year, under the able management of Professor Losey, Syracuse gained high rank in intercollegiate work along these lines. This position was won by the hardest kind of work on the part of the debating team, and the ceaseless efforts of Professor Losey.

Shall Syracuse take a step backward in debating, or shall she go on to greater achievements? Let all those who have any abillty in this direction come forward and answer the question in the affirmative.

This evening a meeting will be held in the gymnasium which will prove of great significance. The men who are to meet there are basket ball players, actual or prospective, and their purpose will be to organize and to practice in expectation of the important games to come.

The significance of this meeting lies in the fact that our hopes for a successful basket ball team largely depend upon the number, the loyaity and the perseverance of the men who will attend. If every man who has played the game and every man who hopes to learn will start tonight and work faithfully under the direction of Captain Houseknecht, there is nothing that should prevent Syracuse from being represented by a team that will bring credit to the institution,

However students must remember that if this sport is to be successful they must do their part. Without the stimulus which a man receives from the knowledge that his work is appreciated by his fellows no player can do his best work.

Football is engrossing our attention at present; but we should not forget that a strong basket ball team is nearly, if not quite, as important as a mighty eleven. What we should strive for is to maintain a high standard in all the branches of athletics. It is rather incongruous that we should be classed with Columbia in football and aquatics, while in basket ball we are rated with prep and normal schools.

The men who will start work tonight in the gymnasium will do their part towards placing basket ball upon a plane with our other athletic sports. Shall we do our part? "It's up to us"

DEBATING INTERESTS.

Previous to last year there was never shown an extra amount of enthusiastic zeal for debating and oratory in our University. Last year however, progressive Syracuse stepped into the intercollegiate ranks in forensics and debate with a stride that brought her well up in the honor line.

We had the pleasure of hearing the first intercollegiate debate held in Syracuse in John Crouse College last spring. Formerly small audiences had taken some interest in class debates, but the audience which crowded Crouse Hall was one worthy the occasion. When it was announced that Syracuse had won over Brown, a college where debating has held high honor for many years, the climax was added.

The one person to whom the major reward should be given for all this is Professor Frederick D. Losey. He it is who sacrificed time and effort to build up Old Syracuse in this department.

The Debating Union, representative of all the classes, was started by his advice, as were the class societies in this work.

Last year class debates were held. The winners of both intercollegiate and class debates were awarded handsome watch fobs.

Next Monday evening at 7:30 P. M. a a mass meeting in the interests of debate and oratory will be held in the chapel of Liberal Arts College. The members of last year's intercollegiate team will address the meeting and Professor Losey will outline the work for the coming year. All of last year's debate teams, members of debating societies and all others interested are cordially invited to be present.

UNIVERSITY HERALD.

Number 1 of volume XXXII of the Syracuse University Herald made its appearance Wednesday This first issue of the University literary magazine contains a large number of interesting as well as instructive, articles, and is fully up to the high standard which it has maintained in previous years.

The initial number opens with a poem by Lawrence A. Wilkins, entitled "My Queen is Dead." Then follows a story entitled "The Star She Made," from the pen of Arthur Fremont. It is a pretty little love story, having as its actors a young woman and a hero-soldier, and as its scene the Phillipines during the late war. Everett D. Voorhis has a a short, but interesting, description of Venice. There is then an interesting parody on Hamlet's soliloquy, entitled "The Freshman's Soliloquy," by Lewis A. Collings. Next follows a story by Lawrence A. Wilkins, and then after some well written editorials, appears an article entitled "The Philosophy of a College Dooley." These "Mr. Dooley" articles attracted much attention last year, and the inter has put his usual amount of humor in paying "his respects to the strenuous life, the new dean, the Freshmen, etc." The remainder of this issue is devoted to alumni, personals, exchauges, and current events in college.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

DEPARTMENTAL NOTES.

The first regular meeting of the Historical Association will be held Saturday evening at 7:30 P. M. in the History Seminar room. The election of officers for the ensuing year and transaction of business is the routine for the evening. All major and minor students in this department, also others who are interested, are invited to come.

For the benefit of those students who expect to teach mathematics, the Mathematical department would like to call attention to the impression, too common among students, viz, that they are competent to teach the mathematics of secondary schools when they have completed the algebra, solid geometry and trigonometry of the freshman year.

This impression is erroneous and the department cannot recommend student thus equipped, to teach mathematics anywhere. As a minimum requirement for the department redommendation, we would add to the above subjects analytical geometry and the teachers' course. In the case of those who are to spend all or most of their time teaching mathematics in secondary schools we would add as a further requirement calculus and possibly theory of equation.

ADVERTISE IN THE "ORANGE."

As an advertising medium there is no doubt that the SYRACUSE DAILY ORANGE excels. No other advertising scheme compares with the DAILY ORANGE in getting advert sers' goods before students "on the Hill." Every morning, six times a week, the advertiser's name comes up before the students, displayed in an attractive manner and on the same page with reading matter. The University students are beginning to fall in line with other colleges and are showing college spirit by patronizing only those concerns which advertise in the University publications.

The advertisements of the DAILY ORANGE are as important a feature as the news matter. They are news. Through them students are informed where they can get the best goods for the least money. Special sales are announced at the time of their occurrence so that students may take advantage of them.

One advertiser said, "AS FAR AS IT REACHES I HAVE NEVER FOUND A BETTER ADVERTISING MEDIUM THAN TH DAILY ORANGE." Another stated that he "had never had one of his ads mentioned so much as was his business notice in the ORANGE." Another said, "I find that it pays to spend time and money on my advertisement in the DAILY."

Students, who cannot afford to subscribe for the ORANGE, can at least mention the paper when buying goods from ORANGE advertisers. This vastly helps the paper. Another way of helping the paper is to ask firms who do not use the DAILY why they do not in this way bring their names before the students.

STOP AND THINK. By investigating prices and goods of some market other than the one which you have usually patronized, you may save many dollars each week on your provision bill. Give us a trial order. We will save you much money.

MR. F. S. BROCKMAN.

Christian Associations Hope to Sdpport Him in China This Year--His Work.

The Christian Associations are supporting in part Mr. F. S. Brockman, the subject of this article. It is the sincere desire of the Associations to support Mr. Brockman entirely the coming year, and they believe they can do so. It is the duty of the students to help this worthy cause. Yale and Princeton both support their own missionaries, the whole university aiding.

The following article on Mr. Brockman is written by Mr. R. E. Lewis, Y. M. C. A. secretrry in China.

F. S. BROCKMAN.

"F. S. Brockman, Vanderbilt, 1891, was not only an active worker in his own college before graduation but exerted a marked influence during his undergraduate days on other Southern colleges. The spring of his graduation Mr. Brockman presented at Northfield the needs of the student field. At the close of his very impressive appeal, Mr. D. L. Moody was led to dedicate Brockman, then and there, as the first student secretary for the South. For seven years he carried on an aggressive, resourceful campaign through all that field, the whole account of which would fill a volume.

CLASS TRACK MEET.

The annual sophomore-freshman track meet was held on Archbold Field last Saturday at 2 p. m.

All the events were interesting and several very exciting. The two-mile run was one of the day's sensations. Voorhees, '06, a dark horse, came near taking the measure of the veteran Boyd, '06. Cole, '07, the colored runner, did some excellent work in the dashes and 440-yard run, although the time was slow. Cook, '06, and Millen, '07, showed up well in the hurdles.

In the weight and hammer events Crawford, '07, and Mount, '07, came to the front. The pole vault, high and broad jumps brought honors to Southworth, '06, and Sorondo, '06.

The freshman class has some excellent material to be developed for track this coming season.

SYRACUSE 47, CLARKSON 0.

Orange Eleven Easily Defeat Tech. Eleven--Burrell's Long Run --Other Good Plays.

The game with the Clarkson eleven Saturday was remarkable for the fast playing and fumbling by the 'Varsity, and the sturdy offensive and defensive work on the tech eleven's part.

The sensation was Burrell's 100 yard run for a touchdown from a kickoff in the first half. Schade, Park and Erisman accomplished great things back of the line as did Lanctot and Parker. The line men all played a hard, consistent game. Rutherford showed up well both in running the 'Varsity team and running with the ball. There were twenty-seven men used in the two halves by the Syracuse coaches.

The lineup and officials were:

FRESHMAN ANTICS.

A Freshman recently broke in upon one of Dr. Thwing's Physics classes when the period was nearly over. He stood in the middle of the room for a short time and although Dr. Thwing did not pause in an explanation he was making to his class, the representative of 1907 walked up on the platform, buttonholed the good natured Doctor, and endeavored to obtain some information in regard to class rooms. After dismissing the Freshman—and with no application of the "laws of force" either—Dr. Thwing calmly remarked to the class, "We have to train Freshman in manners as well as mind"

MONDAY MORNING, OCT. 5.

We mentioned a few days ago that the office of the ORANGE has been moved to 303 East Washington street. We find, however, that news matter and mail is still sent to our former address. This removal of our office marks the first step in the progress of the ORANGE. In our new office we have far greater conveniences, and better facilities for turning out a first-class daily. Our printer, Mr. A. R. Jetty, is one of the best in the city, and in his employ has some of the most experienced men at the trade. We hope that subscribers will overlook some mistakes which have appeared in the past few issues, and remember that we have been passing through the difficulties of "moving."

INTERCOLLEGIATE TENNIS.

Despite the general feeling that Harvard University has the intercollegiate tennis championship within her grasp, four of the colleges have determined to send teams to the tournament that will begin on October 5th on the courts of the Merion Cricket Club, at Haverford, near Philadelphia. Harvard University, Yale University, Princeton University and Columbia University have each decided to send teams of four men to compete for the cup that was offered several years ago by Isaac H. Clothier. Only the team that will represent Harvard University has been named thus far, and this is as yet short one player. The men already chosen include B. S. Prentice, captain of the Harvard tennis team; Edgar S. Leonard, the Harvard champion and William J. Clothier.

FOR RENT—Single room, 301 Marshall. Gas and furnace heat.

UNIVERSITY BAND.

The Band has been organized for the year, and has started practice. The organization will consist of thirty-two men this year, and its first appearance will be for the Rensselaer Technology game Oct. 10th on Archbold Field.

A splendid snare drum player has been added to the Band in the person of Mr. Brush of the entering class.

A baritone player is now a pressing need of the band. Mr. Gordon Lovelace '06 is leader, and it is expected Instructor Alexander Russell of Fine Arts College will be the director.

The band is well balanced this year and should have a very successful season. The third annual band concert will be given about Christmas time.

Manager C. C. Bateman may arrange a few out-of-town concerts if he sees his way to financial success.

REPUBLICAN CLUB.

The Republican Club of the University will have its first regular meeting in the near future. Regular meetings will be held through the year, at which topics of the day will be discussed. A new feature will be introduced this year in having prominent politicians of the city and elsewhere to address the meetings. All those men in the University having Republican tendencies are invited to join the Club. Charles Dayton the leading spirit, hopes to see a larger turnout than ever before.

ADVERTISE IN THE "ORANGE."

As an advertising medium there is no doubt that the SYRACUSE DAILY ORANGE excels. No other advertising scheme compares with the DAILY ORANGE in getting advertisers' goods before students "on the Hill." Every morning, six times a week, the advertiser's name comes up before the students, displayed in an attractive manner and on the same page with reading matter. The University students are beginning to fall in line with other colleges and are showing college spirit by patronizing only those concerns which advertise in the University publications.

The advertisements of the DAILY ORANGE are as important a feature as the news matter. They are news. Through them students are informed where they can get the best goods for the least money. Special sales are announced at the time of their occurrence so that students may take advantage of them.

One advertiser said, "AS FAR AS IT REACHES I HAVE NEVER FOUND A BETTER ADVERTISING MEDIUM THAN THE DAILY ORANGE." Another stated that he "had never had one of his ads mentioned so much as was his business notice in the ORANGE." Another said, "I find that it pays to spend time and money on my advertisement in the DAILY."

Students, who cannot afford to subscribe for the ORANGE, can at least mention the paper when buying goods from ORANGE advertisers. This vastly helps the paper. Another way of helping the paper is to ask firms who do not use the DAILY why they do not in this way bring their names before the students.

STOP AND THINK. By investigating prices and goods of some market other than the one which you have usually patronized, you may save many dollars each week on your provision bill. Give us a trial order. We will save you much money.

GLEE AND INSTRUMENTAL CLUBS.

The musical clubs of the University are now in full swing for the year. In the fourth column will be found the notices for practice from the leaders. It is expected that this year will see the best clubs representing Syracuse, that were ever turned out in this city.

Manager C. P. Wright has been in communication for some time with parties for the annual Christmas trip. He hopes to complete a fine schedule, including New York City, the best cities along the Hudson, and also in Eastern Pennsylvania.

The leaders and directors of the clubs are ready for hard work to get the men in thorough shape for the concerts. The annual city concert will be one of the social functions of the year.

Leader Birdsall wishes several more guitar players. There surely must be a number of men in the University who can easily fill this demand.

Following is the personnel of the clubs to date:

WEATHER STATION INSPECTED.

The Syracuse Weather Bureau Station situated in the Liberal Arts Building wa inspected last Friday and Saturday by Mr. J. F. Walz, official inspector of the United States Weather Bureau. It is needless to add that Mr. Walz was well pleased with the thorough and efficient manner in which the affairs of the local station are being conducted by Mr. Ashley the local forecaster in charge.

Preachers and missionaries pursuing a course of studies in the University should become acquainted with the Preachers' Club which meets every Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The first regular meeting will be held this Tuesday, Oct. 6, 1903. All preachers and missionaries are invited to attend, and become acquainted with the aims and purposes of the organization.

OTHER COLLEGES.

News Gathered From Various Colleges of the Country.

Indications are that there will be a large increase in attendance this year at the University of Michigan. Last year 3,792 students were registered. The summer school showed a gain of 71. At present it looks as if the 4,000 mark will be reached this fall.

Many improvements are being made at Brown this year. The latest addition to the buildings is a new heating station, now nearly completed. It is similar to the one now in course of construction at Syracuse.

The University of California is to have a botanical garden in Golden Gate Park to be devoted to the raising of medicinal herbs. A five-acre tract of land has been secured on which the plants will be grown. Medicine for the Medical College will be made immediately from the herbs.

President Woodrow Wilson of Yale has settled the two-year college course by saying: "I cannot imagine how anybody who ever saw a sophomore could think of graduating one in that condition."

The sophomores of the University of Wisconsin began the college year by hazing a dozen freshmen. The freshmen were ordered to do "stunts" under penalty of a ducking in Lake Mendota. The faculty is preparing to thwart the hazers.

The University of Indiana has added a College of Medicine to its departments. It opens this fall for the first time.

Dr. John H. Finley, formerly president of Knox College, was installed Monday, September 28, as president of the College of the City of New York. Seventy universities and colleges were represented at the inauguration ceremonies.

The College of Forestry at Cornell has been discontinued.

Last spring the track men who had won sufficient points were granted both their block "S" and also white sweaters. It was supposed then that these workers for the Orange would have no difficulty in procuring the same this fall. It seems now that this is not the case.

The track men have had the greatest trouble in locating the official responsible for the delivery of their insignia. One faculty member of the athletic association refers the candidate for a block "S" to another member of the committee. After the circuit of members has been made the patient (?) track man feels as though he had run two miles in ten minutes, and still accomplished nothing.

It is earnestly desired by all the track honor men that this state of affairs will be remedied at once.

UNIVERSITY CHESS CLUB.

The annual reorganization meeting of the Syracuse University Chess Club was held yesterday afternoon at the Psi Upsilon chapter house, at which time a number of the old and new players in the different colleges met and talked over plans for the coming season. The prospects for a winning team this winter are at the present outlook very encouraging, three of the old men returning to college this fall and several good men appearing from the freshman class. The University team will play the University Club men this week, and other good games are in the progress of arrangement. There is a strong possibility that another match will be arranged with Hamilton. The college team for the match this week will consist of P. F. Scripture, captain, John Rader, L. F. Raney and J. Truran.

FOR RENT—Single room, 310 Marshall. Gas and furnace heat.

THE OFFICIAL CANE adopted by the Junior class can be secured only at Egenhofer's, the Men's Outfitter, at 206 Warren St.

MR. F. S. BROCKMAN.

Christian Associations Hope to Support Him in China This Year--His Work.

During Mr. Mott's world tour in 1895-6 Mr. Brockman was chairman of the Executive of the Student Volunteer Movement. To his initiative and foresight is also due the present remarkable forward movement among young peoples societies of various denominations, and notably among the Methodists whose work is now being ably led by S. Earl Taylor.

In 1898 Mr. Brockman with his wife went to China as a foreign secretary of the International Committee, and since 1901 has been the National Secretary for China, Korea and Hong Kong. This is a position of the greatest responsibility. His work takes him to the modern colleges of that vast field, to the great cities in which are being planted Associations, and out among ranks of the one million literati who themselves constitute the greatest student field of the Orient if not of the world.

F. S. BROCKMAN.

It is indeed a rare privilege for our University to support such man, in such a mighty work. It should appeal to every student to be united to Brockman in prayer, and thus share in the problems and results of his work.

Mr. N. Wilbur Helm, one of the traveling secretaries of the Y.M.C.A. in this country, leaves December 12, 1903 for the Island of Kyushu, Japan. Mr. Helm by his able addresses, both at the Christian Association meeting last Sunday and in Chapel yesterday, has gained a large circle of friends in the missionary cause.

ANOTHER ATHLETIC RECORD.

Athletics recorded another record-breaking feat last week. Alex. Grant, wearing the Mercury Foot emblem of the New York Athletic Club, was the performer. He created a new figure for the two miles. He was announced at the New York games as starting with the intention of breaking the record and he accomplished it, cutting five seconds off the time made by the late William D. Day. It was on the track at Berkeley Oval on May 17, 1890, that Day ran the distance in 12:32 1-5. For thirteen years a host of speedy men have been striving to get inside that time, but the record had withstood their assault. It was reserved for Grant to accomplish the feat on Saturday, when he circled the track in the remarkable time of 9:27.

DEBATING INTERESTS ARE PROMISING.

This department of college activity has a bright outlook for the coming year.

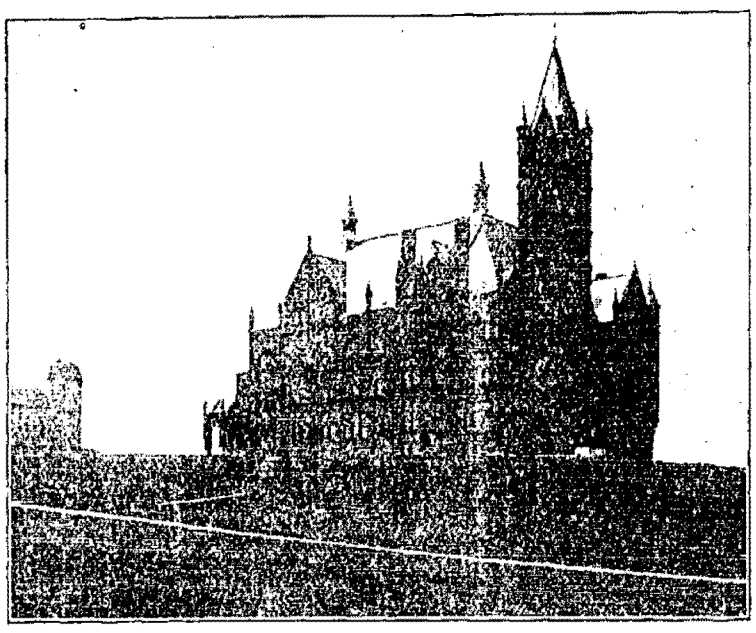
A large and enthusiastic crowd of men was present at the mass meeting held on Monday evening in the Liberal Arts chapel in the interests of debate. The large number present, representative of all classes, and the intense interest displayed in the proceedings of the evening show how alive the University is to the importance of debate in college life.

In the absence of E. H. Sumner, president of the debating union, John W. Heal was chosen chairman. After a few timely and well chosen remarks, the chairman called upon Joseph A. Mosher, '05.

Mr. Mosher and the men who followed him, Messrs. Allen, '04, Cheney, '05, and Croft, '06, spoke enthusiastically concerning the great advantages to be gained by entering into college debate work. Special emphasis was laid on the necessity of regularity in work.



Each of these speakers showed his appreciation of Prof. Losey's loyal and earnest efforts in building up the debating interests of Syracuse; but it was left for George K. Warren to express in heartfelt words the deep respect which the students have for Prof. Losey and his work. In speaking of the Brown debate Mr. Warren avowed that it was Prof. Losey's faithful work and dauntless courage which won the debate.

A great burst of applause followed the introduction of Prof. Losey as the next speaker. After speaking in terms of the highest appreciation of the work of the members of last year's debating team, Prof. Losey said in part: "My interest in this work of collegiate debate goes right down to my heart and soul, and reaches out to the heart and soul of each of you; for I believe that debate, more than any other one college institution, develops the highest type of manhood.

"Debating assuredly has a distinct ethical value. When a man is compelled to give a reason for the faith that is in him he is less likely to live a lie. Did you ever think of it? The uneducated man is living a lie, an unconscious lie, but a lie nevertheless. The truly educated man, on the other hand, is ever seeking the truth. This habit that distinguishes the educated man, the habit of piercing shams and finding truth, is developed by debate as by no other means."

Prof. Losey went on to speak of the Debating Union and its organization. The Debating Union, as the speaker pointed out, consists of eight men, two from each of the four class debating societies. This body is a purely administrative one; and in co-operation with the faculty adviser, has general control of the debate work of the University.

DEPARTMENTAL NOTES.

Political Economy.

Thirty men were present at the meeting of the Political Economy Seminary Monday evening. Mr. Sakolski, Syracuse '01, presented before the Seminary a very valuable article on the development of the various trade unions. Mr. Sakolski is at present taking up a graduate course in Political Economy at John Hopkins University. In listening to Mr. Sakolski's speech on Monday evening the Seminary class was greatly privileged, as the address showed the result of years of work among economic subjects.

Philosophical Course.

One peculiar thing about the registration this year is the comparatively large number entering the philosophical course; 145 have registered for that course as compared with 60 in the classical course and 45 in the science. The total registration in the Colleges of Liberal Arts and Smith College of Applied Science is 417.

Biological Association.

The first regular monthly meeting of the Biological Association was held in Steele Hall Monday evening, Oct. 5. Officers for the year were elected as follows:

President, Dr. Reese; vice president, Miss Julia C. Knowlton; secretary, Miss Elizabeth Rice; treasurer, George S. G. Hares; librarian, R. L. Henderson.

After the regular business was transacted, Dr. M. S. Smallwood addressed the association on the subject, "Malaria and Yellow Fever."

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM.

Students interested in cross-country running organized into a team Monday morning. W. Y. Boyd, '06, was elected captain, with K. B. Squires, '06, as alternate. The team will take cross-country runs Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 4 o'clock. About twenty men have already joined the team, and any one else interested is invited to come out and run.

It costs $1,00 to get fat, 75c. to get thin, and 50c. for ambition at Larned & Barker's.

FINE ARTS COLLEGE.

Major Fred Reed is in the city. He came from New York city to act as best man at the wedding of his classmate, W. J. Henry, '01. The wedding took place in Elbridge at 12 o'clock Tuesday. After a quick "auto" trip, Reed attended the wedding of C. B. Piper, '01, in Syracuse at 3 o'clock the same day.

Ward Ninde, '05, spent Saturday and Sunday at his home in Rome.

Allen R. Templar, '05, was in Elbridge over Sunday.

The fourth architectural problem for juniors has been posted. It is to be a "ward school building" to accommodate 360 pupils and to be planned according to the best information and science in these matters. The basement is to be level with the street, opening on to a large central court to be used as playground. Four large staircases lead to the second floor, which is to have principal's rooms, library and four class rooms. The second floor is to contain eight class rooms. Building to be located at the end of a block having a frontage of 200 feet and depth or 150 feet. These sketches are due in two weeks and the finished drawing Nov. 4, 1903.

The subjects of the Beaux Arts competition Saturday were: Class A "A Wind Mill," and Class B "A Country Tattersall."

HISTORICAL AS OCIATION.

At the first regular meeting of the Historical Association plans were discussed for raising money and a committee appointed to look into the matter. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year to look up the matter. President, Dr. E. E. Sperry, '98; vice-president, Harley Crane, '09; recording secretary, George Warren, '04; assistant recording secretary, Robert Park, '05; corresponding secretary, Miss Alice Mathews, '04; assistant corresponding secretary, Miss Lulu Umbrecht, '05; librarian, J. W. Heal, '04; first assistant librarian, Miss Sadie Rumrill, '04; second assistant librarian, Claude Kimmell, '05; treasurer, W. W. Porter; assistant treasurer, Claude Terry, '04; custodian, Miss C. West, '00; members from 1903 to the executive committee, A. D. Brown and Miss Edith Cooney.

The regular meeting of the association will be held once every month.

SKULL AND SERPENT.

The first meeting this year of Skull and Serpent, the sophomore society, was held last evening at the Beta Theta Pi chapter house. The Alpha chapter of the society was organized in Syracuse University last year. In a short time the Alpha chapter will install two more chapters in neighboring colleges. Skull and Serpent differs from Theta Nu Epsilon, a rather widely distributed sophomore college society, in having a somewhat worthier object than the latter mentioned society is supposed to possess. The charter members of the Alpha chapter are: F. E. Brundage, V. T. Stewart, W. N Pirson, C. T. Robertson, S. G. Birdsall, Clifford Searle, S. G. Prime, Earl L. Ackley, all 1905, and George S. Baker and W. M. Baker, 1905-ex, and C. M. Rebert, Harvard, 1905.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI NEWS.

H. E. Woolever, '04, spent Saturday and Sunday in Canandaigua.

Miss Dorothea E. Lewis is the speaker for the union meeting of the Christian Associations next Sunday.

Miss Lewis is the state secretary for the Y. W. C. A. in New York and New Jersey. She arrives in Syracuse Thursday at 3:45 p. m., and will visit here for several days.

Wendell's Ambition Pills--the great nerve tonic, good for that tired feeling, 50c, at Larned & Barker's.

GOOD MORNING.

In the address given at the beginning of the year by the Chancellor the students are told that they have the free access to various parts of the campus so long as they do not abuse that privilege. They accordingly derive much pleasure from this benefit.

But there is one thing in connection with this usage which sooner or later, unless remedied, will cause serious injury to some unfortunate individual. This is the use of one part of the campus for a golf course. That pastime is pleasant and profitable in health giving to a large number of enthusiasts. It is objected to, because in two cases out of three when the player is behind a knoll he never sends forward a caddy to warn a traveller on the other side. The result is that even if he does cry "fore" (which is sometimes omitted), the unobserving pedestrian may be aroused to his surroundings by a ball whizzed at a terrible rate by his ear or within a few inches of his face. It is providential that no serious mishap has occurred thus far, but it is still early in the season and steps should be taken whereby accidents will be avoided.

THE ALBANY ALUMNI.

Henry L. Taylor, president of the Albany Alumni Association of Syracuse University, announces that the Executive Committee of the association will give a luncheon to all alumni in the city in the parlors of Trinity Church Wednesday afternoon. The alumni of Syracuse in Albany are: Edgar H. Brown, R. E. Day, Henry Graham, C. N. Cobb, Henry L. Taylor, Dr. Mary Sweet, Dr. Anne Bingham, Bertha Kellogg, Noble E. Whitford, Mrs. Noble E. Whitford, Dr. L. W. Manly, Rev. A. H. Eaton, C. A. Hagaman, Mrs. John Birdseye, Dr. Harriett A. Woodward, Frederick Wose, C. S. Gager, Rev. Payson Pierce.

After announcing the conditions of eligibility for class teams and collegiate teams, Prof. Losey closed with a few brief, ringing words addressed particularly to the freshmen.

Dr. Eaton, the new English instructor, followed Prof. Losey, and in a few happily chosen words expressed his deep interest in debate. E. H. Sumner, president of the Debating Union and member of last year's victorious team, arrived at the meeting late, but not too late to be called upon to speak. Mr. Sumner's remarks were brief, but to the point. One sentence he drove home with particular emphasis: "I have entered into both athletics and debate and can say truly 'Debate does more than athletics to make a man.'"

The meeting ended with a discussion of the time for holding the meetings of the class debating societies. It was finally dacided to hold meetings on alternate Thursday nights, commencing October 15th.

The organization will be practically the same as last year. There will be a class club for each one of the four classes. Each club will elect its own officers and conduct its own meetings, subject, however, to the constitution uniformly adopted by the Debating Union.

Each class organization will elect two representatives to the Debating Union. The Debating Union, together with the faculty adviser, Prof. Losey, will have charge of all the interclass and intercollegiate debates, and in fact everything pertaining to the debating interests of the college as a whole.

The first meeting of the clubs will be held Thursday, Oct. 15, and meetings will be held every two weeks thereafter.

The medals which are to be awarded to the different members of last year's debating teams have not yet arrived. They are expected in a few weeks. To those men who made their class teams will be awarded bronze medals, to those who made that class team and who were successful in the interclass contests will be awarded silver medals, and to those men who made the intercollegiate team will be awnrded gold medals. Under this arrangement, H. B. Myron, Law, George K. Warren, '04, and Ernest H. Sumner, '03, are entitled to gold medals; Lloyd L. heney, Lawrence D. Rhoads and Norman L. Wiley, '05, to silver medals; Roy Allen, J. R. Rubin and John Heal, '04, and A. J. Croft, O. J. Brown and J. C. Teessler, '06, to bronze medals.

An intercollegiate debate has already been arranged with Wesleyan. This will take place early in the spring. Syracuse is to submit three questions to Wesleyan before Nov. 15. Wesleyan will choose the subject from these three questions and also the side she wishes to maintain. It is not yet definitely known whether another intercollegiate debate will be held.

ADVERTISE IN THE "ORANGE."

As an advertising medium there is no doubt that the SYRACUSE DAILY ORANGE excels. No other advertising scheme compares with the DAILY ORANGE in getting advertisers' goods before students "on the Hill." Every morning, six times a week, the advertiser s name comes up before the students, displayed in an attractive manner and on the same page with reading matter. The University students are beginning to fall in line with other colleges and are showing college spirit by patronizing only those concerns which advertise in the University publications.

The advertisements of the DAILY ORANGE are as important a feature as the news matter. They are news. Through them students are informed where they can get the best goods for the least money. Special sales are announced at the time of their occurrence so that students may take advantage of them.

One advertiser said, "AS FAR AS IT REACHES I HAVE NEVER FOUND A BETTER ADVERTISING MEDIUM THAN THE DAILY ORANGE." Another stated that he "had never had one of his ads mentioned so much as was his business notice in the ORANGE." Another said, "I find that it pays to spend time and money on my advertisement in the DAILY."

Students, who cannot afford to subscribe for the ORANGE, can at least mention the paper when buying goods from ORANGE advertisers. This vastly helps the paper. Another way of helping the paper is to ask firms who do not use the DAILY why they do not in this way bring their names before the students.

FOOTBALL PUNTS AND PASSES.

New Bleachers to be Erected at Once--Manager Rubin Getting the Alumni Interested.

The interest in football steadily increases. Several plans have been completed whereby the support of the eleven will be greatly aided.

Prof. Burchard says that the construction of the new bleachers on the north side of the field will be commenced at once It is expected the stands will be completed before the Colgate game. This addition to facilities will be a decided factor in bettering the accommodations for and support given to athletics.

The alumni and friends of the University are responsible for the financial backing given the new project. The men in Syracuse are responding generously.

Manager Rubin is sending out letters to the alumni urging them to attend the big games here, and giving special rates for the Colgate. Williams and Brown contests.

The Medical College has just opened and it will send a mighty cohort with several cheermasters to the game this Saturday.

The Hill men will be on hand in large numbers. Walter F. Bayliss and Geo. K. Warren, senior cheermasters, will lead the Hill men.

The 'Varsity candidates are at work every day. Yesterday they went through the usual series of work. Half of the men were coached in punting and catching the ball under Coach Brown, while coach Parrish drilled a small squad in tackling the dummy. After each squad had worked out on the tackle effigy, another squad took its place. Captain O'Neill then took charge of this practice, while Coach Parrish led his charges out behind the grand stand and drilled them in charging, stopping and breaking through the line.

LAW COLLEGE DEBATING CLASS.

The Senior-Junior Debating Class next Friday afternoon will discuss the question: Resolved: That the present trial by jury should be abolished. The affirmative will be taken by Messrs. Burke (leader), Fearon and Garlock; the negative by Messrs. Race (leader), Campbell and Perez. The question for a week from Friday is, Resolved; That United States senators should be elected by the direct vote of the people. Messrs. Fearon, Orchard and Black will uphold the affirmative side of this question and Messrs. Young, Hennessey and Bachus the negative.

PHOTOGRAPH CONTEST.

1905 ONONDAGAN CONTEST NO. 3.

1. The 1905 ONONDAGAN will offer prizes for the best amateur photograph of the interiors of students' rooms. There are many rooms at S. U. fitted up in typical college style. We want some pictures of them. Not necessarily of the whole room, mind you, but of the peculiarities. We want bizarre, interesting pictures and this means photographs of "freak" decorations and queer contrivances. We know of a boy who has a curtain made of empty "Richmond Club" tobacco bags, and a co-ed who has a real live tombstone over her divan, and we want pictures of both of them and of any thing else of the kind. Then there are many student makeshifts and oddities of furniture. Let some one else have a peek at your bright ideas. Have you a unique sofa-pillow? Let's have a picture of it.

2. Any student or alumnus of any college in the University is eligible to compete.

3. There will be a cash prize of two dollars and a copy of the ONONDAGAN for the best picture and a second prize of a copy of the ONONDAGAN to the second best.

4. Pictures must be clear and distinct, and preferably unmounted. Any size is allowed but preferably not over 4 by 5 in. or less than 2 by 3 in.

5. There is no limit to the number of photographs one person may enter.

6. All pictures must be in the hands of the Committee on Illustrations on or before Saturday, Dec. 19, 1903, after which no entries will be accepted.

7 All pictures must be signed on the back with a pseudonym and be accompanied with a sealed envelope containing the person's real name.

8. All pictures must be accompanied with a few words of explanatory matter (not over 100 words) stating all facts which may be of interest and making any explanation or elucidation of the picture which may be necessary. This is to be plainly written (on one side of the paper).

9. Pictures may be handed or sent to Fred R. Lear, Chairman of the Committee on Illustrations, 609 Walnut Ave., or to A. F. Rider, Editor-in-Chief, 606 Croton st.

BASKET BALL.

The opening of the basketball practice season has brought out an unusually large number of candidates. Twenty-five men, many of them experienced players, are entering the sport this fall. Other good men will doubtless join the squad as soon as the football season closes.

Following are the names of the men who have begun the tri-weekly practice work: Niles '04, McAdam '04, Brady, Seth Rice, Earl Rice. Sargent, Woodhull, Lincoln and Houseknecht '05, Bump, Hills, Stuber, Dunham and Kinney '06, Coit, Evans, Hawkins, Hanky, Kirchgasser, Marcellus, Millen, Powell, Keeney and Wayne '07.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Dr. Sperry, president of the Historical Association, appointed the following committee yesterday to devise a plan for raising money for the Seminar Library this year: Seniors, Misses Mickle, Rice and Hitchcock; Messrs. Warren, Moore, Evans and Rubin. Juniors, Misses Tobin, Capron, Totman and Knapp; Messrs. Ackley, Cribb, Kimmel and Clarke.

Crouse College French club will meet next Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the Gamma Phi Beta chapter house. At this meeting the club will elect officers and plan for the ensuing year. The club has existed for the past three years. It has been very successful and of great benefit to the members. Any one who has taken or is taking French in Crouse College is invited to attend.

A class meeting of the Junior Engineers was called Oct. 7 by former president W S. Bourlier, for the purpose of electing class officers. The following officers were elected: President, H. R. Smith; vice-president, R. R. Stone; secretary, W. H. Badger; treasurer, A. S. Witmer.

FRESHMEN ADOPT CAPS.

CLASS BANQUET.

At a meetiug of the freshman class yesterday afternoon a cap was adopfed similar to the one recently described in the ORANGE. The cap will be on sale at Edwards & Sons, and all freshmen are required to wear it.

President Arthur Hartigan appointed the following committee to look up matter for the class banquet to be held within the next two months. The committee is Roy Ferris, Edward Millen, R. Robinson. R. K. Sheldon was elected toastmaster.

The secretary was empowered to write to the upper classes relative to making the freshman cap a permanent feature at Syracuse.

Miss Opp was elected class historian The yell committee reported and the following yell was adopted by the class:

Ki, Kum Seven,
Ko, Kum Eleven,
Syracuse, Syracuse, Nineteen-seven.

NEW CAVALRY TROOP.

Capt. Barton Cruikshank of Troop E, Cavalry, the recently organized Syracuse cavalry troop, desires a few more able bodied men to add to the ranks, and would be glad to enlist any students who desire to join. At present the troop is an independent organization. They expect to enter the National Guard as soon as they have become sufficiently expert in the drills and manoevurs.

Capt. Cruikshank is a man of wide experience as a drill officer.

He is ably assisted by First Lieutenant Vernon and Second Lieutenant Brown. The number of men at present enrolled is about forty-five. Inasmuch as the full complement has been placed at sixty, there are still places for about fifteen good men. Any students who desire to join the organization should communicate at once with Clinton Gapen, 1st Sergeant, Solvay, N. Y., for information with regard to dues, drill, etc., or report at the armory on Thursday, Oct. 8, 1903, at 8 o'clock.

LAW COLLEGE BRIEFS.

At a meeting of the Junior Law Class held Tuesday morning the following officers were elected: President, S. A. Ralph; vice-president, Solomon Ferguson; secretary. Earl R. Cross; treasurer, Clark A. Jackson; orator, Frederick W. Garlock; foot-ball manager, Samuel A. Pulford.

The class expects to send out a winning foot-ball team, and several games will be played with High School teams and perhaps a game with Hobart will be arranged.

NOTICES.

There will be an informal reception to-night, Thursday, in the Associations' rooms in the gymnasium in honor of Miss Lewis, state secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association. All women in the University are invited, especially freshmen.

There will be an important meeting of the sophomore class to-day, Oct. 8, at 2 p. m. By order of the President.

The first meeting of the Syracuse Chemical Society will be held at the Medical College at 8 o'clock Friday evening. An address "The Manufacture and Properties of Crucible Steel," will be given by Mr. C. L. French, chemist of the Sanderson Steel Co. All students who are interested in chemistry are invited to attend.

The annual meeting of the Science Association will be held Friday, Oct. 9th, at 4:20 in the Physical Lecture Room, Steele Hall.

GOOD MORNING.

It is easily perceived by the casual observer that there are a great many tennis enthusiasts in Syracuse University. The courts are crowded every day and it is not an unusual thing to see some players waiting their turn to play. Even with this zeal shown in a splendid sport, however, there is not the necessary encouragement given.

Every court, without exception, is in wretched condition. In some the water collects, when there is rain, and in time the court becomes a mud puddle. There seems to have been no care whatever put on them since they were first put in shape (?) this fall.

With the increased number of tennis players entering the University this year there should be better and increased facilities. The line of courts could be extended toward College Place at a comparatively small expense. As an all-around athletic exercise nothing excels tennis. Why should the University not aid in building up her students physically, when it can so easily be accomplished?

Department of Pedagogy.

Prof. Street wishes to urge upon the freshmen and sophomores who expect to teach after graduation the necessity of taking the State preliminary examinations. They will be held in Dr. Street's lecture room on Thursday and Faiday, Oct 8 and 9. These must be passed before beginning the work in Junior Pedagogy and should be attended to at once. Dr. Street has the largest registration in his courses that he has ever had. The Junior Pedagogy class numbers 99 and the Senior Pedagogy class 70

About the first of November, Prof. Street begins a series of lectures before the students of Auburn Theological Seminary on the application of Pedagogy to the work of the minister.

ATHLETIC GOVERNING BOARD.

At a meeting of the Athletic Governing Board of the University held in the University Club Monday night, it was decided to build bleachers along he north side of the gridiron. Work will be commenced at once and they will be in p ace for the Colgate game.

The bleachers will be movable. The action of the board in deciding to construct them fills a long felt want in connectihn with athletics on the hill, not only from the standpoint of a spectator, but also from that of a rooter. Messrs. Larrabee, Aurchard and Smallwood were appointed a committee to superintend the erection of the bleachers.

It was decided also to offer amendments to the constitution to the effect that hereafter the election of two undergraduate members be held in May of each year and that they be elected from the sophomore class. At present the members are elected from the junior class every fall.

Another amendment to be voted upon by the Athletic Association in the near future will, if adopted, make the managers of the four branches of athletics members of the board with privilege of the floor, but without votes. The managers will act as associate members in an advisory capacity, if the amendment goes through.

The special election of two juniors to the Governing Board was set for Thursday, October 15, in all the colleges.

Harry McGlashen, '06, was granted his class numerals for football.

E. S Edwards was elected manager of the track team for the ensuing year.

The Chancellor has appointed Profs. E. C Morris, H. A. Peck, H. M. Burchard and W. M. Smallwood as faculty members of the board. the latter replacing Prof. E. A. Emens.

Sustaining members of the board were re-elected last night as follows: George S. Larrabee, A. E. Nettleton, F. B. Scott and H. W. Smith.

The election of officers for this year resulted in the choice of D. Raymond Cobb, president; George S. Larrabee, vice-president; Orlo D. Blanchard, secretary; W. W. Porter, treasurer.

THE OFFICIAL CANE adopted by the Junior class can be secured only at Egenhofer's, the Men's Outfitter, at 2 6 Warren St.

ADVERTISE IN THE "ORANGE."

As an advertising medium there is no doubt that the SYRACUSE DAILY ORANGE excels. No other advertising scheme compares with the DAILY ORANGE in getting advertisers' goods before students "on the Hill." Every morning, six times a week, the advertiser's name comes up before the students, displayed in an attractive manner and on the same page with reading matter. The University students are beginning to fall in line with other colleges and are showing college spirit by patronizing only those concerns which advertise in the University publications.

The advertisements of the DAILY ORANGE are as important a feature as the news matter. They are news. Through them students are informed where they can get the best goods for the least money. Special sales are announced at the time of their occurrence so that students may take advantage of them.

One advertiser said, "AS FAR AS IT REACHES I HAVE NEVER FOUND A BETTER ADVERTISING MEDIUM THAN THE DAILY ORANGE." Another stated that he "had never had one of his ads mentioned so much as was his business notice in the ORANGE." Another said, "I find that it pays to spend time and money on my advertisement in the DAILY."

Students, who cannot afford to subscribe for the ORANGE, can at least mention the paper when buying goods from ORANGE advertisers. This vastly helps the paper. Another way of helping the paper is to ask firms who do not use the DAILY why they do not in this way bring their names before the students.

Two of these members shall be elected each year from the sophomore class. The election shall be by ballot, and shall be held on the first Monday in May of each year, unless for special reasons the Athletic Governing Board shall otherwise direct, at a place and hour to be fixed and announced by the Director of the Gymnasium, at least one week before the election takes place. COMMITTEE.

The election for baseball manager and student for the Athletic Governing Board will be held in all the colleges next Thursday, Octoqer 15.

Professor Scott, director of the gymnasium will have the supervision of the election with the various class presidents.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

The Indian eleven at Carlisle, in addition to the services of Coach Warner, will be coached by Bemus Pierce, a Carlisle graduate, who has been engaged as assistant, and Hudson, the wonderful goal kicker of former years. The most important changes from last season's schedule are the Princeton game in place of the one with Cornell, and the game with Northwestern University at Chicago on Thanksgiving Day.

Gresham Poe, who was graduated from Princeton last year and played in the Yale game, will coach the University of Virginia football team instead of Morris Ely of Yale, whose business engagements prevented him from going to Charlottesville.

The Brown University football candidates will receive coaching assistance from Fred Murphy, the fullback; Tom Barry, last year's captain, and an effort is being made to secure "Bosie" Reiter, the well-known Princeton half-back. Brown's schedule is as follows: September 30, Colby; October 3, Wesleyan; 10, Princeton, all at Providence; 17, University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; 24, Harvard at Cambridge; 31, Williams at Providence; November 7, University of Vermont at Providence; 14, Syracuse University at Syracuse; 26, Dartmouth at Manchester, N. H.

Junk, the 220-pound guard on the Pennsylvania State college team in 1902, has entered U. of P., but will not be eligible this year. He will work with the scrub.

Charles Rive Prark will be put in shape for football this fall, and will draw many school games, as the playing field will be completely surrounded by seats.

The Carlisle Indians have four places to fill; both ends, a guard and a half-back. Glenn Warner's squad numbers 40, many of whom were last year's substitutes.

Although Brown has games this year with Harvard, Princeton and Pennsylvania, the aim of the season will be the Dartmouth game at Manchester. Coaches Murphy and Fultz will train the team for this final game of the year.

George Foster Sanford is back in New York and is helping out in the coaching at Columbia. He will be in New York all winter, but will devote only an occasional afternoon to coaching. Morris, who played some with Brown last year, is a prominent candidate for the Columbia line.

GOOD MORNING.

The freshman class this fall has brought with it more football material than any preceding class. The men of the class have shown a commendable example in electing a football manager and a captain.

These men, however, have held their respective positions for some time. They have, to all appearances, done nothing towards arranging a good schedule nor for a series of games with the sophomore eleven.

It is about time for both of these worthy individuals to come out of their trance and proved themselves capable of holding their offices.

NEW FINE ARTS CHORUS.

The chorus recently organized under Professor Phillips and composed of both men and women meets once every week in Crouse College.

They expect to give a concert during the winter. They are now taking up an oratorio which they will give.

This afternoon the freshmen in the Law College debate on the question: "Resolved, That Capital Punishment Should be Abolished." The following men will take part: C. Winslow, W. Gerber and C. Wheeler, affirmative. H. Hayke, C. Kenyon and L. Coursen, negative.

DIAGNOSES.

First meeting of the 1907 medical class was held yesterday at 11:30 a. m. in the Medical College. Mr. Lester S. Lang was appointed as temporary chairman. James Graves as secretary pro tem. Several committees were appointed preparatory to a permanent organization. The class will probably number 48, of which about 30 were present.

Brown University is already making preparations for their debate with Dartmouth this year. A call was issued for names of those who wished to try for the team, and only two names were handed in before this week.

The seniors of the University of California have undertaken to be sponsors for the behavior of the underclassmen. It has heretofore been the University regulation to require a deposit from the class for the use of university buildings for class meetings. The senior class drew up resolutions declaring that henceforth they would act as advisers to lower classmen to prevent the destruction of University property.

The sophomore girls at Leland Stanford University have refused to wear the Turkish fez, which was adopted by the men as the class hat. They say the headgear is not suited to set off feminine beauty,

The total registration of students at the Univers ty of Chicago up to the present time is 824 men and 732 women, a total of 1,556.

Preaident Aarper of the University of Chicago in a recent chapel address to the young ladies of that institution told them that they must curtail their social affairs. He said that about 2o per cent of the freshman girls failed in their oxaminations last fall, and attributes this largely to the evils of rushing.

An interesting life was recently brought into public notice by the death of James Hall, Hall was a graduate of Harvard, but had lived the life of a hermit for 40 years on a farm in Western New York.

J. E. Lagdameo, a cousin of Aguinaldo, entered the Sheffield Scientific School at Yale this fall. He is a graduate of the Atheneum, a Manila college. He is taking a course in forestry at Yale, and expects to return to the Philippines in three years.

A student at the University of Texas recently invested 25 cents for a raffle ticket, and in the ra..e won a pony. He then traded the pony for an acre of land. The land has proved to be gilt-edged oil territory, and the student has been offered extravagant prices for his possession. The story will at least make good reading for the small children.

Later several scrimmages took place. The usual and most interesting line scraps result from the following opposing:

Brane	Center	Belcher or McMickle
Rice, Smith	Guards	Dempster, Blue
Hares	Tackles	Tucker
Harwood		Smallwood
Lane, Boland	Ends	Burrell Cummings

Lanctot, '07, the Buffalo man, is being tried at full back, alternating with Crawford, '07, and Smith, '05.

Shade, Park, Erisman and Parker are putting up the best game at half back. Rutherford is doing excellent work at quarter as "sub" to Captain O'Neil.

The game this Saturday will be especially interesting from the fact that the Narsity team will be picked to a great extent for the season from the showing made in the coming contest.

The First Regular Game of the Season—The 'Varsity in Good Shape for Rensaeller Game Today.

The rainy weather of the past fewdays has not prevented the football practice. Yesterday the men turned out in a drenching rain at four o'clock and worked until six. Graduate coaches Parrish and Brown did not don their usual football togs, but worked the men just as hard as formerly. The work on the tackling dummy was omitted from the routine of the day. The men were put to work on the field outside the fence. Punting, dropping on the ball, and general formations were the order of the day.

One important feature of tomorrow's game is that the work which the candidates do tomorrow will be used to a large extent as criterion for the final make-up of the Varsity for the season.

Among the freshmen who showed up well yesterday were Cummings and Harwood in the line; and Crawford, Lanctot, Erisman, and Curtiss behind the line.

These men, with most of the following, will be played at some time during to-morrow's contest: Brane, Belcher, McMickle, Rice, Smith, Dempster, Blue, Hares, Harwood, Tucker, Smallwood, Lane, Boland, Burrell, Cummings, Schade, Twomlly, Park and Parker.

The officials will probably be Mr. Charles Freeman of Princeton and Mr. Southworth, Harvard. The game is called for 3 o'clock, good weather or bad.

MEDICAL COLLEGE NOTES.

At present there are 25 freshmen registered. About ten more are waiting to get the Medical Student's certificate.

The freshmen held a class meeting Wednesday, but have not elected president yet.

This year Gray's Anatomy was put aside for Morris Anatomy.

The Freshmen have decided to wear gray woolen shirts. Mr. Crisman already possessed a "gray"—hence the motion from him.

This year's entering class can boast of but one of the fair sex.

Men from the hill are Messrs. Chapman, Jones, Adams and Christman.

First meeting of Medical College Y. M. C. A. was held at college last evening. Men of the college are most cordially invited to be present.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The History Department has received about fifty volumes on the American Revolution and early English period.

GOOD MORNING.

There is a feature prevalent in a number of the Eastern colleges which would prove to be an excellent custom if introduced at Syracuse. It is the custom which the students have of gathering on the campus certain evenings during each week of fall and spring to sing their college and other songs.

The University Glee and Instrumental Clubs, or Orchestra, act as leaders.

Syracuse has an excellent amount of talent upon which to depend to foster such a custom. There seems to be no good reason why this system, so-called, cannot be put in practice here this year.

Each class president could select certain men of known ability in his class, to co-operate with the Glee Club in leading the singing. One or two evenings a week might be given to it.

If the weather is so cold as to prevent it this fall, why not have a mass meeting in Crouse College before the Colgate game for men only, where this can be tried? On such an occasion enthusiastic alumni could also be present to help boom football with the real Orange oratory.

This Colgate mass meeting for the men is bound to be a great success. Let us repeat it before both the Williams and Brown games.

There is an incessant demand for some such affair, where the students of all the colleges can meet and mingle. It goes to make for college loyalty and University brotherhood.

The Orange Eleven Defeats the Troy Warriors in a Sea of Mud--The Line-up and Officials.

The Varsity played the heavy Tech eleven to a standstill on a field of mud last Saturday.

The game was called about 3:30 with Mr. L. Tracy [Cornell] as referee, and Mr. L. D. Sweet [Bucknell] as umpire. Captains O'Neill and Pitz decided on 20 and 15 minute halves.

Chalfand kicked off for the Troy eleven; Shade returned with it twelve yards. In rapid succession the backs, Park, Parker and Schade were tried through the line for four to ten yards. Parker was pushed through left tackle for twelve yards and was succeeded by Schade on a line buck for four yards, Then Parker made a brilliant dash past Troy's right end for thirty yards. Schade brushed off the Trojans at left end for five yards. Tucker and Hares in succession made indentations on the Troy stronghold for a combined gain of nine yards. Then plucky little Parker was pushed over for the first touchdown in six minutes of play. O'Neill failed at goal on account of wet ball.

O'Neill kicked off; Harris, the "Baldy" of the Renssalaer eleven, fumbled but Troy kept the ball. Troy made her first down in two end runs. Syracuse got back at them by holding for downs. Parker, Park and the Orange ends did some pretty tackling at this stage of the game.

Syracuse getting the ball ran her backs and tackles for short but steady gains. Parker soon repeated and another touchdown was scored. Captain O'Neill failed at goal.

O'Neill kicked off. Troy was unable to gain her five yards after being penalized ten yards on a forward pass, so Chalfand punted. Park returned twelve yards on excellent interference by O'Neill.

Park, after Syracuse failed to gain, booted the ball for twenty-five yards. The Orange men soon regained the ball and by hard, fast work put Schade over for the third touchdown. Boland kicked the goal. Score, 16 to 0.

After the next kick off Troy showed her best form of the day. The backs Chalfand, Gifford and Harris were worked for gains of five to nine yards through the Syracuse guard and tackles. Rice, Tucker and Hares.

Syracuse regained the ball before any damage was done. On short line bucks by the backs and a thirty-five yard run by Parker the next touchdown was made by Schade. Boland kicked the goal. Score at end of first half, 22 to 0.

Several changes were made in the line-up during the second half by both teams. The game ended with score 33 to 0 in favor of Syracuse.

Syracuse showed loose interference on end runs and at times a decided lack of team play. Rice and Tueker were weak on defense and the backs were confused several times on signals.

The line-up and officials follow:

Syracuse.		Rensselaer,
Lane	Left end	Pitz [Capt,]
Hares	Left tackle	Lamb
Rice, Van Duser	Left guard	Stace
McMickle	Center	Finch
Brane	Right guard	Bradbury
Tucker	Right tackle	Murray
Boland	Right end	Fox
O'Neill [Capt.]	Quarter	Watkins, Wood
Schade, Curtiss L.	half	Gifford, Ford
Parker, Erisman R.	half	Harris, Fogerty
Park, Schade	Full back	Chalfand

BASKET BALL.

The regularity of work of the basket ball candidates is already showing its effects in the marked improvement of both individual and team play. All of the men are getting into the game with eagerness and vim.

Particularly is this true with the freshmen candidates, all of whom are showing up well. Among the sophomores, Kinney and Bump, the well known oarsmen, are developing great speed, endurance and accuracy.

Contests Arranged.

Captain Houseknecht announced Saturday evening that a series of nine inter-class games has been arranged. There will be three series of games as follows: A series of three games between the Freshman and Sophomore teams; a series between the Junior and Senior teams; a final championship contest of three games between the winners of the first two series.

The first game of this inter-class series will take place Thursday evening, and will be between the freshmen and sophomores. Judging from present appearances the game will be close and exciting. All students are invited to attend.

Freshmen Elect Captain.

On Saturday evening the freshmen basket ball players elected Arthur J. Powell of Buffalo as their captain. The newly elected captain has already made a good record as captain of the Masten Park High School team during last year's successful season.

NOTICES.

The regular monthly tax of the freshman class is now due. Every member of the class is requested to see that the tax is paid at once.

B. F. FOWLER, Treasurer.

GOOD MORNING.

The caps adopted by the freshman class will be on sale this week. The class has shown a praiseworthy spirit in getting such a distinctive cap. It is Eton style, of a dark green color with a yellow button.

This cap should be worn by every individual member of the freshman class. There should be no exceptions, since there is no definite cause for any. Such a good custom when thoroughly carried out by the 1907 class, can easily be handed down to succeeding classes as they enter.

We find that the sophomore class is to blame for the delinquency in arranging the annual series of games between the two lower classes. The freshmen are unable to locate the football manager of the sophomore eleven. Nothing can be done until the two class managers get together and arrange for the series.

The sophomores must have class pride and honor sufficient to vindicatn themselves at once in this matter.

BARGE CANAL CLUB.

There will be a short meeting of the Republican club and the Thousand-Ton Barge Canal club held immediately after chapel Monday morning. Mr. J. Robert Rubin is vice president of the Republican club, and will doubtless be elected president of the Barge Canal club for the year.

The latter club is a new organization in the University. All those in sympathy with its objects in the coming campaign should hand in their names to Mr. Robert Young, an enthusiastic member of the club. Both clubs hope to have a large and active membership for the fall campaign.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The entering class in Library Economy numbers twenty-four, or nearly three times as large as any previous entering class.

PREPARING FOR COLGATE

Daily Practice -- Great Mass Meeting of All the Colleges Called for Wednesday Morning in Liberal Arts Building at Chapel Time--The Band on Hand.

The daily practice was fast and hard yesterday. One of the reasons for this is the cold weather now existing. The regulars and substitutes went into the work with a vim and dash which augurs well for Colgate this Saturday.

Some of the men are slightly damaged from previous games and scrimmages. Van Duser, the big guard, is going around with an optic that does not show up as it should. Schade, the star halfback, is suffering with a bad ankle from last Saturday's game. Bob Park, the bucking halfback, has some additions to his face which do not add to his general appearance. Brane, the old "war horse," is carrying some bad bruises. None of these disadvantages, however, keep the men out of the game.

Graduate Coaches Parrish and Brown are working hard to eradicate the faults shown last Saturday. Tucker is being taught the art of playing low both on offense and defense. He displayed this fault throughout the Troy game. Rice is having the art of a strong defensive game drilled into him. The general team work also promises much improvement this week. The interference was notably loose at times against the Tech eleven last Saturday.

Much attention will be shown the tackles this week, for they need strengthening. The Colgate tackles, Stringer and Thurder, are very strong and to be feared.

A great mass meeting will be held this Wednesday morning immediately after chapel. Its purpose is to get the students prepared for the Colgate game. A number of prominent alumni will address the meeting, among them Messrs. Bond, Jewell, Crane and Dr. Van Lengen. The Chancellor is expected to be present and speak.

Manager Bateman of the University band will probably have his men on the platform to give several selections during the intermissions. All the colleges of the University will be represented in the large student assemblage expected to be present.

Dean Kent announces that the faculty has given its consent to the formation of an Engineering Society by the students of the college.

The committee on the subject has made a short report of its plans. A meeting will be held in the near future to complete affairs. The society will have regular meetings which will be addressed by eminent men on engineering subjects.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI.

Professor Delmer E. Hawkins has been elected a member of the State Committee in opposition to the proposed barge canal.

Dr. F. J. Cheney, principal of Cortland Normal School, visited his nephew Lloyd Cheney yesterday.

Dr. Annie Ferris '02, who has been visiting in Syracuse has returned to her home in Boston where she has a position as house surgeon in a Boston private hospital.

Mr. Tony '04 Law, has returned to college.

Mr. Dyack, one of the state secretaries of the Y. M. C. A. is visiting the University.

Mr. Merlin Smallwood, '02 Law, is visiting on the Hill this week.

Mr. Leon F. Haley, '03, returned to Syracuse last week to take a position in connection with the Smith Premier Typewriter company. Mr. Haley is the founder of the weekly publication of the university, The DAILY ORANGE wishes im great success in his new field of labor.

Mr. L. D. Sweet, Bucknell, who umpired last Saturdao's game, visited for a short time at the Phi Kappa Psi House.

REPUBLICAN CLUB

The Student Members of this Party Met in Chapel and Organized.—Officers and Executive Committee Elected.

The students of Republican tendencies met in chapel of Liberal Arts college yesterday morning and organized for the year.

Mr. J. Robert Rubin who was vice-president of the club last year presided He opened the meeting with a rousing speech in favor of active work by the college men in the local campaign. He urged every man present to get out and hustle for his party, and stand by his principles. Mr. Rubin's speech was well received by an enthusiastic audience.

A nominating committee of three was appointed to make the nominations for the club. While they were in session Mr. Young, on a call from the chairman, spoke in favor of the Thousand Ton Barge Canal. He advocated forming a club composed of men, of either party, who were favorable to such a measure. He pleaded earnestly for the cause in a strong, dramatic speech noted for its terse, epigrammatic English. It was decided that a meeting be called today after chapel to form a club of those men upholding the Barge Canal measure. Both Democrats and Republicans are cordially invited to attend.

The election of officers for the Republican club resulted as follows:

President, J. Robert Rubin; 1st. Vice-President, C. H. Dayton; 2d Vice-President, C. P. Wright; Secretary, Llond E. Brown; Treasurer, A. L. Evans; Executive Committee, John Heal, Fred Kitson and A. Loomis Baldrey.

The club will hold regular meetings to discuss and work on the local campaign. It is probable that several prominet statesmen will address the members in the near future.

THE CLASSICAL CLUB.

The members of the Classical Club of Syracuse University, elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President, E. D. Curtiss; vice president, Miss Helen M. Marshall; secretary, Miss Minnie D. Crofoot; treasurer, F. E. Seymour.

Executive Committee—Miss Jennie E. Gilbert, Miss Ada A. McDermott, G. G. Andrews, Miss Louise E. Cooley, E. T. Lewis.

Refreshment Committee-Miss Helen M. Marshall, E. H. Stoecker, C. E. Rushmer, Miss Lula A. Coe, Miss M. Isabel MacGregor, Miss Florence R. Loomis.

FOR RENT—A desirable front room-furnace heated, lighted with gas, and all modern conveniences. Inquire at 607 Croton street.

J. Walter Glass, 1905, has been elected as an associate editor on the 1905 Onondagan to succeed Gilbert Birdsall, 1905, who does not return until the second semester.

SYRACUSE MINISTERS.

At the conference of the Methodist church recently held at Canandaigua, several alumni of the University played prominent parts. Rev. Dr. J. B. Foote was honored by the conference, of which he has been a member 51 years. Rev. Dr. S. B. Kenyon, who has been pastor of the University Avenue M. E. church, was transferred to Bradford, Pa. Rev. Wallace E. Brown of the Furman street church, waa assigned to the First M. E. church at Ithaca, much to the dissatisfaction of his parishioners. Rev. Dr. F. D. Leete, formerly of the First M. E. church of Rochester, comes to the University Avenue church. Rev. M. J. Wells, selected for the Erwin Memorial church, comes from Stockbridge. Rev. J. C. Nichols, former presiding elder of this district, is the new pastor of the First M. E. church at Auburn.

All of the above named ministers are graduates of Syracuse, and undoubtedly the brief notes concerning them will be of interest to their many alumni friends.

NOTICES.

The regular monthly tax of the freshman class is now due. Every member of the class is requested to see that the tax is paid at once.

B. F. FOWLER, Treasurer.

The record of the number of hours passed up and not passed by the seniors are prepared and awaiting them in the postoffice boxes.

C. C. WILBOR, Registrar.

There will be a meeting of the German Club in the gymnasium Tuesday evening, October 13th, at 7:30 p. m. Every professor and student in the University who is interested, is invited to attend.

Last year the club met with great success and was one of the most popular of such organizations in the University. Dr. Holzwarth and his assistants expect a large increase in the membership for the coming year.

GOOD MORNING.

The Varsity eleven made a good showing last Saturday in defeating Rensselaer 33 to 0. The men now have a hard week of work, to be terminated by one of the hardest games on our schedule, the Colgate contest.

There are many encouraging features about the coming game. The football men realize the true importance of the battle, and are getting into the best of form. There were never so many reliable substitutes to be called upon if needed as there are today. Also, the students are eager for the fray. They realize its closeness and are preparing to back the team better than ever before.

We are hoping for good weather, and may the best eleven win.

THE ORANGE OBSERVER

We believe that there is no country where a profit is not esteemed.

Easy lies the freshman's head who thinks he knows it all.

It would be well for one possessing such a wonderful caput not to let everyone know of the same.

All the college world is a stage, in which the under class men are mere understudies.

Woe to the freshman who rests on his preparatory school honors, for he must gather himself for new deeds or fall by the wayside.

The new Y. M. C. A. handbook is an excellent creation. Everybody who can should secure one.

No one should think that he is lacking in athletic ability because he has done nothing in that line before. Many stars have been found who first took to athletics in college.

The Onandagan Board met at the Phi Gamma Delta House last Saturday evening and elected Mr. Pitts as secretary. Having found that Saturday evening is not convienent for some, the night was changed to Tuesday evening. They will meet next at the Delta Upsilon House 7:00 o'clock, Tuesday, Oct. 20, 1903.

The Care of the

Many suffer from headache and nervousness that do not suspect the cause. The nerves that control the EYE have a direct connection with the most vital parts of the human system. Continual strain on these nerves keep them in such a weakened condition that they have to call on the force of other nerves to keep them supplied. In that way the strain is carried to all the nerves and will in time exhaust them.

MASS MEETING.

All the Colleges will Join Forces at Chapel Time in the Liberal Arts College.—Prominent Speakers.—New Songs to be Sung.—Enthusiasm Rampant.

A mass meeting of the students in all the colleges will be held at Chapel time, 9:40 A. M., to-day in the Liberal Arts College. Its purpose is to make arrangements for the Colgate game, and arouse the latent enthusiasm of the student body.

This will be the first great mass meeting of the year, and it will doubtless be a decided success. Arrangements have been made for prominent alumni and others to address the students. Among the alumni expected are Messrs. George Bond, Charles J. Jewell and Harley Crane. Graduate Coaches Parrish and Brown will tell of the good work the football men have done so far this season, and ask for the earnest support of everyone at the game with Colgate this Saturday. It is expected that Chancellor Day will be present and address the meeting.

The following songs, composed by one of the students especially for the coming game, will be practiced this morging. They are printed exclusively by the DAILY ORANGE. Everyone should get and keep a copy of these songs. Most of them are written by R. Ernest Smith, 1906.

SYRACUSE SONGS.

Tune—SUMMER TIME.

There's a team bold and true, in Orange and Blue
Rah! for the Syracuse line.
They're chuck full of ginger, and they never linger
They make gains every time.
Our line's like a wall, can't move it at all,
Our ends they can't get around
Our backs strong and fast, Everyone stands aghast
To see how they "eat up" the ground.
In the good old football time
In the good old football time,
Plunging thro' Old Colgate's line
Five yards at a time;
First we gain around the end
Then we "buck" thro' the line.
There's always something doing
In the good old football time.

Tune—HOT TIME.

When you hear those chimes in the tower ring
All join 'round and "Alma Mater" sing
For to Old Colgate we didn't do a thing.
There's a hot time in Syracuse tonight.

Tune—RAMBLE.

Old Syracuse plays Old Colgate
We'll beat her every time
We play to beat the Devil
On field or on side line.
Old Colgate thinks she's here to win
But we know a trick or two
That will send her home in sad defeat
From the Orange and the Blue.
Oh! We'll yell, yell, yell, yell
For Syracuse we'll yell
Let the air with music swell
While we yell, yell, yell, yell
Old Syracuse Forever! we will yell.

CHEER SYRACUSE.

Tune—"Tramp, Tramp, Tramp."

Oh, we're jolly Syracuse boys,
You can tell us by our noise,
For We're never in for anything that's "tame."
Come and join us in our song,
Come help the thing along,
For we'll show you that we're always in the game.
Chorus:—Cheer, Syracuse, our team's a daisy,
Colgate has come to play,
But you'll find the Colgate crew,
Not a match for old S. U;
Oh, you bet they'll never see our goal today.
You will always find us true,
To the Orange and the Blue,
We're a stand-together, stick-together gang,
To our team we're loyal too,
Rah, Rah, Roo, Syracuse, S. U.,
Let us greet them with a "Rah, hoo, hoo-rah, Bang."
CHORUS,
Take a squint along our line,
For it's nothing else but fine,
Everyone can hold his man exactly right
All the backs and quarter, too,
Never fail in getting through,
Oh for bucking, they are simply out of sight.
CHORUS.

The band is unable to be present but will surely be out at the Colgate game. Some one and all to hear the best speeches you ever heard, and see the most enthusiastic assembly that ever gathered in Liberal Arts Chapel.

GOOD MORNING.

It seems to us that there is a lack of united effort on the part of the city alumni in supporting and furthering the interests of Syracuse University. There are many enthusiastic, hustling alumni here; and then there are others. It is evident, that if these two classes were to meet and work together, much would be accomplished for Old Syyracuse that is now left undone.

Some time in the past an association was formed among the alumni to foster University interests, especially athletics. Some good has emanated from such a an organization, but much more should come from the same source.

What method may be employed with good results? We would earnestly offer this idea; that the alumni and the generous supporters of the University residing in Syracuse get together once every month at lunch in some regular place of meeting down town. We would further suggest that the undergraduate managers, and the leaders in all lines of college life be asked to this monthly lunch. This plan would bring the alumni in touch with one another, and with the undergraduate life and activities of the day. It would go further to develop college loyalty and university support among the alumni than any method they have devised up to the present day.

We sincerely solicit the opinions of the alumni and friends in the city and elsewhere on this important subject. The DAILY ORANGE wishes to see developed here the truest type of college loyalty and university brotherhood possible for greater Syracuse to possess.

How can we get this? We gladly open our columns to our alumni and friends everywhere, for a free discussion of this important subject.

MEDICAL COLLEGE NOTES.

The sophomores of the Medical College held a class meeting Tuesday. Mr. Furman was elected President for the ensuing year. After much debating and cross-examinating Miss Hofnickle was chosen Vice President. Mr. Dyer was elected Secretary, and Mr. Spangler was elected Treasurer.

Mr. Furman made a speech and gave the class some good pointers. After that the class discussed attending th Colgate game Saturday. They decided to go to the game in a body behind a band furnished by the freshmen. The other classes will also be in the parade.

THE ENGINEERING SOCIETY.

Dean Kent called a meeting of the Senior, Junior and Sophomore engineers at 4 P. M. Monday, for the purpose of forming a new engineering society to take the place of the old Electrical Engineering society. Mr. Gramlich was elected chairman of the meeting. A committee consisting of Dean Kent, Wadsworth, Crysler, Morecroft, Phillips and Gramlich, presented a new constitution, which was adopted. All the students present were allowed to hand in the names of those students they wished to black ball, three black balls preventing a student from becoming a member. Meetings are to be held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month at 4 P. M. The new society is to be called the Engineering Society of Syracuse University. The following officers were elected: Recording Secretary, J. Walter Glass; President, J. Harold Morecroft; Vice-President, A. C. Perkins; Treasurer, Robert R. Stone; Corresponding Secretary, A. S. Witmer.

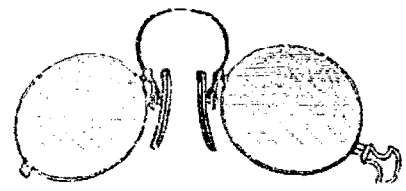
SOPHOMORE CLASS ELECTION.

The election of officers by the sophomore class for the first semester resulted as follows:

President, Mr. Oscar J. Brown; First Vice President, Miss Antoinette Burt; Second Vice President, Miss Lois Kupfer; Secretary, Miss Mills; Treasurer, Mr. W. J. Wilcox; Assistants, Messrs. Partridge and Bixby; Chairman of Executive Committee, Mr. Edward Packard: Football Manager, Mr. Charles Kinne; Basketball Manager, Mr. Treible; Cheermasters, Messrs. Belcher, Jones and Jacobson.

It was decided to give the freshmen a week to provide themselves with their class caps; also to warn them against smoking on the campus.

The Care of the



Many suffer from headache and nervousness that do not suspect the cause. The nerves that control the EYE have a direct connection with the most vital parts of the human system. Continual strain on these nerves keep them in such a weakened condition that they have to call on the force of other nerves to keep them supplied. In that way the strain is carried to all the nerves and will in time exhaust them.

PHYSICAL CULTURE AT ST. LOUIS.

The physical training part of the programme of the Olympic games at the World's Fair in Saint Louis next year has been arranged and it is on a more elaborate scale than anything else of the kind that has ever been attempted.

Upon his last visit to Saint Louis, James E. Sullivan, the head of the physical culture department of the fair, had a conference with a number of leading physical training experts of the country, including Dr. Luther H. Gulick of the New York public school system, George W. Ehler of the Chicago Young Men's Christian Association, A. E. Kindewater and William E. Stecker, representing the North American Gymnastic Union of Saint Louis, and Dr. Hetherington of the Missouri University.

Dr. Gulick presented a report embodying the views and suggestions of a number of physical training men and the practical side of the question will be given in a series of exhibitions as follows:

School gymnastics by classes from various grades of public schools, showing the German, Swedish and other methods.

An exhibition of school games as conducted in the schoolroom by grades, the school games that are practiced in school yards, the gymnastic games that are shown in this and other countries for persons of all ages.

Gymnastics as applied to the training of soldiers will have a conspicuous place.

The methods pursued by the big gymnastic organizations of the country, such as the North American Gymnastic Union and the Young Men's Christian Association, will be fully exhibited, also the popular Swedish gymnastics.

What the members of the conference consider to be one of the most important features of the physical training part of the programme will be a series of conventions, lectures and popular addresses. The unique feature will consist of the world's Olympic lecture course, during which the following topics will be treated. History of Physical Training; Psychologic and Sociologic Aspects of Physical Training, Physical Training of Truants, Defectives and Delinquents, The Physiology of Exercise, Gymnastic Therapeutics, The Management of Athletic Contests, Dancing for Schools, Theory and Practice of School Gymnastics, Theory and Practice of School Games, School Hygiene, The Adaptation of Physical Exercise to the Conditions of Modern Life, The Organization and Administration of Physical Training and Divergent Effects of Uniform Physical Training on Different Individuals.

Dr. Gulick says that no such opportunity has ever been offered before for the exploitation of the scientific and educational aspects of physical training and that there never has been such a combination of competitive sports with a scientific discussion of their place of influence.

ADVERTISE IN THE "ORANGE."

As an advertising medium there is no doubt that the SYRACUSE DAILY ORANGE excels. No other advertising scheme compares with the DAILY ORANGE in getting advertisers' goods before students "on the Hill." Every morning, six times a week, the advertiser's name comes up before the students, displayed in an attractive manner and on the same page with reading matter. The University students are beginning to fall in line with other colleges and are showing college spirit by patronizing only those concerns which advertise in the University publications.

The advertisements of the DAILY ORANGE are as important a feature as the news matter. They are news. Through them students are informed where they can get the best goods for the least money. Special sales are announced at the time of their occurrence so that students may take advantage of them.

One advertiser said, "AS FAR AS IT REACHES I HAVE NEVER FOUND A BETTER ADVERTISING MEDIUM THAN THE DAILY ORANGE." Another stated that he "had never had one of his ads mentioned so much as was his business notice in the ORANGE." Another said, "I find that it pays to spend time and money on my advertisement in the DAILY."

Students who cannot afford to subscribe for the ORANGE, can at least mention the paper when buying goods from ORANGE advertisers. This vastly helps the paper. Another way of helping the paper is to ask firms who do not use the DAILY why they do not in this way bring their names before the students.

STOP AND THINK. By investigating prices and goods of some market other than the one which you have usually patronized, you may save many dollars each week on your provision bill. Give us a trial order. We will save you much money.

A GREAT SUCCESS.

The Mass Meeting of the Students from all the Colleges Yesterday in Chapel was an Enthusiastic Outburst of College Spirit ---Speakers of the Day. --The DAILY ORANGE Songs a Decided Feature.

The Chapel of Liberal Arts was inadequate to hold the great crowd of students who wished to hear the speeches, and join in the yells and songs. The standing room on three sides of the hall was taken up by the over crowding throng which also filled both exits. This meeting again showed the extreme need of a building devoted principally to chapel purposes.

After the usual opening exercises, Dean Smalley put the meeting in the hands of George S Hares, president of the Student Athletic Association.

Dean Smalley gave the preliminary speech. He said in part: "We meet a foe worthy of our metal this Saturday, but we will surely continue to uphold our excellent record of the past.

"The relations between Syracuse and Colgate were not always as pleasant as those now existing, so we should show them, as our best friends, the greatest courtesy. Give them a royal good time, in fact the time of their lives. When a Colgate man makes a good play do not be sparing of applause. The Orange eleven should by all means be heartily supported by the students, and Syracuse, the best team, will win."

President Hares then introduced Prof. Burchard, who is a Colgate man, but a member of our Athletic Governing board. He gave an interesting talk on the financial status and support of our athletic teams. Among other things he said: "The students do not realize the difficulties of the athletic management here at Syracuse. The management has taken such a stand this year that they cannot run behind. The Athletic Governing board allows so much for running expenses of the teams, and any excess must be made up by those having charge of the teams. We all know football expenses come high, for the candidates eat up quite an amount of money.

Certain members of the board by pushing the project have secured new bleachers, which are now being erected on the north side of the field. They will seat five hundred people. There are many business men in the city who are forced to come up late to a game and wish a seat with an unobstructed view. These bleachers are designed for such men, and others who wish to use them. The bleachers are for this reason reserved; and the price of admission to them is 25 cents. The students are allowed to use them at the same price.

The attendance at the football games has greatly increased during the past few years At the Indian and other practice games this fall the attendance was greater than at the big games of five years ago." In closing, Prof. Burchard said he was with us and hoped to see Syracuse win this Saturday.

Dr. Charles J. Jewell was the next speaker. He made the hit of the day with his bright, witty sayings and telling reference to our past athletic history.

Manager Rubin then spoke, urging the students to back the team, and turn out in a body for Saturday's contest.

Walter Bayliss, 1904, led the cheering and yells with marked success. He was called on to lead the singing also, after Manager Rubin's speech. The songs sung were the new ones printed exclusively in the Daily Orange yesterday. They were sung with a spirit and dash that was inspiring. This new feature of having songs composed for the occasion by Syracuse students is a decided step in advance for Syracuse. The DAILY ORANGE had advocated it from the beginning of the year, and yesterday had the pleasure of aiding in the consummation of the plans.

After the songs had been sung plans were made for the Colgate game. Mr Wildman moved that a collection be taken and a wagonload of megaphones be purchased for use by the students. The collection taken amounted to fifteen dollars The megaphones will be given out by a committee under Mr. Wildman. They will be dtstributed to tue upper class men first.

The senior cheering masters will lead the cheering and songs. Mr. Bayliss will lead the men on one side the field, and Mr. Warren on the other.

Most of the students will occupy the grand stand, but half the bleachers will be reserved for the students who will pay for seats.

There will be a bench eighty feet long, directly in front of the bleachers for the use of coaches, newspaper men and substitute players.

Every student will be on hand with an orange ribbon on his coat; or in the case of the upper class men all will carry canes with orange colors on them.

BASKET BALL.

Basket ball teams representing the sophomore and freshman classes will contest tonight in the gymnasium for the class championship. Captain Kinne and Captain Powell have been exerting themselves to the utmost to develop the best possible class teams.

Competent observers declare that the work now being done by these class teamssurpasses that done by any class team of former years. Among the freshmen are four men who were captains of their respective teams last year. As the sophomores are also represented by excellent players, including Cortelyou, the well known football man, the game is certain to be close and exciting.

The gallery of the gymnasium will be open to all students at 7:30. No admission charge will be made. Game will be called promptly at eight o'clock.

Following is the probable line-up:

SOPHOMORES.		FRESHMEN.
	CENTER.
Cortelyou		Powell (capt.)
	FORWARDS.
Squires		Kirchgasser
Kinne (capt.)		Evans or Hanke

GERMAN CLUB MEETING.

The first regular meeting of the German club was held Tuesday Eve. at the gymnasium at 7:30 P. M. There was a large and interesting gathering of the professors and students interested in this line of work.

Dr. Holzworth presided. Following is the program of the evening: Choral music by the society. Mr. Lowe had charge of the music. Dr. Otto gave a most interesting and instructive talk on school education in Germany. His views were based on personal observation while in Germany. A vocal solo was given by Miss Hulda Kupfer, after which Miss Veva Baker rendered a piano solo,

After the regular programme, the students were served with light refreshments and a pleasant social time was enjoyed by all present. There are over one hundred members in the club, and the outlook is most promising.

The officers of the club are; President, Dr. Holzworth; vice president, Miss Allis, secretary, Miss Hulda Kupfer; treasurer, Prof. Boysen; chorister, Mr. Love.

The executive committee comprises the officers and the Misses Quinlan and Brown. The regular meetings will be held every other Tuesday at 7:45 P M.

NOTICES.

A special meeting of the Archbold Debating Society will be held Saturday evening at seven o'clock at the home of Mr. A. H. Ferguson, 414 S Crouse Ave. All members are urged to be present, as plans for the year's work will be discussed at this time.

All candidates for the sophomore football team will report at the gymnasium at 4 P. M. Thursday.

The track men who won their block S last year should report to the custodian in the gymnasium building Friday between 3:30 and 4:30 P. M. They will be measured for the sweaters which accompany the block S.

E. S. EDWARDS, Manager.

GOOD MORNING.

THE ORANGE OBSERVER.

Three cheers for the man who started the first mass meeting.

What is the matter with the Orange eleven? It is all right.

It takes the alumni to tell of the good old times.

Would it not be a good scheme to appoint a freshman committee to keep the small city boys off the field Saturday?

Will the new bleachers and grand stand hold Saturday's crowd?

The men on the scrub elevens are deserving of much more praise than they get.

Coaches Parrish and Brown are to b highly commended for discharging from service two freshmen who broke training.

The two freshmen who brake training, in order to enjoy a good time for an evening, are deserving of the severe censure. The object lesson which the football coaches made of them was both commendable and timely. If these two 1907 men care no more for the honor of the college, the pride of their class and their own manliness than they have shown; they are indeed worthy of the deepest reproach.

UPPERCLASSMEN!

Saturday's game with Colgate will be a hard struggle. The football team will need much backing. There will be much encouragement and enthusiasm. There will be a large crowd. THEREFORE, let every Senior carry a cane with the Orange flag; let every Junior carry a cane with Orange ribbon: let every underclassman wear at least a knot of Orange; and let every co-ed show her colors in any of the above ways. Make it a FIELD OF ORANGE.

THE NEW SONGS.

The extra edition of the Daily Orange was entirely sold out yesterday. As there are many hundreds who have not secured copies we print these same songs again today. Students should also see the Special Notice about Saturday's supplement.

Tune—SUMMER TIME.

There's a team bold and true, in Orange and Blue
Rah! for the Syracuse line.
They're chuck full of ginger, and they never linger
They make gains every time.
Our line's like a wall, can't move it at all,
Our ends they can't get around
Our backs strong and fast, Everyone stands aghast
To see how they "eat up" the ground.
In the good old football time
In the good old football time,
Plunging thro' Old Colgate's line
Five yards at a time;
First we gain around the end
Then we "buck" thro' the line.
There's always something doing
In the good old football time.

Tune—HOT TIME.

When you hear those chimes in the tower ring
All join 'round and "Alma Mater" sing
For to Old Colgate we didn't do a thing.
There's a hot time in Syracuse to night.

Tune—RAMBLE.

Old Syracuse plays Old Colgate
We'll beat her every time
We play to beat the Devil
On field or on side line.
Old Colgate thinks she's here to win
But we know a trick or two
That will send her home in sad defeat
From the Orange and the Blue.
Oh! We'll yell, yell, yell, yell
For Syracuse we'll yell
Let the air with music swell
While we yell, yell, yell, yell
Old Syracuse Forever! we will yell.

CHEER SYRACUSE.

Tune—"Tramp, Tramp, Tramp."

Oh, we're jolly Syracuse boys,
You can tell us by our noise,
For We're never in for anything that's "tame,"
Come and join us in our song,
Come help the thing along,
For we'll show you that we're always in the game.
Chorus:—Cheer, Syracuse, our team's a daisy.
Colgate has come to play,
But you'll find the Colgate crew,
Not a match for old S. U;
Oh, you bet they'll never see our goal today.
You will always find us true,
To the Orange and the Blue,
We're a stand-together, stick-together gang,
To our team we're loyal too,
Rah, Rah, Roo, Syracuse, S. U.,
Let us greet them with a "Rah, hoo, hoo rah, Bang."
CHORUS.
Take a squint along our line,
For it's nothing else but fine,
Everyone can hold his man exactly right
All the backs and quarter, too,
Never fail in getting through,
Oh for bucking, they are simply out of sight,
CHORUS.

The band is unable to be present but will surely be out at the Colgate game Some one and all to hear the best speeches you ever heard, and see the most enthusiastic assembly that ever gathered in Liberal Arts Chapel.

The Care of the

Many suffer from headache and nervousness that do not suspect the cause. The nerves that control the EYE have a direct connection with the most vital parts of the human system. Continual strain on these nerves keep them in such a weakened condition that they have to call on the force of other nerves to keep them supplied. In that way the strain is carried to all the nerves and will in time exhaust them.

FOOTBALL SCRIMMAGE.

The line men were drilled in charging during much of yesterday's practice. Coaches Parrish and Brown had the following men line up against each other on the campus outside the Oval.

Harwood, tackle, Tucker, Brane; Rice, guard, Dempster; McMickle, center, Belcher, Russell; Van Duser, guard, Blue, Russell, Hares, tackle, Smallwood.

Before the men were lined up against each other they were given individual drill in charging without an opponent.

When they had completed this the coaches put them through some hard, fast work in line-up. The men given most attention were Rice, Tucker, Van Duser, Harwood and Blue. Hares and Smallwood both have injured legs, but did well. Rice had great trouble in filling holes after he made them. Tucker is still inclined to play high while Harwood and many of the others were slow at following the ball. Van Duser put up the most consistent game of all.

Captain O'Neill had charge of the other men on the Oval while the coaches were training the line men. Later hard scrimmage work was gone through.

Lanctot and Erisman, two promising freshmen, have been dropped from the squad for breaking training. The students approved of this action on the part of the coaches.

ADVERTISE IN THE "ORANGE."

As an advertising medium there is no doubt that the SYRACUSE DAILY ORANGE excels. No other advertising scheme compares with the DAILY ORANGE in getting advertisers' goods before students "on the Hill." Every morning, six times a week, the advertiser's name comes up before the students, displayed in an attractive manner and on the same page with reading matter. The University students are beginning to fall in line with other colleges and are showing college spirit by patronizing only those concerns which advertise in the University publications.

The advertisements of the DAILY ORANGE are as important a feature as the news matter. They are news. Through them students are informed where they can get the best goods for the least money. Special sales are announced at the time of their occurrence so that students may take advantage of them.

One advertiser said, "AS FAR AS IT REACHES I HAVE NEVER FOUND A BETTER ADVERTISING MEDIUM THAN THE DAILY ORANGE." Another stated that he "had never had one of his ads mentioned so much as was his business notice in the ORANGE." Another said, "I find that it pays to spend time and money on my advertisement in the DAILY."

Students who cannot afford to subscribe for the ORANGE, can at least mention the paper when buying goods from ORANGE advertisers. This vastly helps the paper. Another way of helping the paper is to ask firms who do not use the DAILY why they do not in this way bring their names before the students.

STOP AND THINK. By investigating prices and goods of some market other than the one which you have usually patronized, you may save many dollars each week on your provision bill. Give us a trial order. We will save you much money.

The ORANGE During Football Season ❧ Until Thanksgiving ❧ 50c.

SPORT REVIEW

What the other Colleges are doing. Season brings some great surprises. Opponents of Syracuse.

The Big Four are experiencing some sudden surprises this year. The Amherst score of 5 to 0 against Hacvard is the most bitter pill the Crimson eleven has taken in many years. Wednesday saw the Harvard eleven again scored on.

Yale has put up the best game of the year so far, but even the Blue eleven has had ten points tallied against it by Holy Cross. Pennsylvania and Princeton have made clean records with the Red and Blue in the lead.

COLGATE.

Colgate has made a fine record this season. She played the West Point cadets to a stand still, and also held Cornell down to twelve points. This is a record of which to be proud. The Maroon and Blue warriors of this college meet the Orange eleven this Saturday in a battle royal. The Colgate team has a strong pair of tackles in W. Stringer and Thurder as was shown in the game with Cornell last week. Their backs Brigham, Moore and Runge are sure and fast. Smith, captain and quarter is a general of many seasons. The Carnellian and White eleven of Cornell made most of their gains around the Colgate ends R. Stringer and Leary. Colgate has a heavier team than Syracuse, and she plays a fast game, using some trick plays at times which may fool the Orange men

WILLIAMS.

The Purple and White of Williams will be seen on the Oval a week from Saturday. So far this season the New England boys have played a consistent hard game. Last week they played Columbia such a game as to make the New Yorkers' hair stand on end. The Light Blue and White of the New York University strove in vain to score against the Williamstown eleven. In fact the William's lads outplayed the Columbia eleven during the first half. Only by the hardest kind of work did the Light Blue and White triumph over the Purple and White by a score of 5 to 0. The Massachusetts backs Gutterson, Watson and Peabody are a trio hard to beat. The ends Lewis and Boice are doing fast, clean work, while the line is improving every day.

BROWN.

The Providence eleven played in her best form against Princeton last Saturday.

The Brown and White eleven was outweighed twenty pounds on an average by the Orange and Black warriors. Nevertheless the Rhode Island contingent put up a game struggle against the Tigers. Brown's work on the offensive was better than the defensive. The Brown and White backs and tackles gained much ground through the Princeton line and around the ends. The glaring fault in the Brown defense was a lack of any backing up of the line. The big holes that the Tigers opened were not filled up, so that frequently Princeton's backs broke clean through with only Schwartz, the quarter back to stop them

One of the features of the game was the tackling of Schwartz in the back field. Again and again he was the only man between the ball and the goal, and in every case he never missed his man. Once he broke up the interference formed by four Princeton men and tripped up the man with the ball.

Zimoski, the speedy full back, was another of Brown's stars. He bucked and hurdled the line with telling effect, and his punting was one of the features of the day. He made a fine try for a goal from the forty yard line and on a slippery field. He missed it only by a few feet. MacGregor who played against De Witt, the all-American guard, did well and held his own against the Tiger thirty pounds heavier than he.

Scudder played an excellent game at end for the Brown and White, while Savage and Russ were strong in the tackle's position.

Syracuse meets Brown here on November 14th The Orange eleven will have to improve steadily to cope with the Providence eleven. The Rhode Island boys weigh ten pounds more on an average than the Orange eleven. The former average one hundred and eighty pounds. The Easterners are our superiors, by far, in the kicking department.

There is no doubt, however, that Coaches Parrish and Brown will have the Syracuse eleven in the best condition to meet Colgate, Williams and Brown in the order they come.

PUNTS AND PASSES.

The football candidates were given much practice in punting, running and dropping on the ball yesterday. Coaches Parrish and Brown are determined that no fumbling shall mar Saturday's contest.

The new men who are making a record back of the line are Curtis and Crawford, the one at half and the other full back. Hartigan, another freshman, is being tried out at half back. Harwood continues to do good work at tackle. Hares is getting rid of his lameness and will be in shape for Saturday's game. The giant Blue is daily improving in guard play.

Captain O'Neill will play the best eleven he can get together for the Colgate game. The men are now in good condition and the coaches hope to keep them so.

"GRIND" CONTEST.

1905 ONONDAGAN CONTEST NO 5.

1. The 1905 ONONDAGAN will offer prizes for the best "grinds" suitable for publication in it. These may be of a line or a page in length; may or may not be accompanied with a drawing. What we desire is not bitter satire or personal attacks of a malicious nature, or silly nature, but simply and solely bright, new funny grinds. And we are confident of getting them.

2. There will be no restrictions as to form (prose or poetry), nor as to subject. As a matter of fact, we expect, however, that most of these grinds will be of college life here at Syracuse, and all other things being equal these will be given the preference.

3. Any student or alumnus of any college in the University is eligible to compete.

4. There will be a cash prize of two dollars and a copy of the ONONDAGAN for the best picture and a second prize of a copy of the ONONDAGAN to the second best.

5. There is no limit to the number of grinds one person may enter.

6. All pictures must be in the hands of the committee on grinds on or before Saturday, Dec. 19, 1903, after which no entries will be accepted.

7. All grinds must be written on one side of the paper, each (no matter how short) on a separate piece. They must be signed with a pseudonym, and accompanied with a sealed envelope containing the writer's real name.

8. Grinds must be handed or sent to Miss Daysey Best, chairman of the committee on grinds, 718 Irving avenue, or to A. F. Rider, Editor-in-Chief, 606 Croton street.

GOOD MORNING.

The position taken by the Athletic Governing Board in charging twenty-five cents for seats in the grand stand has been subject to much adverse criticism. Professor Burchard stating the position of the Board says there are a great many business men down town, who cannot get up to the game until late. It is for this class of patrons that the bleachers are reserved at the price stated. The students also who wish to pay the price will be allowed to use the bleachers.

On the other side there is criticism of this plan from several sources First the majority of the men in the University wish they could have the free use of the bleachers. Then they could, with an efficient leader, give the best and most systematic yelling and singing ever heard on the Archbold Field. They argue that such hearty support of the team, and college spirit engendered, will do much more for University athletics than the money obtained otherwise. They also say that this money when needed will be forthcoming from the friends of the University, for we are prospering more every year. Secondly. The gentlemen and ladies in the University who are opposed to smoking state that were the bleachers thrown open to the students, the smokers would naturally gravitate to them. This would leave better accommodations in the grand stand. They further argue that many ladies in the city would attend the games who do not do so now on account of the smoke nuisance in the grand stand. The revenue derived from this source would compensate to some extent for the free use of the bleachers.

We hope the Governing Board will give the matter their earnest attention.

The Care of the

Many suffer from headache and nervousness that do not suspect the cause. The nerves that control the EYE have a direct connection with the most vital parts of the human system. Continual strain on these nerves keep them in such a weakened condition that they have to call on the force of other nerves to keep them supplied. In that way the strain is carried to all the nerves and will in time exhaust them.

Special Rates to Students.

At the recent exercises incident to the dedication of the new buildings of the University of Toronto the honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon Prof. Russell H. Chittenden, director of the Sheffield Scientific school.

The Yale school of forestry has profited by the discontinuance of the Cornell school of forestry to the extent of about a dozen students. The failure of the last Legislature to make an appropriation for the Cornell school necessitated its closing.

According to the compilers of the Yale triennial catalogue, who are now at work, about 21,800 men have been graduated from Yale, of whom 12,000 are living. Yale graduates are now dying at the rate of about 100 a year, but the large size of recent graduating classes is steadily increasing the ratio of living to dead. According to the last obituary record, the oldest living Yale graduate is the Rev. Joseph S. Lord of the class of 1831, who was born in 1808. The average age of the Yale academic graduate is between 59 and 60 years.

The total subscriptions for saving South Middle college now amount to $4,000. The vote of the corporation provided that, if restored, the structure must duplicate old Connecticut hall at a probable cost of between $18,000 and $20,000. It is understood, however, that one or two rich graduates will probably supply the funds needed.

LIBERAL ARTS FRENCH CLUB.

The first meeting of the French club of the College of Liberal Arts was held at the home of Prof. A. S. Patterson in South Beach St. Wednesday evening. At the opening of the business session of the club a new constitution was adopted and officers for the year were elected. They are as follows: Lawrence A. Wilkins, president; Alice Reed Clark, vice-president; D. C. Rosenthal, secretary; Arthur F. Ryder, treasurer and Prof. Patterson and Mr. Dryer, critics. After the business matters were settled some French social games were played and refreshments were served, the rest of the evening being spent socially. There was an attendance of about thirty. Those present accepted Mr. Dryer's invitation to meet with him a fortnight later at 737 Crouse Avenue.

THE ORANGE OBSERVER.

It is much easier to find critics than to please them.

"Every dog has his day." So has the "know-all" freshman.

It will not cost much effort for everyone to carry the Orange colors this Saturday.

The authorities should consider earnestly the need of the students for having the Library open at night.

ADVERTISE IN THE "ORANGE."

As an advertising medium there is no doubt that the SYRACUSE DAILY ORANGE excels. No other advertising scheme compares with the DAILY ORANGE in getting advertisers' goods before students "on the Hill." Every morning, six times a week, the advertiser's name comes up before the students, displayed in an attractive manner and on the same page with reading matter. The University students are beginning to fall in line with other colleges and are showing college spirit by patronizing only those concerns which advertise in the University publications.

The advertisements of the DAILY ORANGE are as important a feature as the news matter. They are news. Through them students are informed where they can get the best goods for the least money. Special sales are announced at the time of their occurrence so that students may take advantage of them.

One advertiser said, "AS FAR AS IT REACHES I HAVE NEVER FOUND A BETTER ADVERTISING MEDIUM THAN THE DAILY ORANGE." Another stated that he "had never had one of his ads mentioned so much as was his business notice in the ORANGE." Another said, "I find that it pays to spend time and money on my advertisement in the DAILY."

Students who cannot afford to subscribe for the ORANGE, can at least mention the paper when buying goods from ORANGE advertisers. This vastly helps the paper. Another way of helping the paper is to ask firms who do not use the DAILY why they do not in this way bring their names before the students.

STOP AND THINK. By investigating prices and goods of some market other than the one which you have usually patronized, you may save many dollars each week on your provision bill. Give us a trial order. We will save you much money.

ALL READY FOR COLGATE

Game This Afternoon Will be Close. Maroon and Blue Men Heavier than Orange Eleven. Immense Crowd Will be at Contest.

The Varsity eleven is in good shape for the hard game expected this afternoon. The battle will be on at 3 o'clock sharp. Coaches Parrish and Brown will put their strongest eleven in the field. The weather promises a good checkerboard, slight winds and bracing air.

Some of the Varsity are carrying bruised, sore faces and bodies, but these will be no detriment to the best of play. Hares is still lame but not seriously affected. Park has many body bruises, as have Van Duser, Brane and McMickle Schade has recovered from a sprained ankle and will be in his old-time form.

Colgate came to town last night feeling in fine fettle. There is much Colgate money in evidence to show that the Maroon and Blue followers believe in their team. The players said they expected a hard, close game, but hope to win. Preparations for the game have all been completed The University Band will meet in the University Block and lead the Law College men up to the game. The Medics expect to have a freshman band head their procession. Smith College engineers hope to have a zobo band in the lead of their delegation while the Architects will doubtless have a stunt of their own. The Liberal Arts men will meet in a body in room 33-34 and mardh to the game. The new songs will be practiced by all the colleges before they go to the game.

There will be a senior cheermaster to lead the cheers and songs in the grand stand, and another for the bleachers.

The band will be stationed in front of the grand stand, and play throughout the game.

The line-up of the team will be found in the supplement.

SATURDAY'S SUPPLEMENT.

The special supplement of the DAILY ORANGE which comes out today contains the yells of the University; the Law, Medical, Architecture and Smith college yells; the songs of Syracuse; old and new; the line up of Syracuse and Colgate for to-day's game, and the senior cheermasters; also the complete 1907 finding list.

There has been some comment by a few critics on using Orange and Blue in the new songs. This mistake is corrected in to-day's supplement, for ORANGE IS THE COLLEGE COLOR. A new song to the tune of "Heidelberg" has also beed added to the list; also the song sung last year, "Cheer for the Orange."

This supplement will be on sale early in the morning in the colleges and also on the Oval at the game. The price is five cents, excepting to subscribers, who will receive free copies with their paper.

Everyone should have a copy of this supplement for the same will be of use throughout the year.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI.

A new club is in process of formation in New York city. It is to be called the "College Club" or "Graduates Club" and to be conducted something like the University Club. It is proposed to have five of the charter members among the alumni of Syracuse University now located in New York.

Mr. Lincoln E. Rowley, '84, is to be chairman of the committee on admissions. The other members from Syracuse will be John C. Draper '82, Ezra S. Tipple '83, Fred Z. Lewis '80, S. B. Ayres '82

Miss Rose Baird '04, is now teaching in the High School at Yonkers, N. Y.

Miss Grace Spencer '01, is teaching in the High School at Nyack, N. Y.

Edward W. Shafer '02, has a position in the Ulster Academy, Kingston, N. Y.

Miss Wilhelmina Morrelle of Athens, Pa., is visiting Miss Mary Mott, '06.

UPPERCLASSMEN MEET.

A short meeting of the men of the two upper classes was held yesterday after chapel.

Motions were made and carried to the effect that all the men of the four classes in Liberal Arts College meet in Room 33-34 of that college and attend the Colgate game in a body. Also that all underclassmen be prohibited from smoking anywhere on the campus, and that the freshmen procure and wear the new freshman cap as soon as possible. Messrs. Moore and Wildman, 1904, and A. F. Ryder, 1905, were appointed to see about the wearing of the 1907 caps.

NOTICES.

The 1905 Onondagan Board Meeting will meet at the Psi Upsilon Chapter House instead of the Delta Upsilon House next Tuesday at 7 p. m.

There will be a meeting of all the members of the University Band in the University Block Saturday afternoon at 2:30 sharp.

A special meeting of the Archbold Debating Society will be held Saturday evening at seven o'clock at the home of Mr. A. H. Ferguson, 414 S Crouse Ave. All members are urged to be present, as plans for the year's work will be discussed at this time.

Because of a misunderstanding in the time of election, sufficient nominations for student members of the Athletic Governing Board of the University were not received. Therefore the election which should have been held yesterday has been postponed to next Thursday, October 22.

The Syracuse Daily Orange has met with such great success in selling the new songs for the Colgate game that it will issue this Saturday a special supplement containing the following:

The Syracuse Yells, Songs both old and new and Line-up of both elevens for Saturday. This will be on one page, on the other will be a revised freshman finding list to date.

The supplement will be sold for five cents. It will be on sale at the game. Every subscriber, however, will receive a copy free with his paper Saturday morning.

GOOD MORNING.

The custom of ringing the chimes after an important victory is a good one. But we believe it can be abused by lack of thought. There are games and contests held on the Oval in which victories do not demand the ringing of the chimes. Such a game as last Saturday, and those of the preceding weeks do not call for the peal of the chimes, nor does such an one as the game with Niagara October 31.

Victories in the other games of the schedule demand it, however. It will be noticed that the larger universities of the east exercise great care in recognizing, or in their lack of recognizing, other colleges with which they contend. Let us follow a worthy example and do the same.

The Syracuse University Alumni association of Buffalo, N. Y., met last Tuesday for the first monthly dinner of the present collegiate year. Matters of interest to the University were discussed. It was announced that C. D. Cummings, '02, and R B. Adams, '98, would be in the line up of the alumni football team in the game with the 'Varsity Oct. 28th.

Three University students stepped into Larned & Barker's a few days ago to get some hot chocolate. Picking up some samples of Wendell's Ambition Pills, they began to read on the envelope, Free sample, one day's treatment Wendell's Ambition Pills, the great nerve tonic, good for that tired feeling. They prevent your waking up mornings. Here they stopped. It was too much, and they immediately purchased a box.

SYRACUSE SONGS.

ALMA MATER.

Where the vale of Onondaga
Meets the eastern sky,
Proudly stands our Alma Mater
On her hill-top high.

CHORUS.

Flag we love! Orange! Float for aye—
Old Syracuse o'er thee.
May thy sons be leal and loyal
To thy memory.

When the evening twilight deepens
And the shadows fall,
Linger long the golden sunbeams,
On thy western wall.

Chorus.
[Last verse pp.]

When the shades of life shall gather,
Dark the heart may be,
Still the ray of youth and love
Shall linger long o'er thee.

Chorus.

OH, SYRACUSE.

Oh, Syracuse! through our college days,
Even to thee we will sing allour praise,
And in our hearts with a glad refrain,
Oh, Syracuse, we praise thee again.

Oh, Syracuse! Alma Mater dear,
Honor is thine, and thy sons all revere
Thy memory and they spread thy fame
Oh, Syracuse, noble is thy name.

Oh, Syracuse, may thy golden star
Ever ascend to the heaven's blue afar,
Guiding us on to our destiny.
Oh, Syracuse! our hearts beat for thee.

THE NEW SONGS.

Tune—SUMMER TIME.

There's a team bold and true, in Orange and blue
Rah! for the Syracuse line.
They're chuck full of ginger, and they never linger
They make gains every time.
Our line's like a wall, can't move it at all,
Our ends they can't get around
Our backs strong and fast. Everyone stands aghast
To see how they "eat up" the ground.
In the good old football time
In the good old football time,
Plunging thro' Old Colgate's line
Five yards at a time;
First we gain around the end
Then we "buck" thro' the line.
There's always something doing
In the good old football time.

—R. E. S. '06.

Tune—HOT TIME.

Oh, to-day we are playing with a team from old Colgate
And we're dead sure to beat her for it seems to be her fate;
Oh, in making good our distance we are never too late,
For our backs are winners and they never hesitate.

CHORUS.

When you hear these chimes begin to ring,
All join 'round and "Alma Mater" sing
For to Old Colgate we didn't do a thing,
There's a hot time in Syracuse to-night.

R. E. S. '06.

Tune—RAMBLE.

Old Syracuse plays Old Colgate
We'll beat her every time
We play to beat the Devil
On field or on side line.
Old Colgate thinks she's here to win
But we know a trick or two
That will send her home in sad de feat
From the Orange good and true.
Oh! We'll yell, yell, we'll yell, yell
For Syracuse we'll yell
Oh, we'll give Old Colgate —— well!
While we yell, yell, yell, yell
Old Syracuse Forever! we will yell.

R. E. S. '06.

CHEER SYRACUSE.

Tune—"Tramp, Tramp, Tramp."

Oh, we're jolly Syracuse boys,
You can tell us by our noise,
For We're never in for anything that's "tame,"
Come and join us in our song,
Come and help the thing along,
For we'll show you that we're always in the game.
Chorus:—Cheer, Syracuse, our team's a daisy,
For Colgate has come to play,
But you'll find the Colgate crew,
Not a match for old S. U;
Oh, you bet they'll never see our goal today.
For everything we'll do
For the Orange good and true,
We're a stand-together, stick-together gang,
To our team we're loyal too,
Rah, Rah, Roo, S. U., S. U.,
Let us greet them with a "Rah, hoo, hoo rah, Bang."
CHORUS,
Take a squint along our line,
For it's nothing else but fine,
Everyone can hold his man exactly right
All the backs and quarter, too,
Never fail in getting through,
Oh for bucking, they are simply out of sight.
CHORUS.

Tune—"Heidelberg."

Here's to the flag of Orange hue;
Here's to our players bold.
Here's to our team so firm and strong,
With courage and grit untold.
Here's to old Colgate, here's to ourselves,
Here's to old Syracuse.
Oh, Syracuse, dear Syracuse, may thy colors ever greet
Thy men so brave,
Who'd die to save
Thy bright flag from defeat.
May one and all, both great and small,
Join in a loud acclaim
To the Orange bright
That day and night
Brings honor to thy name.

—R. E. S., '06.

Cheer for the Orange, Syr'cuse must win;

BASKET BALL.

The first of the inter-class series of basketball games was played Thursday evening in the gymnasium and resulted in a decided victory for the freshmen. The score, 25-17 tells the story. The Saphomores were carried off their feet in the first half; but rallied in the last half, holding the freshmen down and running up a good score themselves.

The quality of the work of both teams was unusually good for this, the very first part of the season; and begins to point to the development of a 'Varsity team that will prove a matce for the big teams to be met this winter.

The large attendance of students was also ensouraging.

The Care of the

Many suffer from headache and nervousness that do not suspect the cause. The nerves that control the EYE have a direct connection with the most vital parts of the human system. Continual strain on these nerves keep them in such a weakened condition that they have to call on the force of other nerves to keep them supplied. In that way the strain is carried to all the nerves and will in time exhaust them.

CARRY A SYRACUSE FLAG.

In addition to vigorous cheering, there ought to be an abundance of color displayed at the football games. Our visitors ought to have no doubt in their minds as to the college color of Syracuse. The grand stand and bleachers ought to be banks of Orange. The side lines, too, ought to show the same hue. Every undergraduate ought to own a college flag. Decorate your rooms with Orange. Then on the days of football games, carry the flag to the athletic field. Would that the "flag we love, Orange," might wave from one end of the grand stand to the other during every inter-collegiate game. Flags may be obtained at the Co-Op and Library.

Josephine Sabel, the vivacious comedienne who had so great a success on the Victoria Roof in Oscar Hammerstein's "Punch and Judy," is popularizing the song hit of that show, "If I Were Again a Baby," in vaudeville all over the country. Oscar Hammerstein writes music only by inspiration; he never grinds out a tune to order; that's why he evolves such catchy and irrisistible little themes as in the "Baby" song. Miss Sabel will do the song in London where she is engaged to play a prominent part in a big production early in 1904.

ADVERTISE IN THE "ORANGE."

As an advertising medium there is no doubt that the SYRACUSE DAILY ORANGE excels. No other advertising scheme compares with the DAILY ORANGE in getting advertisers' goods before students "on the Hill." Every morning, six times a week, the advertiser's name comes up before the students, displayed in an attractive manner and on the same page with reading matter. The University students are beginning to fall in line with other colleges and are showing college spirit by patronizing only those concerns which advertise in the University publications.

The advertisements of the DAILY ORANGE are as important a feature as the news matter. They are news. Through them students are informed where they can get the best goods for the least money. Special sales are announced at the time of their occurrence so that students may take advantage of them.

One advertiser said, "AS FAR AS IT REACHES I HAVE NEVER FOUND A BETTER ADVERTISING MEDIUM THAN THE DAILY ORANGE." Another stated that he "had never had one of his ads mentioned so much as was his business notice in the ORANGE." Another said, "I find that it pays to spend time and money on my advertisement in the DAILY."

Students, who cannot afford to subscribe for the ORANGE, can at least mention the paper when buying goods from ORANGE advertisers. This vastly helps the paper. Another way of helping the paper is to ask firms who do not use the DAILY why they do not in this way bring their names before the students.

STOP AND THINK. By investigating prices and goods of some market other than the one which you have usually patronized, you may save many dollars each week on your provision bill. Give us a trial order. We will save you much money.

COLGATE WINS.

Superior Weight, a Muddy Field and Fast Play Won for the Maroon ---Questionable Decisions.

The Colgate eleven, weighing ten pounds on an average more than the Syracuse eleven, defeated the latter on a field of mud to the tune of 10 to 5.

Great preparations had been made for the game. Every college was represented by a large turnout of students. The Medics had a fine boys' drum corps from the House of Providence. The crowd of city people was a large one despite the rain. The supporters of the Orange eleven had tried to make Forecaster Ashley produce good weather, but in vain were his efforts, for there was a steady downpour throughout the struggle.

The great throng began to wend its way to the grounds at 2:15 p. m. When the game commenced the grandstand was packed full and the bleachers were likewise; the overflow spread along the ropes. Professor Burchard had the bleachers thrown open free on account of the bad weather.

When the Colgate and Syracuse elevens appeared on the field at 3 o'clock, a mighty cheer, from both sides the Oval, rent the air. Colgate backers to the number of eighty were present in the bleachers, and made themselves heard at all stages of the game.

Soon after 3 o'clock the game was called with Lynn Tracy, Cornell, as referee, and Edward Easton, Jr., of Yale as umpire. Captains O'Neill and Smith decided on twenty-five and twenty minute halves.

Runge kicked off for Colgate. Humpy Lane caught the punt and ran it back twenty-five yards. Syracuse at once began to buck the line on account of the wet field. Curtiss was pushed through Colgate's left tackle for three yards, to be followed by Schade for one yard. The Maroon men braced and held the Orange eleven for downs. Getting possession of the ball Colgate at once began to use her heavy tackles and backs with telling effect. Brigham and Moore alternated in plowing holes through the Syracuse line. Runge, the plunging full back, also hurdled the line for successive gains. But the Orange men took a stand and forced Runge to punt. Syracuse regained the ball on her own twelve yard line only to lose it on a fumble. The Maroons again battered down the Orange line by their superior weight. Brigham plunged through Syracuse's right tackle for four yards, repeating again for three more. Runge then hurdled the line for a touchdown. Brigham failed at the goal. Score, Colgate 5 and Syracuse 0. Time elapsed, three minutes and forty-five seconds.

Runge kicked off, and Park returned ten yards with the ball, Schade pushed through the line for two yards Park punted thirty-five yards to Colgate. "Bub" Boland was there when the Maroon player caught the punt, and dumped his man on the spot.

Colgate worked her backs and tackles fast and hard. Brigham at left half and Thurber and W. Stringer, tackles, gained three to five yards at every down The Syracuse line was seemingly unable to stop Runge's terrific line plunging and hurdling. The Maroons steadily advanced the ball. Brigham behind a solid interference made twelve yards around Lane's end. Try as they would, the Orange warriors strove in vain to stop the onslaught until on their own three yard line. Here they held like a stone wall. Colgate, on her third attempt to gain, fumbled the ball and Boland got it behind the Orange goal.

Syracuse kicked out from the twenty-gve yard line. Carl Smith, Colgate's captain, ran the punt back twelve yards. On the next line-up Thurber, the speedy tackle, circled the Orange and for fifteen yards, the best run of the day. With the ball on the Syracuse twenty yard line Colgate advanced it steadily by line bucking until Runge was thrown over the line for the second touchdown. Brigham kicked out for a free catch but the attempt was a failure.

Runge kicked off, and plucky Park carried it back fifteen yards. But by a strange and unaccountable decision by Umpire Easton Colgate was given the ball for holding, on the Syracuse twenty-five yard line. The Maroons got their beefy players into fast play and soon had the pigskin on the Orange fifteen yard line, only to lose it by trying a trick play, Syracuse only had the ball long enough to call it her own before Colgate was again running with it. Syracuse took a brace and gained the ball on her twenty yard line. At this point the Orange men played the game for all there was in it. Curtiss, Schade and Park bucked the line and rushed the tackles for repeated gains. The prettiest run was that of Curtiss, the new star, for twelve yards. Syracuse soon lost the pigskin on a fumble

The first half ended with the ball in Colgate's possession. Score Colgate 10 and Syracuse 0.

During the intermission, as at different stages of the game, the student sang the songs and gave the yells found in Saturday's special supplement of the Daily Orange.

The second half began with a determination on the part of Syracuse to score or die in the attempt. Rutherford took Captain O'Neill's place at quarter. The lattter had his shoulder injured, but not seriously, in the first half, He put up up a star game throughout the first half, his tackling being a feature.

Rutherford ran the team with speed, skill and precision. He made a splendid kickoff. After changing hands several times, Syracuse gained the ball on Colgate's twenty-five yard line. By steady plunging and through the magnificent work of Schade, Curtiss and Crawford the Orangemen pushed Crawford over for a touchdown. The game ended with the score 10 to 5 in favor of Colgate.

BASKETBALL.

The freshmen held their usual practice last Saturday night in the gymnasium. All the class teams are rounding into good form, but the freshma squad seems to lead the others.

The work done last Thursday evening by the men in the sophomore-freshman teams was very good, considering the time both aggregations had been practicing. The star of the game was Arthur Powell, captain of the freshman team. His work at center, against the giant Cortelyou, brought forth frequent applause. Kirchgasser was a close second to his doughty little captain. Millen, Coit and Evans are also promising men in the freshman class.

Cortelyou, Squires and Kinne are leading the sophomores in good playing. The next underclass game will be held in the near future and promises to be closer than the last.

On Tuesday evening the Sophomore's of Winchell Hall gave a children's party for the Freshmen living in the Hall. The evening was spent playing games after which refreshments were served. Miss Ada Brolan '06 acted as toastmastress. She announced the following speakers and their subjects:

"A stranger in a strange land." Miss Evelyn Corckran '07.

"To be or not to was," Miss Antoinette Burt '06.

"Greater than these, yet not so much." Miss Fannie Grant '05.

"The great I am and the little you' be," Miss Hazel Thorp '04.

"Knowledge is athletics," Miss Katharine Sibley.

Picking up some samples of Wendell's Ambition Pills, they began to read on the envelope, Free sample, one day's treatment Wendell's Ambition Pills, the great nerve tonic, good for that tired feeling. NOTICES.

Nominations from the Junior Class for the election of undergraduate members to the Athletic Governing Board must be handed to the director of the gymnasium, before 6 P. M. Tuesday, Oct. 20. Election will take place Oct. 22. J. A. R. SCOTT.

The 1905 Onondagan Board Meeting will meet at the Psi Upsilon Chapter House instead of the Delta Upsilon House next Tuesday at 7 p. m.

Because of a misunderstanding in the time of election, sufficient nominations for student members of the Athletic Governing Board of the University were not received. Therefore the election which should have been held yesterday has been postponed to next Thursday, October 22.

Students of the sophomore, junior and senior classes who have not already made out a residence card, will please call on the Registrar at their earliest convenience and give their residence for the current year. Such also as have not made out the schedule of studies for the Registrar will save him and themselves the annoyance of a call if they will at once attend to the matter. C. C. WILBOR.

GOOD MORNING.

"What do I owe my university?" "What is my duty towards the institution which I have adopted as Alma Mater?" Have these questions ever come up in your mine? Have you ever realized the need of considering them seriously?

We come here as freshmen and enter into the heritage of generations of educators and philanthropists. We begin to enter somewhat into the spirit of the students who have preceded us. We enjoy it all; we absorb the good things, intellectual and social; but many of us fail to realize that by our acceptance of these benefits we are obligating ourselves to pay to the institution somethiug more than a few paltry dollars for tuition and fees.

Of course the University needs our cold cash, but there is something else which she needs far more; that is such a use of whatever abilities we may have as will best advance the interests of the institution. But you may say "I have no marked abilities. I am not an athlete. I can't debate well. I can't do anything on the college periodicals."

To be sure we cannot give the university something which we do not have; but if we do not possess these abilities, let us develop some of them, remembering that the only normal development comes by expression.

Only when we have arrived at that point where we can give our education away, are we truly educated.

AMERICAN SCHOOL IN ROME.

Professor Albert Granger Harkness of Brown University has returned to his work as head of the Latin department, after spending a year as professor of Latin at the American School of Classical Studies in Rome. The school was established seven years ago. French and German schools have long been in existence. The former celebrated its centennial last spring. The American school is supported by contributions from many of the most prominent universities in this country. Professor Richard Norton is the permanent director who lectures on topography and art, and a professor from one of the supporting colleges is sent out each year to lecture on epigraphy and palaeography. The course in palaeography is given at the school. When students show a special aptitude for the subject or are prepared to do original work, permission is obtained for them to collate MSS. in the Vatican. The last winter one member of the school was doing special work on the famous palimpsest of Cicero's De Re Publica.

The course in epigraphy was conducted almost entirely in the museums. Nowhere else in the world is there such opportunity to study Latin inscriptions as in the rich collections of the Vatican, National and Capitol museums One student was engaged in making a collection of the Christion inscriptions to supplement the great work of Di Rossi.

During the last year there were 25 students in attendance. These varied in age and proficiency from those who had just graduated from college to those who had had several years of experience as instructors or professors of Latin or archaeology in our prominent universities.

Foreign scholars resident in Rome or those by chance visiting the city frequently give lectures to the students of the school. These lectures are often delivered in French, Italian or German. In the spring many of the school make a trip to Greece under the direction of Dr. De Cou and on their return trip to Italy the school attends a course of lectures given at Pompeii by Professor Man of the German school.

The subject of greatest importance and interest to students visiting Rome for the first time is topography. The new and important discoveries which every year are coming to light under the efficient guidance of Mr. Boni lend a special charm and fascination to this study. During the last year the chief interest centered in the excavations in the Forum, near the temple of Faustina. Here was found a place of burial in use as early as the twelfth century B. C., according to Mr. Boni's view. Even if one is not inclined to accept so early a date as an established fact, it must at least be admitted that these graves antedate the time assigned by the ancient Roman writers for the founding of their city by Romulus. Upward of twenty of these graves have now been opened. They lie crowded together in a comparatively narrow space. Many of the skeletons and the objects found in the graves are in a good state of preservation and it is hoped that from this source much light may be thrown on the early history of the city.

The installation of the collection of casts which constitutes the Germanic Museum and of which the German Emperor's gifts form the greater part, was completed at Harvard during the summer and the formal opening of the museum will take place on November 10th. The German ambassador, representing the Emperor, will make the formal presentation of the imperial gifts.

The principal exercises are to be held in the afternoon in the new lecture hall and invitations will be sent to the university faculties, representatives of other educational institutions and distinguished patrons of Germanic art throughout the country. In the evening three short German plays will be given in Sanders's Theater by the Irving Place Theater Company of New York, under the personal direction of Mr. Conried, who has generously offered to pay all expenses of the performance, including the services of his company.

Frederick W. Job, who acted as chairman of the recent meeting in Chicago at which was projected a combination of manufacturers and employers to promote open shops and to safeguard the interests of indendent workmen, is a lawyer of ability and until recently was head of the Illinois state board of arbitration. Mr. Job acted as consul in Chicago for the Hawaiian Republic before its annexation to the United States and for years has made work and wages a special study. He is now secretary of the Chicago Manufacturers' Association. He was born at Alton, Ill., in 1862, and was graduated from the University of Michigan law school in 1887 He recently announced his disbelief in the practical value of arbitration as a solution of disputes between employers and employees.

The building fund for the proposed new locomotive laboratory of Sibley College has been started by a gift of $1,000 from H. A. Vreeland, president of the Metropolitan Railway Company, New York. Mr. Vreeland is not a college man himself and has never visited Cornell, but has been interested in the work of the engineering departments. A committee of Sibley alumni is actively working to secure money for the proposed laboratory and this is the first fruit of their efforts.

Last December the Baldwin Locomotive Works offered to give to Sibley College a complete locomotive for experimental purposes as soon as the college possessed a laboratory in which to place it. The railroad department rou ght the matter to the attention of the university trustees, with a request for an appropriation of $15,000 to erect a suitable building. No funds were available for the purpose and the college has been compelled to await private contributions. It is planned to build the laboratory by the Fall Creek gorge, east of the foundry and blacksmith shop. Several years ago the New York Central gave Columbia a locomotive.

The chairman of the alumni committee in charge of the work is W. B. Smith Whaley, M. E. '88, who lectured last year before the students of Sibley College. He is a well-known engineer and cotton-mill builder.

ADVERTISE IN THE "ORANGE."

As an advertising medium there is no doubt that the SYRACUSE DAILY ORANGE excels. No other advertising scheme compares with the DAILY ORANGE in getting advertisers' goods before students "on the Hill." Every morning, six times a week, the advertiser's name comes up before the students, displayed in an attractive manner and on the same page with reading matter. The University students are beginning to fall in line with other colleges and are showing college spirit by patronizing only those concerns which advertise in the University publications.

The advertisements of the DAILY ORANGE are as important a feature as the news matter. They are news. Through them students are informed where they can get the best goods for the least money. Special sales are announced at the time of their occurrence so that students may take advantage of them.

One advertiser said, "AS FAR AS IT REACHES I HAVE NEVER FOUND A BETTER ADVERTISING MEDIUM THAN THE DAILY ORANGE." Another stated that he "had never had one of his ads mentioned so much as was his business notice in the ORANGE." Another said, "I find that it pays to spend time and money on my advertisement in the DAILY."

Students, who cannot afford to subscribe for the ORANGE, can at least mention the paper when buying goods from ORANGE advertisers. This vastly helps the paper. Another way of helping the paper is to ask firms who do not use the DAILY why they do not in this way bring their names before the students.

Many suffer from headache and nervousness that do not suspect the cause. The nerves that control the EYE have a direct connection with the most vital parts of the human system. Continual strain on these nerves keep them in such a weakened condition that they have to call on the force of other nerves to keep them supplied. In that way the strain is carried to all the nerves and will in time exhaust them.

Varsity Hard at Work—Sophomore-Freshman Game Wednesday—Contest Called for 3 O'clock Sharp.

The Varsity candidates are somewhat chagrined over last Saturday's defeat to say the least. They started in yesterday, however, for the hard practice of this week with a determination to redeem themselves in the contest of Saturday with Williams.

The Purple and White eleven from Williamstown has suffered several reverses this season, but still hope to win this Saturday. They base their hopes on the showing made by the Orange against Colgate; also on the fact that their eleven is as heavy if not heavier than the Syracuse team.

The Varsity was not given its usual severe work yesterday. Some of the men are still as sore in body as they were in mind after the game. Captain O'Neill's shoulder is getting better but the coaches are keeping careful watch over him. Brane, Van Duser, Park and Tucker are in bad shape from body bruises. Schade, the plunging halfback, is not feeling especially pleased with the Maroon players for the treatment they gave him.

Coaches Parrish and Brown are working hard to get the tackles in good shape for the Williams game. It was through and just outside of tackle's position that Colgate made her best successive gains.

Farrington, the plucky little tackle, who did so well in the second half, was in the Hospital of Good Shepherd over Sunday. His arm and leg were severely sprained. He was discharged from the hospital yesterday morning, and he hopes to be in good shape soon.

The first game of the sophomore-freshman football series will be called on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock sharp. The sophomores will be captained by Cortelyou, and the freshman by L. Coit. Both captains have a large number of men out daily trying for the respective teams.

One of the features of yesterday's practice was the cheering of Varsity and scrubs by a large number of students.

SHORT STORY CONTEST.

1905 ONONDAGAN CONTEST NO. 1.

For the benefit of the Freshmen and of such others as may not have seen or have forgotten it, the notice of this contest is repeated from last year. Several minor changes have also been made.

1. Subject to the following conditions, the 1905 ONONDAGAN will offer prizes for the best short stories and poems suitable for publication in it.

2. There will be no restrictions as to subjects. What the ONONDAGAN wants is stories—clead, clever, original—above all, INTERESTING stories. As a matter of course, however, we expect that most of the stories will be college stories, and all other things being equal, these will be given the preference.

3. No stories of less than 500 words or more than 5,000 words desired; that is, neither a sketch or a novel. As a general rule ths shorter the better unless, as we would like, you have really a longer story to tell.

5. Any student of any college in the University is eligible to compete.

4 Don't roll manuscript. Write in ink on one side of the paper Typewritten manuscript preferred, but not required.

5. A cash prize of four dollars and a copy of the ONONDAGAN will be awarded for the best short story; and one of two dollars and a copy of the ONONDAGAN for the next best. The authors of all other stories for which we may find use will receive suitable compensation. All other manuscripts will be returned if so desired.

6. The third prize, consisting likewise of two dollars and a copy of the ONONDAGAN, will be a special separate prize to be awarded for the best serious poem. This (as is likewise true of some of the other contests we have arranged) is something which has been more or less neglected by ONONDAGANS in the past. It is a phase of intellectual endeavor which we believe should receive some encouragement. What the subject may be is immaterial; and we desire not length but strength. (Humorous or satirical poetry should be entered in the contest for "grinds.")

7. The story (or poem) must be signe with a pseudonym and be accompanied with à sealed envelope containing the author's real name.

8. All manuscript must be in the hands of the editors on or before Saturday, Dec. 19, 1903, after which no new entries will be accepted.

9. Manuscript must be handed or sent to Miss Giles, Editor of the Literary Department, 201 University Place, or to A. F. Rider, Editor-in-Chief, 606 Croton street.

10. There is no limit to the stories or poems (or both) which one person may enter.

CORRECTIONS TO THE NEW SONGS.

In the college song written to the tune of "Heidelberg," owing to a typographical error, two lines were omitted. They are as follows, and should precede the line " Here's to Old Colgate, here's to ourselves."

"Here's to the team we play to-day,
May they play to beat the Deuce."

Another error was in the song written to the tune of "Hot Time." "Oh in making good our distance we are never too late" should have the words "are" and "never" transposed to read "never are." Of course all the songs can be altered so as to be suitable for the Williams and succeeding games.

GOOD MORNING.

THE ORANGE OBSERVER.

Every man on the team did his best towards Colgate, but circumstances favored the enemy.

We still have several more victories coming to us this season.

Now is the time to get behind our eleven and give it our heartiest co-operation.

The freshman class should be proud of Curtiss, Crawford, Harwood and Farrington.

Have you ever wandered past the University Library in the evening? Save for the flickering arc light in the distance all is darkness. Save for the subdued whispers of the coeducationalists on the library steps, all is still.

Why is it that the library of a great institution like Syracuse should remain merely a tomb of learning during those hours when the libraries of other universities are wide open to their students?

There is certainly a demand that the library should remain open during the evenings. A large number of students, including nearly all of the athletes, are unable to spend any time in the Library during the afternoons. These students and many others besides would find their college work greatly facilitated by having the opportunity of spending a part of their evenings in the library.

There are many who are desirous of consulting reference works and books on the reserved shelves. Still others will be glad to spend an evening among the magazines and periodicals.

Students and professors alike will be greatly benifitted by a wide open library. Is there any good reason why the library should continue to waste the opportunity of serving those for whom it was intended?

The DAILY ORANGE can be secured from now to Thanksgiving time for the special rate of fifty cents. One of the daily features of the paper will be an account of the preceding day's work of the football men.

News Gathered From Various Colleges of the Country.

According to Dr. Schurman, the $100,000 bequeathed to Cornell by the late Frederick W. Guiteau of Irvington, N. Y., is to be used to help students. Concerning the gift, Dr. Schurman said:

"I have known of this will for several years, and have known Mr. Guiteau. He was attracted to Cornell years ago by its policy. He liked the idea of co-education, of non-sectarianism. He thought it was doing more to educate our young men and women as they ought to be educated than any other institution of the kind in the country. We have had frequent conferences, and unless the will has been changed, and he has been often urged to change it, he gives the money to form a loan fund for deserving students. He did not believe in giving them the money outright. He wanted to establish a fund from which the right sort of students could be helped with the understanding that the money was to be repaid.

"I visited Mr. Guiteau," continued Dr. Schurman, "within a month at Irvington. He was then over 92 years old, totally blind, as he had been for years, but still in active mind. He asked many questions about Cornell, and emphasized his intereet in the university. His interest was due entirely to the record of the institution. So far as I know, no personal friendships led him to become interested in us. He thought that we were working on the right lines and he wanted to help."

Professor Jenks, who has accepted an invitation from President Roosevelt to go to China as monetary commissioner from the United States, has obtained leave of absence for the coming year. His university work will be carried on by Dr. R. C. Brooks and by Robert F. Hoxie, recently made instructor. Mr. Hoxie comes from the University of Chicago.

Work on the new athletic field of 55 acres, adjoining the campus, will be begun as soon as the alumni committee is assured of sufficient funds. Thus far between $30,000 and $40,000 has been pledged.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE.

In order to keep the football interests constantly before the students alumni and friends of the University the ORANGE will run the schedule for the remainder of the season.

The authorities wish an especially large attendance at the coming big games.

Oct. 24—Williams
Oct. 31—Niagara

Nov. 14—Brown

Every game will be played on the oval with the exception of the Yale game which will take place at New Haven.

CHAPEL ADDRESS.

Those students who attended Chapel yesterday morning, were treated to an interesting talk by Dr. Henry A. Schaufler, D. D., of Cleveland, Ohio. Dr. Schaufler spoke on the missionary work being carried on by the Congregational churches among the Slavic people in this country. He spoke from personal experience in this country and as a former missionary among those people in Bohemia.

Dr. Schaufler spoke at the Plymouth and other churches of this city Sunday on the same subject.

COACH WEEK'S GOOD WORK.

Geneva, Oct. 17.—"In a drizzling rain and on a field thick with mud Hobart College this afternoon defeated the University of Rochester at football by a score of 45 to 5. The Hobart team showed unexpected strength. The men averaged lighter than the Rochester team, but where weight helped Rochester the Hobart team was much more aided by several tricks. Rochester came here expecting to have an easy victory. The 200 students who accompanied the team brought with them a large amount of money which they placed at odds of ten to seven.

Hobart's play that won the game was a double pass on which the ball was first given to the tackle and then taken by the half. Each time it was tried it resulted in a touchdown."

The play referred to was one learned by Harry G. Weeks last year under Coach Sweetland at Syracuse. Weeks was substitute half back on the Orange eleven last season.

THE ENGLISH CLUB.

The English Club will meet this evening at eight o'clock in the English seminar rooms.

All students who are taking elective courses in the English Department are invited to be present and to affiliate themselves with the club.

This evening's meeting will be a very important one. Officers will be elected for the year and plans for presenting a play will be presented and discussed.

STUDENTS: John A. Wente is a first class tailor doing business at 250 James street. His work is guaranteed to be satisfactory. Give him a trial for your fall suit.

ADVERTISE IN THE "ORANGE."

As an advertising medium there is no doubt that the SYRACUSE DAILY ORANGE excels. No other advertising scheme compares with the DAILY ORANGE in getting advertisers' goods before students "on the Hill." Every morning, six times a week, the advertiser's name comes up before the students, displayed in an attractive manner and on the same page with reading matter. The University students are beginning to fall in line with other colleges and are showing college spirit by patronizing only those concerns which advertise in the University publications.

The advertisements of the DAILY ORANGE are as important a feature as the news matter. They are news. Through them students are informed where they can get the best goods for the least money. Special sales are announced at the time of their occurrence so that students may take advantage of them.

One advertiser said, "AS FAR AS IT REACHES I HAVE NEVER FOUND A BETTER ADVERTISING MEDIUM THAN THE DAILY ORANGE." Another stated that he "had never had one of his ads mentioned so much as was his business notice in the ORANGE." Another said, "I find that it pays to spend time and money on my advertisement in the DAILY."

Students, who cannot afford to subscribe for the ORANGE, can at least mention the paper when buying goods from ORANGE advertisers. This vastly helps the paper. Another way of helping the paper is to ask firms who do not use the DAILY why they do not in this way bring their names before the students.

MASS MEETING TO-MORROW NIGHT.

Chancellor Day and Others Will Speak—Torch Light Procession—Band Will be Present—Great Crowd will be There.

To-morrow evening at 7:30 o'clock a mass meeting of the men in all the colleges will be held in Fine Arts College Assembly Hall. The meeting which was to have been held this evening is postponed until to-morrow, on account of the many events occurring to-night to prevent it; such as the various seminars, practice of the Band and also the Instrumental Club.

Chancellor Day will be present and speak. Dr. Calthrop has already consented, and among the alumni to speak are Rev Carl Schwartz, Dr. Van Lengen, Messrs. George Bond, Charles J. Jewell, and Jason Parrish, the Head Coach of the football eleven.

A short torch light procession will be led by the University Band, preceding the meeting.

The meeting is held to arrange plans for Saturday's game with Williams and show the hearty co-operation with the Varsity eleven. The Band will play during the intermission. Every man in the University should be present. Each college will be seated in a body, and it is expected the great assembly hall will be packed full.

Last spring a similar mass meeting was held previous to the track meet with Cornell and the debate with Brown. It was the first time the scheme was tried, but proved to be the most successful mass meeting of the whole year.

Every student should bring a copy of the DAILY ORANGE containing the new songs. Walter Bayliss will lead the singing and cheering.

JUNIOR HISTORY SEMINAR.

The Juniors in their seminar meeting to-night under Dr. Sperry will give reports on the bibliographical lists about certain subjects assigned.

The following is a list of the Junior Seminar members: Earle L. Ackley, C. H. Becker, G. S. Brown, Fred D. Cribb, Lloyd L. Cheney, C. H. Carter, Frank D. Clark, Miss Lela Capron, H. T. Copeland, Floyd K. Diefendorf, Flora Eldred, Fannie E. Grant, Carlton W. Harris, Paul V. Hoyler, C. J. Houseknecht, Harris, Howard S. Jarvis, R. Orville Matthews, Maud M. Kelley, Claude L. Kimmel, Edith E. Kellet, Louise Knapp, Fred L. Lare, Janet Lyon, Retta Maloney, Robert Park, Clement T. Robertson, Juliet D. Sheak, Julia A. Scanlon, Bessie J. Scott, Cyrus H. Sweet, Norman D. Sturges, Emily M. Totman, Lulu M. Umbrecht, Laura G. Weller, Theresa K. Tobin, H. D. Sanford.

UNDERCLASS GAME TODAY.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock sharp the football elevens of the two underclasses will meet on the Oval. Both teams have been practicing hard and long. The freshmen have been coached by Grow S. Brown, '05; while Cortelyou, '06, has been performing the same duty for his team.

Captains Cortelyou, '06, and L. Coit, '07, have not determined on the officials but they will doubtless be Dr. Martin Smallwood and George S. Hares, '04.

The same field rules will be held in this game as for the Varsity games. The spectators must stay in the bleachers or grand stand and certainly behind the ropes. Only the coaches, newspaper men and substitutes will be allowed inside the ropes.

The sophomores have not announced their line up. Following is the probable line up of the freshman eleven:

L. E. Cummings, Shafer, L. T. Hartigan, L. G. L. Rice, C. L. S. Coit, R. G. Sloan, R. T. Wayne, P. S. Moore, R. E. Campbell, G. B. Monagahn, L. H. B. McAuliffe, F. B. Coulter, R. H. B. Woolever.

Both sides are confident of victory. A large crowd is expected to see the class battle. The usual class rush will be a feature after the game.

BASEBALL PROSPECTS

While awaiting the election of a baseball manager, which occurs this Thursday Coach Costello and George Moore, cap of the baseball team, have partly arranged a schedule. The baseball nine will take two trips in the spring, a southern tour during the Easter vacation and an Eastern trip later. On the Eastern trip the nine will meet a number of the strong Eastern colleges, among the number being Fordham, Manhattan, Wesleyan, Williams, Amherst, University of Vermont, Tufts and possibly Holy Cross. The Southern trip will be a practice trip and games will be played with Georgetown, University of Virginia and other college teams in that vicinity. A number of good home games will also be secured.

The men lost from last year's Varsity graduation were Harvey Henderson, catcher, and Harry Boyd, left field. Demong, the other catcher, was also lost by playing professional ball this summer. It is necessary to develop two good varsity catchers this season. Curtiss the crack football player, Conan and Brelos, three freshmen, are the most promising men for the place.

The pitchers' staff will also be materially strengthened by men in the 1907 class, as will the outfield. Dineen in the box, Erisman at third, Folley at first and Lynch at short are the most promising new men, as shown by recent games.

The many friends of Hamilton L. Aberdeen, '02, will hear with the deepest regret of the death of his father, Dr. Aberdeen, which occurred last Sunday afternoon at the House of the Good Shepherd. Dr. Aberdeen was one of the best known physicians in this city. His son Hamilton is a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity and a graduate of the class of 1902.

OTHER COLLEGES.

News Gathered From Various Colleges of the Country.

It is thought that the freshman class at Princeton will go over the 400 mark, a thing never before done. The most recent list, or official figures, show that the total number of full-fledged freshmen in all departments comes up to 397. That number does not include special students in any department entering this year for the first time. According to the university rules, a student who has what is known as a full condition is rated as a special. In this manner a number of freshmen are kept from being listed in the regular entering class. Counting specials, the freshman class must run considerably over 400. The class that approached nearest that mark was 1905, which entered 390 men.

There has been a very marked gain in the number of science freshmen and corresponding loss on the academic side. So great is this gain and this loss that for the first time in the history of Princeton there are more freshmen entered for B. S. and C. E. degrees than for the A. B. There are 218 students in the school of science and 182 in the academic school. Of the 215 scientific students about 85 are candidates for the civil-engineering degree.

The shrinkage in the academic school is a source of much worry to the authorities of the university and they have been studying the matter for the last year. It is the academic department of which Princeton is proudest and that it should go to pieces through lack of patronage is something that will not be permitted.

The Alumni Weekly, in discussing the matter, says: "The result is the logical outcome of a well-recognized recent tendency; the school of science has been gaining in numbers on the academic department for some years. Whether it is to be a permanent tendency is another question. Many believe it is not. And whether it is a good tendency is still another thing. For, so far as Princeton is concerned, an anomalous situation has arisen.

"These B. S. men are entering, not for distinctively science courses, but for A. B. courses. And they are entering the university by way of the B. S. door because of less extensive requirements there. As a matter of fact, the same courses are open in the last two years to the B. S. men that are open to the A. B. men Experience has shown that in recent years quite as many men go in for the professions as those graduating from the academic department.

"So that in entering the B. S. department probably a considerable portion of these freshmen are simply following the line of least resistance toward the same careers the academic men have in view. Of course, it won't pay in the long run, for, unfortunately, neither the preparation for the B. S. course nor the course itself, up to the junior year, is such as to prepare a boy to appreciate the liberal elective courses open to him in the last two years of college.

"Professors say that the A. B. men come up to the junior year much better prepared than B. S. men for these elective courses. So that when the B. S. junior has reached the goal for which he has been striving he is incapable of appreciating it."

The Reverend Dr. Patton, formerly president of the university, has been installed as president of the Princeton Theological Seminary.

NOTICES.

The election of student members to the Athletic Governing Board of the University, will be held in various colleges from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. on Thursday. The following names have been submitted to Prof. Scott from which two student members will be selected:
Ernest H. Sumner, Ernest M. House, Claud T. Kimmel, Clarence B. Bentster, C. F. MacMurray, Forrest K. Diefendorf.

Those students in Liberal Arts College who did not pay their tuition up to Sept. 25 were suspended. Those who do not pay by October 21 will be dropped from the college.

F. SMALLEY, Dean.

Because of a misunderstanding in the time of election, sufficient nominations for student members of the Athletic Governing Board of the University were not received. Therefore, the election which should have been held last Thursday has been postponed to Thursday, October 22.

Students of the sophomore, junior and senior classes who have not already made out a residence card will please call on the Registrar at their earliest convenience and give their residence for the current year. Such also as have not made out the schedule of studies for the Registrar will save him and themselves the annoyance of a call if they will at once attend to the matter.

C. C. WILBOR.

The members of the University Ave. M. E. Church will give a reception to Rev. Dr. Leete, the new pastor, and his wife this Thursday evening. It will be held in the church parlors. A hearty invitation is extended to the professors and students to attend, as Dr. Leete is an alumnus of Syracuse.

GOOD MORNING.

Fine Arts College should follow the commendable example of Liberal Arts by installing a post-office box in her halls. The demand for such a system is not so imperative in Crouse College, but there still exists the necessity for it. At present there is a small tin box capable of holding some twenty or thirty letters. Registration figures show an attendance in that college of over five hundred. The cost for installment of the new boxes is slight. The result would be apparent at once, and the benefits derived by the students unlimited.

Considerable hissing was manifest during the game with Colgate Saturday. While not intended for the football officials or members of the visiting team nevertheless the impression is made that the hissing is meant for them. While our men are in possession of the ball, and signals are being given, every student should remember to keep quiet and thus avoid the objectionable feature of hissing.

The fact that America is a very big country never strikes one so forcibly as when he has traveled a couple of thousand miles due west, and still finds the prairie stretching out before him. A young member of the British nobility was over here last summer, accompanied by his inevitable valet, James.

They saw the seaboard cities, tarried for a time in Pittsburg, in Chicago, in St. Louis and in Kansas City, and then struck out into the great west. Somewhere near the edge of Colorado the train was delayed at a small station, and the passengers got out to stretch their legs, among them his lordship and James, who seemed in a brown study.

"What's the matter?" asked his master.

"I was just thinkin', my lord," said James, "that Columbus didn't do such a mighty big thing when 'e discovered this 'ere country, hafter hall's said and done. 'Ow could 'e 'elp it?"—N. Y. Tribune.

Notable Philanthropy.

M. Chauchard, head of the Magasins du Louvre in Paris, has handed over his superb property at Versailles for the benefit of all his employes who can show at least 25 years' service, and do not receive more than $800 a year. The immense park has been divided into 105 lots, so as to insure to each meritorious servant a holding of about 600 square yards. The land is given free, and the employes can erect houses to their liking. So pleased are they with the gift that a building society has been formed; and it is expected that by next October a little colony will be well started. A small castle occupies a place on the estate, and this will be converted into small flats for the accommodation of aged bachelors.—London Mail.

Room of Refuge from Thunder.

In a block of handsome houses recently completed uptown is one different in an important respect from all those about it, if not from every other house in New York. It is supplied with a thunder room—an apartment so built as to be practically sound proof. The young mistress of this house has a dread of thunder that nothing has ever been able to overcome. So she determined to have a place of retreat in times of storm. The architect who had this unusual commission arranged a room in the center of the house so situated that, with its thick walls no sound can penetrate to it. To this apartment the timid owner can retreat whenever the thunder roars.—N. Y. Sun.

ADVERTISE IN THE "ORANGE."

As an advertising medium there is no doubt that the SYRACUSE DAILY ORANGE excels. No other advertising scheme compares with the DAILY ORANGE in getting advertisers' goods before students "on the Hill." Every morning, six times a week, the advertiser's name comes up before the students, displayed in an attractive manner and on the same page with reading matter. The University students are beginning to fall in line with other colleges and are showing college spirit by patronizing only those concerns which advertise in the University publications.

The advertisements of the DAILY ORANGE are as important a feature as the news matter. They are news. Through them students are informed where they can get the best goods for the least money. Special sales are announced at the time of their occurrence so that students may take advantage of them.

One advertiser said, "AS FAR AS IT REACHES I HAVE NEVER FOUND A BETTER ADVERTISING MEDIUM THAN THE DAILY ORANGE." Another stated that he "had never had one of his ads mentioned so much as was his business notice in the ORANGE." Another said, "I find that it pays to spend time and money on my advertisement in the DAILY."

Students, who cannot afford to subscribe for the ORANGE, can at least mention the paper when buying goods from ORANGE advertisers. This vastly helps the paper. Another way of helping the paper is to ask firms who do not use the DAILY why they do not in this way bring their names before the students.

INTERCLASS GAME.

The Sophomore-Freshman Game a Tie—Exciting Contest—Class Rush After Game.

The first game in the series of three between the sophomore and freshman football elevens was held yesterday afternoon between 3 and 4:30 o'clock.

Game was called with Mr. Fred Millspaugh, '01, as referee and Mr. Robert Park, '05, as umpire. Professor J. A. R. Scott acted as timekeeper.

Cortelyou, captain of the sophomores, kicked off for his team. Woolever ran the punt back six yards. The freshman team by rapid play through the opposing tackles rushed the ball to the center of the field where they lost it on a fumble. The sophomores gained steadily for two downs only to lose the pigskin through a fumble by Packard. They did not allow their opponents to keep the ball long. Coulter booted the ball for 1907. Cortelyou was compelled soon to do the same trick for the sophs. So soon as the freshman eleven got the pigskin they played like fiends. McAuliffe and Woolever took turns at circling the ends or bucking the tackles for gains of seven to fifteen yards. They ran it to the sophies' fifteen yard line only to lose it on a fumble. The ball then changed hands three times within the sophomore's thirty yard line.

On the third change the freshman got the ball. They rushed it fast towards the 1906 goal. McAuliffe, Coulter, Woolever and Hartigan were used in bringing it to the sophomore ten yard line.

Here the sophs gained possession of the coveted leather. Steady line plunges by Evans, Cortelyou and Smallwood brought it up to their thirty yard line. At this point the first half ended. Score —0 to 0, McAuliffe kicked off in the second half for the freshmen. The second year men advanced the ball mostly by the fast work of Evans. Jones lost four yards by being thrown back for a loss. Cortelyou made one of his beautiful punts, which was well handled by Monihan the freshman quarter back.

The next ten minutes saw the ball constantly changing hands by each side being forced to punt. Several times it was lost also by fumbles on both sides.

The freshmen finally got the ball to use it for repeated gains.

The game ended with the ball on the sophomores 30 yard line. Score 0 to 0.

The elevens were about evenly matched. The freshman team was little the better however in all-around work.

The contest on the side lines between the two linesmen was as interesting as that in the field. Burrell, linesman for the sophomores, did better than did his team. Farrington, linesman for the freshmen, got in many good runs and tricks also.

Chancellor J. R. Day was present and saw the game also the rush which occurred afterwards. In the rush the two wrestlers who represented the sophomores came out on top. The better match was that in which Kimberly '06 took a neat fall out of Hanners '07.

The line up of the class elevens follows:

1906.		1907.
Kinne	l.e.	Schafer
Smallwood	l.t.	Hartigan
Lovelace	l.g.	L. Rice
Bettinger	c.	L. Coit (Capt.)
Addison	r.g.	Sloan
Keller, Van Dusen	r.t.	Moore, Wayne
Hollingsworth	r.e.	Cummings
Wheaton	q.b.	Monihan
Packard, Jones	l.h.b.	Woolever
Evans	r.h.b.	McAuliffe
Cortelyou (Capt.)	f.b.	Coulter, Sheldon

Time of halves, 20 minutes.

THE DEPARTMENT OF ELOCUTION

Nearly 600 students are registered in the Department of Elocution this year, considerably more than ever before.

The new Junior Course given this year for the first time in the History of Oratory is proving exceedingly interesting. The text book used is Sear's "History of Oratory." The oratory of each country is chronologically reviewed; while the class work consists of extemporaneous speeches on assigned topics or in short assigned declamations from the writers studied.

The class is now about to enter on the Roman Period, after which will be taken up the Nicene and Post-Nicene "fathers" and St. Bernard and the other semi-inspired preachers of Mediæval Times.

Mr. A. F. Rider '05 is assisting Professor Ayers in the detail work of this course and of the Department in general.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION CLASSES.

The attendance at the mission study classes is very encouraging, according to the teachers. The following courses are offered this year:

I. FIELD COURSE.

GREAT MEETING IN CROUSE HALL

Promises to be Greatest ever held. Meeting last night only a preliminary one.—Speakers, Band, Torchlight Procession.

There will be a great mass meeting for men in the assembly hall of Crouse College at 7.30 tonight. The meeting held last evening in Liberal Arts was but a preliminary one for the one coming tonight. Chancellor Day has promised to be present and speak. The other speakers will include Dr. Richard Calthrop of Fine Arts College, Professor F. D. Losey, Reverend Karl Schwartz, Dr. Charles J. Jewell, George Bond and Dr. Van Leng n.

The University Band will be present and play during the intermissions. The Glee Club will be present and lead the singing ann cheering under Walter Bayliss

A torch light parade will be held about the Hill, preceeding the mass meeting.

Every college will be represented by a big delegation.

It is expected that the meeting will be the largest and most enthusiastic that was ever held for this purpose.

Every student should bring with him a copy of the DAILY ORANGE containing the new songs.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The 1905 Onondagan board met at the Psi Upsilon chapter house Tuesday evening. A system of fines was made, 5 cents, tardy; 10 cents, absent one meeting; 25 for two and expulsion for three. Mr. Cheney was elected treasurer of this system. It is the plan of the board to have the book out in time this year.

The Allyn & Bacon company of Boston, Mass., have given three volumes of modern and ancient history to the History Department for the teachers course.

Theta Nu Epsilon, the sophomore class fraternity, will hold a smoker next Thursday evening at the Phi Kappa Psi chapter house.

THE ORANGE OBSERVER.

"Victories that are easy are cheap. Those only are worth having which come as a result of hard fighting."—Beecher.

How soon will the authorities answer the following question asked in Tuesday's editorial? "Why is it that the library of a great institution like Syracuse should remain merely a tomb of learning during those hours (evening) when the libraries of other universities are wide open to their students?"

Have you heard the knocker register his weekly kick? He says our graduate system of coaching should have remained on the shelf a while.

He believes we shall never have the star team we had last season.

As usual the knocker knocks with little forethought and much less hind sight.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM.

Every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday sees a dozen or more students clad in track suits, running up the hills and down the vales surrounding the University campus. The average length of the run of the college cross country team is now about four miles. Captains Boyd and Squires announce that they expect to have a series of hare and hounds runs in the near future. Prizes will be awarded to the best runners. Arrangements are also under way to secure cross country meets with teams from other colleges. Among other colleges, University of Pennsylvania devotes a great deal of attention to cross country running.

NOTICES.

The election of student members to the Athletic Governing Board of the University and baseball manager will be held in the various colleges from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. on this Thursday. The following names have been submitted to Prof. Scott from which two student members will be selected:

Ernest H. Sumner, Emmet M. House, Claud T. Kimmel, Clarence B. Demster, C. F. MacMurray, Floyd K. Diefendorf. For Baseball manager, Messrs H. Barber and E. Manley.

There will be a meeting of the Genesee Wesleyan Alumni Association, Saturday evening, Oct. 24, 1903, at the Chi Alpha Sigma chapter house, 1005 E. Genesee street.

M. O. DELLPLAIN, Pres.

Because of a misunderstanding in the time of election, sufficient nominations for student members of the Athletic Governing Board of the University were not received. Therefore, the election which should have been held last Thursday has been postponed to Thursday, October 22.

GOOD MORNING.

We wish to announce a change in the editorial board of the Daily Orange. G. Stanley Brown finds that on account of his many other interests he is unable to do his best work for the Daily, and accordingly resigns.

We have appointed a freshman on the staff to fill this vacancy. This is done to reward Leon H Cornwall for his excellent service, and give recognition to freshman ability.

In our growing University attendance at chapel is not compulsory in any college. There is, however, a goodly number of students who attend the chapel exercises every morning. Especially is this true of Liberal Arts College this year.

There is one class, nevertheless, which is not well represented, to say the least. This is the freshman class. If any class should have a great representation it is this very class. The members are as new to the University as it is to them. Therefore they should use means to get well acquainted with it and each other. Attendance at chapel, and class singing afterward, is very conducive to both.

It is hardly credible but still a truth that there were but one-fifth the number of freshmen in chapel this week as there were seniors. This happened on average days. The seniors are the busiest men in college, and this comparison in numbers should prove effective to 1907.

News Gathered From Various Colleges of the Country.

The annual report of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, again emphasizes the fact that there can be no end to the financial requirements of a progressive educational institution. Universities and colleges use all the money that is given to them and are constantly crying for more. If they did not cry for more, their silence would indicate that there was something radically wrong in their administration and work.

Dr. Butler asks for $10,000,000, to meet the apparent needs of Columbia. Of this amount $2,900,000 would go to pay the funded debt; $2,5000,000 to erect and equip buildings; $2,000,000 to pay for South Field, and $22,600,000 to provide an income to meet the most pressing needs, particularly those of the schools of applied science and the college of physicians and surgeons. The cash gifts received last year amounted to $1.72 ,805.

Ten million dollars is a very large sum of money, but there are enough rich men in New York to make it up without seriously feeling any personal inconvenience. Surely, it would be impossible to find any worthier way to spend one's surplus funds than to turn them over to a great educational institution.

A year's observation of current opinion on Dr. Butler's proposition to shorten the college course for students intending to enter professional schools has strengthened Dr. Butler's conviction that he is on the right track. He says: "During the year this proposal has been somewhat fully discussed both within and without the university, with the result of strengthening my conviction that it is the wisest course for Columbia University and for American universities generally, to pursue. Any other policy yet proposed will, I think, sooner or later destroy the American college as well as give us at least one generation of either undereducated or wastefully educated professional men holding university degrees."

Special Rates to Students.

Dr. Saram R. Ellison has made Columbia University heir to his collection of books on magic arts, which is said to be the largest and most complete collection of its kind in this country, and comprises about 12,000 volumes. Some idea of its value may be gained when it is learned that Dr. Ellison refused an offer of $20,000 from Magician Kellar for its possession.

There are books in English, French, German, Spanish, Chinese, Japanese, Italian and Arabic. The English books are largely written by famous magicians, and some of them are in manuscript. A few of these date from the early part of the last century. There are books on card tricks and gambling, spiritualism, the occult, illusions, natural magic, hypnotism, ventriloquism, and, in fact, on nearly everything which can entertain an audience in a magic way. Aside from these valuable works is a scrapbook collection of magazine articles. These are bound in fifteen volumes, and cover practically the entire field of magic.

Many tricks are explained by professionals in these books which are not included in regular books on the art. These scrapbooks in themselves comprise an exceedingly valuable collection. Another set of scrapbooks includes notices of the various magical performances given in past years, card letterheads, write-ups and press notices. Complete files of all magic periodicals ever published are also contained in the library.

To the collection of reading matter have been added many photographs of the most famous magicians and about 60 conjurers' wands, mostly old and battered. The entire library has been catalogued by Dr. Ellison himself, so there is no subject he cannot immediately find. The cataloguing required enormous patience and occupied many months. It is a curious fact that the owner of the collection is in no sense an operating magician, but has simply contented himself with a clever knowledge of sleight-of-hand, with a thorough acquaintance with the theory of magic.

ADVERTISE IN THE "ORANGE."

As an advertising medium there is no doubt that the SYRACUSE DAILY ORANGE excels. No other advertising scheme compares with the DAILY ORANGE in getting advertisers' goods before students "on the Hill." Every morning, six times a week, the advertiser's name comes up before the students, displayed in an attractive manner and on the same page with reading matter. The University students are beginning to fall in line with other colleges and are showing college spirit by patronizing only those concerns which advertise in the University publications.

The advertisements of the DAILY ORANGE are as important a feature as the reading matter. They are news. Through them students are informed where they can get the best goods for the least money. Special sales are announced at the time of their occurrence so that students may take advantage of them.

One advertiser said, "AS FAR AS IT REACHES I HAVE NEVER FOUND A BETTER ADVERTISING MEDIUM THAN THE DAILY ORANGE." Another stated that he "had never had one of his ads mentioned so much as was his business notice in the ORANGE." Another said, "I find that it pays to spend time and money on my advertisement in the DAILY."

Students, who cannot afford to subscribe for the ORANGE, can at least mention the paper when buying goods from ORANGE advertisers. This vastly helps the paper. Another way of helping the paper is to ask firms who do not use the DAILY why they do not in this way bring their names before the students.

BEST MEETING OF THE YEAR

Large Torchlight Procession —Excellent Speches--Fine Cheering -- Great Crowd.

The mass meeting for men last night in Fine Arts College, was the greatest success of the year. The preliminary meeting of Wednesday evening prepared the men for the final meeting of the week, to arouse enthusiasm and prepare plans for Saturday's game with Williams

The students began to gather at 7 o'clock for the torchlight procession. At 7.15 several hundred men with torches, headed by the University Band of thirty pieces, under the leadership of Hodge Dayton, started on the march. The line was organized by Messrs. Wadsworth, Bateman and Templeton of the Senior class. Two men went before the men in line and put off colored lights at every street corner. William Wadsworth acted as grand marshal of the march. The parade passed down Irving Ave. to East Adams, to Walnut Ave., to University Place and Ave.

Chancellor Day and wife met the parade at Waverly Ave. and University Ave. He was given cheer after cheer by the hundreds of men in the line. Colored lights were put off, and the band played their best before Chancellor Day's and Dean Smalley's homes. The parade continued to Genesee St., to Irving Ave., and thence to Crouse College.

There were several hundred more men awaiting the men in line at the entrance to the college. All filed into chapel and were seated by classes and colleges as much as possible. The band occupied seats on the platform, and played during the intermissions between the speeches. Mr. Jacob Granlich conducted the meeting with great skill and decision. The singing was led by members of the glee club, Mr. Howard Dayton acting as accompanist on the piano. The speech list included Chancellor Day, Rev. Karl Schwartz, Dr. F. W. Van Lengen, Professor F. D. Abbey, Dr. Charles Jewell, Dr. Richard Calthrop and Dr. John Cunningham. The list had been carefully prepared several days previous. Every speaker who participated was so full of enthusiasm and loyalty to Old Syracuse that he had the great crowd with him from the start. The good points of each speech were quickly perceived by the fun oving assembly.

Every humorous effort was applauded to the echo. Everybody and everything voiced a strong purpose to stand by our beloved 'varsity and win every game for the rest of the season. A number of prominent students were called on, and those who responded bespoke the heartties co-operation of the whole University.

Plans were made similar to those for last Saturday's game. As a result of this meeting the greatest crowd of the season is expected at next Saturday's game.

PUNTS AND PASSES.

The fresh breezes and cool atmosphere of yesterday put the football candidates in fine fettle for practice. Some of the underclass candidates failed to turn up on account of their bruises from the preceding day.

Farrington, the plucky freshman tackle, who was in the hospital Sunday, is around as vigorous as ever. Brane has declared he is out of the game for the rest of the season. He gives as his reason an injury received by his eyes which prevents his studying. If this is permanent the Varsity will lose a most powerful guard of great experience. The coaches and students, however: are hoping this is only temporary.

Coaches Parrish and Brown are trying out new combinations this week. They are endeavoring to put heavier men in the line if these men have the requisite skill. Rice may displace McMickle at center, Blue succeed Rice at guard and Van Duser or Dempster take Harwood's position at tackle.

In the Williams game the new star, Curtiss, may be given a chance at full back, while Schade and Park are used as running mates for half backs. Captain O'Neill's shoulder is improving and he hopes to play throughout the Williams game.

The men are being practiced in some new formations which forebode ill to the Royal Purple and White eleven from Williamstown.

ALUMNI GAME.

The game between the Alumni and Varsity football elevens, which is scheduled for next Wednesday at 3 o'clock on the Oval, is causing much comment on all sides.

Everyone expects to see a good game. Among the alumni who will probably be in the line up are Dr Van Lengen, George Bond, Dr. Charles Jewell, Carl Dorr, Professor W. M. Smallwood, Harley Crane, H. Patton, Jason Parrish, Ancil D. Brown, all of Syracuse, and word comes from Buffalo that Robert B. Adams and DeForest Cummings are to be present in the game.

Drs. Van Lengen and Charles Jewell would like to have the Alumni meet Saturday night at the University Club at 7:30 p. m. to complete plans for the game.

FRESHMAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

President Hartigan of the freshman class has appointed the following as the executive committee of the class: Herbert Shafer, chairman; Harry Houck. Ellis Gidley, Roy Farris, Harry Woolever and Theodore Young.

As a supplementary committee the president has named the following: Miss Hurlbut, Ella Wallace, Miss Partridge and Edith Gere.

CHAPEL TALK.

Chancellor Day Gives Students Excellent Advice— Students of all Classes not to Smoke on Campus—Football Victories.

A large number of students had the good fortune to hear a long-expected talk from Chancellor Day, in Liberal Arts chapel yesterday morning.

In opening the Chancellor spoke of mass meetings being held to arouse enthusiasm. He said he thought them productive of much good. Referring to himself as a speaker at such an assembly, he deprecated his own oratorical ability but said there was an abundance of such ability in the student body. This had shown in the various debating societies and other lines of student effort. He mentioned that on Wednesday afternoon at the sophomore-freshman football game and later at the rush, he had seen deeds worthy of immortal language.

He stated that some upper classman had asked him to speak of the under classmen smoking on the campus. He then gave the rule instituted by the University trustees that all students, without respect to class, are prohibited from smoking on the campus and in the buildings

The Chancellor asked what good smoking did a person. He said that he had tried it but gave it up, and he was glad he had. Some people had said that smoking was a good sedative.

In referring to this the Chancellor remarked "Only old, sedate and dignified people like our professors need sedatives."

You and I do not.

Some students say they cannot make their way through college, but after getting aid from the University they use that very money for smoking."

The Chancellor condemned this practice severely. As to cigarette smoking he stated "they are an abomination in the sight of the devil." He appealed to the men to smoke only fifty cent cigars if they smoked at all.

Speaking briefly of the Colgate game he stated that it was no discredit to our Varsity to be beaten by an excellent team which had been together for two years. He said "You were trying your best to win. That is the final test, to try your best. Often reverses lead to the grandest successes.

I was exceedingly glad to hear the cheering for the Varsity the other day. It was only for practice work but the students were cheering as loudly as for a victory. The whole student body must get behind each good institution and we shall obtain the best results."

"In all things study politeness. A polite and gentlemanly address is a doorway to success. Wrinkles in the brain count for much more in life than to have the latest style in shoes or clothing though I would not deprecate the latter."

The talk was well received, and at its termination Dean Smalley dismissed chapel.

NEW GOVERNING BOARD MEMBERS

The two student members elected to the Athletic Governing Board yesterday, as asertained last night at 11 o'clock, were E. H. Sumner and C. D. Demster.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Prof. DuBois announced in his Qualitative Chemistry class that henceforth the laboratory would be available to students in the course at all hours. The instructors, however, will be present only on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

This is a very convenient arrangement for the students, as heretofore the number of students uncomfortably filled the laboratory at the scheduled hours.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI.

Prof. DuBois returned to college yesterday after a few days' absence.

Dr. R. C. Tarbell, '01, of Groton, spent Sunday on the "Hill."

Miss Lucile Love, '04-ex, who recently left college to enter Vassar, has left the latter institution and is now in Smith college,

J. M. Martheus, '06, Medic, has been compelled to leave college temporarily on account of serious trouble with his eyes.

Mr. S. C. Stokely, '05, Law, has left college to accept a position with the Solvay Process Company.

GOOD MORNING.

THE ORANGE OBSERVER.

If Hamilton beats Colgate as badly as Syracuse beats Williams, and Brown beats Dartmouth after the latter has conquered all her enemies, and the contest between Yale and Harvard ends in a tie, how old is Chancellor Day, and did he and President Roosevelt ever go to Bowdoin College together?

Has anybody noticed the Library open at night, and the athletes and others making the most of the evening hours using the books inaccessible to them during the day?

How many students failed to notice the knock given the University eleven in last Sunday's Herald entitled "A Crushing Defeat" etc? Does any student believe the title a correct one?

The authorities will have to build a few new grand stands to hold this Saturday's crowd.

The cross country runners are doing good work in sticking at their self-imposed training. They take regular runs every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons. The number of men entering this branch of track work is larger than ever before. Captain Boyd should be heartily supported in his endeavor to arrange a meet with some other college team.

DEBATING SOCIETIES.

Greater Interest Shown This Year Than Ever Before—All Classes Organized.

Each of the four class debating clubs met last week Thursday, Oct. 15, in the Hall of Languages, and decided upon questions and debates for their next regular meeting, Oct. 29. Two of the club elected officers for the semester, and the other two elected temporary officers to hold until the next meeting.

There was a large attendance and much interest manifested at each club. A copy of the constitution of the Debating Union, printed in book form, was given to each person present. As the work is being commenced so early in the year there will probably be a large number of candidates for the inter-collegiate and class teams.

The Senior Club elected Mr. F. Sowers, president, Mr. J. Heal, vice-president, Mr. Ferguson, secretary, Wikoff, treasurer. It gave out the following question for debate a week from this Tuesday night. Resolved:—That New York State should build a barge canal according to the estimated surveys. Affirmative:—Baldrey, Jennings and Templeton Negative:—Ferguson, Heal and McLachlan.

The Juniors elected officers for the semester as follows: President, Mosher; vice-president, Diefendorf; treasurer, Rice, and secretary, Cheney. The question for debate at the next meeting will be: Resolved:—That the recent franchise laws passed by the Southern States are justifiable. Affirmative:—Rice, Rider, W. P. Moody and A. E. Moody, alternate. Negative:—Spriggs, Louis, Fitts and Hartwell, alternate.

The officers elected by the sophomore club are: President, Griffeth; vice-president, Erskine; and members of the Debating Union, Tressler and Croft. Their question for debate is: Resolved:—That it is expedient for New York State to build a 1000 ton barge canal. Affirmative:—Packard, Tressler, Wells and Fitch, alternate: Negative:—Croft, Bucher, Chedester and Andrews, alternate.

Professor Losey called the freshmen together and asked Mr. Rubin to preside until the election, as temporary president. Mr. Campbell was elected to that office and then occupied the chair for the remainder of the session. Mr. Corbin was elected temporary secretary. Professor Losey then gave a very interesting talk. He explained the meaning and the intention of the constitution and gave a gist of the work expected of the club. He then gave a brief outline of the way a debate should be worked up. He was very enthusiastically received; and at the close of his talk was requested to propose a question for the first debate. He suggested the following question which was approved by the club: Resolved:—That our American colleges are at present devoting an inordinate amount of time and attention to athletics. The affirmative speakers appointed are: Farrington, Perkins, Phillips and Cadmus, alternate. The negative speakers are: Rice, Parks, L. Coit and Woolever, alternate. Before the club adjourned each person present signed the constitution and so became charter member of the club.

Asylums for Birds and Beasts.

Such is the reverence in India for certain birds and beasts that wealthy Hindoos have established homes or asylums for the aged and infirm among them. One of these, a few miles from Calcutta, has a staff of about 80 servants and an experienced veterinary surgeon. On festal occasions the cows in these asylums are decorated and feted by natives, who travel long distances for the privilege. One of the established sights of the city of Bombay is the Pinjrapole, a spot where wornout or diseased creatures are sent by benevolent Hindoo citizens, and there maintained until they die or are restored to health.

What She Had Read.

Miss Foliworth—Oh, yes, I have read everything you ever wrote.

Inkaman (the author)—Have you? Tell me what you think of my book on "Presupposed Causes," my "Romance of a Ring" and my poetical collection.

"I don't think I ever read any of those. I meant I had read everything you had written that was worth reading."

"Oh, that, indeed! Funny, but those are the only things I ever wrote."

"Funny, ain't it?"—Boston Transcript.

Matter of Orthography.

"Some time ago," said the skeptical boarder, "I consulted a fortune-teller who informed that a wave of prosperity was coming my way."

"Well?" queried the human interrogation point at the end of the mahogany.

"It showed up, all right," continued the s. b., "but the old girl's orthography was a trifle lame. It should have been spelled 'waive.'"—Chicago Daily News.

Unique Spot.

A unique spot in Europe is the village of Altenberg, on whose border three countries meet. It is ruled by no monarch, has no soldiers, no police and no taxes. Its inhabitants speak a curious jargon of French and German combined, and spend their days in cultivating the land or working in the valuable calamine mine of which the village boasts.—Detroit Free Press.

WILLIAMS TO-DAY.

The Varsity Meets a Strong Foe--Hopes Are High for Victory--Officials--Game at 3 o'clock Sharp.

The strong Williams team arrived in town last night All the men are in good condition and they express confidence in their ability to give the Orange men a great battle.

The game will be started at 3 o'clock sharp to-day. The men who will officiate are Mr. Pat Carver of Union for referee, and Mr. Phil Munro of Colgate as umpire.

The Syracuse eleven is in fairly good shape for the fray. Brane's departure from the line will leave a place hard to fill. The return of Big "Baldy" Moore to the ranks will help to fill the gap. Moore is not in the condition he would be had he had regular training from the beginning of the season.

The line up for to-day's game will be made from the following players: Captain O'Neill, Boland, Dane, McMickle, Van Duser, Rice, Schade, Park, Curtiss, Blue, Moore and Rutherford The center trio has not been decided on definitely. The same set of backs and ends will be in play as last Saturday.

The Williams line up: Lewis, Murray, H. Jones, Campbell, Dennum, Bixby Boyce, Williams, Gutterson, Watson and Peabody.

The Orange men are determined to win over the Royal Purple and White.

The singing and cheering will be conducted, as it was last Saturday, by cheering masters on both sides the field.

Every student should wear an Orange ribbon or carry it in some form.

In case of a victory, the Daily Orange announces that a parade will be held. The University Band will start from Liberal Arts College at 7:30 o'clock. Every student whether he has a torch or not should be on hand to celebrate.

SENIOR-JUNIOR GAMES

The Second Class Game in the Series of Basketball Tonight.-No Admission—Exciting Struggle.

The Senior and Junior classes will play the first of a series of three basket ball games tomorrow (Saturday) evening in the gymnasium This is the second in the series of class games. The first was played by the sophomores and freshmen last week, the freshmen winning by a small margin. The games are being played to give Captain Houseknecht, of the Varsity Basket Ball team, a line on new material. Since no admission charged, there is no reason why the running track should not be crowded with students interested in the game.

Captain Houseknecht considers the chances for a winning Varsity team much better this year, than they were last year at this time. He is especially pleased with the showing made by the freshman team.

The class games will all be played off before Thanksgiving in order to give time for Varsity players to practice together. The Varsity schedule is now being arranged, and will be ready for publication within a few days.

The players who will represent the senior class at the game tomorrow evening will probably be picked from the following men: Niles, McAdam, E. K. Twombly, Fenton, Train, Crane, Dakin and Greenfield. The junior five will be made up from the following: Brady, E. Rice, S. Rice, Clark, Bohr, Woodhull, Lincoln and Sargent.

The game will be called at 8 o'clock. Twenty and fifteen minute halves will be played.

The latter part of next week the second game between the freshmen and sophomores will be played.

VESPER SERVICES.

The following is the program of the Vesper service which will be held in the First Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon. On recent Sunday afternoons a large number of students has been present to enjoy the worshipful music and the address by Dr. Spalding.

GOOD MORNING.

It is to be greatly regretted that in an institution of as high a standing as Syracuse University an evil practice cannot be eliminated by some radical measures. For years past we hear of something or other mysteriously disappearing without the least intimation of the apparent cause Usually the affair is hushed up as quickly as it is reported.

The biological seminar has already met with this obnoxious experience. Periodicals, and in some cases books have been taken and never returned. This has necessitated unusual methods in conducting the seminar. Hitherto the library was accessible to students at any hour of the day. The department, however, has been so troubled by this evil nuisance that it was obliged to appoint custodians, selected from the major students, to guard and protect the belongings of the seminar room. When they are not present the room is locked. This is, of course, a great inconvenience to students in the course, since the seminar now is only available at certain stated hours. It is the same old story, the righteous must suffer with the evil doers.

In the case of the history seminar a somewhat similar condition exists. This applies especially to students taking books and failing to return the same. Doubtless the other seminars have the same story to tell.

We sincerely hope that some remedy will soon be found for this evil.

WILLIAMS, 17; SYRACUSE, 5.

Under Ideal Weather Conditions Varsity is Defeated—Outplayed—O'Neill's Good Work.

The weather conditions were ideal for football last Saturday. Syracuse had no excuse for losing on that score. All other external conditions favored the Orange eleven. The crowd in attendance was larger than last Saturday, or over 3,000 people. The cheering and singing were as good as was ever heard on Archbald Field. The cheering in the grand stand was led by Walter Bayliss, and in the bleachers by Jacob Gramlich.

In the grandstand were one hundred freshmen covered with Orange bunting and forming a large Orange "S". The University Band of twenty-five pieces was also saated in the grandstand, and played at intervals during the game.

The struggle was commenced at 3 o'clock sharp with Pat Carver of Union and Phil Munro of Colgate as officials. Captains O'Neill and Peabody decided on twenty-five minute halves.

Captain O'Neill kicked off. Peabody fumbled the punt for Williams, and Syracuse gained possession of the pigskin. In rapid succession Park, Curtiss and Schade hammered center and rushed the tackles for twelve yards, bringing the ball to Williams' twenty yard line. From this position Captain O'Neill kicked as pretty a goal as was ever seen on the Oval. Time elapsed, two minutes and thirty seconds:

O'Neill kicked off. Gutterson fumbled and Harwood secured the ball. Syracuse, however, was unable to pierce the stone wall defense of the Royal Purple, and gave up the leather. Williams worked her heavy backs, Watson, Gutterson and Peabody, with deadly effect, gaining twenty yards. Their play was directed just outside the tackles. Watson was then thrown for a loss by Boland and Curtiss, resulting in the Orange Varsity gaining the pigskin. Curtiss bucked and hurdled the line like a veteran. He was ably assisted by Park and Schade in line bucking. The Varsity, however, was unable to make any gain around the Williams ends: The Orange interference was very poor compared with that of Williams. Syracuse was soon checked in her progress and gave Williams her chance. She failed to use it and after gaining ten yards on line bucking by Lewis, Peabody and Murray, she lost the ball. After two unsuccessful attempts Curtiss punted twenty-five yards for Syracuse. The Royal Purple eleven at this point gave the Orange men pointers on team play and excellent interference. Murray started around right end for four yards. Watson, the speedy, circled the opposite end for eight yards. Then the referee penalized Syracuse five yards for offside play. Murray again skirted the Syracuse right end for five yards, followed by Gutterson through the left tackle for three yards. At this point Williams was forced to punt. Watson made a splendid kick of fifty yards. Curtiss returned it for thirty or a loss of twenty yards for Syracuse. Gutterson and Watson ran the ends and Peabody hurdled until the ball was on the Syrazuse forty yard line. Here Lewis tried a place kick for a goal and only missed it by two or three feet

Park kicked out from the twenty-five yard line. Williams fumbled and Syracuse got the ball. Unable to break the Royal Purple defense, Curtiss punted for thirty-five yards. Williams carried it back twenty-five yards through good interference on end runs by Watson, Gutterson and Lewis. On the defensive as well as offensive Curtiss, the new star, was a tower of strength He tackled repeatedly when the ends or tackles had failed to stop the men.

The Orange men again gained the ball on a fumble. Short gains were made by the steady line plunging of Curtiss, Schade and Park. Syracuse seemed unable to use any other style of play. Her interference on end runs was so poor that it was smashed usually for a loss to the man with the ball. Curtiss was forced to punt and booted the ball for thirty-five yards. Williams was compelled to do the same, and Watson cleared the same space as Curtiss on the punt. Curtiss returned the punt losing ten yards on the exchange. In the mix up Williams was given the ball, although Boland held it after it had touched the opposing side. The Royal Purple was unable to gain their distance, and Watson punted forty yards. The ball rolled over Syracuse's goal line. Syracuse took it out to the twenty-five yard line. Time called for first half. Score 5 to 0 in favor of Syracuse.

During the intermission every Syracuse adherent was happy. Victory for Syracuse seemed most probable, especially to those who knew that Syracuse always played her best in the second half. Some even foretold a score of 15 or 20 to 0 in favor of Syracuse. But the terrible second half was still to come.

Watson kicked off to Syracuse. Captain O'Neill ran the ball back ten yards, and was tackled hard by Stocking. His injured shoulder was strained so as to make him cry, but he would not give up, and continued to play during most of the second half. Syracuse after two downs lost the ball on a fumble, her first during the game. Williams rushed the ball down on short line bucks for twelve yards. Peabody tried to kick a goal from the twenty-five yard line, but booted it into the line. A Syracuse man had evident possession of it, but the referee made one of his several doubtful decisions against Syracuse and Williams still held the ball. By fierce line plunging the ball was finally placed behind the Orange goal line by Watson. Peabody kicked the goal. Score, Williams 6 and Syracuse 5.

Two more touchdowns were made by Williams in this half and one goa kicked. Final score, 17 to 5 in favor of Williams.

BASKET BALL.

The seniors surprised themselves and all their friends last Saturday evening by winning the first of a series of three basket-ball games between the two upper classes by the score of 16 to 6. The running track was well filled with a goodly number of spectators among which the co-eds were well represented. There was little or no delay, the game commenced promptly at 8 o'clock and before an hour had passed Referee Scott announced the final score.

Considering the earliness of the season the game was very well played. Each five passed the ball well considering the amount of practice the men had had together and there were not an unusual number of fouls called. However, each team showed itself weak in finding the baskets. A number of easy goals were missed and, in fact, neither five scored a point from free throws for the basket on fouls.

Crane started the scoring for the seniors after only a few minutes of play but Clark for the juniors almost immediately tied the score and a few minutes later found the basket again for another two points. This ended the scoring for '05, in the first half and never again were the seniors headed. The prettiest goal of the game was made during this half by Crane, for the seniors, from the center of the field. The half ended with the score 8 to 4 in favor of 1904.

In the second half the seniors scored twice before S H. Rice threw the first and only basket for the juniors during this half. Before the close of the half four more chalk marks were added to the '04, column.

The line-up:

GOOD MORNING.

It seems from the recent reverses in football that there is something radically wrong in the practice as already conducted. We all know that the 'varsity does not possess the star backfield of last year, nor the veteran center. Other reasons of similiar nature may be forthcoming.

Still this does not account for the poor interference, and lack of team play shown in Saturday's game. It is too late in the season to give such excuses.

The thing to do now is to continue to give the 'varsity our heartiest support, and stand by them to a man until the end.

ORANGE PEALS.

BY J. D. K.

Editor—I see you have stated that the half-back resumed playing when he came to his senses. You'll have to cut that out.

Reporter—What's the matter with it?

Editor—If he had really come to his senses he would have stopped playing.

"Will your employer be in after dinner?" inquired the visitor of the office boy.

"Nope," was the laconic reply.

"What makes you think so?" was the next query.

"Coz," replied the boy as he prepared to dodge, "that's what he went out after."

Football Coach—What do you mean by coming around here in an intoxicated condition?

Football Enthusiast—Oh, I came out here to try for full back.

Professor—I must insist upon the students being more quiet—so still that you can hear a pin drop.

Freshman—(after a silence had prevailed a few moments)—Well, let 'er drop.

You can ride your horse to water,
But you cannot make him drink;
You can ride your little pony,
But you cennot make him think.

News Gathered From Various Colleges of the Country.

It was reported this morning that Harvard University is to receive a bequest of four million dollars from the will of Gordon McKay. Mr. McKay, who died last evening, was the inventor of the shoe sewing machine which brought about effective changes in the manufacture of shoes, and made millions for the originator of the plans.

Mr. McKay was a near friend of Professor Shaler, of Harvard. It was while living at Cambridge that he perfected his invention. This is given as the reason for his choosing Harvard to receive his riches.

At the University of Minnesota the Dramatic Club is arranging to put a play on the road during the mid-winter vacation. The plan of having university dramatic clubs become barn-stormers among the public is increasing in popularity. The Minnesota club will tour through the southern portion of the state, visiting in all five towns.

At the University of California a woman has been appointed lecturer on sociology. It is an unusual position for a woman to fill. She is Miss Jessica Peixotto, a graduate of California.

At the annual meeting of the Intercollegiate Lawn Tennis Association, held last week in Philadelphia, it was decided to send a challenge to the English Universities, Oxford and Cambridge, for a series of international matches to be played next summer. It is likely that the British team will be asked to come to America.

At the University of Wisconsin an association composed of sixteen young ladies who do charitable work among the poor of Madison bears the euphonious title of Attic Angels.

A masquerade ball, for women only, was a unique social function given Friday evening at the University of California for the purpose of raising funds for the Women's Boating Club.

To raise funds for the purpose of paying its debts the sophomore class at Stanford University has decided to present a comedy, "David Garrick," at "popular prices."

life that was lived in the pioneer days of the university. It is proposed to have different phases of pioneer life treated in separate papers suitable to be read at meetings of the English Club. It is planned to have the names published together in book form, so that they may be widely distributed. To give a comprehensive view of the early days at Stanford, each paper will be allotted a different field. A tentative list of chapter headings is: "Planning the University," "Starting the Machinery," "The Domestic Side of Pioneer Days," "Amusements," "The Fraternities," "Athletics."

Dr. Eigemann, head of the Department of Zoology, at the University of Indiana, yesterday started for Cuba in quest of blind fish specimens. ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Among the most enjoyable events of the week was an informal gathering given on Thursday evening by twelve of the students living in Winchell Hall. The early part of the evening was spent playing games. This was followed by an impromptu musicale. Both vocal and instrumental selections were rendered. The guests were Dr. C. E. Goodwin, Messrs. Snow, Fahnestock, LeFevre, Ballard, Crowell, Morecroft, Cheney, Hodge, Titus, Smith, Witmer, Wood and Lloyd Cheney.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TEAMS.

It is sincerely hoped that the women of the University will be able to play interclass games of basketball this winter. In order to do this it is necessary that each class begin practicing at once.

Candidates for the sophomore team will meet in the gymnasium Monday evening, October 26, at 7 o'clock. All members of the sophomore class who have played basketball or who think they can learn to play and are willing to practice faithfully are urged to attend this meeting.

Sierran "Crystal Goblet."

Seven thousand feet above sea level, the lake is indeed a crystal goblet held high among cooling clouds in the grip of the Sierras. Our "crystal goblet" figure, however, breaks down when we consider the lake's dimensions, 20 miles long by ten miles wide. Upon this lake and those in the immediate region many of the waterfowl of North America spend the winter. Its surface literally swarms with feathery fleets—teals, spoonbills, imperious mallards and canvasbacks. You can easily bag ten fat ducks in a morning before breakfast. Nor do you have to sit in slush, shivering the flesh from your bones; on the contrary, you may sit in the shade of a banana tree, blazing away whenever you feel like it, for hunting on Lake Patzcuaro is a lazy man's delight.—From "A Lake in the Mexican Highlands," by Eli R. Sutton, in Four-Track News.

Forts of Funchal.

From the sea the city of Funchal presents a beautiful picture; it is built on the slope of mountains facing the water and is dotted with houses, most of which are of a very bright color, with grape arbors from the mountain peaks down to the beach. The city and harbor are well protected by ten batteries and forts. An important one is Loo Rock fort, situated on the bay and a little off the city, to which it is connected by a breakwater of recent construction; it also serves, by means of a red light on its tower, as a light house, determining the entrance to the harbor. Forts Peak and San Thiago are situated back and upon the hill overlooking the city. The population of both islands is 140,000.—From "The Vineyard of the Atlantic," by H. H. Byrne, in Four-Track News.

Shied at a Cinch.

"I'll bet a dollar if I should ask you to marry me you'd refuse," ventured Gussie, trying to inject a little more spirit into the conversation.

"My, but you're a cheap one!" responded the girl.

"W-y-y-why?" stammered Gussie.

"Because you won't bet more than a dollar on a sure thing."—Baltimore American.

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING OF THE COLLEGE YEAR BY THE STUDENTS OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY.

VOL. I. NO. 37. SYRACUSE, N. Y., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

FRESHMEN DEFEAT THE SOPHOMORES.

The Second Football Game a Close One—Cortelyou's Punts—Coit, Captain of 1907 Eleven, Sprained an Ankle—Evans' Fine Work.

The second football game in the series between the freshmen and sophomores was called at 2 o'clock yesterday. It was waged at intervals for the following two hours. The contest resulted in a tie as did the first game. This is the first time in the history of Orange football that the two under classes have been unable to score in two successive games.

Mr. Harry Yard, 1905, acted as referee and Mr. Louis Fritcher as umpire. Professor Scott held the time.

McAuliffe kicked off to the sophomores. Kimberly returned with the ball for ten yards. Evans, Cortelyou and Kimberly on rapid line bucking advanced the ball to the freshman forty yard line, only to lose the leather.

The freshmen then gave a fine exhibition of fast and clean playing. Sturdy Woolever and doughty McAuliffe ran the ends and speedy Colter hurdled the line for continuous gains of four to fifteen yards. This steady plugging soon brought the ball to the sophomore five yard line. The first year men seemed sure of a touchdown here but lost the ball on a fumble.

The pigskin changed hands several times after this before the half was up.

The second half was a repetition of the first. Evans and Cortelyou won most of the laurels for 1906. Woolever McAuliffe, Colter and Hartigan did splendid work for the freshman eleven. The 1907 team excelled in both their backfield and line. Grow S. Brown, 1905, their coach, is to be congratulated on their good showing.

The line-up follows:

1906		1907
	Left end
Kinne, Bushnell		Campbell, McLear

THE ENGLISH PLAY.

A special meeting of the English Club was held in the Seminar Room yesterday afternoon. It was unanimously decided to give Shakspeare's "King Lear" in the winter to raise funds for the Seminar Library. The title role will be taken by Professor Losey who is well known as a Shakspeare reader. The rest of the cast will be made up entirely of students chosen by competion. The trials will be held sometime during ehe week after next. Professor Losey will outline definite plans in the ORANGE in a few days.

LIMA ALUMNI MEET.

Nearly thirty of the members of the Genesee Wesleyan Alumni Association met at the Chi Alpha Sigma chapter house Saturday evening and spent a very enjoyable social time together. The number of freshmen who entered from Lima this fall, largely as a result of the efforts of the Alumni Association, was particularly gratifying.

Among the guests entertained by the local associatian was Miss Edith M. Giles, of Washington, D. C., a graduate of Lima, known by many Syracusans.

After enjoying progressive games and "Tucker," the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, A. Stanley Copeland; Vice President, Lydia McCaw; Secretary, Nina M. Metcalf; Treasurer, Mr. Matthews, '07.

MANDOLIN CLUB.

The Mandolin Club is now practicing every week, and is fast rounding into shape. The club promises to be one of the best in years, and will undoubtedly make a good record this year. The leader, S. G. Birdsall, is carefully training the men on several new and popular pieces. The club has now been cut to the following men:

1ST MANDOLIN	2ND MANDOLIN
Montgomery	Fowler
Young	Miller
Terry	Merry
LaFever	Turner
Birdsall

MANDOLA	GUITAR
Henderson	Gray
Young	Henderson
Wood	Townsend
	Swinney
	Bateman

The next regular practice will be at 7:00 o'clock Wednesday evening, October 28.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI.

One of the spectators at Saturday's game was Alan C. Fobes, the Republican candidate for mayor of the city. After the game he called at the Orange Club and later took dinner at the Delta Kappa Epsilon House.

Miss Adelaide Durston, '07, spent Sunday in Skaneatles.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The sophomore class has decided not to give a smoker to their class crew until after the class debts are all paid.

REPUBLICAN CLUB.

The club will meet tonight at 7 p. m in the Liberal Arts College and march down in a body to the mass meeting in the Court House. The speakers for the occasion are Alan C. Fobes, Congressman Driscoll, F. J. Mack and T. Enright A large crowd of students is expected.

ALUMNUS LETTER.

Interesting communication from President of Buffalo Association—Matter of vital importance.

EDITOR DAILY ORANGE,
Dear Sir:

In the Daily Orange October 14th, I noticed an editorial that is interesting to me as an alumnus of Syracuse University.

It is news to me that Syracuse has not an Alumni Association of its own, and so has no monthly alumni lunches. I can understand how it is that the influence of the University may so permeate the life of the city in which it is located that the importance of an organization among its alumni would be overlooked, yet no amount of good that could be diffused throughout the city from that source would equal the power that an Association would yield. It is after all the graduates of an institution of learning bound together by common love of Alma Mater who are the solid foundation of its success in every direction. Money without stint may be poured into its treasury from outside sources, but the impulse in this direction comes in the last analysis from men and women who have received their education within its walls.

First; Syracuse of all places should support an Alumni Association, being the city in which the University is located. The fact that the city at large is given an intellectual and moral impulse by being the seat of the University is by no means an offset to the importance of an organization among its alumni.

Second; An organized body of men and women graduates right at its very door would be able in a critical time to create a healthful public sentiment when the discipline and policy of the University might be called into question.

Third; All along the line graduates of other universities and colleges have been particularly active in planting associations in the principal cities and towns, as far even as the Pacific coast. We doubt not there are several in your own city.

Fourth; The headquarters of such an Association become a rallying place for all friends and patrons, whether residents or transients, and thus stir up a feeling of good fellowship.

Fifth; I am not sure that we should not look to an Association in your city to do a certain amount of pioneer work throughout the country, in the way of getting graduates banded together and furnishing information to them which they would not otherwise get. It is expecting too much of the faculty to attend to such details. I can easily conceive that a secretary could be used to good advantage to keep in correspondence with other Associations, and graduates in places where there are none, and to furnish them with a large amount of interesting facts bearing upon the University. The Annuals and and College Papers do not carry with

GOOD MORNING.

There is one fact that last Saturday's game demonstrated beyond a doubt. That is, that the bleachers, as a twenty-five cent proposition, are not popular. The students did not appear to take kindly to the idea of paying twenty-five cents for the privilege of a seat in the wind swept bleachers when comparative warmth and shelter could be enjoyed in the grand stand free of charge. The business men from the city, the very ones for the benefit of whom the reserved seat plan was formulated, preferred to take their chance of securing a seat in the grand stand.

The old grand stand is obviously the most popular place from which to watch the games; and is the only place desirable for women. Since the Athletic Association is in need of funds to pay for the new bleachers, would it not be feasible to reserve the whole center section of the grand stand and to leave the bleachers open to all?

The adoption of this plan would bring the much desired cash into the treasury of the Athletic Association, and would be popular with all classes.

Second Freshman—I was in such a "rush" that I could not wait for you.

'06—No I didn't. What was it?
'07—It must have been strong butter.

In view of the brilliant headgear the Freshmen are wearing The Orange suggests that the class song be sung to the tune "Wearing Of The Green."

Sixth; Whet the University authorities take the initiative in an enterprise looking to further usefulness, a local Association mig it by a hearty backing help clear the way and lessen the chances of failure

When the friends of old Genesee College decided to leave Lima, and looked over the state to locate a great University to take its place, they chose Syracuse. They counted on the moral and financial support of its citizens, and they have had it in largest measure. Both the city and the University are to be congratulated upon the choice. The effect of a working local body of graduates would most certainly be to strengthen the bond of sympathy between the two, and to give the intellectual distinction to Syracuse that always attaches to a University city or town.

Yours for Syracuse.

OTSEGO COUNTY PRINCIPAL'S CONFEREN E.

A meeting of the Otsego County Principal's Conference was held in this village last week. The exercises began Friday night with a banquet served by Landlord Greene in a thoroughly satisfactory manner. John D. Cary welcomed the guests in a manner that was hearty and sincere. Supt. W. C. Franklin of Oneonta responded in a pleasing way. The address of the evening was delivered by Prof. A. C. Flick of Syracuse University. on "The Educational Systems of Europe." Prof. Flick has just returned from an eighteen months' tour of Europe, made with the purpose of studying the educational systems. He is an historian of unusual ability and has organized into one lecture an immense amount of valuable information concerning all phases of education in the leading countries of Europe. The lecture was based upon what the author had seen and heard rather than upon secondary authorities.—Richfield Springs Mercury, Oct. 22, 1903.

Syracuse University graduates working in Otsego county:

A. G. Watkins, 1901, Principal of Richfield Springs School.

Mrs. A G. Watkins 1901.

Miss Nettie C. Hall, 1902. Department of Latin, Richfield Springs.

M. Burlingame, 1894, Principal of Cherry Valley Schools and President of Otsego County Teachers' Association.

Matthew L. Dann, 1902, who succeeded his brothee, H. M. Dann as Principal of Belleville Schools.

H. W. Scott, brother of E. H. Scott, 1902, Principal of Schools at Milford.

Burmese Tug-of-War.

In Burma the inhabitants have a novel form of the sport that elsewhere is commonly called a tug of war. In the Burmese game there is a rain party and a drought party, who pull one against the other, the victory of either party being considered to have immediate results as regards the weather. The drought party, however, obtains few victories, for the kind of weather it represents is commonly not so much desired as rain. In the face, therefore, of a strong public opinion the rain party is nearly always allowed to win, the palpable "roping," in the popular notion, being generally followed by a fertilizing downpour.—Chicago Daily News.

His Only Fear.

She was large and aggressive, and he was small and peaceable.

"John,'" she exclaimed, "are you going to protect me?"

Here the one who had inadvertently offended her interrupted.

"Madam," he said, "if he is going to protect you, there is nothing doing; but if you should decide to protect yourself I will certainly be under the necessity of retracting and apologizing."

Then he walked away with the proud consciousness that he had left two people about as mad as they could be.—Chicago Post.

Brave Alfonso.

King Alfonso had a little adventure, rather unusual with sovereigns, the other day. His majesty was walking in the Prado, when a bullock broke from a herd that was being driven, and, tearing away at full gallop, showed every disposition to use its horns among the pedestrians and equipages. There was a regular stampede, but the king showed his spirit, and, drawing his revolver, brought the beast down with two or three swiftly delivered shots.—London News.

Matter of Business.

"Sir," exclaimed the indignant daughter of Eve; "what did you mean by kissing me?"

"Why, I—er—didn't m-mean anything," stammered the young man in the sketch.

"Then don't dare do it again," said the fair party of the prelude. "I don't allow any man to get osculary with me unless he means buisiness. See?" — Chicago Daily News.

Needed His Love.

Magistrate—Madam, your husband charges you with assault.

Honoria—Yes, your worship; I asked him if he would ever cease to love me, and he was so slow at answering that I hit him in the eye with a mop. I'm only a woman, your worship (tears) and a woman's life without love is a mere blight.—London Tit-Bits.

So Different from a Man.

"Now, you must not let this go any further,'" said Watts to Potts, after retailing a choice bit of scandal.

"Oh, certainly not," said Potts; "how did you happen to hear?"

"My wife told me. She's just like any woman—can't keep a secret, of course."—Philadelphia Telegram.

Uncle Reuben Says:

"Dar' am a streak of selfishness runnin' all through de human race, but in some cases it am artfully concealed. Fur instance, when a man rubs his back agin a freshly painted doah, de owner of de buildin' purtends not to keer how much of it he carries off on his back.—Detroit Free Press.

Pull.

The doctor was sanguine.

"We're going to pull you through!" quoth he.

"By the leg?" querulously demanded the patient, a sordid man, whose soul, even in that extreme moment, brooded on the matter of expense.—Puck.

A Droll Nurse.

"That sounds like the charity bawl," said the nurse, as the babies in the orphan asylum began to yell.—Princeton Tiger.

Edith—Yes, but she didn't.—Judge.

No Attraction in This.

Dealer—Here's a machine I can conscientiously recommend. It is positively noiseless and odorless.

Automobilist—What! A machine that makes no noise and does not scent the atmosphere? What would it be good for? One might ride in it all day and not attract attention.—Boston Transcript.

Cynical Bachelor.

Noozey—I've heard a rumor that she is to be married.

Oldbache—Yes.

"Who's the lucky one?"

"Neither of them, if they only knew it."—Philadelphia Press.

Not a Peace-Making Answer.

"I wonder if all men are brutes?" snapped Mrs. Unpeck, during a little domestic tiff the other morning.

"No, indeed, my dear," replied her husband. "I know a number of men who are bachelors."—Stray Stories.

Appropriate.

"What did you contribute to the shower for Miss Honeymoon the other evening?"

"An umbrella."—Indianapolis Journal.

MEDICAL COLLEGE PROTESTS.

A formal protest to last Thursday's election of student representatives to the University Athletic Governing Board was handed to officials of the Board yesterday by representatives from the Medical College. The protest was signed by the four class presidents of the Medical College.

The students of the Medical College are very much stirred up over the treatment they received in the recent election. Because they also pay athletic fees and send many student representatives to the various college athletics, they feel that they should have a chance to be properly represented. The Medical students claim that previous to Thurday no notice of election was posted in the Medical College so that the students did not even know who the nominees were. They further claim that the ballot box was not prepared until half past two on the day of election and that even then it was availab e only at short periods, so that many students were compelled to go home without voting.

Class meetings were held by the members of each class with the result that a unanimous decision to protest Thursday's election was reached.

A GREAT PROBLEM.

PRIZES OFFERED FOR SOLUTIONS.

There is a problem now before the newspaper reading public which has excited more comment than has any puzzle which has appeared in recent years. Great newspapers have waged editorial wars over the question. College professors, according to the contemporary press, have entered into the the conflict. Even Harvard has been floundering over the problem.

The problem which the Daily Orange submits to the mathematics loving Syracuse students is the following:

Mary is twenty-four years old. Mary is twice as old as Ann was when Mary was as old as Ann is now. How old is Ann?

To the first six persons who will send the editor the correct answer with proper solution, the Orange will be sent two weeks free of charge.

☐The names of the successful contestants and the proof by which they arrived at the correct answer will be published in Saturday morning's Orange.

LATEST UNIVERSITY BULLETIN ISSUED.

Contains Interesting Articles and Bibliography of Books and Pamphlets by Liberal Arts Faculty.

At a recent banquet attended by both students and faculty of a well known New England college. the professor responding to a toast "The Faculty" suggested that it would be a good plan for the students to issue the college bulletins and for the faculty to edit the publications ordinarily managed by the students. "The faculty might give literary form to your publications," the speaker said, "and you, as students, could make the college bulletins interesting, a task that is impossible for us."

In the bulletin which the College of Liberal Arts has just published, the faculty has attained the "impossible."

Professor Bushnell's article on "The Attitude of Plato Toward Contemporary Greek Thought Concerning the Future Life" is a very valuable contribution, and is, despite its lengthy title, of interest to the general reader.

The second article is by Professor Smallwood and presents the result of his summer research work among a rare variety of Mollusks known as Nudibranchs.

Professor Roe's discussion of the convergence and divergence of a power series, while not of general interest, is presented so clearly that it can be readily grasped by the mind of one who has had any mathematical training.

Of all the articles published in the bulletin, the one that will appeal to the largest number is Professor Emens' brief discussion of the figurine of Eros which Mrs. Esther Baker Steele recently presented to the Greek department. Besides giving the history of the Tanagra figurines, Professor Emens presents quotations from Greek poetry, admirably selected and translated which convey the different ideas which the Greeks had of Eros.

The following, from the so-called Anacreontics, is particularly interesting:

Cupid, as he lay among
Roses, by a bee was stung.
Whereupon, in anger flying
To his mother, said thus, crying,
"Help, oh help, your boy's a-dying!"
"And why, my pretty lad?" said she.
Then, blubbering, replied he,
"A winged snake has bitten me,
Which country people call a bee."
At which she smiled; then with her hairs
And kisses drying up his tears,
"Alas," said she, "my way! if this
Such a pernicious torment is:
Come, tell me, then, how great's the smart
Of those thou wounded with thy dart!"

The latter part of the Bulletin contains a bibliography of the publications of the members of the Liberal Arts College faculty, with brief digests of those articles which have appeared during the past year.

The Bulletins are now in the Registrar's office, ready for free distribution among the students and others interested in the work of the University.

ORANGE PEALS.

The following appeared in the "Query and Answer" column of the Syracuse Herald, October 26th:

This is my second year in college. I have received no attentions from men until this year when a young man of my class (sophomore) has seemed very much attracted toward me. Upon leaving me the other night I noticed a slight pressure accompanying his hand clasp. What would it mean? How far ought I to allow him to continue his advances before declaring his intentions? If he should offer to kiss me should I try to avoid it; if so how, without offending him? STUDENT.

The slight pressure accompanying the hand clasp was probably an unconscious sign of the warm regard which the young man entertains for you. There is no rule limiting a man's attentions before he declares his love. As long as you conduct yourself in a ladylike, dignified manner, he cannot, as a gentleman, do anything to offend you. If he is sincere he will probably tell you of his love before long. However, I would not advise you to encourage such a feeling as long as you are in school. It will interfere seriously not only with your studies, but with his. And you are both probably young enough to wait a few years. If he attempts to kiss you, which he probably will not, simply tell him in a dignified but firm manner that you do not permit any such privileges.

GOOD MORNING.

The members of the freshman class are to be congratulated on the excellent football team representing them. Never in the history of the University have two tie games been played in the interclass series. When it is considered that 1907 fairly outplayed their opponents, the praise for the freshmen is well placed.

Notwithstanding this showing, however, there has been no schedule of games arranged for this representative eleven. It is about time something was done concerning this matter.

A series of four or five games could easily have been arranged several weeks ago. There is still time for two or three excellent contests outside of the interclass series. Heretofore there has always been a schedule of several out-of-town games arranged for the freshman team.

The assistant manager of the Varsity has this matter to look after this year, but so far nothing has been done.

It is certainly not too much to expect that the prospective manager of next year's Varsity should properly attend to the duties involved in his office as assistant manager.

News Gathered From Various Colleges of the Country.

The committee on employment at Columbia University has issued some interesting statistics of the amount earned during the year by students, and the means used. The average earning of each student was $144.45. The graduate students earned the largest sums, their work being practically confined to tutoring, teaching, writing and lecturing. Two law students acted as newspaper correspondents, one earning $1,600 and the other $1,200. Another student managed a carriage factory, earning $1,500. One law student earned $400 as a violinist in a theater orchestra. Another student, for lack of better employment, drove a truck on Sunday, and in the end cleared $350 from miscellaneous jobs. A life insurance agent earned $700. The total student earnings during the year are estimated at $57,000.

With prospects of soon having a new gymnasium building at Northwestern University comes the announcement that for the first time the women will have the benefit of an athletic coach.

President Angell, of the University of Michigan, has refused to aid the students who were arrested for assaulting an officer during the class rush.

The Seniors of the University of California have undertaken to be sponsors for the behavior of the underclassmen. It has heretofore been the university regulation to require a deposit from the class for the use of university buildings for class meetings. At a meeting of the Senior class resolutions were passed declaring whereas: The Student Affairs Committee at the request of representative Seniors, has given assurance that deposits will no longer be charged if the Senior Class will undertake to act as advisers to lower classmen to prevent the destruction of the university property. Therefore: The Senior Class will henceforth undertake to act as advisers to lower classmen to prevent the destruction of university property.

This action is the result of several years of student effort, The Seniors will have no absolute authority over the other undergraduates, but they will act as advisers and interfere only in moments of excitement when a Senior is the only man who can keep his head.

Recently there appeared the first copy of The Northwestern, a new triweekly student publicationf rom the Evanston university. During the past year there was much talk of establishing a daily paper. The university heretofore has been contented with a weekly, but increasing college activity made it seem possible successfully to publish a more frequent edition. Herbert McDougal is editor-in-chief of the new paper. It appears on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, and is entirely under student control.

The medical department of the University of Michigan now has a Pasteur Institute. The work is supported by the state and carried on under the direction of Dr. Frank Cooley. Since the first of April he has personally treated thirty-five patients suffering from bites of mad dogs. Every one of these cases has been successfully treated. They prepare the serum in their own laboratory. The Institute is becoming well known in Michigan.

This year's freshman class at Yale is the largest in the history of the university. On September 26, 386 men had registered, 30 more than the class of 900, the largest heretofore.

Balmy Bermuda.

So genial is the climate that trees, shrubs and plants from almost any part of the world flourish there. The Bermudian gardens are shady woodland bowers, where flowers in infinite variety and coloring spread their fragrance. Many of the delicately perfumed blossoms grow wild and a handful can be had for the gathering. One comes across the oleander almost unawares. The passion-flower, from the depth of whose corolla we trace the symbol of the cross, creeping with characteristic lowliness beneath its bed of green leaves, feels its way toward some stronger stem and, clinging to its bark, climbs slowly heavenward to give praise to its Creator.—Frank H. Vizetelly, F. S. A., in Four-Track News.

Underground Marvels.

Particulars have just been published of a wonderful series of underground caves in the Stalden district of Canton Schwytz. The existence of these places had before been vaguely known, but they have now for the first time been fully explored by a party which went down provided with 5,000 yards of rope ladders, acetylene lamps, rugs and provisions for eight days. They were underground for two full days, penetrating for a distance of 2,500 yards through vast halls brilliant with stalactite and other crystals, and with other great recesses branching from them. There were also found swift subterranean torrents, powerful enough to work great industrial undertakings.

Treasure in the Volga.

A Russian merchant named Zimminakoff is causing the bed of the Volga, in Russia, to be examined, near Katow, in an endeavor to find a treasure which is said to be valued at upward of $15,000,000. The fantastic story is circulated that this treasure was cast into the river by the once famous brigand, Stenkoy Razynin. The story goes that, pursued by Cossacks, the brigand threw away this immense hoard of gold and jewels, accumulated during a life of crime.—N. Y. Sun.

Scientific Experiments with Snakes.

In the pathological laboratories of the University of Pennsylvania an investigation, designed to discover antidotes for all kinds of snake poison, is conducted along lines suggested by Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, and the Carnegie institute has granted an appropriation to assist the work. Many experiments are made with rattlesnakes, cobras and other poisonous reptiles, and the effects of the venom upon animals are studied. The physicians regard alcohol, taken internally, as a valuable stimulant, but not as an antidote. The most valuable remedial agent is the intermittent ligature—a band about the wounded limb, which is loosened for an instant at stated intervals, thus allowing the poison to enter the system in very small quantities. In this manner the patient is enabled gradually to overcome the effects of the poison.—Youth's Companion.

Laborer's Sermon to a Bishop.

Bishop Nicholson, of Milwaukee, has a story of personal experience to tell to those who seem swamped in worries. It happened during the first years of his ministry, when he was rector of a Philadelphia church.

Parish matters, social and financial, were in a bad way, and straightening them out was slow work. The rector was distinctly discouraged one day when, having gone to New York on business, he stopped to look at the Brooklyn bridge, then building. A man covered with dirt was working on the abutments.

"That is pretty dirty work you are engaged in," said the clergyman.

"Well, yes," answered the laborer, "but somehow we don't think of the dirt, but of the beauty that is to come out of our work."

"It was the lesson I needed, and I went back to Philadelphia the better for it," said Mr. Nicholson.

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING OF THE COLLEGE YEAR BY THE STUDENTS OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY.

VOL. I. NO. 39. SYRACUSE, N. Y., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

VARSITY, 17; ALUMNI, 6.

The "Old Grads" Show up Finely—Exciting Game—Burrell's Fine Work.

Before hundreds of spectators and on a muddy field the annual Alumni-Varsity game was played yesterday afternoon.

The contest was called at 3:30 p. m. with Frank O'Neill and L. Fritcher officiating.

The Alumni eleven put up an excellent game throughout and surprised their adherents. Had it not been for some favoritism shown by Frank O'Neill to his men on the varsity, the game would have been closer.

Jack Dillon, the man full of ginger, played with his old time spirit. Doctors Van Lengen and Smallwood put all their strength of their mighty frames into the contest while Dr. Goodwin ably assisted by De Laney, made incisions with deadly effect on the varsity line and interence, 'Pink,' Byrne was a tower of strength at center and later at full back. The backs Dorr, Brown and Crane proved a formidable trio.

Dorr kicked off at 3:30 o'clock. Curtiss returned the ball ten yards. The Varsity was held for downs. The Alumni got the ball only to lose it on downs The Varsity was soon compelled to punt from their five yard line, Curtiss booting the ball to the forty-five yard line. At this point the Alumni did their best work. Dorr and Brown were pushed through the tackle and Crane hurdled the line for consecutive gains of three to six yards. Brown was finally pushed or dragged over the line for a touchdown. Dorr kicked the goal. Score, 6 to o in favor of the Alumni. Thus the score stood at the end of the first half.

In the second half Parker secured one goal on a twenty-five yard run, Burrell another on a ninety yard run after a double pass. Both were converted into goals. Burrell secured the final score by a pretty field goal from the fifteen yard line.

The line up follows:

LOST IN THE CAVE.

Lost in the sub-caverns of Green Lake Cave, with only a small bit of candle with which to find their way to the outside world! Such was the experience of nine students who attempted to explore the depths of the cavern recently.

Those who are seniors now will remember how two students, three years ago, while seeking geological specimens, were entombed in this cavern for more than twenty-four hours. The story of their patient search for a means of reaching the surface, and of their narrow escape from death by forcing their way through a crevice, is known to all who were in college at that time.

While the nine men who lost their way in the cave Sunday afternoon extricated themselves more quickly than the amateur geologists, they were in the bowels of the earth long enough to realize the gravity of their position.

It was three o'clock when the exploring expedition, led by Harry Folon, '04, "Reggie" Dakin and Houseknecht, '05, entered the recess of the cave. It was six o'clock when the adventurers, weary and hungry, emerged from the depths. Meanwhile they had "wandered and wandered," each man thinking that the other knew the way out, until the supply of candles began to fail. Then some one suggested that it was time to go back to the city.

How to get out of the cave was the problem; and after nearly an hour of explorations no clew had been secured. Matters were reaching a climax. Only two small bits of candle remained.

Dakin, of Fine Arts Fakir's fame, was desirous of sketching what would prove a theme for a great painting, "The Last Candle," but this artistic impulse was crushed by the common sense plan of putting out the candle while the band got together to hold a council.

This council, held in absolute darkness, will be ever memorable in the minds of the little band who were present. The leaders in the council were the engineering students, who planned out a new method of reaching the upper world. By following obt the directions of the engineers the mouth of the cave was soon found, to the unbounded joy of those who had been imprisoned in the darkness for so many hours.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE DAILY ORANGE:

Dear Sir:—

A circular letter sent out by the Syracuse University Thomson Club, soliciting the votes of student voters contains the following: "Mr. Thomson is a college man. He has been President of the University Club of this city for several years." In the interest of fair play, I think that you ought to correct this statement in the Daily Orange.

Mr. Thomson is a Cornell man. He was never president of the University Club Dr. John Van Duyn of the faculty of the College of Medicine who is on the Republican ticket for school commissioner, is the president of the Republican Club and has been for some years.

Yours truly,

GEO. H BOND.

The writer by investigation will find that Mr. Thompson is president of the Syracuse University Thompson Club to which the circular letter doubtless refers. The men at the democratic headquarters will doubtless verify this fact

THE ENGLISH PLAY.

Elaborate Preparations for a Great Production—Professor Losey the Leading Character—Competition Conditions.

Arrangements are now under way for the selection of the cast for "King Lear," which is to be given by the English Club in April. Prof. Losey, the coach, yesterday made known the following conditions regarding the competition for parts.

It is necessary that the cast should be selected as soon as possible. As soon as the cast is selected constant training will be commenced and continued as late, probably, as April 1st. Prof. Essor Losey desires to have an understudy for each part in the cast; that is, to have practically two casts in training throughout. In this way nothing in the way of sickness or disability on the part of any member of the cast will hinder the rehearsals or final production

Any student in the University will be permitted to compete, no matter in what college or department that student may be. Each student is to choose the part that he wishes to take and to commit and deliver any twenty-five lines of the part selected. Professor Losey himself is to take the part of Lear, but all other parts are open to competition.

All students desiring to compete must write at once to Prof Losey informing him as to what part they are to try for, and also whether or not they would accept a minor part if one is assigned to them. The coach also wishes to know whether the student competing would be willing to carry on training simply as an understudy.

The preliminary trial will be held in the Chapel of the Hall of Languages Monday and Tuesday evenings Nov. 9 and 10th. The trials on Monday evening will be for the parts of,—Kent, Burgundy, France, Cornwall, Gloster and Edward On Tuesday for,—Fool, Oswald, Edgar, Goneril Regan, Cordelia, Curan, Old Man and the Doctor. The unnamed parts will be assigned later

Professor Losey hopes to have at least one hundred students try for the various parts. The training is to be constant and severe; but will, no doubt amply repay any student for the time spent.

The play of King Lear is a greater undertaking than has yet been attempted either by the English club or any other club in the University. The English department rendered the "Taming of the Shrew" very successfully two years ago, but the difficulties to be overcome were not as great as those over which King Lear must be given. The expense will be greater as King Lear is a much harder play to stage. For this very reason the play has been avoided by professional companies and comparatively few people have ever seen it rendered.

It is thought from this that the play would attract a larger audience than any other which could be given. The expense of a single production will probably be near $700.

At the next meeting of the English club to be held in the Seminary rooms next Tuesday evening further plans will be discussed and permanent committees will be appointed.

GOOD MORNING.

The decision of the English department to give a play, in order to build up their Seminar library, is indeed gratifying. Two years ago "Taming of the Shrew" was presented in the Wieting Opera House with profit and great praise for the English department.

This year the department will present Shakespear's "King Lear." Professor Losey, the indefatigueable, will take the title role: The other characters will be secured by the students through competition. Elaborate preparations have been made assuring great success to the venture.

The Daily Orange wishes the department the fullest measure of success and profit from the play. It also pleads for the heartiest cooperation of the students in supporting the department.

The DAILY ORANGE can be secured from now to Thanksgiving time for the special rate of thirty cents. One of the daily features of the paper will be an account of the preceding day's work of the football men.

FRESHMEN AGAIN MEET SOPHOMORES

A Spirited Contest Expected To-night in the Gymnasium.

An abundance of class spirit will undoubtedly be shown this evening, when at 7:45 o'clock the Sophomores meet the Freshmen for the second of their series of basketball games.

The Sophomores, burning from the defeat of two weeks ago will go into the game with a spirit of do or die. The Freshmen, led by their scrappy little captain, will on the other hand do their utmost to uphold the honor of their class.

A large delegation of underclassmen will doubtless be present to give their teams encouragement and to cheer them on to victory. As at the former games of this series no admission fee will be charged.

The following is the probable line-up:

Sophomores.	Freshmen.
Forwards
Squires, Williams, Dunham, Evans.

HOW OLD IS ANN?

A great deal of discussion has been evoked by the Mary-Ann puzzle propounded in yesterday's Orange:

"Mary is twenty-four years old. Mary is twice as old as Ann is now. How old is Ann?"

Solutions of this problem are already beginning to reach the editor's desk. If you have a solution to offer send it in at once, for it is to the first six who reach the proper answer by a convincing proof that the free two weeks' subscription to the Orange will be given.

The four class debating societies held their regular meetings last night at 7:30 o'clock. Each of the classes was represented by a large number of men, who are deeply interested in this line of work.

The senior society debated on the question, Resolved: That New York State should build a barge canal according to the estimated surveys.

Affirmative—Messrs. Baldrey, Jennings and Templeton.

Negative—Messrs. Ferguson, Heal and McLachlan.

The junior society probed the question, Resolved: That the recent franchise laws passed by the Southern States are justifiable. Affirmative—Messrs. Rice, Rider and W. P. Moody. Negative—Messrs. Spriggs, Pitts and Hartwell.

The Barge Canal question was also sifted out by the sophomores. Affirmative—Packard, Tressler, Wells and Fitch, alternate. Negative—Croft, Bucher, Chedester and Andrews, alternate.

The freshman class is getting into the work with enthusiasm. There are a number of excellent debaters in the 1907 society, and who, with thorough training, will some day make good University team material. The first year men considered the question, Resolved: That our American colleges are at present devoting an inordinate amount of time and attention to athletics. Affirmative—Farrington, Perkins, Phillips and Cadmus, alternate. Negative—Rice, Parks, L. Coit and Woolever, alternate.

The sophomore class, which received a challenge for debate from Alfred University recently, put the matter in Professor Losey's hands. Alfred wishes to debate one of the class teams, and it remains for the Debating Union to determine whether it shall be the sophomore or junior team that will meet the collegians from western New York.

This will be the third national convention that has been held in Syracuse, the others having been held in 1875 and 1895.

There are forty chapters of the fraternity in the various colleges of the country and each chapter will be represented by at least two delegates, the nearer chapters sending a larger number. The fifty-sixth national convention was held last year with the chapter at Vanderbilt University, Memphis, Tenn.

Refreshments were served. There were about one hundred present, and all enjoyed the meeting.

FRESHMAN SOCIETY.

Sigma Theta Chi, the girls' freshman society, has chosen the following women from the class of 1907: Miss Frances V. Baldwin, Miss Gertrude Haskins, Miss Laura Wilbor, Miss Imogene Partridge, Miss Gladys Dryer, Miss Beulah Johnson, Miss Virginia Emmons Miss Genevieve Clarke, Miss Jennie Snyder, Miss Marion Edwards, Miss Mildred Webb and Miss Avery.

Professor Hill and wife and Miss Edwards were recently entertained at Solon, N. Y., by Miss Elizabeth Hathaway. It is said that Miss Hathaway is the owner of the finest collection of old masterpieces in this country.

PUNTS AND PASSES.

The Varsity is not given hard, gruelling work this week because the coaches do not wish to have any more Varsity men on the hospital list.

Captain O'Neill and Rutherford, the star quarters, are on the hospital list with Seward Rice, the big guard. It is probable that Twombly or Burrell will be used as quarter in the game with Niagara this Saturday.

The line men are improving daily, and with the Saturday game for practice it is hoped the whole team will be in shape for the Yale game, November, 7th.

It is a question whether Burrill will not displace Lane at end for the Yale game. Burrill is playing a faster, and what is just as important, a much cleaner game than Lane. The Williams and Alumni games proved these conclusively.

It is expected that Niagara will be shut out by a good score this Saturday.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Mr. J. M. Beatty of the Sweet Steel Co. will lecture today at ten o'clock before the Industrial Chemistry class on "The Manufacture of Steel."

Richard Burton, Ph. D. will lecture upon The Modern Novel in Assembly Hall, Saturday October 31st, at 8 p. m. Mr. Burton comes under the auspices of the Round Table, an organization whic we remember has extended many courtesies, and that thought together with the educational value of the lecture ought to insure a generous patronage from the Hill.

NOTICES.

The report in the Orange yesterday that the students could get copies of the latest University Bulletin, was a mistake. There is only a limited number of copies and these are for the faculty and alumni. Dean Smalley and the registrar wish this fact distinctly understood.

The Onondagan Board of the Junior class will meet a week from next Tuesday evening at Miss Tobin's home in 117 College Place.

The Biological Association meets next Monday at 7:30 o'clock in Steele Hall. Subject is "Some practical phases of biological work."

Chemole will make you grow fat, give you an appetite and strength, $1.00 at Larned & Barker's.

Wendell's Courage Pills cure all diseases arising from a poor and watery condition of the blood, 50c. at Larned & Barker's.

A meeting of the senior class will be held immediately after chapel this morning, J. HEAL, President.

Any subscriber who does not get his Daily Orange delivered on time, or has any complaint to make of the service please send a postal to the Business Manager, and it will be attended to at once.

All must realize that we cannot give perfect or first class service to everyone the first year. We are doing our best, and hope for your co-operation in bettering the service.

Several reference reading books have not been seen in the Historical Seminar Library for some time. If anyone has taken any of these books from the library and failed to return them he should do so at once.

GOOD MORNING.

It is never the purpose of the Orange to find fault with the practices of the students without good cause. Still, in consideration to our subscribers it is necessary to express a warning to a few men who take the liberty every morning of appropriating property which is not their own. Papers are taken from their places in the post-office box, read and in many cases not returned. This is a gross injustice to those who pay for the privilege of having the paper.

The student who indulges in this sort of thing is the one who never gives a thought as to the rights of others. The university has no patience with such an element. The Daily Orange may publish the names of such students any day.

ORANGE PEALS.

BY J. D. K.

Knocker—Don't you know that every cigarette you smoke is a nail in your coffin?

Mocker—Yes, and I know that you are always around with your little hammer to drive them in.

Angeline—Is Madge sorry she married a football player?

Seraphine—No, she takes him shopping with her and she can get right up to any bargain counter in town.

"My, but I'm hungry," said the student who cooks his own meals.

"Didn't you say that you had two meals a day?" asked his friend.

"Yes, I do. Oatmeal and cornmeal."—Exchange.

News Gathered From Various Colleges of the Country.

College graduates who are competent engineers are wanted in the Philippine Islands, according to a letter received recently at the University of Illinois, from Mr. J. W. Beardsley, consulting engineer to the Commission of the Philippine Islands. Men who intend to study engineering will be interested to learn that the salary paid there to recent gaaduates is generally about $1,200 to $1,400. Among other things Mr, Beardsley says: "Existing conditions render promotions rapid for the right class of men. The demand is for results rather than theories. The government is now engaged in, or contemplating in the near future, various works along the line of harbor improvements, difficult location and construction of highways and railroads, electrical development of water powers, a few electric roads and some large drainage, sewer and waterworks problems." A Chinese lecturer at Stanford recently told of similar opportunities for college graduates in the far Orient.

The Junior ladies at the University of Minnesota on all class assemblies are accompanied by a little fox terrier whose sides are painted in red with the class numerals. The mascot does not object to the unusual decoration.

SYRACUSE MEETS NIAGARA TODAY.

Orange Eleven Should Win by a Fair Score--All or 'Varsity Will Not Play -- Yale Next.

The game between the Syracuse Varsity and the collegians from Western New York will be called at 3 o'clock sharp. It is not expected to be such a gruelling contest as either of the last two struggles.

Coaches Parrish and Brown have rested up their men this week, for today's game is considered more in the line of practice work

Niagara recently played her best game against the University of Buffalo, and was beaten 15 to 0.

The probable line-up of the Syracuse and Niagara elevens follows:

SYRACUSE.	NIAGARA.
Left end.
Lane	Lowney
Left tackle
Harwood	Taylor
Left guard
Moore	McNerny
Center
McMickle	Snyder
Right guard
Van Duser	Fleming
Right tackle
Tucker	McGrath
Right end
Boland	Mollen
Quarterback
Twombly, Burrell	O'Rourke
Left halfback
Schade	Bennis
Right halfback
Park, Parker	Moore
Fullback
Curtiss, Crawford	Smith, Burke

Kilfall, substitutes

The interest of the entire student body is now beginning to center Sn the Yale game next Saturday, The coaches hope to put the best eleven of the seafon against the Blue Eleven at New Haven. The following facts will show briefly what Syracuse is going up against.

Assuming that Batchelder will play right guard for Yale next Saturday in the only position which is unsettled on the team, the wearers of the Blue and their weights as they will line up are as follows:

Left end, Captain Rafferty, 165; left tackle, Kinney, 209; left guard, Morton, 210; center. Roraback, 218; right guard, Batchelder, 220; right tackle, Hogan, 205; right end, Shevlin, 188; quarterback Rockwell, 145; left halfback, Owsley, 178; right halfback, Metcalf, 170; fullback, Bowman, 175. This is 26 pounds heavier than the regular lineup, with Bloomer at right guard. It brings the eleven fully up to Yale's giant team of last year. At present the heaviest man on the squad is Batchelder, but that is because he has not played regularly.

Roraback is nominally entitled to the honor of champion heavyweight of the squad, as he tipped the scales at 250 when he returned to college this fall.

CERCLE FRANCAIS.

The Cercle Francais, of the Liberal Arts College, met Wednesday evening for the second time this year. A short business session was held, after which Prof. Patterson gave an interesting talk in French on student life in Grenoble. One of the greatest universities of France is situated in that city, and it is at that university that Prof. Patterson received this dectorate this year. That is also the university at which Prof. Cabeen is now doing some special work.

Prof. Patterson said that the French universitites differ in many respects from our own. All French students have their bachelor's degree before entering the university. The degrees given by the university are those of licentiate and doctor, the former being about equal to our A. M. Instruction is altogether by lectures, and when the professor enters the lecture room all the students arise respectfully. Wine and beer are prominent factors in French student clubs

Grenoble is surrounded by magnificent mountain peaks, which are clad with snow all the year around. In these mountains there are many delightful excursion ; but none is so popular as that to the Monastery of La Grande Chartreuse. This was the greatest monastery of the Carthusian order and one of the finest in the world. It has now ceased to exist. Prof. Patterson was in Grenoble when the monks were driven out, and for a time the eyes of all nations were turned upon that city.

Twelve or fifteen new members signed the constitution, giving the club at present 40 members. The next meeting will be held in two weeks at 112 Comstock Ave., the home of Miss Clarke.

ORANGE PROBLEM SOLVED.

The problem which was published in the Daily Orange of October 28th aroused much interest among the mathematical students on the Hill The very first day five correct answers were submitted. The following sent in the first six correct answers. The successful contestants are entitled to a two weeks' free subscription of the Daily Orange.

EDITOR DAILY ORANGE:—

Mary is 24 years old. Mary is twice as old as Ann was when Mary was as old as Ann is now. How old is Ann?

Let x represent the number of years ago that it was when Mary was as old as Ann is now.

At that time Ann must have been twelve years of age, since according to the problem she was then one half as old as Mary is at present.

Now 24-x was Mary's age x years ago, and 12 plus x is Ann's present age.

But x years ago Mary was as old as Ann is now.

Therefore 25-x equals 12 plus x.

Whence x equals 6.

Therefore Ann was twelve years of age six years ago.

Therefors she is now 18 years of age.

October 28, 1903.

ERNEST H. SUMNER '03.

EDITOR SYRACUSE DAILY ORANGE:—

The problem given in your paper of this morning is solved as follows:

Let x equal Ann's age at the present time.

Then x equals Mary's age at the previous time mentioned.

24 years equals Mary's age at the present time

24 minus x equals number of years ago when the terms of the problem were fulfilled.

x minus (24 minus x) equals 2x minus 24 equals Ann's age at that time.

But by terms of the problem, Ann's age at that time was one-half of 24 years, or 12 years.

2x minus 24 equals 12.

2x equals 36.

x equals 18 years, Ann's age now.

Sincerely

P. A. CARPENTER '04.

611 Irving ave., Oct. 28, 1903.

The other four solved by similar methods were sent in by Floyd M. Fernald '05, L. S. Colt '07, Robert Simpson '07 and F. E. Seymour, 1904.

GOOD MORNING.

The custom of having an annual Alumni-Varsity football game is excellent. If the games are properly conducted, the benefits to the University and Alumni will in increase as time goes on. The recent game however did not assist greatly in fostering the good derived from such contests. Why? Because in the first place the disabled captain of the varsity eleven was referee. As such he aided his team very materially in winning. In the second place there was some dirty playing done by some of the varsity. The result is that several of our best alumni who played in the game, and some who witnessed it are a unit in disapproving of future games under such treatment.

It is earnestly to be hoped that such things will never occur again, and that the alumni-varsity game will continue to be an annual affair.

Several reports have reached the Orange management that an impression is being created that the Orange is a partisan publication. We wish to emphatically deny this. Nowhere in any issue can be found any expression which can by any interpretation be said to favor any political party or organization. Representatives from one of the leading political parties recently made a contract for space which was sold to them as it would be to any other reputable organization, political or otherwise, would be shown the same consideration. Any thoughtful person must realize that a daily college newspaper cannot be run on the money received from subscribers, alone, especially is this true in Syracuse University.

STUDENTS: John A. Wente is a first class tailor doing business at 250 James Street. His work is guaranteed to be satisfactory. Give him a trial for your fall suit.

A VICTORY EASILY WON.

Syracuse Rolls Up 47 Points on Niagara--Burrell the Star of the Game--The Lineup.

Before fifteen hundred spectators the collegians from Western New York were easily defeated by the Orange eleven.

The game was called at 3:15 with Mr. E. H. Southworth of Harvard, and Mr. M. Tarpey of Niagara officiating.

Captain O'Rourke kicked off for the Blue and White men. "Speedy" Burrell returned with the ball fifteen yards. With speed and precision the ball was passed to Curtiss, Schade or Parker, who circled the ends or hurdled the line for four, six or eight yards at a time. The Niagara line was like so much paper before the Orange onslaught. Parker made a final dash of twelve yards and planted the pigskin behind Niagara's goal line. Boland kicked the goal. Score 6 to 0 in favor of Syracuse. Time elapsed, three minutes and forty seconds.

Burrell kicked off to Niagara. The western boys got together, and on a few trick plays ran the ball for twenty yards up the field. Syracuse held for downs. Schade skirted left end for twelve yards, followed by Parker around right end for ten. Curtiss within ten yards of the Blue and White goalhurdled and bucked the line twice, and added another five points. Boland kicked the goal. Score 12 to 0.

Burrell kicked off. Niagara was soon forced to punt, O'Rourke booting the ball for forty yards. Burrell ran the ball back fifteen yards. By fast play on the part of the Orange backs and Van Duser and Tucker, five more points were tallied. Boland assisted with a goal. Score 18 to 0.

During the remainder of the game Syracuse had everything her own way. The final score was 47 to 0.

Bob Park, "Speedy" Sechner and Farrington did splendid work in the second half.

The line-up was:

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Mr. Frederick Thompson, the Democratic nominee for mayor, visited at the various fraternity houses after the Niagara game Saturday.

The sophomores have hazed several freshmen during the past two weeks. The usual thing they do is to lead the 1907 innocent to the dark recesses of the Davis estate, and there make him perform stunts to their satisfaction. After several performances and in due season the unlucky individual is allowed to go his way.

On the city Republican ticket is the name of T. Aaron Levy for school commissioner. The Republican party is to be congratulated on this choice as well as Syracuse University, of which he is an alumnus. A better representative of sincerity and justice is not met with ordinarily. As a student Mr. Levy has made an enviable record for himself and as present instructor in the law department he has shown unusual ability.

Last year the students living in Winchell Hall voted to hold a fancy dress party for Hallowe'en every year.

The party for this year took place Friday night. The parlors were very tastefully decorated with autumn foliage and jack-'o-lanterns. The costumes were very original and excited a great deal of amusement.

After the usual games for Hallowe'en refreshments were served in the dining room.

On Friday evening the members of the Orange Club entertained their friends at an old fashioned Hallowe'en party. Nearly forty ladies were present to enjoy the "Journey of the Spooks, the old time dances and the ghost stories told by the light of the jack-'o-lanterns.

The students of the University are cordially invited to attend a dancing party given Monday Nov. 2, by the Kensington Club at Freeman Hall.

Professor Metzler and Professor Roe were in New York attending the October meeting of the American Mathematical Society last Friday and Saturday.

The members of the local chapter of Phi Delta Theta held a banquet in honor of the Freshmen delegation last Friday evening at the chapter house, 716 Irving Ave.

BASKETBALL.

Because of the illness of several sophomore players the second basket-ball game of the season between the two underclasses was not played last Thursday evening, as was advertised. An exhibition game was played instead which resulted 37 to 6 in favor of the freshmen. The postponed game will be played sometime this week.

FRESHMAN DEBATING SOCIETY.

At the meeting of the Freshman Debating Society held in the Hall of Languages last Thursday evening the following officers were elected: President, R. N. Campbell; vice-president, A. L. Wells; secretary, B. F. Corbin and treasurer, R. S. Perkins. Messrs. Woolever and Perkins were elected members of the Debating Union.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI.

Mrs Abeles of Rochester spent two days of last week with her niece Carolyne Abeles '07 of Winchell Hall.

The following students living in Winchell Hall spent Sunday at their respective homes: Hazel Thorpe '04, Helen Potter '06, Beulah Johnson '07, Janette Howarth '07, Genevieve Silliman '07, and Lila Clark '07.

Mrs. S. A. Grove of Buffalo who has been the guest of her daughter, Eula Grove, for a few days has returned home.

Miss Harriet Marsh of Verona is the guest of Miss Lena Baldwin '06 at Winchell Hall.

Miss Anna Sears '03, library course, has recently received an appointment to catalogue the books of the Ritchfield library, which was owned by set of prominent persons of that place, but has now been thrown open to the public. The cataloguing will occupy at least three months.

The undergraduate student body of Syracuse University will be spread over a wide extent of territory for the next three days, since a great many men have gone to their homes to vote.

Harry J. Wecks, '03, coach of the Hobart football team was in the city Friday looking for an official for Hobarts game with Hamilton Saturday.

Rev. R. Alfred Waite, '01, addresed the Epworth League Convention at Apulia, N. Y., yesterday afternoon.

Lynn Maxon, '04-ex, visited at the Deke chapter house recently.

William Loughrea, '05-ex, is visiting on the Hill.

OTHER COLLEGE NEWS.

The subject for the coming Yale-Harvard debate is: "Resolved, That the history of trades unionism in the United States for the past twenty years shows a general tendency detrimental in the best interests of the country.

The Dramatic Club at the University of Minnesota decided Friday to present during the coming year the old morality play "Everyman."

Dean Van Amringe, of Columbia University, in his annual report issued recently, pleaded in favor of refixing the college curriculum at three years, the first two to be obligatory for all students, and the third given not to professional or semi-professional subjects, but to further study in the liberal arts and science. The modifications Dean Van Amringe proposes, would not, he thinks, destroy the American college. In closing the dean says: "It would be a melancholy outcome if, in efforts to minimize the time repuired for an A.B. degree Columbia University should be subverted, or degraded into a mere vestibule to a professional school."

GOOD MORNING.

News has appeared from time to time in the Daily Orange, both editorial and otherwise, that has caused more or less comment. During last week two articles were printed which caused much talk in a certain quarter.

The Orange stands for fair play in every line of college activity. In standing by this principle we desire to further the best interests of Syracuse University. Therefore, we wish it distinctly understood that the point of view taken in the case cited was not from prejudice against any players.

We are at all times willing and ready to support the football eleven and the coaches. Also to get others to do the same. Further, we think we have looked to its best interests in the past. We shall continue to aid all good University institutions and activities to the best of our ability in the future. We sincerely hope to have the best sentiment with us in so doing.

The dean of women at the University of Iowa each Saturday leads her fair students for a "University Walk." The women need more exercise, thinks Dean Young. In a lecture on "Hygiene" recently given before the women at Iowa, Dr. Leora Johnson declared that an American girl was easily recognized in Europe "by her talk and her erect walk, and her neat, stylish appearance."

News Gathered From Various Colleges of the Country.

At chapel service last week at Butler College, Indianapolis, some designing students smeared the seats usually occupied by the faculty with liquid glue. When President Butler and members of the faculty took their places their trousers became glued fast to the seats. In a few moments consternation overcame the dignified body. President Butler led his associates in separating himself from the choir and making for the door. The faculty returned in a few moments reattired. The perpetrators of the joke have not been found out. What action will be taken is not known.

A general athletic committee was formed recently at Yale. This is the first time in ten years that there has been one.

"Hello, Banks, back again from the lakes, hey? Well, did you marry that heiress you were in such hot pursuit of when I saw you last?"

"No, I happened to pick up a lot of comic papers and I found out that the heiresses one met at a summer resort were always waiters in quick lunch restaurants when their vacation was over. So I went in for a girl that was passing herself off for a waiter girl sent over to the lake by a fresh air fund. I just figured out that she was the real thing in disguise and that she was worth about 'steen million."

"Well, what about it?"

"O, she's back working in the restaurant."

"And where are you?"

Remarkable Engine Feat.

An engine used in some works in Syracuse, N. Y., is stated, upon very reliable authority, to have recently completed a continuous run of 22 months. During the whole of this period it had never once been stopped, and since the speed was 250 revolutions per minute this engine performed the astonishing total of some 241,000,000 revolutions without a stop. As is well known, it is seldom that an engine is run for a week without being given a rest for some slight examination of its parts, although, of course, the engines on liners and warships run, at times, for as much as three weeks without stopping.

Yale Game a Hard Proposition —The Blue Eleven Greatly Outweighs the Orange--Probable Lineup.

The Varsity men have only two more days for practice before they leave for New Haven. The game this Saturday is the hardest on the schedule but the students expect the Orange eleven to make a good showing. The football contingent leaves for New Haven to-morrow night.

Last year the eleven was in a crippled condition when it met the crack Blue eleven, but made an enviable record. This season the Varsity will go into the game without their little general, Captain O'Neill. His shoulder is unable to stand the strain of a fiercely fought contest, so he will be saved for the great game with Brown on November 14.

Rutherford and Rice are rounding into shape and hope to play the game this Saturday to the best of their ability. Rice may be tried at center.

Coaches Parrish and Brown are giving the individual players much attention, with excellent results. It is expected Yale will win by a fair score, but every man on the Orange eleven is going in to win the game for Syracuse.

The probable lineup for Saturday will be:

Left end, Lane.
Right end, Boland.
Left tackle, Harwood.
Right tackle, Tucker.
Left guard, Moore.
Right guard, VanDuser.
Quarterback, Burrell, Rutherford.
Left halfback, Schade.
Right halfback, Park, Parker.
Fullback, Curtiss.

The average weight of Yale is 191 pounds, and that of Syracuse 177.

MONX HEAD.

Monx Head, the Junior class fraternity, will hold its initiation and banquet in honor of the 1905 members, this evening.

The members of 1904 in Monx Head are Walter Bayliss, Arthur L. Evans, J. Robert Rubin, Irving R. Templeton, Gilbert Wildman, Carl P. Wright and Robert Young. The most successful Junior promenade ever given was that conducted last December at the Alhambra by Monx Head.

The initiates from 1905 are Frank M. Bohr, George A. Wendt, Edward S. Greenland, Harry D. Yard, Arthur Distin, Frank E. Brundage and Erle L. Ackley.

The Junior Prom will be held this year as usual under the direction of Monx Head. The members of 1905 expect to make it a greater success than ever before. It probably will be held about the middle of December.

THE DEBATING UNION.

The first meeting for the year of the Debating Union was held Monday afternoon in the Hall of Languages. It was the first meeting attended by the new representatives from the various classes, and it also served as the last meeting of the retiring members.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, G. K. Warren, '04; vice president, Fred Pitts, '05; treasurer, W. P. Moody, '05; secretary, J. C. Tressler, '06.

The models for the medals won last year were exhibited and accepted. The medals will be ordered immediately and it is expected that they will be ready for distribution in about a month. The design was adopted, and all medals awarded hereafter will be made after this design.

The matter of inter-class debates was discussed. It was decided to hold the sophomore-freshman contest earlier this year than last, so as to give ample time for the two other debates in the series. The '06-'07 debate will take place immediately after the holidays. Prof. Losey will make arrangements at once for the preliminary trials.

The matter of the debate with Alfred which was brought up is treated fully in another column.

The members of this year's Debating Union are: F. D. Losey, Faculty Adviser; G. K. Warren, '04; A. A. L. Baldrey, '04; Fred Pitts, '05; W. P. Moody, '05; J. C. Tressler, '06; A. J. Croft, '06; W. J. Parks, '07; Woolever, '07.

ELECTION OF ASSISTANT MANAGERS.

The regular meeting of the Athletic Governing Board of the University was held Monday evening. Nominations for manager and assistant manager of baseball, commodore and assistant commodore of the navy, and assistant manager for track are to be handed in at once to the treasurer, Mr. W. W. Porter.

The election to these offices will occur Thursday, November 19. It is hoped there be no cause for delaying election this year, on account of an insufficient number of names being handed in.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI.

Miss Blanche Merritt of Buffalo, who has spending several days with her sister, Maude Merritt, '07, at Winchell Hall, has returned home.

Mr. George H. Smith, '02-ex, has returned to college to take up work in the Law College.

Mrs. Justus M. Scrafford, '01, of New York, has been spending the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Park Sager, 111 College Place.

Miss Bergette Moran, '06, is spending a few days at Lyons, N. Y., with her parents.

R. Maurice Hawn, '04-ex, in the course in painting, is visiting in the city.

Dr. A. E. Preston, Philadelphia Dental '92, visited Lloyd L. Cheney the past few days.

Fred Graff, jr., '06-ex, called upon friends on the Hill recently.

Robert C. Farrington, '03-ex, visited at 113 College Place, Monday.

BASKETBALL.

Prospects for Winning Team —Freshmen Meet Cazenovia Saturday.

All those who have been following the work of the basbetball players are enthusiastic. A large number of good men are present at each practice and every day's work shows a marked improvement in form and speed.

Captain Housekuecht has succeeded in enthusing his men and is developing in them the qualities which are bound to make a winning 'Varsity team. The work of the freshmen candidates is particularly gratifying. Their work as individuals and as a team has been of such good quality that the management has arranged a game between them and Cazenovia, to be played in the gymnasium on Saturday evening of this week.

Cazenovia has made a great record in basketball during the past two years, and will undoubtedly be represented by a very strong team. However, the freshmen are confident of winning, and will try the harder to roll up a good score in the hope of outdoing the Cornell freshmen who will meet Cazenovia during the following week.

There will be a special practice tonight for the benefit of the freshman team. A strong team picked from the other three classes will meet them in a practice game. The management hopes that a large number of freshmen will show their interest in their team by their presence at practice and at the game on Saturday evening.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY.

Minot Savage, the famous New England scholar and preacher, will preach in the May Memorial Church this evening. A sermon in mid-week! None but a great preacher could expect to secure and hold an audience at such a time; but Minot Savage is recognized as a great preacher. He ranked with Phillips Brooks and Edward Everett Hale as one of the foremost preachers in New England during the nineties.

In a recent "Little Journey to the Homes of Great Orators," the following tribute is paid him:

"Emerson says that if you know a clergyman's sect and behold his livery, in spite of all his show of approaching the subject without prejudice, you know beforehand exactly to what conclusion he will come. This is what robs most sermons of their interest. Preaching like humor, must have in it the elememt of surprise.

"I remember with what a thrill of delight I would watch Minot Savage unwind his logic and then gently weave it into a fabric. The man was not afaid to follow a reason to its lair. He had a way of saying a thing for the first time—it came as a personal message, contradicting, possibly, all that had been said before on the subject, oblivious of precedent

"I once saw a man with a line around his waist leap from a stranded ship into the sea, and strike out boldly for the shore. The thrill of admiration for the act was unforgetable. The joy of beholding a strong and valiant thinker plunge into a theme is an event. Will he make the shore? Or will he go down in defeat before these thousands of spectators?

"When Minot Savage ceased to speak you knew he had won—he had brought the line safely to shore and made all secure."

The girls of the Pink House, 202 Euclid Avenue, entertained informally last Monday evening.

GOOD MORNING.

Everyone who has seen the freshman basketball team play admits that the '07 team is the best freshman team that has represented the college in recent years. Some even contend that no Syracuse 'Varsity team has surpassed it.

Many of those who have witnessed the brilliant work of this team have commented on the comparative indifference of their classmates. The previous games in which the freshmen have appeared have been well advertised. There has been a notable absence of green caps in the crowd of onlookers.

The class of '07 has acquired a reputation of having a goodly amount of class spirit. Would not this reputation be enhanced by the presence of a large number of enthusiastic wearers of the green at the Cazenovia game on Saturday evening?

To end the freshman-sophomore troubles at the University of Indiana, a committee of arbitration, made up from members of both classes, recently signed the following agreement: First: that hair cutting should be altogether discontinued and not admitted as a university custom; second: that all scrapping should close until February 22.

Strange Siamese Custom.

They have a novel method in Siam of getting rid of the bodies of paupers and criminals. In one of the temples is kept a flock of a hundred vultures, and the bodies, instead of being buried or burned, are given to them as food. As soon as they catch sight of a body the rapacious creatures gather around it, and it only takes them a minute or two to pick all the flesh off it. A repugnant sight it is, but, according to Siamese physicians, it is an excellent sanitary measure. The soil of Siam, they point out, is generally moist, and hence it is much better that bodies should be treated in this way than replaced in the ground, for, if buried, they would surely prove more or less of a menace to the public health. After the vultures have finished their feast the skeletons are placed in wooden boxes and burned.—N. Y. Herald.

Japan's "Insect Bells."

Among the natural curiosities of Japan are its singing insects. Lafcadio Hearn has described and praised them in one of his books on Japanese life, and now it is reported that Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister at Washington, intends to import some of these insect musicians into this country. Mrs. Takahira is reported to have said that none of our song birds give her half the pleasure and comfort that the singing insects of her own country afford. The most prized of these tiny musicians is a black beetle named "susumushi," which means "insect bell." The sound that it emits resembles that of a little silver bell of the sweetest and most delicate tone.—Nature.

Freezing Fish Alive.

A remarkable project is to be put into operation at Tacoma, Ore. The scheme is to freeze fish alive, to ship them to eastern markets and then, by thawing them, to restore them to life. The chief care to be observed is that the cold shall not exceed 14 degrees below freezing point, and that when in a frozen condition the fish shall not be exposed to the sun. The idea is based upon an act of nature in some of the rivers and lakes in Alaska. These bodies of water freeze solid from surface to bottom during the winter. The ice is filled with fish, which return to life in the summer.

A Monster Clam.

In Alaskan waters is found a monster clam, the "geoduck," one of which would afford a meal for several persons; not so large, however, as the great tridacna and its species, which weighs, with its two valves, 500 pounds, the animal alone weighing 30. This shell, though common in California, is from the equatorial regions of the Pacific, where, buried in the soft rock, its viselike jaws partly open, it is a menace to the natives who wade along the reefs searching for shells.

Phrenologist and Grocer.

Phrenologist—Here is a man out of his proper sphere. His head betokens high intellectual and spiritual qualities, yet he is spending his time behind a grocer's counter. Sir (to the grocer), I wish to ask you a question. Have you any aspirations—

Grocer (calling to clerk)—John, have we any aspirations?

"All out, sir. Have some in the last of the week."—Kansas City Journal.

A Lost Frenchman.

Some 64 miles off the coast of Tunis a cluster of little islands has been discovered. One was found to be inhabited by a former French sergeant, Clement, who had disappeared some 14 years ago, and a small number of natives. The islands have been annexed by France, and Clement appointed resident inspector of fishing and of the harbor, registrar and teacher.—London News.

One View of It.

"Englishmen are forever saying that 'the sun never sets on the British empire.' What do you think of that?"

"I think they say that because it's so foggy in London they really can't tell whether the sun sets or not."

N. PENDERGAST.

VOL. I. NO. 44. SYRACUSE, N. Y., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

VARSITY OFF FOR NEW HAVEN.

Preparations for a Great Send Off—Most of the Men in Good Shape.

Preparations are being made to give the Varsity eleven the greatest send-off in the history of Syracuse. The men leave for New Haven at 10:30 o'clock this evening from the New York Central station.

President George S. Hares will call a short meeting of the Athletic Association at chapel time today. The committees which will have charge of arrangements for the send-off will be appointed at this time.

It is intended to have all the students meet in front of Liberal Arts College at 8:30 o'clock this evening and march to the station: or have all meet in front of the University Block at 10 p.m. and proceed to the station. The plan which seems the better will be announced this morning.

A number of enthusiastic students, mostly upperclassmen, will take the trip with the eleven, coaches and manager. The football squad will probably stop at Hartford for some preliminary practice. Most of the men are in good condition to stand the long trip.

Every man in the University is expected to be down to see the football contingent off for New Haven.

ETA PI UPSILON.

The senior young ladies' society held its initiation and banquet at the Vanderbilt last evening. The society has eight members from the junior class initiated in the June preceding their senior year.

The June initiates from 1904 were the Misses Sadie Rumrill, Anna Telfer, Ella Bohr, Adelaide Wheeler, Grace Baird, Lina Jennings, Florence Distin and Alice Matthews.

The initiates of last evening from 1904 are the Misses Anna Rice, Gertrude Scholes, Julia Babcock, Jennie Brown, Minnie Mickle, Molly Barker, Evelyn Waterbury, Beatrice Throop.

The following toast list was responded to last evening: "Class of 1904," Miss Minnie Mickle; "Phi Kappa Alpha" Miss Julia Babcock; "Eta Pi Upsilon," Miss Anna Rice; "The Initiates," Miss Evelyn Waterbury; "Prophecy," Miss Molly Barker; "Cap and Gown," Miss Gertrude Scholes; "Senior Dinner Club," Miss Beatrice Throop; "Miscellaneous," Miss Jennie Brown.

THE DRAG RIDE.

The following enjoyed a drag ride to Green Lake on election day. Messrs. Madden '05, Robertson '05, Remer '06, Fred Jones, S. B. Smith '06, R. S. Smith '06, Harrison '06, Graves '07, and Misses Colvin '04, Best '05, Green '05, Grant '05, Wholahan '06, Burt '06, Wholahan '07, Johnson '07.

EXTRACT FROM REPORT OF F. S. BROCKMAN

FOR YEAR ENDING SEPTEMBER 30, 1902.

FACTS OF ENCOURAGEMENT.

1. The whole work has been successfully reorganized. Korea and Hong Kong have united with China in an international movement The city Associations, the work for the literati, and the college associations including the student volunteer movement have been brought under the supervision of a General Committee composed of representative Christian leaders both foreign and native.

2. A central office has been opened in Shanghai with facilities for carrying on an extensive correspondence in English and Chinese. It is now possible to keep in constant touch with the Associations, a thing which has not heretofore been done and yet which is probably more needed in China than in any other country.

3. A publication department has been established under the direction of Mr. D. W. Lyon, whose experience in Association work, command of the Chinese language, and literary ability admirably fit him for this important post. "The Chinees Intercollegian," which has been discontinued since the Boxer war, has been resumed and enlarged and improved, and is published under the name of "China's Young Men." A larger number of books and pamphlets on Bible study, Association work, and the devotional life have been issued during the year than during the whole previous history of the movement in China.

4. The past year has been a great impulse given to evangelistic effort throughout the Empire. The influence of the Nankin Convention in this direction was powerful. The evangelistic meetings conducted by Mr. Torrey were large in immediate results but perhaps greatest in their influence by setting object lessons for other Christian workers through the Empire.

5. In the city Associations buildings or rooms have been secured for Tientsin and Hong Kong. Shanghai is perfecting plans for securing the funds to greatly enlarge the equipment of both the Chinese and foreign branches.

Continued tomorrow.

THE HERALD.

No. 2 of volume XXXII of the Syracuse University Herald has just appeared. The first number is a poem by Arthur Fremont Rider entitled "Seen from a Trolley Car." This is followed by "Christy Swanson, a story of the plains by Lawrence A. Wilkins. The poem which was awarded the prize offered by Rev. William Harmon Van Allen, '90, of Boston, Mass., appears in this issue. It is entitled "De Sancto Stephano" and was written by Jennie Elizabeth Gilbert. "Fort Stanwix and the Flag" by Ida Louise Reveley, and "His Sister's Victim" by J. E. G. are the next two articles. C. Fred Phillips contributes another clever article on "The Philosophy of a College Dooley."

The rest of the issue is made up of alumni, personal, and exchange news, together with a review of the month.

THE JUNIOR PROM.

Mons Head, the Junior class fraternity, has decided on Thursday, December 10, as the day on which the Prom will be held at the Alhambra. Preparations are being made to accommodate two hundred couples.

THE FRESHIE SONGSTER

The freshman who, by his singing, entertained the rushing party at the Tri-Delta House last Thursday evening delivered an address at the meeting of the Debating Union the other afternoon. He chose for his subject that of the medals that were won by the members of the various debating teams last year. Considering the fact that this was the first meeting of the Union, and especially that the subject under discussion did not concern him or the class he represents this young man's precocity is somewhat remarkable.

THE ALFRED DEBATE.

The Debating Union has definitely decided to send a team representing the Sophomore Debate Club to debate with Alfred University.

The club which sent the challenge is the oldest debating club in the university and has an enviable reputation. It holds a splendid record of over fifty years in debating work.

The challenge as first sent was for an intercollegiate debate, but Prof. Losey replied refusing to accept it on those grounds. The challenge accepted Monday was then sent. It provides for an intersociety debate, the team to be sent from here to Alfred at the expense of the Alfred club and to be entertained while there. Alfred is to submit two questions for consideration from which Prof. Losey will choose the question and name the side which the sophomores will uphold. The exact date of the contest is not yet known.

It was not decided at the meeting Monday whether or not the team which will represent '06 at Alfred will be the same one which will debate in the sophomore-freshman debate in January.

This is the first time that a class debating team has ever been sent from this university to debate a team representing a club from any other university. In fact, no class team has ever held an outside debate in the history of the college. This shows the increased interest which is being takan in debating work.

The English Club was addressed by Dr. Tilley at its second regular meeting held in theSeminar room Tuesdays evening. The subject from which he spoke was "The Norman Conquest and its results on the English Language and Literature." Dr. Tilley gave a very able address tracing the English language both spoken and written through the three centuries just following the Norman conquest.

The president appointed the following committees for the year:

Executive—Miss Edith M. Packard '97, Miss Mary J. Hasbrouck '00, Miss Florence M. Giles '05, Roy Allen '04, Arthur Rider '05, Frank A. Paterson, ex-officio.

Refreshments—Miss Coffin '04, chairman, Miss Williams '04.

Membership—O. J. Brown '06, chairman, Miss Ward, Miss Bertha G. Cleveland.

Library—Miss Mary L. Cook '05, chairman, Miss Bessie J. Hook '04, Miss Emily Johnson '94, Miss Louise Dahlmann '06, Miss Carpenter.

From the number that have already signified their intention to compete for parts in the cast of King Lear it is thought that the competition will be very keen. It is hoped, however, that a great many more will come out to compete. This will greatly help the management in staging the play.

The next meeting of the club will be held in the Seminar room.

NOTICES.

All names that are handed to the University treasurer, W. W. Porter, for nominations to the various assistant managerships should be accompanied by the names of two persons as a recommendation.

The regular meeting of the Prohibition Club will be held this evening at 8 p. m. in the gymnasium. Either Dr. Coit of the Baptist Church or Dr. C. C. Wilbor will address the meeting.

The regular meeting of the Historical Association will be held Saturday, November 7, at 7:30 p. m. in the Seminar room.

Colonel Verbeck will give a very interesting address on "Japan."

Students should bear in mind that the Historical Seminar Room is used by the class in Recent European History at the 12 o'clock period on Wednesdays.

The next meeting of the Classical Club will be held Thursday evening, November 5th, in the Classical Seminar room. Dr. Bushnell will address the meeting. Several matters of interest will come before the club, and every member is requested to be present.

GOOD MORNING.

The Varsity eleven will leave for New Haven at 10:30 this evening. This means that every student in the University should be at the New York Central station a half hour before, to sing and cheer previous to the teams departure.

Saturday the eleven plays the hardest game on the football schedule. There are some fortunate enoug to go, and witness the game. Also to aid by their cheering on the Y le field. But their number is small.

It is permitted everyone however, the opportunity of being present to see the fellows off, and show them we are behind them as we always have been. The season has not been one of the best, but we can aid the men to make a splendid finish.

Today at chapel President George Hares will appoint committees to take charge of the send-off. Let every man cooperate with the committee, and all join in giving the eleven the greatest and most enthusiastic send-off that was ever witnessed in Syracuse.

ORANGE PEALS.

It rained and rained for many a day
And ruined the farmer's crop of hay,
But he chopped it up so very fine;
Packed and labeled it, "Ha-Rane-Ine"
And more than made his losses good
By selling it as Breakfast Food.

Miss Reform—Mr. Jags, I saw you going straight into a saloon the other day.

Mr. Jags—I bet you didn't see me come out straight.

At 11:30 P. M. Angeline—(As she feels an arm encircling her waist) That's all right, George, but why didn't you come around sooner?

Several upperclassmen have suggested that an oration delivered on the Davis estate would greatly improve his speaking ability or, to say the least, his discrimination as to when to speak.

News Gathered From Various Colleges of the Country.

A chapter of the Pi Beta Phi sorority will be installed at the University of Minnesota in November.

In response to a prize offer for Stanford songs, thirty-five students at that university have entered the competition. The best offerings will be accepted and a new song book published. Already the students are learning several of the songs to sing at the football games.

Some sophomores of the University of Michigan succeeded recently in "working" several innocent freshmen for eight dollars or more of their book money. The sophomores gathered together on the campus a likely looking lot of '07 men, and kept them within hearing distance of a touching harangue one of the upper classmen delivered. The conscientious soph declared that the cannon that adorns the campus had been bent during the class rush, and the faculty had decided that the freshmen would have to pay for the repairs. At the end of the talk the hat was passed, and when the returns were all in a trifle less than eight dollars had been collected. The sophomores adjourned till evening when a banquet of eight dollars' worth was enjoyed amid toasts to '07.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The University Debating Union has decided to allow the sophomore debating team to contest with the Alfred College trio Alfred will soon submit the question, and the sophomore team will then be chosen.

A Novel Monument.

A novel and ingenious monument by Bartholdi to the aeronauts of the siege of Paris is to be erected in Montmartre or its vicinity. It will stand about 60 feet high and be capped by a balloon of bronze and glass or transparent mica. Its diameter will be about ten feet, and inside there will be an electric lamp with a reflector, so that by night the monument will be illuminated. The balloon will be guided by a symbolical figure of the genius of Paris, and under it a mother with her dying children will represent the city of Paris.

Birds Extinct in Switzerland.

Last year the Swiss government gave the cantons 10,000 francs ($1,930) for the destruction of noxious animals. The sum spent in the cantons for this purpose was 4,000 francs ($772). Seventy-two otters, 188 herons and 363 crows were destroyed. In the list published some years before we see the kingfisher, the water blackbird, the grebe and the fish eagle, but it would appear that these birds are now extinct in Switzerland.

Wasted Energy.

"James, dear," said the young wife, with a sigh long drawn out "why is it you never talk sweet nonsense and never flatter me any more, as you did during our courtship?"

"Because it isn't necessary," replied James. "My employer always told me it was a waste of time to praise the goods after the sale had been made."

The Head Was Hers.

"Yes; he proposed," Miss Passay continued, blushing, "and when papa came into the room he found me in Mr. Huggins' arms."

"Ah, now I see," exclaimed Miss Speitz. "I wondered what your father meant today when I heard him telling my father that Mr. Huggins had an old head on young shoulders."—Philadelphia Press.

What Science Is.

Science is nothing but trained and organized common sense, differing from the latter only as a veteran may differ from a raw recruit; and its methods differ from those of common sense only so far as the guardsman's cut and thrust differ from the manner in which a savage wields his club.—Engineering Record

Cause for Anxiety.

"I understand that your latest composition is becoming very popular."

"Yes," answered the thorough musician; "but, believe me, it has some elements of merit in spite of that fact."—Washington Star.

Putting the Brake On.

Wife—I want to do some shopping to-day, dear, if the weather is favorable. What is the forecast?

Husband (consulting his paper)—Rain, hail, thunder and lightning.—Tid-Bits.

It Surely Does.

"Massachusetts leads all the other states in boot and shoe manufacture."

"That certainly puts it on a good footing."—Detroit Free Press.

Pleasant for Him.

Elderly Fiance—I hope you are not impressed by the silly sentimentalists who hold that because you've married once you ought not to marry again?

Pretty Widow—Don't let that worry you, dear; I've no such prejudice. My own dear mother was married three times, and I only hope that in all things I may follow her example.—Stray Stories.

Arizona's Unique Jail.

Graham county jail, at Clifton, Ariz., is probably the most unusual in America. It comprises four large apartments hewn in the side of a hill of solid quartz rock. The entrance to the jail is through a box-like vestibule built of heavy masonry, and equipped with three sets of gates of steel bars. Here and there in the rocky walls holes have been blasted for windows, and in these aperatures a series of massive bars of steel have been fitted firmly in the rock. The floor of the rockbound jail is of cement, and the prisoners are confined wholly in the larger apartments. In some places the wall of quartz about the jail is 15 feet thick. Some of the most desperate criminals on the southwest border have been confined in the Clifton jail, and so solid and heavy are the barriers to escape that no one there has ever attempted to make a break for freedom. The notorious Black Jack was there for months.—Tombstone Epitaph.

Thinne—Oh, I wish I had your voice.

Thicke—No doubt you would enjoy using it.

"No, 'tain't that, but I was thinking if it were mine I could stop it when I liked."—Boston Post.

Fifty Years Hence.

First Billionaire—Did you make anything on that airship merger?

Second Billionaire—Oh, nothing to speak of. Only $50,000,000.

"Oh, well, every $50,000,000 counts, you know."—Chicago Daily News.

How He Learned Them.

"Did it take you long to learn the ropes?" was asked the pugilist.

"Naw," he answered, "I wuz knocked troo 'em de fust fight I had."

A GREAT SEND OFF.

The 'Varsity Left the City—Cheered on by a Large Crowd—The Men in Good Condition.

There was a large crowd of students who, despite the bad weather, gathered at the New York Central station to see the twenty Varsity warriors and subs off for New Haven last night.

The men accompanied by Coaches Parrish and Brown, and Manager Rubin retired to the sleeping cars at 10:30 o'clock. For a half hour previous the station rang with the cheers and songs of the students assembled there.

An impression was given the sturdy knights of the pigskin that will stick by them in the game, and that is the students are back of them and with them to a man.

The rousing send-off was well conducted, and left an excellent impression on all.

The Varsity has been working hard in practice this week, and shown great improvement in form. It is certain that Yale will be given a fast, hard struggle by the Orange eleven.

THE ANVIL CHORUS.

Prof. Losey Exhorts College Men to Do Their Duty.

Everybody in Professor Losey's class in debate was profoundly impressed yesterday by a short, ringing speech prompted by certain recent events.

After a few introductory remarks, Professor Losey said in part:

"You can best show your love for Syracuse by seeking her betterment. The moment anything shows its head which it antagonistic to the honor of your University, knock it, and knock it hard. When you hear profanity on the football field; when you see a wearer of the Orange strike an opponent or jump upon his prostrate form, don't attempt to drown your shame in a torrent of wild yells; but knock, knock, knock."

"When an evil exists don't play the coward and attempt to conceal it by hushing up all controversy. Show your honest love for Syracuse by knocking. Obloquy may be your only reward, but in the end you will receive the respect which is rendered to fearless honesty."

COLLEGE MEN FOR THE ORIENT.

John R. Mott, senior college secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, has just announced that several prominent college and university men are ready to soll for the Orient to become secretaries of the Young Men's Christian Association in Shanghai, Hongkong and Nagasaki. Gailey, the big Princeton half back, is now in Tientsin, where he has been conducting an Association among the sons of the mandarins. Carter of Harvard, who was on the winning hockey team, is traveling secretary for all the Associations in the Indian Empire. Robertson, the Purdue athlete, who was instructor in engineering, is now at Nanking, the head center of the Chinese examination system. C. C. Rutledge of Philadelphia, who was one

EXTRACT FROM REPORT OF F. S. BROCKMAN

FOR YEAR ENDING SEPTEMBER 30, 1903.

FACTS OF ENCOURAGEMENT.

The membership in the city Associations has almost doubled during the year. Equally gratifying is the growth in the representative character of the membership, including as it does men of different classes, different professions, different religions, and those from many of the provinces of China. Distinct advance has also been made in the educational department of these Associations. At Tientsin a library of standard historica and fiction literature has been started. Lecture courses have been maintained in connection with each Association. A total enrollment of 278 has been secured in evening classes. The most gratifying progress has been in the weekly attendance upon the eight Bible classes conducted by the four city Associations.

6. This year has seen the laying of the corner stone of a new building for the Nanking University Association, generous gift of Willis W. Cooper, Esq., of Kenosha, Wisconsin.

7. Decided progress has been made in the study of the most difficult field which lies before us, namely, the work for the literati. Missionaries and native Christians from all parts of the Empire have been counselled with as to our best means of procedure. The methods of those missionaries who have been most successful in reaching the literati have been diligently studied. The co operation of leading missionaries from practically all of the large societies working in China has been enlisted. Plans for carrying on this work have been defined and definitely determined upon.

8. The Associations have been immeasureably enriched and strengthened by the memorable visit of the foreign secretary of the International Committee. During his brief stay in China a conference was held at Peking attended by almost every missionary and native Christian leader in the Province of Chili, together with as many of the students and church members of Peking as could crowd into the largest auditorium in the city. There were remarkable manifestations at this meeting of the power of God in consoling, encouraging, re-uniting, and inspiring those who had been spared of the Martyr Church of Chili. He also conducted the National Convention held at Nanking, the most representative, influential, and important gathering of Chinese Christians ever held in the Empire. Evangelistic meetings were also conducted in Nanking, Shanghai, Canton, and Hong Kong. Much was done during his stay to unify and co-ordinate the force of Christianity with reference to reaching young men. His visit marks a distinct epoch in the development of Association work in China.

9. The confidence and co-operation of the leaders of Christian work in China in behalf of the Association has been one of the most encouraging facts of the year. At the Nanking Conven-

GOOD MORNING.

How true it is: "A lie travels by th Marconi route, while Truth goes by slow freight and is often ditched at the first watertank."

There are evidently a certain number of people who believe that the Daily Orange has taken an attitude antagonistic to the best interests of Syracuse athletics, and has taken upon itself duties that properly belong to the coaches. Ask one of the misguided ones the reason for his belief and he will say, "Why of course its true. Didn't the Post-Standard and Herald say so.

Many of the students who believe that our attitude, which some have questioned, was for the best interests of the University have asked why we have not published in our editorial columns a complete justification. Do you wish to know the reason? It is this: "If you are defamed, let time vindicate you. Silence is a thousand times better than explanation."

FRESHMEN VS. OSWEGO NORMAL.

The Cazenovia game with the freshmen which was arranged for Saturday evening has been cancelled.

In place the manager arranged a game with the strong Oswego Normal team, to be played at the same time. The game will be called at 7:15 in order to make it possible for the visiting team to leave the city on an early train.

A meeting of the freshman class will be held after chapel tomorrow morning. Captain Houseknecht, Manager Rice and others will address the freshmen.

tion above referred to were fourteen presidents of colleges academies several of whom were kept away from their institutions several weeks in the busiest part of the school year. There were twenty-three professors. I know of no other organization which under any circumstances could have brought these men together at such a time and at such great sacrifice. Petitions have come to the National Committee from some of the largest cities of China with the names of every missionary and in some cases of every student and professor requesting us to send Association secretaries In two instances able missionaries who have been prominently connected with student work at home have expressed a willingness, upon an invitation from the International Committee, to leave the important work in which they were engaged to undertake Association work. In both cases the authorities on the field have expressed a willinguess to release men because of the unique and important character of the work which is being carried on by our movement. The gift of thousands of dollars to our cause would be no greater indication of the esteem and confidence in which it is held.

of the crack baseball and football men of the Ohio Wesleyan University, will sail in November for Hongkong. For two years he was in the Naval Academy. He was a volunteer in the Spanish War and rose from private to first lieutenant. For the past two years he has been the secretary of the Associations in the medical, law and dental schools of Philadelphia. The great Association of over a thousand members in the foreign concession in Shanghai will have reinforcements this year from America. It has separate departments for Chinese and Europeans. Plans are on foot for a building on the American model for each of these branches. Notable achievements in cricket and track athletics have made this Association respected even among the numerous nationalities of the foreign settlement. Arthur Rugh, a former college baseball captain, will go to Shanghai to help Robert E Lewis, the author of "Educational Conquest of the Far East," in developing the Association there. W. W. Lockwood of Omaha, another college man, will also go to Shanghai. A member of the Princeton faculty, N. Wilbur Helm, will become the first American secretary in Southern japan. His headquarters will be at the port of Nagaski, the metropolis of the island of Kiushiu. Buenos Aires in Argentine already has a flourishing Association that has grown in two years to 450 members with 100 men in the night chool. In the capital of Brazil similar progress has been made.

Syracuse Daily Orange

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING OF THE COLLEGE YEAR BY THE STUDENTS OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY.

VOL. I. NO. 46. SYRACUSE, N. Y., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

SYRACUSE FACES YALE TO-DAY

The Orange Eleven in Fair Shape for Fierce Conflict--Hope to Hold the Yale Score Down.

The 'Varsity stopped off at Hartford yesterday, and in the afternoon went through light signal practice on the Trinity college field. All the men who will go into the contest are in good physical condition.

Although outweighed nearly fifteen pounds on an average, the Syracuse men will endeavor to hold the Blue giants down to a small score.

The players taken to New Haven include: Left end, Magoon; left tackle, Harwood; left guard, Moore; center, McMickle; right guard, Van Duser; right tackle, Tucker; right end, Boland (Capt); quarterback, Burrell; left halfback, Schade; right halfback, Park or Parker; fullback, Curtiss. The substitutes were: Crawford, Hares, Warren, Blue, Belcher, Twombley and Dempster. O'Neill will not be able to take part in the game on account of the injury to his shoulder.

In another place will be seen an interesting comparison of the teams as they lineup to-day.

The city papers will display bulletins of the game this afternoon as it progresses.

BASKET BALL.

The first basketball game of the season with out of town team will be played to night in the gymnasium. A strong team representing Oswego Normal School, made up for the most part of players who were on the Normal team that defeated our Varsity basketball team last year, will contest with the freshman five.

The freshmen, under Captain Powell, have been doing hard, consistent work in preparation for this contest. In their games with the sophomores with teams picked from the promising Varsity material of the other classes they have demonstrated their ability to meet a strong foe.

Tonight the freshmen will have the opportunity of "making good" and the entire college body will have the chance of seeing a close, exciting game, and incidentally of comparing the standard of this year's freshman team and last year's Varsity.

The game will be called promptly at 7:15 in order to make it possible for the visiting team to leave the city on an early train. The price of admission is twenty-five cents. However by buying a season ticket the cost of witnessing the games may be materially reduced. A season ticket costs one dollar and admits to all the games on the Varsity schedule, at least six in number, and also to all games on the Freshman schedule, together with inter class games,

ROD AND GUN CLUB.

At a meeting of the Rod and Gun Club held yesterday Irving N. Beeler '06 was elected president in place of Lloyd Brown '05, resigned.

Several members of the club went on a shooting trip to the shore of Onondaga Lake and in the vicinity of Baldwinsville last Tuesday. Another trip will be taken next Monday. A large number of city alumni are interested in the club.

HONORS FOR AN ALUMNUS.

It was with a feeling of gladness on the part of the student body that they received the news of the election to the Common Council presidency of their former fellow student, Mr. John W. Sadler. That the hearts of the student Syracdsans beat warmly for Mr. Sadler was shown in the fact that in the wards on the Hill, Mr. Sadler ran way ahead of his ticket. Mr. Sadler is a well known resident of the city, and lives at 907 University Ave. He was graduated from the University in 1896 with high honors, receiving a Magna Cum Laude. He is a member of the Syracuse chapter of the Delta Upsilon fraternity. While in college he engaged in several oratorical contests, and was once alternate at the State Oratorical League Contest. He was assistant manager of the football team, also manager of the glee club.

INDUSTRIAL CHEMISTRY.

Mr J. W. Beaty, chemist of the Sweet steel Company of this city gave second of a series of talks before the class in Industral Chemistry, yesterday morning. He describes the analysis of iron and steel. The 13 most common impurities were given and the methods he uses in the detection and quantitative determination of them.

He also spoke of the percentages of these impurities generally found in the different kinds of iron and steel and the amounts permissable for the different uses, considering the effect of the different impurities on the resulting iron or steel.

Tables Turned.

One of the interesting features of census records of the number of persons above ten years of age occupied in gainful pursuits is the revelation of the number of men who are doing work that properly is within woman's province. For instance it is the natural and inalienable right of the woman to teach school. But there are 11,936 male teachers. So, too, nursing ought to be peculiarly the task of woman, yet there are 12,291 male nurses. It is indisputable that women of more or less tender age ought to monopolize stenography and typewriting, yet there are men bold enough to intrude upon 23,553 positions of the first kind and 2,753 of the second. Moreover, such is the fancy or the fate of some males that 1,718 of them are milliners, 2,116 are dressmakers and 4,837 are seamstresses.—Southern Farm Magazine.

SOPHOMORE-FRESHMAN GAME.

The third game of the interclass series was played yesterday afternoon.

The contest was called at 3:30 with Dr. C. J. Jewell and Dr. E. H. Kraus officiating. The sophomores secured a safety in the first half score at end of half 3 to 0 in favor of 1906.

An exciting class rush took place between the halves. In the grandstand 1907 had their banner tacked on the cupola of the grand stand, and they won the rush.

The 1906 class won the game; score 2 to 0.

1905 ONONDAGAN.

A meeting of the Senior class was held after chapel yesterday. The principal business was a decision made in regard to the 1904 annual, the Onondagan.

President John Heal first gave the floor to Hyzer Jones, business manager of the 1904 Onondagan. He outlived the management of this most interesting annual for the past year.

The Geneva printer, who is turning out the book, has promised to deliver the finished product by November 20th. These promises he makes are so uncertain that the class took a definite stand on the matter.

A motion was made and carried to the effect that the printer be demanded to have the books delivered by the noon of Monday 23, or the class should declare the contract void.

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING OF THE COLLEGE YEAR BY THE STUDENTS OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY.

VOL. I. NO. 17. SYRACUSE, N. Y., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

GREAT IS THE ORANGE ELEVEN.

Our Sturdy Men Hold Ya'e Giants in Hand—A Hard Game.

The Syracuse eleven lined up against the mighty Yale cohort last Saturday, determined to fight the Blue men for every inch of ground. The result is beyond the expectation of a large part of the student body. So well did the Orange men play the game that the mighty Blue eleven could only secure five touchdowns, or only one more than was secured against our great eleven of last year.

Game was called at 3 o'clock with Dr. Hammond of New Haven and Mr. J. C. McCracken of University of Pennsylvania officiating.

Burrell kicked off to Yale. The Blue eleven on line bucks by her backs; Bowman, Allen and Hoyt, and short end runs by Shevlin and Hoyt; the latter was pushed over the Syracuse line for the first touchdown. Bowman kicked the goal. Score 6 to 0. Time elapsed, four minutes and fifty seconds.

Burrell kicked off to the Blue eleven and Shevlin ran it back for ten yards.

After the first touchdown Syracuse rallied and put up a better fight, keeping the pigskin in the middle of the field until penalties aggregating thirty-five yards had sent the Syracuse men well back toward their own goal line. Then after Yale had worked the oval to the 4-yard line, it took them three minutes to get it over. Once more in this half Yale scored, Bowman kicking the goal each time. In the second half Yale sent in substitutes at fullback and one halfback position. The only substitute made in this half by Syracuse was when Blue was sent in to take Moore's place. Two touchdowns were made in the half, the final score standing 30 to 0. The line-up:

Yale (30).	Syracuse (0).

SYRACUSE MEDICS DEFEATED.

In a game of football replete with sensational incidents, which took place on the University oval Monday afternoon, the Syracuse University College of Law team defeated the eleven from the Medical College by the score of 5 to 0. The game, which is an annual affair, was for the championship of the university. The men on the two teams had never played together until they appeared on the field. The first half was ragged, but the practice derived from that part of the game enabled the law men to score their touchdown in the second half. Crane carried the ball over the goal line.

The lineup of the teams was as follows:

Law.	Medicine.
Left end.
Fitzgerald	Broag, Sincerbeaux
Left tackle.
North, Rubinstein	Lang

The officials were: M. B. Morris, referee; Charles Cortelyou, umpire; Samuel Pulford, timekeeper; Porteus, College of Law and Ramos, College of Medicine, linesmen.

OTHER COLLEGE NEWS.

A chair of music is about to be established at the University of California. For some time it has been the intention of the faculty to widen the university's scope in the matter of studying the fine arts by introducing music culture into the cirriculum. The first courses will be offered in the summer session from June 27 to August 7. Albert A. Stanley, professor of music at the University of Michigan, has been secured to act as head of the new department. At Michigan he now directs a course of professional training in music covering four years. The subjects he will offer at California are: "The Science of Harmony," "Choral Music," "Composition," "The History of Music," and "The Evolution of Musical Instruments."

The Archaeological Institute of America has sent out the following announcement of fellowships at the schools in Athens, Rome and Palestine in 1904-05. "Five or more fellowships will be awarded for the year 1904-1905; two in Greek archaeology, each with a stipend of six hundred dollars, at the American School of Classical Studies at Athens; one or two in Roman classical archaeology, each with a stipend of six hundred dollars, at the school in Rome, and one fellowship, with a stipend of six hundred dollars at the school in Palestine. These fellowships are awarded chiefly on the basis of a competitive written examination to be held in March, 1904.

BASKETBALL.

Freshmen Defeat the Strong Oswego Normal School Five After a Hard Fought Contest.

After a hard fought contest in which the Syracuse freshmen took the lead and were never once headed the strong basket-ball team of the Oswego Normal School went down in glorious defeat in the gymnasium last Saturday evening by the score of 31 to 25. Some line on the strength of the freshmen can be had when it is recalled that the visiting aggregation of Saturday night is practically the same team that defeated the Syracuse Varsity last winter.

The freshmen excelled in team work. The passing was especially good between Powell and Kirchgasser, the old team mates of the Masden Park five of Buffalo. The latter of the two located located the basket for eight out of the fourteen goals thrown by the freshmen.

The Normalities tried to many long shots but aside from this their play was good, especially when it is taken into consideration that the team has practiced together but a couple of times this season Captain Oot for the starch city team wes easily the star in finding the basket. Besides his goals from the field he threw nine goals from fouls. Rhetta did excellent work for the visitors on the defensive.

The Syracuse team started in with a rush and at first carried the visitors off their feet so that at the end of the first half the score was 19 to 7. But the feature of the game was the rally of the yellow and green in the second half. During this half they scored a total of 18 points to the freshmen's 12.

The game was refeered by V. V. Roseboro, Physical Director of the city Y. M. C. A. His decisions were fair and impartial.

The line-up:

Freshmen (31)	Oswego (25)
Forwards
Millen, Evans	Breckheimer
Kirchgasser	Oot (capr.)
Center
Powell (capt.)	Austin
Guards
Coit, Hanke	Rhetta, Allen

Goals from field—Syracuse, Kirchgasser 8, Millen 4, Powell 2 Oswego, Oot 5, Breckheimer 2, Allen. Goals from fouls, Powell 3, Oot 9 Referee, V. V. Roseboro, Syracuse. Umpire, J. J. Johnson, Oswego. Score keeper, W. L. Simmons, Syracuse. Time keeper, W. C. Lowe, Syracuse, and Mr. Yance, Oswego.

NEW BUILDINGS.

The construction of Haven Hall is being pushed rapidly forward. The stone cutting or drilling is continued day and night. Part of the first story is finished, and shows that the Hall will be a magnificent one.

The exterior work on the new central heating plant, which has been under construction since last spring, is now nearly completed. The heavy rafters for the roof of the building are now being put in place. The installing of the machinery will begin next week. The two large Worthington pumps will be received from New York city on November 21st and will be put in place immediately. The large boiler from the Babcox & Wilcox company of Bayonne, N. J., will also be set up during the coming week.

It has been planned to connect that boiler with the Hall of Physics. As soon as the fires can be lighted the boiler which is now used in heating that building will be transferred to the heating plant building. With the two boilers in place then Crouse college will be connected. The two large boilers in that building will also be moved to the heating plant. With thes four units having a combined horse power of 400, it is expected that all of the buildings on the campus can be heated. This work of insealing the boilers will not be finished until January 1st, according to the present plans.

With these four boilers in place in the building there will still be ample room left for two more 100 horse power boilers, which with the others will fur-

GOOD MORNING.

The Yale game and its result was not entirely unexpected. We now have the great and final game of the year before us.

If we should draw a comparison between the Brown and Syracuse elevens, the result would be to our disadvantage. It is well known that we were defeated by Williams on our grounds, while the latter was easily taken into camp by the Brown men.

Still we believe there is great hope for a victory this Saturday. Every man on the Orange eleven is going to play the game of his life. Each student in the University will be at the game, and back the home eleven with his utmost efforts. All are united in the belief that BROWN MUST BE BEATEN.

ORANGE PEALS.

Walking over the campus last Sunday Chancellor Day came upon a crowd of small boys who were playing football.

"Boys, do you know what day this is," he asked.

"Yes sir," replied one, "its Chancellor Day of the Syracuse University."

Much time would be saved if, in passing up and down the stairs students would observe two rules: keep to the right, and keep moving.

nish as much heat and power as the university will need for a number of years. The plans of the architects have also allowed additional room for two more boilers of the same horse power which can be set up in case of emergency.

Dean William E. Kent of the Smith College of Applied Science, who is an authority on all engineering matters considers that the new plant is superior to anything of the kind in the country. In planning the structure the heating plants in a number of different colleges were inspected by the engineers and architects in charge of the work. The local system is consequently a composite plant of the best in the country.

Steam will be sent to the Smith college building for the purpose of running the engine in that building. The university authorities are planning to begin the lighting of Winchell hall by the Smith college dynamo.

The new heating plant, when completed, will have a main boiler room and engine and dynamo room, a room for condensers, pumps and other apparatus and well lighted room for repair work. There will also be a smaller room in the tower of the building for the use of the engineers. In the rear of the building will be storage for 700 tons of coal. There will be two engines in the building. A 110-horsepower turbine engine will furnish the power for a 75 kilowatt generator of alternating current. The straight line engine now in the Hall of Physics will also be moved over and put in place in the new building.

Recently at Ann Arbor a restaurant keeper celebrated a "grand opening" by serving free to four hundred Michigan students, bowls of chop suey.

The first of the students' monthly recitals will occur tomorrow afternoon in John Crouse College of Fine Arts. This custom of monthly recitals has been in vogue for many years and constantly grows in popularity.

These recitals have always been immensely successful, both artistically and in point of attendance, and, in judging from the number of inquiries received in regard to them, they are awaited this year with the usual interest. PUNTS AND PASSES.

The Varsity was given only light practice yesterday, because most of the men still feel sore in body from the Yale game.

The eleven has won much praise from the Yale men and papers for their stiff, aggressive battle. The Orange men feel in themselves the power to beat Brown this Saturday. All of the students are with them for the coming contest.

A great mass meeting will be held this week to organize plans and forces for the Brown game. It is the final game of the season, and the standing for Syracuse in the football world depends to a great extent on the result.

Juniors have your pictures taken for the 1905 Onondagan at once.
Prices: Ryder's, $2.50 for one dozen, $4.00 for two dozen.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON

The First Fraternity Founded at Syracuse—National Deke Convention held here this Week.

(This is the first of a series of papers to be published by the Daily Orange on the fraternities in Syracuse. This is published now, instead of later, because of the interest taken in the fraternity's national convention held here from Wednesday through Saturday of this week.—Editor.)

When old Genesee College was moved from Lima to Syracuse, in 1870, and became Syracuse University, it boasted no Greek letter fraternities. It brought with it, however, the remnants of the Scroll and Pen Chapter of the Mystic Seven. The disintegration of that society a few years previous, and the transformation of its only other northern chapter, the Owl and Wand at Wesleyan, into Phi Gamma of D K E, had left the Scroll and Pen Chapter at Syracuse little more than a local organization. But the former close connection with Wesleyan was kept up, and nobly aided by Phi Gamma a charter was finally secured from the convention of Delta Kappa Epsilon, held in 1871, and Phi Gamma of D K E was installed November 17, 1871. Such was the beginning of organized D K E at Syracuse.

At that time Syracuse University was small indeed. Housed in one building, it was almost unknown save to the denomination which founded it. Its growth, however, has been phenomenal, and hardly equaled in university history. In thirty years the University has grown from forty to twenty-five hundred students, from one building to nine, not counting two in process of construction, and a ten-story business block, the home of the College of Law, which is the property of the University.

With all this progress at Syracuse D K E has kept pace, and the growth of her influence in the University and the city has been commensurate with that of the University in the college world.

The seventeen charter members of Phi Gamma soon secured quarters in the old Wieting Block on Salina Street, where lodge rooms were maintained for many years. In 1881 the chapter was visited by a disastrous fire which completely destroyed the lodge rooms and all chapter records. The building, however, was immediately rebuilt, and the new lodge rooms even excelled the old. Thus the Phoenix of our chapter escutcheon is truly symbolical.

Here centered D K E interest in Syracuse until the advent of the chapter-system. Phi Gamma was among the first chapters to adopt this, and in the later eighties secured the house at 1305 East Genesee Street, which remained the chapter house until 1899. The boys, however, were loth to give up the old

STATEMENT FROM THE CHANCELLOR.

Editor of Daily Orange:—

Your statement of a Sunday incident on the campus, in which the Chancellor was a participant, is a figment of the imagination without any warrant in fact whatever. Such a thing never happened neither was there anything to suggest it. The Chancellor did not speak to boys playing football. Your story had its origin in New Haven, Conn., about an hundred years ago and has been repeated by the newspapers periodically ever since it was first given out.

Your item has several faults: First, it is not true; second, it robs the New Haven youth of the originality of his impertinence; third, it is too old and musty for college journalistic enterprise.

GOOD MORNING.

The first organ recital of the year will be held in Crouse College tomorrow afternoon. The custom has long been in vogue of having monthly recitals by the musical students of advanced standing, in the Fine Arts College. The idea is an excellent one, and in being carried practically it has afforded pleasure to thousands.

There are a few things that the freshman class might observe with profit in attending these monthly recitals The first is: Never try to get a seat by rushing in while part of the program is being rendered. The second is like unto the first: Freedom from speech during the rendition of the program is very commendable.

In the past much comment has been caused by the failure to observe these common rules of politeness on the part of certain individuals.

WORLD'S WEEK OF PRAYER.

The sophomore class at a meeting held yesterday morning decided to allow a number of young men, known last year as belonging to the Pipe and Stein Society, to conduct the Sophomore Cotillion. The committee will doubtless fix the date for the Cotillion as early in December as possible, since it must precede the Junior Prom.

SOME INTERESTING EXPERIENCES.

BY W. HOOK.

There were some interesting occurrences on my trip West last summer. Through the kindness of Mr. William Nottingham and Mr. Wilkinson I expected to work my way from Buffalo to Duluth on one of the United States Transportation company's boats.

Arrived in Buffalo I found a vacancy waiting for me among the deck hands: My good friend Captain Smith was master of the boat. A deck hand is no genteel individual. Some are even worse than others. But as I had been twice across the Pacific in that capacity, I held my own with them in work, war and good fellowship.

This year on one occasion while I was down in the forecastle, one or the deck hands very casually asked, "Do you belong to the union?" I was startled but replied that there was no necessity for joining the union as I was but a passenger working my way to Duluth. To avoid discussion I immediately got busy on deck. In two hours the mate told me that the other deck hands objected to my working. The captain however, did not ask me to acquiesce in their demands and join the union; he simply placed me the passenger quarters and all went well.

We ran down to Cleveland and tied up inside the breakwater. We were in that city four days and saw the big Labor Day parade The whole city lined the streets to review its army of well appearing artisans.

On our way through St. Clair and Detroit rivers and on the waters of Lake Huron the officers tried to feed me such "sucker" stories as "once I caught three fish at one time on one hook, the second hanging on to the tail of the first and the third on the tail of the second."

After we passed St. Mary's river and the immense locks at the "Soo," we headed across Lake Superior for Fort William, Canada. The last twelve hours, besides being run at night, were very stormy. Moreover the coast was difficult and unfamiliar and the harbor almost entirely unimproved.

Arrived at Fort William, Canada, we saw some peculiar sights. There was a store of that ancient Hudson Bay Company. There were rugged miners, and venturesome but not rich men of every nation. There were numerous languages and many churches.

At 12:30 we left the islands and entered stormy Lake Superior. The captain turned to go back to the shelter of the islands and of course, as we turned, Superior struck us broadside. Passengers, crew, officers, cabin boys, stewards, all were thrown from their bunks to the deck. There was considerable consternation and confusion. The "America" tried to roll clear over and let the fish swim up her smoke stack. At last she found herself and carried us back to the shelter of the islands. At daylight we started again. The sea was ugly, but it was laughable to see passengers attempt the breakfast and before finishing quick step to the rail and anxiously contemplate the depths But the boat kept on its way.

THE DEKES HERE IN FORCE

Their Great Convention Opens To-Night. Smoker to be Held in Chapter House. An Enthusiastic Crowd.

The fifty-seventh annual convention of Delta Kappa Epsilon will be opened here to-night. The occasion will be a smoker in the new chapter house on the corner of Walnut avenue and University Place.

The gathering promises to be the greatest collegiate fraternity conclave ever held in this city. The convention will be under the auspices of the Central New York Alumni association and the local chapter.

The chapters at Cornell, Columbia, New York, Troy, Colgate, Hamilton and Rochester are expected to send large delegations. Many "Dekes" in Central New York will gather at the convention. It is probable that over 200 college men will be at the banquet.

The convention committee consists of Lewis P. Smith, Frederick T. Pierson and Arthur A. Webb of the Alumni association and Walter T. Baylis, '04, and Harry L. Gardner, '04, of the Chapter. The programme includes business sessions Thursday and Friday forenoons and afternoons, the convention picture Thursday noon, a reception and dance at the chapter house Thursday evening, the banquet at The Yates Friday evening, a drag ride Saturday morning and the Brown-Syracuse game Saturday afternoon on the University oval.

Two or more representatives from chapters at the following colleges and universities will be present: Yale, New Haven, Conn.; Bowdoin, Brunswick, Me; Colby, Waterville, Me.; Amherst, Amherst, Mass.; Vanderbilt, Nashville, Tenn.; University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Brown, Providence, R. The chapters are named above in the order of their establishment. D. K. E. is one of the largest college fraternities in membership. It has over 12,000 members. It was founded at Yale in 1844.

Many prominent Dekes will be present from all over the country. The banquet will be the crowning feature of the convention.

AMERICANS MUST PROTECT LIBERTIES

Professor Hawkins Gives a Stirring Address Before his Political Economy Club.

"We Americans delight in boasting of our political liberties, and are united in opposing the slightest curtailment of those liberties; but there is another class of liberties that is of quite as fundamental a nature. I refer to our economic liberties.

"These economic liberties, upon the maintenance of which the prosperity of the nation depends, have been assailed by two different forms of industrial organization. There can be no real economic equality and freedom when a giant corporation can coerce a manufacturer to go out of business; or when a body of men can get together, form a combination, and use the seal of a sovereign State on certificates that represent "hot air," in order to swindle the public. Neither can economic equality exist as long as labor organizations continue to coerce employers by threatening them with boycott, and to refuse to honest, willing hands the right of labor.

"A case comes to my mind which will illustrate one of the methods by which the labor unions are abridging personal economic liberty. Last winter a man employed to operate a furnace and engine in one of the down town department stores, a union man, was taken seriously ill. For several months he was unable to work, and consequently was unable to pay his union dues. Towards the middle of tha winter he went back to the store and was again put to work. A few days later a walking delegate entered the store and demanded that the employer should discharge the mon immediately. When the employer refused, on the grounds of the man's faithfulness and long service, the delegate threatened to call off the whole force of clerks unless the man was discharged at once.

"'We don't allow no man to work wno hasn't paid his dues,' the delegate said. nder this compulsion the poor man was turned out to face the world—denied the right to work because 'he hasn't paid his dues.'

"This man has no legal reparation; neither have thousands of other men whom the unions are denying their liberty. Something must be done to protect the liberties that are now being assailed. Who will take a stand and undertake this task? The political parties do not dare to do it now; but with the development of an intelligent public opinion something may be hoped for in the future."

DELTA DELTA DELTA BANQUET.

Miss Floy Whitney, '01, acted as toastmistress. Toasts were responded to by the following: Misses Quick, Brown, Bond, Green, Baker, Sherwood and Hitchcock.

The following have been visiting at the Delta Delta Delta chapter house: Misses Elizabeth Bond, ex-'04, Vera Beaman, '01, Ruth Ward, '00, Floy Whitney, '01, Anna Hollis, '96, Carolyn Spencer, '01, Meridie McKenzie, 01, Marion Green, ex-'04.

GOOD MORNING.

The freshman class has sent a protest to the Athletic Governing Board asking that the last underclass game be declared a tie.

The Governing Board will be justified tn acceding to the desire of the freshman class, for several reasons. The decision rendered by the officials saying the sophomores had made a safety, and thus won the game 2 to 0, was afterward declared erroneous by the same men. Further the freshmen were in two instances deprived of touchdowns. At one time, when more than eleved sophomores played against the freshman team. Again when, through an unjust decision, 1907 was penalized and lost many yards—a practical gift to the sophomores.

The game should be played over, and the class that wins allowed its numerals on the banner.

A meeting was called Tuesday at 9:40 for the purpose of organizing an Engineer's football team. E. J. Cannon was elec ed manager and coach; W. H. Wadsworth, temporary captain. Practice will begin at once and games will be played with the Medical and Law Colleges in the near future.

News Gathered From Various Colleges of the Country.

The zoological department of the University of California is taking steps to establish a loan collection of bird skins by which they will be able to assist the public schools and other educational organizaiions to get a correct conception of the bird life of California. The movement has been inaugurated to satisfy the continual demand from the public schools for material of this nature, and it is being heartily supported by people interested in this branch of education. The nucleus of the collection is a number of specimens taken in 1894 from southern Arizona. The department is also trying to establish a correct calendar of migration of birds from California.

The Christian Association at Cornell University is about to put into execution its plan of interesting high-school students in Cornell by acquainting them with the men prominent in the university. It is planned to have a delegation of Glee Club men, good speakers, and some athlete of the branch in which the school visited is strongest, visit the preparatory men at the time of the Glee and Mandolin concerts. The men will arrange to spend, if possible, two days and a night in the town, appearing at the concert and mingling with the students during the rest of the time. To carry out the proposed arrangements a fund of $1,000 will be needed.

NOTES ON YALE GAME.

In the Yale-Syracuse game Saturday the whole S. U. team showed marked improvement in form. Every member of the team put up a splendid game.

Members of the Yale team stated that Syracuse's interference was the best seen on their field this year.

Among Syracuse students who went down to the game were Robert Rubin, '04, manager; Eddy, '02, Gramlick, '04, Sowers, '04, Evans, '04, J. Hill, '05; Ackley, '05, assistant manager, Webster, '05, Barrett, '06, Dutton, '07.

Syracuse's average weight per man was about 160 pounds; that of Yale about 200 pounds.

Bloomer, Yale's great guard, was heard to say that the Giant Blue, who played the same position for Syracuse, put up a splendid game and "would develop into a remarkable player."

Harwood, another new man, showed up better than in any previous game, at left tackle. He got off well on the kick-offs and put up a game fight against the much lauded Bissell.

McMickle, outweighed by 50 pounds, put up a hard game against Koraback and Morton at center.

Spectators stated that the Syracuse ends outplayed their opponents in Blue—men who are likely candidates for the All-American team.

EXCELLENT WORK OF DR. I. J. PERITZ

Receives Unprejudiced Praise from a Prominent Religious Publication.

In the issue of the Sunday School Times for November 7, a review of the Encyclopedia Biblica, a work just completed, is given. The Encyclopedia Biblica is a critical dictionary of the literary, political and religious history, the archaeology, geography, and natural history of the Bible.

To this work Dr. Ismar J. Peritz, Professor of Semetics in Syracuse University, contributes an article on "Synagogues"

The book reviewer of the Sunday School Times says of Dr. Peritz's article:

"One turns back to "Synagogue" and he finds something very much better [than other articles previously quoted]. It displays equally wide reading with the other, and more careful scholarship. In an unpretentious but effective way it presents the information that one needs concerning the matter in hand. The New Testament mentions of the synagogue are woven into the article and constitute a valuable part of it. Our generation would be fortunate if we possessed a biblical encyclopedia which was throughout of as good quality as this article."

PUNTS AND PASSES.

The Varsity is daily being given the hardest kind of practice in preparation for the Brown game. An hour or more of each day is used in fast and fierce scrimmage work between the Varsity and scrubs.

Captain O'Neill is in the game again with his old time vigor, proving that the rest given his injured shoulder was beneficial.

Lane and Boland are playing the ends like two veterans, who know all the fine points of football. Rice is back in the line and should prove his worth in the coming contest.

The giant Blue and Harwood are daily proving that their good showing against Yale was no phenomenal outburst.

The whole eleven is showing the best form of the season. The prospects for beating Brown are good.

Association football is likely to be added to the games played at the University of California. A challenge for such a game with an Oakland team is being considered.

The Germanic Museum at Harvard was formally opened last Tuesday.

The Junior women at California have issued an ultimatum forbidding the women of other classes to wear the broad-brimmed sombrero, the Junior hat.

THE CASTE FOR KING LEAR.

The trials for the English play Monday and Tuesday evenings resulted very satisfactorily for all. The cast which will be chosen later will undoubtedly be the best that ever appeared in a University production.

Professor Losey said last evening, "The cast will be far better than the one which rendered the Taming of the Shrew two years ago. We had about sixty contestants and will retain about twenty or twentyfive in training. We will begin training right away. Every thing pointed toward the most successful production in the history of the English Club,"

The following will be retained although the parts have not been given out as yet.

Messrs. Sheldon, E. G. Rice E. T, Lewis, S. A. Ralph, S. H. Rice, Goldstone, W. J Boyd' Farrell, C. C. Reddish, W. Y Boyd, Campbell, Searles, R. Allen, Misses Benjamin, Heimar, Hunt Thayer, Rumrill, Young.

POSTER CONTEST.

Monx Head, the Junior fraternity working hard to make the Junior Prom this year a greater success than ever before.

Frank W. Bohr, who has charge of the poster contest, announces as prizes for the two best posters submitted, two dollars and fifty cents in cash and a ticket to the Prom as first prize, for a second prize a ticket to the Prom.

The posters must be handed in to Mr. Bohr by December 3. Further particulars may also be gotten from him.

The tickets for the promenade will be on sale next week. They can be secured from Hr. Herry Yard or Mr. Arthur Distin. The price of the tickets is two dollars and a ha f.

It is expected that over two hundred couple will be in attendance. The society has not decided on its scheme for boxes as yet.

SYRACUSANS IN GERMANY.

Through the courtesy of Dean Smalley the Daily Orange is permitted the use of two letters from Syracuse graduates, who are taking advanced courses of study in the University of Leipzig, Germany.

Czermaks Garten 5 parterre,
Leipzig, Germany.
Oct. 29, 1903.

My dear Dean Smalley:—

This morning as I came from a Vorlesung, I met Mr. Koehler in the hall of the University. He tells me you are still correcting the address book of the alumni. As I have moved since writing you, I send you the new address written above. We all continue well and are enjoying the work.

You will remember that I took my A. M. in Pedagogy. In Boston, I spent the best part of three years with Dr. Bowne in Philosophy. I am continuing work in these two lines here.

Cordially yours.
W. ORVILLE ALLEN.

Fichte Strauss 26, Leipsig.
Oct. 24, 1903.

Dr. Frank Smalley, Syracuse, N. Y.

My dear Dean:—

Although I can speak the German, the life here seems strange and contrary to my liking. They're so slow and easy going.

There are quite a few Americans here. Rev. Allen, Syracuse '97, is taking work at the University. He lives with his family in Urimberger St. 4. It seemed good to meet a Syracuse man in Germany.

I am taking work under Professors Sievers, Koster, Wittkowski and Wundt. I expect to put in a year of good, solid work. I have no examinations staring me in the face, since I can't stay for the doctor's degree, but I am going to study just the same.

Leipzig is a pretty nice city. I wish Syracuse had our University library, and the Augusteum for Liberal Arts College.

How is Syracuse getting along? I haven't heard of any Yale defeat at the hands of Syracuse. They ought to do what Amherst did to Harvard. I have my hands full in defending Syracuse against the Cornell, Yale and Columbia fellows here. But I beat them yesterday in the mile run. My first attempt at track athletics in college.

The address given above will be my home for the year if nothing happens. I enjoy my studies very much, but it is too early to tell which I consider the most profitable here.

Kindly remember me to Mrs. Smalley. Wishing you the very best year possible, I am Sincerely yours,

HUGO W. KOEHLER, '03,

GOOD MORNING.

The students have finally been selected who, with Prof. Losey, will take part in the greatest play ever given under the auspices of a University organization. The men and women who make up the caste are to be congratulated on honors falling to them.

The training for "King Lear" which begins at once, will be long and tedious, but well worth the time and effort needed. Everyone connected in any way with the play should put his or her best efforts into the work. On this production will rest the reputation of the University in her ability to produce a first class play in a professional manner.

We know that financially the venture will be well backed by the students, and others interested.

News Gathered From Various Colleges of the Country.

The University of Wisconsin will at its next commencement in June celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of its founding. The first class, graduated in 1854, was composed of two men. Five days will be devoted to the celebration. On Sunday there will be delivered a baccalaureate address and services in different churches, conducted by distinguished clergymen from the alumni. As the list of graduates for the first half century numbers nearly five thousand Alumni day will be kept with great celebration. It is planned to illuminate the capitol and public buildings at Madison and hold a giant torchlight procession. President Van Hise, who was recently elected, will then be formally inaugurated. On the evening of that day a water fete will take place on Lake Mendota. At the formal services of celebration university presidents from all the United States will be present. Speeches will be made on the future of state institutions. It is planned also to have a series of addresses by distinguished scholars from Europe respecting various departments of the university. On commencement day an oration will be delivered by some distinguished American. The week will end with a grand ball in the armory.

The agricultural department of the University of California has been instrumental in bringing to light the possibilities for a new American industry. Through its agency it has been found that the native rushes grown in California are equally as good as the tules or rushes imported from Japan and China. A piece of matting woven from rushes grown in California was received last week at the university. It is the first piece of matting ever woven from American grass. The university has sent to Washington several hundred roots of the kind used in this first matting for experimental culture elsewhere.

The alumni of Northwestern University have collected all but $8,000 of the $100,000 fund for the new gymnasium.

Registration figures at Yale show an increase of 250 over last year's attendance. The total registration is 2,975.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON.

Continued.

The old house in Genesee street was never all that we could desire. But to many of us who had our D K E birth there, and spent in it our fraternity childhood, it was home indeed, and many of our most cherished memories must ever return there.

The final abandonment of the old house was brought about by the immediate prospect of a home of our own. For many years a chapter house has been the cherished hope of the local Dekes. Gradually plans have matured and funds have accumulated until the result is the structure on Walnut Park, which we shall be proud to show to the Fraternity at the coming convention. This house is not the gift of any one alumnus; in fact there is hardly a son of Phi Gamma who has not done his share. Nor have Phi Gamma Dekes been alone in the work of building. We have had most substantial assistance from many Dekes of sister chapters. We owe a great debt to Brother Louis Merril, of Sigma; Brother Heffron, of Mu, and many others who have contributed heavily in money and time.

Syracuse has been the scene of two national conventions, one, the Twenty-ninth Annual Convention in 1875, and the other, the Forty-ninth Annual Convention in 1895.

We remember little about the former convention, except that it was a great occasion for the baby chapter, and was the second landmark in our chapter history.

The 1895 Convention, however, is still very vivid in our memory, and we think must ever be.

A most conspicuous feature of that Convention was the reception given at the Century Club. Undoubtedly it was the finest D K E social function, and the most representative in its character, that has ever been held in Central New York.

No small part of the influence exerted by Delta Kappa Epsilon in Syracuse is due to the Central New York Association. This is an incorporated organization, and as such built and owns the Phi Gamma Chapter House. It has at its head William Nottingham, Phi Gamma, '76, and its Board of Directors comprises some of the best known professional and business men of this section. The Board of Directors holds meetings regularly, and transacts no small amount of business relative to the association and the local chapter. Banquets of the Association are held twice in each year, one on the eve of Washington's Birthday and the other during Commencement week. A membership of nearly two hundred, which the association enjoys, invariably insures a large attendance at these gatherings, and great is the outpouring of D K E enthusiasm. By far the best and the largest of these banquets was the one held during last Commencement at the new chapter house, and which was made the occasion of its opening. Alumni returned from great distances, many of whom had not seen each other for years. Three charter members of the chapter were present. Neighboring chapters sent delegations, and altogether the occasion was most memorable.

The local chapter comprises twenty-seven men. The ancient "D K E goat," renowned for his great size and weight, only recently browsed upon our lawn. Composed of an excellent body of men, located in a fine house, and backed as it is by priority of establishment and a most stable alumni association, the chapter was never stronger than it is today.

Such, in brief, is Delta Kappa Epsilon at Syracuse. Represented by active men in all branches of college life, and by enthusiastic alumni in the professions and business of the town, Delta Kappa Epsilon is no small factor in the daily life of the city.

THE ENGLISH PLAY.

Professor Losey Assigns the Characters—Training Begins at Once.

Professor Losey assigned the following characters last evening for the play, King Lear, to be given by the English Club next March or April.

The following selections of characters are tentative and may be changed at any time as the practice progresses:

Kent, A. J. Sheldon; France, S. A. Ralph; Burgundy, E. Packard and H. Stebbins; Gloster, W. J. Boyd; Edmund W. Y. Boyd; Edgar, C. Searle; Oswald, E. G. Rice; Fool, Farrell. J. R. Rubin; Curan, A. F. Rider and Campbell, '07; Old Man, E. T. Lewis and S. A. Goldstone; Doctor, E. Voorhis and C. C. Reddish; Albany, S. H. Rice; Cornwall; Goneril, Miss Benjamin and Miss S. Rumrill; Regan. Miss Hunt; Cordelia, Misses R. Heinman, A. Thayer and Young.

These are to prepare on the first scene of the first act, and meet in room 33-34 Monday for rehersal.

SEEN FROM THE BLEACHERS.

One encouraging feature of the football practice yesterday was the large number of students who turned out to see the men play.

The scrubs gave the Varsity a good fight for honors yesterday. Coaches Parrish and Brown at times put some of the regulars on the second eleven to try out the regulars. The result was excellent. Both teams played a stronger and faster game.

Rice is improving in his work at center and may be given a trial in that position tomorrow. Van Duser and Moore at guard, and Harwood and Blue in tackle position are doing splendid work. With McMickle or Rice in the center, Lane and Boland as ends, the line for Saturday will be in fine shape.

Besides Captain O'Neill at quarter, the contest, among Schade, Parker, Park, Curtiss and Crawford, is close and interesting.

THE FRESHMAN BANQUET.

There was an unusually large class meeting of the freshmen yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The 1907 men had an interesting time repelling the Sophs. Arrangements for the freshman banquet, and discussion of the enforcement of the rule about the class cap were the themes of discussion. The banquet arrangements were left to the Executive Committee. The opinion prevails that it should be held before Thanksgiving vacation.

All pictures of Juniors for the 1905 Onondagan must be in by Dec, 19.

FOOTBALL HISTORY.

Statistics of the Orange Coaches and Players--Coaches Parish, Brown, Captain O'Neill.

The football season for 1903 in Syracuse University ends with the Brown game tomorrow. All students of the University, as well as many others, are very much interested in the men who have worked so hard and faithfully for the University.

The Daily Orange today gives the first of its series of brief sketches of these men. The coaches as graduates are first on the roll of honor, followed by the men of this year's Varsity who were also members of last year's eleven. The next article will be published Monday,

Coach Jason B. Parrish, 1902, was born at Canandaigua, Dec. 9, 1870. He prepared at the Academy in that place playing fullback in '95, '96. He entered Syracuse in '98, and played on the Varsity team four years as a member of the eleven. The first two years he occupied the position of fullback, but in 1900 he was tried in the line at right guard, where he proved a tower of strength. He tried for the crew in the spring of 1901, and was chosen to pull an oar as No. 6 in the Poughkeepsie regatta.

Coach Parrish coached the Hampden-Sidney College eleven last year and had great success in his work.

Coach Ancil Delos Brown, '08, classical, 28 years of age, and lives at McGraw. He played guard and half of the Cortland Normal School for three years acting as captain in '98. Entering Syracuse in '99, he played substitute guard and half in his freshman year. For the past three seasons he played left half back and was captain of last year's Varsity. He rowed in the Varsity crews in 1900, 1901 and 1903.

He is at present taking law in the University Law College, besides acting as a graduate coach.

The graduate system of coaching has been introduced at Syracuse with these two men as exponents. The system has proved satisfactory, as seen in the Yale game, and it doubtless will be continued.

Captain Frank H. O'Neil, 1904, quarterback, was born at Syracuse, 1880. He attended the Syracuse High School and played second base on the baseball team in '98, and '99; and quarter on the elevens of '98 and '99. Both of these teams won the N. Y. State Interscholastic football championship. O'Neil was captain of the '99 team. In 1900 he went to the Mercersburg Academy, Mercersburg; Pa., where he made the baseball team as second baseman; the track team as a pole vaulter and broad jumper; and the football team as quarterback. He entered Syracuse in the fall of 1900, and immediately became quarterback on the eleven and has played since in that position. His work in this position has been very generally praised by the football critics, and has had much to do with the success of the team. Captain O'Neil ranks as one of the best quarters in the country for his four years work. Syracuse has never had a captain who has worked harder than he for the success of the Varsity eleven. Height, 5 feet 5 inches; weight 135 pounds.

Continued Monday.

GOOD MORNING.

To day will see the Orange eleven practice for the last time this year, and to morrow will cover the final game of 1903 for Syracuse.

The 'Varsity has had a hard season this year with some unsatisfactory results. There is still hope for a splendid finish by defeating Brown to-morrow. Everyone who is able should aid to this end.

Every man who is not hindered by college, or other work, should be on the field during practice today, to cheer and encourage the men. It is certain that each man on the eleven will play better ball if he sees and hears the student body come out in this manner.

The sophomores showed an utter lack of class spirit yesterday morning in allowing certain freshmen to rule the the walk. It is high time the sophomores united fully and forcibly to compel every freshman to wear the green cap.

STUDENTS: John A. Wente is a first class tailor doing business at 250 James Street. His work is guaranteed to be satisfactory. Give him a trial for your fall suit.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The classes in fencing for women will meet every Wednesday and Friday morning at nine o'clock. Those who wish to enter fencing classes and are unable to do so at these hours will please see Miss Sibley any day after the eleven o'clock class in the gymnasium. If possible classes will be formed to accomodate as many as desire to take the work.

The State Uniform Examinations for teachers' certificates will not be held at the University as usual this week Thursday and Friday.

Professor S. N. Taylor, formerly Associate Professor in the Department of Physics, who has been studying in Germany during the past year, has been appointed Professor of Physics and head of that department in the University of Western Pennsylvania.

Prof. Street began last week his lectures in Auburn Theological Seminary. Eleven students elected his course, but since then nearly every student in the seminary has registered in his work, and a majority of the faculty have been attending regularly.

CURRICULUM OF THE SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM.

In the Educational Review of November appears an interesting article on "The Curriculum of the School of Journalism," by Hammond Lamont, editor of the New York Evening Post. It says, in part: "The school must deal with two things: the science of journalism and the art, or practice. It is in formulating a science that the faculty will meet the first difficulty, for today there is not, as in law, medicine, theology or the branches of engineering, a definite body of learning to be mastered. Certain studies are, however, of special value: modern languages and literatures, history, government, jurisprudence, diplomacy, sociology, finance statistics, economics, ethics, psychology, and art. These, also, are well taught in college, and a school of journalism will have no advantage in treating them except as it may emphasize, group and strengthen them. The emphasis should awaken intending journalists everywhere to their neglect of opportunity already provided for systematic preparation. Many graduates who enter journalism are too ignorant of the elements of political science to report clearly the proceedings of a legislature, a board of aldermen, or a political convention—to say nothing of writing intelligent comment. The strengthening of instruction in these special courses is announced as part of the Columbia plan; but if Harvard and Yale choose to keep step, they may, without establishing a school, see to it that Columbia does not monopolize the means of grace.

Besides these studies, which may be almost as useful to a lawyer or a clergyman as to an editor, Columbia promises others that belong strictly to journalism, and are hardly in place in college; the law and ethics of journalism, newspaper administration and manufacture, and the history of the press. Courses in law and ethics, though the quantity of matter is not large, should have value, especially if they inculcate rudimentary notions of the sanctities of private life and the amenities of civilized society. The remaining technical subjects should occupy only a small share of the curriculum; for systems of administration differ so widely that much of the instruction can touch only general principles; manufacturing processes are so quickly learned in practice that exhaustive study of them in school is hardly worth while; and the history of journalism is short. In fine, all these technical courses are distinctly less valuable, both for content and mental discipline.

To sum up in the science of journalism the school will offer but little more than our best colleges may; and that little—if we except the law and ethics—is of minor importance. But it will gain from having its courses designed for a particular end, systematically developed, and so plainly marked out that wayfaring students, tho' fools, shall not err therein.

THE GREAT GAME.

Final Contest of the Year—The Line-up.

The last and final game of the football season here will be called at 3 o'clock sharp this afternoon. The Orange eleven will do battle with the Brown and White team from Providence, R. I.

The men on the Brown eleven are confident of victory as are their followers. Both do not hesitate to say that Brown will win. Syracuse on the other hand are hopeful, and expect to put up the hardest battle of the year to win out.

The men from the East outweigh the Orange Varsity about five pounds on the average. They have defeated Williams very decisively, while the latter has turned the trick on Syracuse. In the punting department the Rhode Island is far surperior to the S racuse eleven. Zimowski the regular fullback is a star In the Princeton-Brown game he barely missed a difficult goal on a muddy field by a drop kick from the 40 yard line.

Captain Webb, Keen, Hascall and Zimowski of the B own squad did not participate in the regular practice last Wednesday because of minor injuries from which they are still suffering somewhat.

Notwithstanding the odds against her, Syracuse is very hopeful of winning today's game. Syracuse has played Brown two games the one in 1900 resulted in a tie 6 to 6; but in 1901 Syracuse beat Brown easily 20 to 0. This will be the first time Brown has played in Syracuse.

It is expected five thousand or more people will witness the great game. The officials for the contest are Referee Louis Hinkey of Yale, umpire Dr. Roller of Philadelphia.

The probable lineup follows:

BROWN.	SYRACUSE.
Right End.
Russ, Hascall	Boland

AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION.

A mass meeting was held yesterday morning of the student Athletic Association, to vote on the amendments proposed for the constitution two weeks ago. President George S. Hares read the following amendments which were adopted unanimously.

Resolved, That section 3, Article 9 of the Constitution of the Athletic Association of Syracuse University be amended to read as follows: Section 3, four members shall be elected to the Governing board from and by the undergraduate members of the association in the manner hereinafter provided. Two of these members shall be elected each year from the sophomore class. The election shall be by ballot, and shall be held on the first Monday in May of each year, unless for special reasons the Athletic Governing board shall otherwise direct, at a place and hour to be fixed and announced by the Director of the Gymnasium, at least one week before the election takes place. All nominations must be filed with the Director of the Gymnasium at least one week before the election takes place and must be published by him prior to such election, in at least one college paper. The term of office of the members so elected shall be two years, such term commencing with the college year following their election. Whenever a member of the Governing Board so elected by the undergraduate members of the association shall for any reason cease to be an undergraduate student in actual residence in the University, he shall, at the same time, cease to be a member of the Governing Board. All vacancies from this or any other cause, shall be filed at special elections in the same manner as if an original election took place."

Resolved That Article 9 of the constitution be amended by inserting therein an additional section to read as follows: "The manager of the football team, the manager of the baseball team, the manager of the track athletic team and the commodore of the navy shall, by virtue of their respective offices and during their continuance in office, be associate members of the Athletic Governing Board. Such associate members shall attend all meetings of the board in an advisory capacity. They shall have the privilege of the floor, but shall not be entitled to vote."

After the amendments had been approved, Frank Clarke '03, was called on for a speech. He gave a stirring talk to the large and enthusiastic audience. In substance he said we were going to beat Brown to-day, and every student should show the true Orange spirit in backing the team to the last.

FRESHMEN CAUSE MUCH COMMENT

Members of the Class Issue a Proc. to 1906—Something Without Precedent—Seniors to Act.

A sensation was created on the Hil yesterday morning by certain members of the freshman class. These men posted or caused to be posted a proclamation to the sophomore class.

The fact that the first year men did such a thing is in itself enough to disgrace the whole class. Such a thing has never occurred at Syracuse before. It is the inherent right of the sophomore class to post proclamations of such a character as that issued yesterday.

The proclamation contained some sentiments which caused harsh criticism by the upperclassmen. The sentiment which brought down the wrath of the upperclassmen on the disgraced freshmen was that referring to the inability of three 1906 men, McMickle, Rice and Belcher, to hold down center on the Varsity football eleven. This slurring reference was taken as a knock on the Varsity eleven.

A special meeting of the men of the senior class will be held at chapel time this morning to deal with the actions of the 1907 class in this matter, and in reference to the '07 class cap

GOOD MORNING.

Today occurs the final game of the football season for the Varsity. There is more at stake in this contest than there has been in the preceding. The football authorities and critics, the country over, willrank Syracuse for the year according to the result of the Brown game this afternoon.

It behooves every student therefore, to back the team from the start to the finish of the game. The eleven will play twice as well when they realize the student body is with them every second of the contest.

The arrangements for the game are the same as heretofore, concerning cheermasters and seating.

If such a thing as defeat comes to the Varsity, every man in the University should remain on the field to sing and cheer the Orange eleven; and finally carry off on their shoulders the whole Varsity squad.

The freshman proclamation gotten out yesterday is a disgrace to every member of the class. It is something they should apologize for at once in order to restore them to good standing in the University.

The museum of the University of Indiana recently received a collection of birds that were caught, mounted, and labeled by President Roosevelt. He was only seventeen years old when he made the collection.

THE DEKE CONVENTION.

The Dekes close their great convention with a drag ride this morning and attendance in a body at the Brown-Syracuse game this afternoon.

Last night over two hundred of them gathered around a regular Deke banquet at the Yates. All made merry in feasting, and singing their good old songs, mingled with numerous stories of the old college days.

Thursday evening a reception and dance was held at the chapter house in Walnut Avenue.

Invitations were extended to a large number of city guests besides the members of the various sororities, and about six hundred were present during the evening.

The members of the Reception Committee were as follows: Mrs. William Nottingham, Mrs. E. L. Edgcomb, Mrs. Charles W. Andrews, Mrs. C. C. Cook, Mrs. J. D. Phelps, Mrs. E. L. French, Mrs. E. P. Lyman and Mrs. E. G. Merrell.

All of the delegates, over 200, to the national convention have been in session two days, and Thursday morning the first business session was held at the Yates Hotel. The following convention officers were elected: President, Henry Cuthbert Williamson, Jr., of the Chi chapter, Memphis, Tenn.; first vice-president, Benjamin Ford of Beta Phi chapter, Rochester; second vice-president, J. C. Moore of Alpha Phi chapter, Toronto, Ont.; secretaries, R. A. Stillwell of Phi Gamma chapter, Syracuse, and Francis Adams of Sigma chapter, Amherst, Mass.; sergeant-at-arms, C. D. Freeman of Phi Epsilon chapter, Minneapolis, Minn.

FRESHMEN LAW TAKE NOTICE!

At a meeting of the junior law class held Friday morning a motion was passed which instructed all first year law men to secure freshman caps before Monday, Nov 23, '03. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

OTHER COLLEGE NEWS.

Leland Stanford Jr. University has made rules to limit the number of women in that institution. As matters now stand but one more woman can be registered, and the faculty is now devising means of keeping down the female registration next year. To prevent the enrollment of more than five hundred women—the limit fixed by the law of the university—none who desire to become special students were admitted this year. After August, 1904, no men who have not met all the entrance requirements will be enrolled as freshmen.

The Chicago College of Dental Surgery has been made a part of the University of Illinois. The new institution will rank as a college in the university and will be combined with the University School of Dentistry.

BROWN WINS A HARD GAME.

Great Work of Marcy and Burrill--Superior Interference and Team Work by Brown.

The final football game for Syracuse this season was the hardest of the year. Brown proved even stronger than was expected. The weather for the game was almost ideal. A strong breeze from the west aided Syracuse materially on punts.

The contest was called at 3:10 with Louis Hinkey of Yale as referee, and Dr. Roller of Chicago as umpire. Captain O'Neill kicked off to Brown. Russ returned with the ball for fifteen yards. On the next line up only two yards was made, but Russ then on a trick play broke through the Syracuse right tackle for thirty yards. Pearsall, Higgins and Curtiss smashed the tackles and guards for three successive gains of five or six yards each. The giant Brown guard Fletcher advanced the ball ten yards, the backs Pearsall, Curtiss and Russ alternating plunged and bucked the left tackle and guard for some twenty yards. Hinkey peralized the Providence team for five yards on offside play. Syracuse held for downs forcing Russ to a punt which cleared twenty-five yards.

On the first lineup by Syracuse Schade by a delayed pass made a brilliant run around left end for thirty-five yards. Here Brown got the ball on a fumble. The ball changed hands in rapid succession each side usually resorting to punting. In this department Bob Park did splendid work, most of his punts covering forty yards. In the latter part of the half Boland was ruled out of the game and Burrell took his place. Brown at this stage rushed the ball down the field by excellent work on the part of their quarter Schwartz, ably assisted by Elrod, Webb and McGregor. The Orange men again braced and got the ball, but were in turn compelled to punt. Park booted the pigskin for thirty-five yards. Schwartz in the back field for Brown fumbled the punt. "Speedy" Burrell was on the ball like a cat and away he ran for a touchdown amid the deafening roar of thousands. Time elapsed twenty-four minutes. Burrell failed at the goal. Score at end of first half 5 to 0 in favor of Syracuse.

Russ kicked off in the second half to Syracuse. Burrell on a double pass from Lane returned ten yards. Syracuse was soon compelled to punt from her twenty-yard line. The Providence eleven at once began fast aggressive play Russ, Curtiss, Webb and Fletcher were used for sure gains of several yards each time. Russ the hard plunging full back was finally pushed over the Syracuse line for a touchdown. Big Fletcher kicked an easy goal. Score 6 to 5 in favor of Brown. The second touchdown by the Brown eleven was secured near the end of the second half. Again Fletcher converted it into a goal. The Rhode Island men were making their way steadily and surely toward the Orange goal when time was called, and the great game was over. Marcy, Harwood and Burrell played a great game for Syracuse, but they had to share the honors with Park and Lane in all around work. The men were carried off the field on the shoulders of the students after the game was over. The line up follows:—

Syracuse.	Brown.
Left end.
Lane	Schwinn
Left tackle.
Harwood	Higgins
Left guard.
Moore, Blue	McGregor
Center.
McMickle	Colter

FRATERNITY HISTORY.

DELTA SUPILON.

In the spring of 1872, there was founded at Syracuse University, a local society called the Atticaeum, having a membership of fifteen. This society held its meetings in the old Myers Block, on East Genesee street, then used for University purposes. The next year application was made for a charter from Delta Upsilon, and on November 14, 1873, the Syracuse chapter of Delta Upsilon was installed with the following charter members:—

James Edward Everett '75; Frank Darth Barker '76; Herbert Huntington '76; Bartholomew Keeler '76; Edwin Nottingham '76; John Thomas Roberts '76; George Ernest Smith '76; George Adelbert Place '76; Marvin Spooner Leonard '76; Grant Dickson Green '77; Loring Smith Hutchinson 77; Newton Alonzo Wells '77; and Joseph Henry Zartman '77.

In the spring of 1874, rooms were secured in the Pike Block, corner of Salina and Fayette streets. For two years, these rooms served as a meeting place for the chapter.

Then until the spring of 1888, the chapter held its meetings in the Rice Block, after which it moved back to the Pike Block.

These rooms were used until April 1, 1887, when the present chapter house was secured.

Two national conventions have been held with the Syracuse chapter—the 55th held October 23-25, 1889, and the 66th held October 18-19, 1900.

The chapter has had thirty-three classes, with a total of 258 members.

THE CROSS COUNTRY SQUAD.

The cross country squad takes its run every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, no matter what weather prevails. The team leaves the Hill soon after 4 o'clock and takes its course through woods, fields and meadows, not returning to the gymnasium until they have covered at least four to seven miles.

About a dozen men are running regularly on the squad. Captain W. Y. Boyd says some very good men are being developed for the long runs who will give an account of themselves at the meets next spring.

There are three block "S" men in the team Captain Boyd, Squires and Robertson.

Before the end of the season a hare and hound race will be held.

The following is the list of those who run regularly: Captsin W. Y. Boyd, Squires, Robertson, Ruity, Vorhis, Greenfield. Lanctot, Hawley, Sorondo, Grant, W. J. Boyd and Stebbins.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI.

Mr. Clarence J. Benjamin '04, is at his home in Scranton, Pa., ill with rheumatism.

Mr. Karl D. Wood '00, (A. B.), '03 Medic, visited at 113 College Place last Saturday and attended the Brown game. From here he goes to his home in Nassau, N. H., for a two weeks' vacation, He is in one of New York city's largest hospitals this year as an attenant physician.

Among the many alumni from out of town who saw the Brown game last Saturday were Messrs. Elden, F. E. Clarke, J. Pembleton and H Weeks of the 1903 class.

NUMERALS ON GRANDSTAND.

Some members of the 1907 class painted the class numerals on the grandstand early last Saturday morning. This was done despite the fact that Chancellor Day took a most vigorous stand last year against a similar act by the 1906 class.

The sophomores got busy before chapel time, and under the direction of their President, Oscar Brown, caught a half dozen freshmen. The latter were taken to the grandstand and made to climb the roof and erase the '07s painted thereon.

ENGINEERS VS. LAW MEN.

The Engineers' eleven will play the Law School team next Wednesday at 3 o'clock on the Oval.

Manager Cannon of the Engineers expects his team to win by a good score. But the Law men say they have a surprise to spring which forebodes a victory for the legal side of the question.

The contest promises to be very close and exciting.

If you wish to grow fat, take Ghernole, $1.00 at Larned & Barker's.

SENIORS TAKE ACTION

Final Underclass Football Game This Week—Recent Deeds of the Freshman Class.

An important meeting of the Senior class men was held in chapel last Saturt day morning. The petition of the freshmen asking that the last underslass game be annulled, and another game be played; was acted on favorably. A motion was made and carried that a committee of three be appointed to arrange another game between 1906 and 1907. President Heal appointed Messrs Moore, Hares and Sowers. This committee will arrange the game for some afternoon this week probably Thursday. It will also have charge of arrangements and selection of officials. A committee of five was also appointed to draw up resolutions concerning the recent actions of the freshman class in issuing a proclamation such as they did, also on wearing the class cap and defacing college property. A public apology is due from 1907 for several things. The committee of five is Messrs Evans, Merry, Baldrey, Kelly and Gramlich.

OTHER COLLEGES.

At the University of Illinois announcment was made recently of the inauguration of a plan whereby public official recognition is to be given such students as attain a very high grade of scholarship. By the system to be used preliminary honors will be given on the completion of the sophomore year. The number of honors awarded will not exceed one-tenth of the membership of the sophomore class. The same ratio of allotment will be given at the completion of the Junior and Senior years Special honors may be competed for during the Senior year. For this honor a grade of eighty-five will be required. The attempt to magnify the importance of high scholarship, while something new at Illinois, is a plan long in use at Chicago and other universities.

It was reported lately that the fifteen-year old son of Professor Herbert A. Howe, instructor in astronomy in Denver University, has discovered at the upper edge of the sun's disk a new group of sunspots as great in magnitude and as important as the group discovered recently by the Washington astronomers. The discovery was made at University Park in Denver, with a six-inch telescope.

The sophomore class at the University of Michigan has drawn up a set of rules for the '07 men. The rules forbid freshmen to smoke a pipe on the campus, to sit in the first five rows at the theatre, to enter certain refreshment places, and to wear silk hats.

GOOD MORNING.

The Syracuse eleven in the final game last Saturday played in her best form against Brown, but lost to a superior foe. The Orange eleven deserves only praise for the great showing it made. Every man did his best, and more can not be asked of any man.

The season just closed has been a hard one. It has not been satisfactory in some respects to the alumni and students as they wished it. Several of the larger universities have experienced similar difficulties and results. We should take hope from these great examples.

The graduate system of coaches has had a hard trial and we cannot deny it had many obstacles to surmount. Last fall we had a great eleven composed of experienced and, in many cases, star players. This year we started in with practically a green eleven. This meant ceaseless effort on the part of the coaches to train the men in the rudiments of college football, without mentioning the fine arts known to seasoned men.

The coaches are to be congratulated on doing so well as they have under prevailing conditions. It is indeed hoped the authorities will continue the graduate system at Syracuse in football as in other branches of athletics.

At the University of Indiana the daily student publication offered to loan to all "broke" students sufficient money to pay their expenses to the recent game between Indiana and Purdue.

STUDENTS: John A. Wente is a first class tailoring business at 250 James Street. His work is guaranteed to be satisfactory. Give him a trial for your fall suit.

10. The increasing loyalty and enthusiasm on the part of the membership of the Association is most encouraging. The prestige of the Association has become so great that it is almost a danger. It is with difficulty that we can r. frain students from organizing Associations as they go back to their hon es, and the Chinese young men and missionaries of at least four cities are insisting upon organizing immediately.

11. All of the preliminary steps have been taken for the organization of a league of Student Volunteers. Plans have been perfected for Bible classes and a conference of Volunteers next summer in connection with the large summer resorts of the missionaries.

12. The character of some of the Chinese secretaries is full of promise for the future. They have been a surprise as to their efficiency and trustworthiness. It takes no large faith to believe that the next few years may show us some large Associations under the leadership of native secretaries.

13. Nothing could be more encouraging than the unity of aim and effort and entire harmony in method which exists among the foreign secretaries of the International Committee in this field.

A Novel Monument.

A novel and ingenious monument by Bartholdi to the aeronauts of the siege of Paris is to be erected in Montmartre or its vicinity. It will stand about 60 feet high and be capped by a balloon of bronze and glass or transparent mica. Its diameter will be about ten feet, and inside there will be an electric lamp with a reflector, so that by night the monument will be illuminated. The balloon will be guided by a symbolical figure of the genius of Paris, and under it a mother with her dying children will represent the city of Paris.

Earning It Herself.

Mrs. Frugal—We had a beautiful arrangement at our church meeting. Every woman contributed five dollars which she had earned herself by hard work.

Her Neighbor—How did you get yours?

"From my husband."

"But I don't call that earning it yourself by hard work."

"You don't know that husband of mine, or else you would."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Birds Extinct in Switzerland.

Last year the Swiss government gave the cantons 10,000 francs ($1,930) for the destruction of noxious animals. The sum spent in the cantons for this purpose was 4,000 francs ($772). Seventy-two otters, 188 herons and 363 crows were destroyed. In the list published some years before we see the kingfisher, the water blackbird, the grebe and the fish eagle, but it would appear that these birds are now extinct in Switzerland.

Wasted Energy.

"James, dear," said the young wife, with a sigh long drawn out "why is it you never talk sweet nonsense and never flatter me any more, as you did during our courtship?"

"Because it isn't necessary," replied James. "My employer always told me it was a waste of time to praise the goods after the sale had been made."

The Head Was Hers.

"Yes; he proposed," Miss Passay continued, blushing, "and when papa came into the room he found me in Mr. Huggins' arms."

"Ah, now I see," exclaimed Miss Speltz. "I wondered what your father meant today when I heard him telling my father that Mr. Huggins had an old head on young shoulders."—Philadelphia Press.

VOL 1. No. 54. SYRACUSE, N. Y., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

THE GIBSON GIRL.

Controversy Evoked by Professor Ayer's Criticisim.

A great deal of controversy has been stirred up amid artistic circles by a recent address by Mrs. Evelyn B. Ayers, Professor of Elocution and Physical Culture, before the National Convention of the Mothers' Club. In that address Professor Ayers made some references to the style of art inaugurated by Gibson and the ethical effects of that art The principal object of the address was to show that Gibson's pictures present false ideals before the thousands of young women who look upon Gibson as authority.

Owing largely to the sensational manner in which Mrs. Ayers' address was reported in the press a great deal of entirely undeserved criticism has been given to her statements.

Among these criticisms is one from the pen of Miss Helen Sherwood, one of the women who has posed for Mr. Gibson's society pictures. This criticism was published in the Sunday Post-Standard, and is in part:

"I have frequently posed for Mr. Gibson, most recently for the Younger Miss Pipp in 'The Education of Mr. Pipp.' When Mrs. Ayers says that self-consciousness is the keynote of the Gibson girl and angularity is her next strongest point, she is thoroughly at fault. Had she ever posed for Mr. Gibson she might know this.

"Above all else, Mr. Gibson insists upon naturalness. 'Don't pose! Don't pose!' He has repeated this time and time again. 'Don't strike a stiff attitude. Try to look as if all the studios in the world had been burned to the ground and all the artists buried in their ashes. I don't want wooden women. I want real, natural, living creatures of flesh and blood.'

"Mr Gibson's critics say his women are tall. Is height a sin? If so, I am guilty of six feet of transgression—without my shoes.

"Mrs. Ayers also blames Mr. Gibson for the 'kangaroo walk.' Indeed, this is too ridiculous. She should rather throw the anathema at the manufacturers of absurd corsets and abnormally high French heels, which are directly responsible for the 'kangaroo walk.' I really believe there is no one in the world whose artistic sensibility is more keenly hurt by the kangarooish locomotion than Mr. Gibson.

"Among the chief accusations brought against the Gibson girl by Mrs. Ayers, who teaches physical culture, probably in a gymnasium, are that she affects this atrocious walk, that she is stilted and conceited, that she has a false figure and throws her shoulders and hips back to such a degree that a pressure is exerted upon the small of the back, which tends to produce nervous ills.

"In case anyone is worrying over these strictures the best answer may be found in Mr. Gibson's own words as I can remember them at the present moment.

"I will tell you the sort of a girl I want to draw," he said to me the first morning I went to his studio to pose. 'I want a girl whose life has been spent outdoors and whose figure has been developed by plenty of healthful, outdoor exercise—not the set, strained, lumpy figure that dumbbells, Indian clubs and physical directors put upon the female form. I could not draw such a figure unless for a comic picture.'

'I want to draw a girl who has always breathed God's free, pure air, and who has seen the sun rise with fresh eyes—a girl who is not ashamed because she has nothing of which to be ashamed—a girl who is not afraid because there is nothing to be afraid of. I want to draw such a girl in tailor-made clothes. Bear this in mind while posing for me.'

"When the numerous misstatements of Mr. Gibson's critics are set aside and the truth brought forth the following seemed to be the most heinous sins of the Gibson girl."

"She is tall. She stands straight. She is independent. Her brows are uplifted. She is self-possessed. She throws back her shoulders. She is not ashamed of herself."

When Professor Ayers wrs interviewed by an Orange reporter yesterday morning she stated that she had no answer to make to this criticism The picture of Miss Sherwood in one of her "natural" poses is a sufficient proof that Miss Sherwood is no authority on matters relating to self consciousness. Judging from that picture, Miss Sherwood is the very personification of that fault which she vigorously asserts is not one of the crimes of the Gibson girl.

OTHER COLLEGES

An effort is being made to collect enough money from Yale, Harvard, Princeton and Pennsylvania to furnish a club house for the use of men who are employed on small salaries in civil and military positions in Manila. Yale undergraduates have been asked to pay for the equipment of a gymnasium in connection with this club, and an attempt is now being made to raise the necessary amount from individual subscriptions. The club house itself has already been paid for by the father of a recent Yale graduate. It will be used by four or five hundred young men who are at present aiding in the work of establishing American ideals in the Philippines and who without the advantages which this club will offer are very much handicapped in their work. There is absolutely no opportunity afforded these men many of whom are college graduates, for amusement or recreation of a healthy sort, and the accommodations are such that they are even deprived of the ordinary facilities for cleanliness. Such a state of affairs would be mad in a moderate temperate region, but in the tropics it is many cases unbearable.

The women students at Cornell University have issued the following "Rules for Freshmen:"

No freshman shall give a fudge party in any of the small drawing rooms in the college, unless attended by a chaperon.

No freshman shall invite male guests to any of the nightly dances in the Sage gymnasium. Members of the other classes may invite men on Tuesday evening of each week. This rule, however, will only remain in force until Christmas.

No freshman shall go out driving with a man.

No freshman shall go out walking with a man on the campus.

At the University of Wisconsin it is expected that student dormitories will soon be erected.

Bicycle riding has been prohibited on the Harvard campus walks.

Harvard Stargazing.

Although the appearance of a new star, such as the one in Perseus, is extremely rare, it seems that the same phenomenon on a smaller scale is not infrequent. The new stars which have been found, until quite recent times, have not been the result of search, and many new stars, perhaps not quite so bright, may have appeared and disappeared quite unnoticed. Something nearer to a systematic search for new stars has been carried on of late years at Harvard college. An exhaustive catalogue of stellar spectra is being formed by photographic means. In the process of this work no fewer than six objects have been found with the bright and dark line spectrum characteristics of new stars. These were all detected in an examination of photographs made between 1893 and 1900.—F. W. Dyson, in The Cornhill.

Wise Precaution.

The day was warm, although rainy, and when the sexton started to close the window behind Widow Johnson, she beckoned to him, and shook her head.

"W'at for you shutting dot winder, Mr. Brown?" she demanded, peremptorily. "Don' you know de air is suffocating in dis church?"

The sexton gazed at her with a look on his old face in which obstinacy and the respect due to a bank account were mingled.

"De minister tol' me to close dis winder," he whispered. "It's a chill day, Mis' Johnson, an' I reckon he don' intend any lambs gwine to be los' from dis fold by carelessness while dere's an oberhanging debt on dis church."—Youth's Companion.

Millions of Turkeys.

It is estimated that 20,000,000 turkeys, or 200,000,000 pounds, are consumed in this country during Thanksgiving week every year. Many millions of these pass through the Chicago market on their way to the towns of the middle west and to the eastern commission houses. About 700,000 are sold in Chicago itself during that week. These turkeys come from all parts of the country, especially from Pennsylvania and the south and west. Formerly some of the New England states had great reputations as turkey producers, but the supply has fallen off continually, while at the same time the demand has greatly increased. —Chicago Journal.

Merciful Guillotine.

The associations of the guillotine are so grim that the mere sound of the word almost causes one to shudder. But a merciful use of the instrument does something to relieve it of its dread import. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has installed in the market of Gottenborg, Sweden, a guillotine for the decapitation of fowl. The public bought the equipment, and the process will be an object lesson in the humane execution of a necessary and sometimes a cruelly performed task.—

Here he played guard and tackle on the institute team. Brane entered college in '99, and played on the freshman eleven that fall. The next year he did not return to college, but he returned, in the fall of 1901 and played, as sub-guard, in some of the most important games of the season. He has played as guard on last and this year's Varsity. A short time ago he

GOOD MORNING.

Now that the football season is over the students have the opportunity, and should develop the inclination, to support the basketball teams better than ever before.

Basketball has not attained the prominence at Syracuse which is given it at most other colleges of note. During the past few years we are sorry to say the Orange five has gone down to defeat before small colleges which we would not deem worthy our metal in other branches of sport. This fact is the more significant bacause we are sometimes judged by outside observerers through just such a medium.

This fall Syracuse has the material for the best varsity basketball team that ever wore the Orange. The men are in constant training, and working faithfully to uphold the college standard as it should be in this branch of athletics.

This sport like every other, needs the heartv cooperation of the entire student body. Let us then get back of it, and support it in a way worthy of greater Syracuse.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATES

Syracuse Meets Wesleyan this Year—Alfred College Debates the Sophomore Club—The Questions.

The two questions which were submitted by the Debating Union to Wesleyan are as follows,

Resolved. That the protective system advocated by Mr. Chamberlain would contribute to the political and industrial prosperity of the British Empire.

Resolved, That some form of compulsory arbitation should be established to settle disputes between capital and labor when such disputes interfere directly with the common interests of the community.

Wesleyan will have the choice of either of these questions and also the choice of the side that she will take. She has about two weeks to decide.

Alfred University has submitted the following question for the coming debate with the Sophomore Club:

Resolved That labor unions are not promoting the general welfare.

The wording of this question is not satisfactory to the Syracuse authorities. The words "general welfare" are too broad. What is meant by the Alfred committee is probably the industrial welfare and if they wi l put it so in the question, the question will be accepted by Syracuse.

The trials for the debate will be held during the first of next menth. All members of the Sophomore Debate club will be eligible to compete.

ADDRESS BY MR. GREET.

Mr. Ben Greet, the celebrated Shaksperean scholar, under whose direction the plays of Everymen and Twelfth Night will be given in their original settings at the Wieting Friday and Saturday evenings, is expected to address Prof. Losey's class in Shakspeare Saturday morning at 8:50. Mr. Greet is a scholar of the higeest attainments and ranks with the best scholars of the day. The work he has done in reproducing these old plays is invaluable to the student world. An opportunity for hearing Mr. Greet should be most earnestly welcomed by all.

Should Mr. Greet address the class on Saturday Prof. Losey will be glad to have any of those who are interested hear him. If he does not come the class will continue its regular work.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The members of the Junior Debating Club will sit for their picture for the 1905 Onondagan on Wednesday.

The regular meeting of the 1905 Onondagan Board is postponed until next Monday evening, when they will meet at the Kappa Kappa Gamma Chapter house.

DEAN KENT'S LECTURE.

AT CORNELL.

Dean William Kent recently gave an admirable address before the Cornell College of Engineering.

The Cornell Daily Sun of last Saturday says:

"Yesterday at 3 p. m. Professor William Kent, dean of the college of Mechanical Engineering in Syracuse University, addressed the Sibley students in the Sibley Dome on the "University Education of Engineers." Professor Durand introduced the speaker. He then opened his address with an eulogy on the late Dr. Thurston who had invited him to make the address. Professor Kent said the purpose of education was: First, to open and broaden the mind, second, to develop the brain by continual concentrated application, and third, to develop general culture. The speaker went on to show the great advantage of American universities over English universities. He said that within the last sixteen years almost ten times as much money has been given American universities as English universities and that at the present day there are almost as many instructors in American colleges as there are students in England.

"Professor Kent said that under ideal conditions he would have the student spend at least three years in the liberal arts course before taking up his professional course He also said that he thought young men who intend to enter engineering courses should spend s year in a machine shop before entering college. In regard to athletics he said that engineering students should spend only as much time in athletic sports as was necessary for health and that they should be required to work in the university at least nine hours a day."

THE HUNTINGTON SOCIETY.

The November meeting of the Huntington Club will be held on Wednesday evening November 18th, Westminster Hall. All members are urged to be present as the committee in charge have done all in their power to make such arrangements as will assure every one of an enjoyable evening. Westminster Hall is on Basset street at the head of Hawthorne street. Take the Westcott or Walnut car, getting off at Hawthorne street walk two blocks west.

THE GERMAN PLAYS.

Great Interest Shown--Favorable Progress in Rehearsal --To be Given at Different Times.

The students in the German Club are manifesting much enthusiasm over the three plays that are to be given by the club during the course of the year.

The rehearsals and readings are being conducted very satisfactorily. Dr. F. J. Holzwarth says that all the plays will not be given at one time. The first will probably be given in January, and the other two follow in April and May. It is intended to give all the plays on the Hill, although the place has not been selected definitely. The plays and characters follow.

GOOD MORNING.

The Evening Herald of Monday contained a full column roast on our graduate system of coaching, which was far from being deserved. Among other things it said there was no valid excuse for our poor showing in several recent big games. It also tries to prove that because two other large institutions have had reverses under the graduate system, Syracuse is doomed to the same fate.

The Herald has a reporter on the Hill, who if he did not write the article is to a great degree responsible for the same. If it were not in a serious vein and on a vital subject we should consider it one of his "pipe dreams" written to fill space; as in the case of one of his recent "dreams" on the date of the freshman banquet.

The Daily Orange takes the stand for a further test of the graduate system, and believes time will justify the trial.

VOL 1. No. 56. SYRACUSE, N. Y., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

SENIOR CLASS RESOLUTIONS

Recent Actions of the 1907 Class Scored--Freshmen to Apologize.

RESOLUTIONS OF THE CLASS OF 1904, SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY.

Whereas, Certain events and conditions at present existing in the conduct of underclassmen affairs have been conspicuously called to our attention and since it seems to be necessary for the proper understanding of the functions and privileges of the two under classes to consider the situation, be it

Resolved, That the freshman class be instructed to apologize to the University in chapel assembled at chapel period Friday morning, Nov. 20, 1903, for that portion of the "proclamation" issued under the class name last Friday referring to the 'Varsity football men; also, for the section referring to the captain of the 1906 freshman crew; also, for the sections referring to the enforcing of the custom of wearing class caps, be it further

Resolved, That we deplore the general tone of the aforesaid "proclamation." Its language was neither dignified nor humorous. It is further ordered that no freshman class shall publish any proclamation whatsoever, be it further

Resolved, That the freshman class be severely censured for the violation of the rule that no college property be injured, and it is ordered that where proclamations have been posted on flag poles or other college property the freshman class obliterate the signs and effects thereof immediately. It is further

Resolved, That the rules heretofore established relating to the damaging of college property prohibiting underclassmen from smoking on the campus' etc., be rigidly adhered to in the future.

Resolved, that the custom of wearing a distinctively class cap instituted by the upper classes be strictly enforced and that all freshmen who are not already in possession of said class caps be instructed to procure them forthwith. We deplore the efforts made by certain individuals of the sophomore class to defeat the purpose of the custom by appropriating to their own uses the caps of the Freshmen and in all cases where this has occurred it is advised that the caps be returned at once to their rightful owners. This observation applies to other than the members of the sophomore class who have taken caps in this manner. Be it further

Resolved: that the class of 1906 be severely censured for hazing a member of the class of 1907 for appearing without the class cap on a date earlier than that named by which all freshmen should appear with class caps. Also the sophomores be censured for hazing a member of the freshman class with the view of extorting information concerning the class of 1907. Such conduct is cowardly, reprehensible and thoroughly unbecoming the character and department University students. Also

Resolved: that the members of both the underclasses shall make earnest effort in the future to understand their proper relative positions in the University life and control their acts and plans in accordance with this knowledge. This will include deference in all things to the members of the upper classes in the matter of starting college songs, yells, etc, etc.

GOOD MORNING.

There seems to be much comment on the graduate system of coaching as it existed at Syracuse this year. The Daily Orange stands for the graduate system but not as it really did exist this fall.

The system in vogue here was not, strictly speaking, the graduate system of coaching. The true graduate system as it exists at Yale, and other leading universities, has graduates who serve without compensation. Further, such a system has one man at the head who is responsible for the whole season, and its results.

We contend to the interests of the student body that the system used this year was not first, a purely graduate system; nor secondly, was it worked out as it was defined at the beginning of the season.

The system used this fall was nearly identical with professional coaching. The men who were the coaches were paid in full for all their services and expenses, just as a professional coach would be.

In the second place we understand that in the gruduate system as supposed to exist here in September one man was at the head, who was responsible for everything. On the contrary the system as practiced here this fall had no head so far as we could observe. In saying this we do not wish to detract in the least from the work done by either coach. Each did the very best he could, we believe. But one man alone was not held responsible for results. Both coaches were on a par, and hence equal in power in reality, if not in supposition. In our mind the non-success of the system in several of the games was due to the facts already given and also because our coaches were not sufficiently experienced in their work.

We would suggest as a sysiem one that is strictly a graduate system as the one in vogue this fall, and one that would certainly eliminate our past mistakes. It is this, the employment of one man as A HEAD COACH with a good salary, and the selection by the Athletic Board of two or three other men, graduates, as his ASSISTANTS.

With this issue there is an important change in the staff of the Orange. Mr. Clement T Robertson, 1905, has been compelled on account of his health to resign the position of business manager. The Daily Orange announces Mr. A. Stanley Copeland, 1904, as business manager. Mr. Robertson takes the position of circulation manager.

Mr. Kobertson, as business manager, fully realized the great task involved in the founding of a college daily and worked hard and successfully in aiding to establish and systematize the Daily Orange. His experience on the mechanical side of a newspaser enabled him to make excellent arrangements for the printing of the Daily. To his efforts are dus the very creditable appearance of the Daily.

Mr. Robertson has had innumerable difficulties to surmount. He deserves the thanks of the entire student body for his entiring efforts as business manager, to give them a daily organ which should put Syracuse University on an equal footing with every large university.

Mr. A. S. Copeland, '04, the new business manager, has had considerable experience in business enterprises He is a hard worker and deserves the hearty cooperation of every student in Syracuse Univeralty.

COLLEGE EXHIBITS.

The regents of the University of Wisconsin have appropriated $4,000 for the exhibit of the university at the Louisiana Purchase Exhibition. Education exhibits will be one of the most prominent features of the coming World's Fair. This will be the first exposition in which a building has been devoted solely to educational exhibits. The building covers seven acres and occupies a prominent position on the grounds. All the large universities will exhibit. The Wisconsin booth adjoins that of the University of St. Louis and across the aisle are those of Washington University and the University of Chicago. The Wisconsin exhibit will show the work of the various departments, the growth during the past decade, something of its unique features of location and material equipment. The most striking exhibition will be a complete model of the campus. The model will be about eight feet in length and practically complete in all details. There will be a model of the steam engineering laboratory about seventy inches in length. A series of enlarged photographs of the university buildings, class rooms, and campus will be an attractive part of the exhibit.

A series of charts will be constructed dealing with the phases of university growth, growth of departments, distribution of expenditures, residence of students, and other matters of statistical interests which can best be represented by graphical illustration. The literary and scientific work of members of the faculty, graduate students and students during the past decade will be shown as far as it can be represented by a collection of their published works and the exhibition of apparatus which has been designed for research work.

OTHER COLLEGES.

Members of the Press Club at the University of Indiana have petitioned the faculty to establish a College of Journalism.

Dr. Uhle, of the anthropological department at the University of California left last week for Peru where he will spend three years in investigating into the origin and early customs of the inhabitants of the Pacific Coast.

The University of Pennsylvania is issuing a catalogue printed in Spanish to be distributed among South American schools.

THE ENGLISH CLUB.

Dr. S. R. Calthrop, pastor of the May Memorial Church of this city, addressed an enthusiastic meeting of the English Club at 702 Irving ave. Tuesday evening. He spoke on the subject of Tennyson. He gave a very interesting account of his life and recited several selections from his best poems.

The president announced the following speakers for future meetings: Dr. Eaton, Rev. Phillip Cole, pastor of the First Reformed Church, Professor Gilmore of Rochester University. Mrs. Losey will entertain the club in the near future.

Phi Delta Theta fraternity was founded December 26, 1848, at Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, an institution which boasts of the names of many distinguished men on its alumni roll. In 1835 Alpha Delta Phi established a chapter at Miami which was locatsd in what was then considered the far west. The chapter which was the second chapter of Alpha Delta Phi led to the founding of Beta Theta Pi in 1839, Phi Delta Theta in 1848, Sigma Chi in 1855. Delta Kappa Epsilon established a chapter there in 1852, and Delta Upsilon in 1868. Miami thus became the birthplace and first home of fraternities in the west, as Union was in the east. One of the early members of the present chapter was Benj Harrison and the records of the fraternity contain many interesting records of him while a college student.

Phi Delta Theta is one of the largest college fraternities and now has sixty-eight chapters located in thirty states and one at McGill, Montreal. The local chapter was established in 1897. Besides the active chapters Phi Delta Theta has fifty-one alumni clubs located in the principal cities of the country. The New York Alumni Club is the largest and has 600 members.

The chapters of the fraternity are divided into eight provinces. The Alpha province is the most eastern and is composed of chapters at McGill, Colby, Dartmouth, Vermont, Williams, Amherst, Brown, Cornell, Union, Columbia, Syracuse, Lafayette, Gettysburg, Washington and Jefferson, Allegheny, Dickinson, Pennsylvania, Lehigh. The national conventions of the fraternity are held every other year, each of the eight provinces holding a convention on the alternate years.

A memorial will be erected at Purdue University to preserve the memory of the Purdue football men killed in the Big Four railroad wreck at Indianapolis. Nearly all those killed in the wreck were athletes and a gymnasium has been suggested by the citizens of Lafayette. Gov. Durbin has started a subscription, heading the list donors. The citizens of Lafayette are willing contributors to the fund and many have already signed their names. The governor has requested that all who purchased tickets for the game ask for no refund, and the amount the athletic association would realize in this way would be nearly $6,000.

The regents at the University of Minnesota have decided that all students before graduation must pass examinations in spelling. Minnesota is following the lead of Northwestern University which last year inaugurated a continuous spelling match known as the "pity sakes" class. The freshman-sophomore spelling match is an annual event in Minnesota, It takes place this year on December 12, when the upper classmen will listen and calculate their chances for graduation.

The registration this year at the University of Wisconsin is 2,379. Last year's figures were 2,122.

BASKET BALL.

Varsity Plays Its First Game Tonight with Oswego.

This afternoon the varsity basketball men leave Syracuse for Oswego, where they will contest with the strong Normal team. Judging from the reports which have reached Sryacuse from Oswego the Normal team has improved greatly since its recent defeat at the hands of the Syracuse Freshmen.

However, a decisive victory for Syracuse can safely be predicted, since the team work of the 'varsity today is recognized as far better than that of the freshmen two weeks ago. The Syracuse management looks at this game simply as good tryout for 'varsity material Every effort will be made to develop a team which will compete successfully with the big college teams which are to be met during the winter.

The following men will take the trip to Oswego: Niles, McAdam, Houseknecht, Kinne, Kirchgasssr, Powell, Millen, Evans.

The first lineup for Syracuse will be Forwards; Millen and Kirschgasser.
Center; Powell.
Guards; Houseknecht(capt,) and Niles.

Jetty Williams of Syracuse and J. Lee Broughton of Oswego have been selected as officials.

1904 FOOTBALL CAPTAINS.

Football captains for next year have been have been elected by Trinity College rnd Wesleyan University. At Trinity E. P. Morgan 1905, of New York was elected. Guy W. Rogers, 1906, of Folksville, Pa., was elected captain of the Wesleyrn team. He prepared at Cazhnovia, N. Y., Preparatory School and has played halfback. Columbia has elected R. S. Stangland captain for 1904, and F. W. Brigham was elected by Colgate.

THE PHILOSOPHICAL ASSOCIATION.

The plans of the Philosophical Association for the winter's work are now nearly complete. A series of lectures by prominent men will be given at intervals during the year. The first of the series was delivered in the Assembly Hall of the University block on Monday evening by Father Clune. His subject was "St. Thomas Aquinas and his Philosophy." The address of Father Clune was replete with interesting material and illustrated by numerous quotations from the Latin of Aquinas, especially some of hisfinest hymns. The University owes a debt of gratitude to Father Clune for the generous way in which he responds to numerous calls for addresses on various themes.

The Association is preparing a neat folder containing the constitution of the Association. The program for the year and a complete list of the members of the Association. This pamphlet will be ready for distribution after the Easter recess.

EVERYMAN AND TWELFTH NIGHT

The following letter appeared in the Post-Standard Tuesday morning, and is reprinted with the permission of Dr. Eaton. It is the desire of the English Club to call attention to all students of the excellent opportunity of seeing the presentation of these examples of early art.

To the Editor of the Post-Standard:

May I ask space for a word in regard to Mr. Ben Greet s company of players which is to produce "Everyman" next Friday evening and "Twelfth Night" on Saturday. The same actors presented "Everyman" last year, but before small audiences. It seems, therefore, not amiss to call attention once more to the value of this company and its productions.

"Everyman" was perhaps the most popular of the English morality plays of the early Sixteenth century—so popular that it was not only presented repeatedly in England, but also in Holland and Germany. First printed in 1529, it was probably written considerably earlier. It is one of the best examples of the morality plays—plays built upon a moral idea carried into action by personified virtues and vices. This type of drama may be called roughly an intermediary form between the religious mystery or miracle plays and the secular drama which developed rapidly into the consummate plays of Shakespeare. From an historical point of view, then, "Everyman" is of vital interest.

But it is not interesting historically alone, nor is it dull because of its moral abstractions and frank preaching. The lesson of the worthlessness of all but knowledge and good deeds in the life of Everyman is presented with such serious and solem sincerity that the piece is impressive beyond many tragedies of finer literary quality. Moreover, the performance by Mr. Greet's company—as those who have seen it will testify—is impressive almost in a new way. It leaves an impression of religious seriousness, in my experience, at least, unparalleled, the result of the noble sincerity of the piece as well as of the fine sincerity of the performance.

It is perhaps hardly necessary more than to mention the presentation of "Twelfth Night" in the Elizabethan manner. We are to have a chance to see one of Shakespeare's most delightful comedies given in as nearly as possible as it was played in London in 1600. By those who have seen it we are told that Mr. Greet brings to this representation the same scholarly accuracy which characterizes the production of "Everyman." But his accuracy is in no sense pedantic. His fine artistic instinct makes all that his company does delightful. The performances will, however, be a revelation to those who are not aware of the difference in stage management between Shakespeare's time and our own.

It is a rare privilege to be able to step back three and four centuries and to feel vividly the spirit of former ages. And we ought to be grateful to the unselfish and untiring efforts of Mr. Greet. who has done so much here and in England to make living our early drama. He should have the support of all students and all persons interested in our noble dramatic heritage, and of all clergymen, for "Everyman" at least. It would indeed be a great pity if the Syracuse public failed to grasp the significance of these performances and proved indifferent to such admirable and educative work as Mr Greet and his company are doing.

H. A. EATON.

GOOD MORNING.

The editorial in yesterday's Daily Orange on the graduate system of coaching has caused great discussion among the students and others interested. The system we suggested and hold to be as strictly a graduate system as the one in vogue this fall is, to quote our previous language, "the employment of one man as A HEAD COACH, with a good salary, and the selection by the Athletic Board of two or three other men; graduates, as his ASSISTANTS.

The HEAD COACH may, or may not, be a graduate of Syracuse University, but we hold all his ASSISTANTS should be graduates. The ideal system we consider to be that in which the HEAD COACH is a graduate of our University. Some say we cannot possibly realize that ideal. They hold that a graduate to fill the position must be, first, one who was graduated so far back in our history that when he took the place he would have the deepest respect of all the men, consequently his every word would be law, second, one who would be up-to-date in every department of the game.

Contrary to these people we believe there is such a graduate. But it is the Athletic Governing Board which has the full power to decide on that. The vital point is to get a man for HEAD COACH who will fulfill the necessary conditions, whether he be a graduate of Syracuse or not. The ASSISTANTS to be chosen by the Board should be graduates either of the late '90s or recent yearr. The above system is urged in the interests of the student body, and of athletics at Syracuse.

The subject is of such vital importance that it cannot be decided in a day. The students should help the Athletic Board by a free and full discussion of the whole matter.

Motor Face in Women.

Many women are discovering that "living on a motor car" is most destructive of beauty. Moderate motoring, by improving health and the capacity for sleep, enhances a woman's charm, but the hardened tourist type of 150 miles a day tans and coarsens her skin and gets crow's feet round her eyes, her face loses its soft, womanly contour and gains hardness and determination.—Tattler.

Wurtemburg's Peasant Costumes.

American tourists in Europe have reason to regret the gradual disappearance of picturesque national costumes. Wurtemberg, however, has a special association for their preservation. It provides for occasional festivals at which the peasants can show themselves in all their unique glory.—N. Y. Post.

The will of the late Gordon McKay gives to Harvard University eighty per cent. of the net income from a $20,000,000 estate. This donation is to accumulate until it amounts to 5,000,000 when it is to be paid over and applied to certain uses. Mr. McKay's desire was that it be used to advance scientific education, and aid meritorious students. The funds are to be known as the Gordon McKay endowment. Any professorship, scholarships, buildings or courses maintained with these funds are to bear the name of the donor. Mr. McKay lived many years near Harvard, and at that time invented the shoe-sewing machine that later made for him his immense fortune.

An association composed of faculty members and students has completed plans to produce a monthly literary magazine at the University of Wisconsin. The Wisconsin will appear early in December. The faculty members are stockholders in the publishing association. A student board of editors will have charge of the literary management of the publication. The magazine is to be a monthly, and justifies its existence as affording "an outlet for the expression of such literary ability as may exist among the students."

President Hartigan Reads 1907 Class Resolutions in Chapel —Action Well Received.

There was an unusually large audience in chapel yesterday morning to hear the freshman class apologize for their recent actions.

After President Hartigan had read the following resolutions, Dean Smalley gave a short address, commending most heartily the action and spirit shown.

Resolved, That we the class of 1907, Syracuse University, do hereby announce that posters and numerals were placed on public buildings and property of the University without the knowledge or direction of the class at large, executive committee, or officers of the class, and that we agree with the upper classes in condemning some of the statements made in said poster offensive to honored members of the class of 1906 who have distinguished themselves in Gridiron Battles defending our Alma Mater.

In view of the fact that such proclamations were issued in the name of this class and though we have been unable to ascertain by whom these proclamations were issued,

Be it further resolved, that we do hereby, through our president, apologize for said offences aed assure the upperclassmen of this Institution that we have and always will make every effort to aid the athletes representing Syracuse University irrespective of class or college in every way possible and that we furthermore feel and intend to show all due respect to the upper classsmen.

Signed by officers and executive committee of 1907.

FOOTBALL REVIEW.

Results of the Season--Men the 'Varsity Will Lose--Excellent Prospects for Next Fall.

The 'Varsity eleven of 1903 played nine games this fall, scoring 200 points, while their opponents rolled up 69 points. The big games, however, did not result as satisfactorily to the students and others as was expected.

The graduate system was tried. While it did not accomplish great things, it started the scheme of coaching that, with certain modifications, will prove most beneficial for next year.

The coaches are satisfied with the season's work, and believe with the men developed this season and the old men, Syracuse will have a first-class eleven. Naturally the class entering next fall will also materially strengthen the eleven.

All of the games played this year by Syracuse, with the exception of the Yale game, have taken place on the home field. The games have resulted as follows:

Syracuse	23	Cortland	0
Syracuse	35	Onondaga Ind's	0
Syracuse	47	Clarkson	0
Syracuse	33	Rensselaer	0
Syracuse	5	Colgate	10
Syracuse	5	Williams	17
Syracuse	47	Niagara	0
Syracuse	0	Yale	30
Syracuse	5	Brown	12

The Orange this year loses the services of Captain Frank O'Neill, De Forest Brane, George Moore and Cornelius Van Duyne, guards; also Edward Capnon and George Warren, who played part of the season.

The prospects for next fall are the brightest in Syracuse football history. There will be two first-class men, Burrell and Rutherford, to take Captain O'Neill's place. Blue, Rice and G. S. Brown will fill the places left by Van Duyne and Moore. Harwood and Tucker are in a fair way to make star tackles. George Hare's services, however, will be missed in this position.

The contest for end positions should be a pretty one between Boland, Lane, Yard and Burrell—if the coaches play the latter in this position. Yard would have made a strong bid for end this fall if he had not been barred by the one year rule along with Cortelyou and G. S. Brown.

The back field will be greatly strengthened by the addition of Cortelyou as fullback. For halfbacks Bob Park, Fred Schade, Curtiss, Marcy and Parker will all struggle hard. Taken altogether, the prospects for a winning 'Varsity next fall were never better.

The election for next year's captain will occur in a week or two. The football men will sit for their picture after the Thanksgiving recess.

UNKNOWN SAYING DISCOVERED.

Many hitherto unknown sayings of Jesus Christ have been discovered in Egypt by archaeologists who have dug up papyri, buried since the second century, 100 miles south of Cairo. Apparently all the sayings were addressed to St. Thomas. One of the most remarkable is: "Let not him that seeketh cease from his search until he find, and when he finds he shall wonder; wondering he shall reach the kingdom, i. e., the Kingdom of Heaven, and when he reaches the kingdom he shall have rest."

Dr. Bernard P. Grenfell, one of those who made the discoveries, says that enormous interest will be aroused by the discoveries, on account of the variations they disclose from accepted texts.

One variant of the mystical saying, recorded in St. Luke, "the kingdom of

GOOD MORNING.

The freshman class as a whole has adopted the class cap. But there are several men among the first year students who seem entirely ignorant of the fact that the class cap exists. There are two men in particular who, to all appearances, believe they are exempt from the rule requesting all freshmen to wear the uniform class cap.

If the sophomore class does not attend to these exceptions at once, it is then time the seniors took charge of the matter.

Most of the students in the University are agreed that Syracuse should adopt a system of coaching for next year differing somewhat from the one used this fall. Many are in hearty sympathy with the system proposed by the Daily Orange. Some, however, are unable to see where it would differ from professional coaching, while others hold we should not have graduate coaches at all.

We urge our system further, however, in best interests of the students, as we have said before. We contend the system would not be professional coaching. The Head Coach would receive a salary suitable to his position; while the services of the graduate coaches would be rendered free, only their expenses being paid as in any college using the graduate system.

A few advantages of our system, considering it adopted, are primarily two. First, we have a first-class man at the head of the system responsible for everything. We thus do away with all confusion arising from two or three men's ideas being forced on the men at one time. We have everything unified and harmonized. The main results of this are self evident.

Second, We have two or three graduates being drilled in this system, so thatafter two or three years this system will be so fixed, that the under coaches in the absence of the head coach at any time could carry it on without a hitch.

The winner of the preliminary oratorical contest at Drake University to select a representative to the Iowa oratorical contest yesterday confessed that that he was guilty of plagiarism. With the oration, he now admits is not his own work, he last year won first place in the Colorado high school oratorical contest. The discovery that the oration was not original was made by a woman student who recognized not only the idea but also whole passages as taken from a chapter in "Portraits and Principles" entitled "The Value of Decision."

The Germanic Museum at Harvard which was proposed several years ago by prominent Germans in America, and recently aided by Emperor William and Prince Henry and other distinguished Germans has been formally accepted by President Eliot. The purpose of the museum as stated by Professor Jagemann who presided at the presentation ceremonies is "to give Harvard students a true conception of what Germany stands for in modern civilization, what her ideals have been, and what she has contributed to the world's best intellectual possessions." President Eliot declared the emperor's act one "unique in the history of education.', In addition to the curios already in the museum the German people have offered a collection of galvanic-plastic reproductions of German gold and silver work from the fifteenth to the end of the eighteenth century. The collection will consist of some fifty pieces. A library of 10,000 books on the history of Germany and of German civilization will be presented by Professor Coolidge as a memorial to the visit of Prince Henry of Prussia to the universsty in 1902.

At the University of California the women are trying to form a dramatic club in opposition to the present men's club "Skull and Keys." The men have kept their club strictly to themselves and for many years have enforced segregation to the extent of keeping from the university footlights all women who might have displayed histrionic abilities. Now a dramatic club for women only will be organized, to give performances once a month. The prospectus of the club states it will "present everything, from Shakespeare to vaudeville."

RYDER'S

THE EDUCATIONAL MATRIMONY.

The following is taken from a recent issue of the daily college paper at the University of Indiana—The Daily Student.

In a recent magazine article bearing on the question of the marriage of college girls, Miss Milicent Shinn, a well known writer admits that the per cent of college girl graduates who marry are becoming less and less every year, but attempts an explanation by declaring that college women have higher ideals in regard to matrimony than other women and that their independence, as regards the earning of a livlihood, make them less desirous of entering it. She says girl graduates to-day are as ambitions as men; they do not think of matrimony as much as the women did a decade or so ago.

What ever may be Miss Shinn's views on the subject figures in the registrar's office show that only 40.5 per cent of all women graduates of Indiana up to and including those in the class of 1901 have married. Counting those in the classes of 1902 and 1903 would reduce the percentage to about 30 percent.

The figures for Indiana are as follows:

YEAR	TOTAL GIRL GRADUATES	MARRIED	UNMARRIED
'69—'75	20	15	5
'76—'80	19	14	5
'81—'85	28	16	12
'86—'90	38	29	9
'91	21	15	6
'92	15	7	8
'93	19	13	6
'94	21	6	15
'95	17	6	11
'96	27	5	22
'97	29	6	23
'98	37	12	25

God is within you," was of great value as the saying in the papyrus appeared in quite different surroundings from those attributed to it by the evangelist, and extended far into another region.

According to Dr. Grenfell these sayings formed the new Gospel which is traditionally associated with Saint Thomas.

An interesting variation of the Gospel according to Saint Luke, eleventh chapter and 52nd verse, reads in the papyrus: "Ye have hidden the key of knowledge, ye entered not yourselves, and to them that were entering in ye did not open."

Another fragment contained a discourse of Christ, closely related to passages of the Sermon on the Mount, and a conversation between Christ and His disciples, in which Christ answers a question as to when His kingdom will be realized, saying: "When ye return to the state of innocence which existed before the fall."

A valuable find was made in papyri written in Latin, giving the text of the Epistles to the Hebrews, and an epitome of Livy's six lost books. This, with other papyri covering the period 150-13 B. C., threw much new and valuable information on the history of the world, and marked the recovery of hitherto lost classical literature of Egypt. Ex.

SOPHOMORES WIN FINAL GAME.

The Freshmen Eleven Weakened by Absence of Several Star Men--1906 Overwhelms 1907 in Basketball.

The sophomore eleven easily defeated the freshmen last Saturday by a score of 40 to 0 in the final game of the interclass series. The freshman team was greatly weakened by the loss of several star men, including McAuliffe, Coulter, Hartigan and Powell.

It is certain the score would not have been as decisive as it was had these men been in the game. McAuliffe and Coulter also Hartigan were always consistent ground gainers.

The game was called at 3 o'clock with Jack Dillon as referee, and Charles Freeman as umpire. The sophomores kicked off. They soon obtained the ball on a punt from the 1907. By fast line plunging and end runs on the part of Evans, Cortelyou, Mannier and Kinne the 1906 aggregation secured a touchdown in less than five minutes.

The rest of the game was easy running for the sophs. Woolever, Rice, Moneghan, Coit and Edwards did good work for 1907.

The line-up was as follows:

Sophomores.	Freshmen.

'VARSITY DEFEATS OSWEGO.

The initial game of the 'Varsity basket ball season played at Oswego Friday evening was highly satisfactory to all who are looking forward to a successful season this winter. Every man who wore the Orange played a hard consistent game, and, what is even more important, the team played together as a unit.

The game started with a rush, Oswego winning the first two points from award of Umpire on account of fouls. At this point the Orange five got together and put up a great exhibition of team work, keeping the ball in their own hands during nearly all of the remainder of the first half.

The first half ended with the score 18-6 in favor of Syracuse.

In the second half the game was rough, owing to Oswego's desperate efforts to keep down the Syracuse score.

The two principal features of the game were the brilliant team work of the Varsity five and the display of enthusiasm by the two hundred Normal girls who cheered their team repeatedly throughout the game. Captain Houseknecht guarded Oot, the crack Oswego forward, and succeeded in holding him down to one basket. Powell '07 did fine work throughout.

THE LINE-UP.

SOPHOMORES OVERWHELMED.

The freshman basketball five gave the sophs an awful drubbing last Saturday night in the interclass games, thus winning the series. The score was 60 to 2.

The officials were Messrs Brady '06 and E. Rice '05. The best work for the freshmen was done be Kirchgasser and Powell. Millen and J. Coit also played well. Squires and Tucker also did good work for the sophomores. The freshman five thus evened up matters with 1906.

CLASS DEBATE TRIALS.

The trials for the Sophomore and Freshman debate teams were held Thursday evening in Room 33-34, Hall of Languages. The following were chosen: Sophomores, J. C. Tressler, captain, O. J. Brown, R. L. French. Freshmen: L. S. Coit, captain, A. E. Phillips, W. M. Wemett. The debate will take place immediately after the Christmas recess. The following question will be discussed

Resolved, that athletics as at present conducted in the more prominent American colleges does not tend to advance the moral and intellectual life in students.

BASKETBALL PROSPECTS.

Coach Costello Arranging an Exceptionally Good Schedule-- Old Men Gone-- Great Material in 1907

The baseball nine of last spring is in college this fall with the exception of Harvey Henderson and Harry Boyd, both of the 1903 class, and Charles Demong who played professional ball this summer. Their absence opens places in center and left field, also behind the bat or catcher.

Captain Moore '01, Heffernan '04, Manley '04, and Collins '04, are the pitching staff complete for next spring. Infielders Sanford '06, Crane '04, Baker '04, Rutherford '05, and Burrell '06 will again be in the game, while the outfield will doubtless see several new faces from the 1907 class. This class has exceptional material for the other positions also.

Coach Costello in the absence of a a manager and assistant manager is arranging a fine schedule.

While the same is still incomplete the following are among those colleges who are already scheduled. In the southern trip especially, there may be considerable change.

MAN AND MONEY READY.

Five Hundred Dollars to be Donated to Public Institutions.

Once for all we wish to impress on the minds of the students that the Original Syracuse Glove Factory, 222 West Fayette street, is the only glove factory in Syracuse and the only place where you can leave your measure and have your kid gloves made to order.

And to make this doubly impressive, we will donate to the leading hospitals in this city the sum of five hundred dollars in equal parts, upon the receipt of the address of any other straight, legitimate kid glove factory, located within the corporate limits of the city of Syracuse.

Dealers, as you are probably aware, are not manufacturers, yet there are some who are trying through cunningly arranged advertisements to create an impression that they manufacture kid gloves. They do not! They simply buy from the manufacture and sell at a large retailer's profit (as the season is short) while we as the only kid glove factory in the city making all kinds of kid gloves to order, including those for artificial hands, sell direct to the people at manufacturer's prices, which means a saving of one-half.

Take these prices, for instance, for this month only: Lady's and gent's $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50 kid gloves made to order for $1.00.

Lady's gloves reaching to elbow and shoulder; worth in every store $2.50 and $3, we make to order for $1.25 and $1.50 respectively.

We are also closing out 5,000 pairs of gloves of all kinds, ladies', gent's and children's, ranging in price from $1.00 $1.25 to $1.50, your choice for 50c. Also higher grade gloves at prices lower than any other glove dealer.

Ladies' gloves cleaned 5c pair. All gloves purchased of us kept clean free of charge. Open evenings,

Remember the number, 222 West Fayette street.

GOOD MORNING.

The selection of a coaching system for football next fall seems to call forth no discussion among certain classes of the students. Some think that they have no right to say anything about the matter, others that if they have such right it would be no good to make suggestions.

Both of these classes are wrong. Why do we, as students, pay thousands of dollars to support athletics if we have no right to voice our opinion on changes in the system? Further, the Athletic Board always desires the opinion of the student body in all such affairs.

The University is to be congratulated on the exceptionally fine schedule so far arranged by Coach Costello in the absence of a manager and assistant manager.

The schedule includes several first-class colleges not met, and two or three which we have not contested with in two or three years along any line of sport.

The baseball nine for 1902 promises to be first-class in all departments.

Hugh R. Smith '05, has resigned from the editorial staff of the Daily Orange. He has accepted a lucrative engineering position with a prominent business company, which necessitates his leaving college in the near future.

The Daily Orange announces John B. Swinney '04, Howard S. Jarvis '05, and Oscar J. Brown '05, as associate editors.

At a meeting of the Academy of Science last Friday at the society's rooms several papers were read and discussed. A paper was read by George T. Hargitt of the University, describing "The Diseases of some of the Cultivated Plants." He showed how certain fungus growths and bacteria affect cultivated plants and described how the rusts destroy the carnations. The same result is seen in the destruction of the chrysanthemum, the violet, and other forms. Mr. Hargitt spoke of the effect of nemetoid worms and milldews upon the cultivated plants.

Dr. J. E. Kirkwood spoke of the "Growth and development of the Flowering Plants." He mentioned the alteration of generations and from this led up to the peculiar sexual generations which have been made the subject of careful study by him for some time.

Many sketches and drawings were exhibited showing the result of his research along these lines. The plants upon which most of his work has been done were the cucumber, the melon and the gourd.

The paper by Dr. A. J. May described the "Natural History of the Snail." Mr. May showed how the Bithinia was introduced into our waters from Europe coming by way of the St. Lawrence. The papers were discussed by Dr. C. W. Hargitt, Dr. Beauchamp and Dr. M. W. Smallwood.

In the business session Dr. G. A. Wilson, J. B. Swinney and W. F. Prouty of the University were elected to active membership and Frank Hibbard to associate.

The next meeting will be in the new High School, when Dr. Charles W. Hargitt will speak about "Vesuvius and Its Recent Activities."

RYDER'S

KING LEAR.

The following will be of interest to the student body because of the play to be given by the English department this year.

It is quoted from a recent issue of the Michigan Daily:

The most instructive, and undoubtedly the best number thus far offered by the Students Lecture Association Course occurred last evening in University Hall, when President Northrop, of Minnesota University, spoke on "King Lear." The audience was attentive and followed the speaker very carefully as he traced the development of the play in all its details.

After being introduced by President Angell the lecturer spoke on the up-to-date and interesting subject, "King Lear."

The drama, as President Northrop would have it interpreted, presents the terrible possibilities of human nature. Yet the horrors are made natural by introducing two sets of characters: the king and daughters, and Edgar, Edmund, and Gloucester; Edgar corresponding to Cordelia, Edmund to her sisters. Thus we have in the drama a systematic development of goodness from badness, of strength from weakness.

Cordelia, according to the lecturer's opinion, is one of the finest woman characters in literature, and the foremost of Shakespeare's creatures. She is modest, gentle, and loving, embodying everything conveyed by the epithet: "true." In depicting Cordelia, Shakespeare held a picture up to nature in the reflection of which we see a perfect image; a character greater than Portia, Beatrice, or Lady Macbeth; a loving daughter, a true wife and Christian-spirited woman, looking always to the interests of others.

As regards the other two sisters, little was said except that they were coldly masculine, yet possessing all the bad qualities of women.

VARSITY DEFEATS OSWEGO.

The Varsity basketball team easily defeated the Oswego Normal school five last Friday night by 21 to 7.

A large crowd witnessed the contest. Score at the end of the first half was 18 to 6 in favor of the Orange. The second half was close and exciting. Captain Houseknecht, '05, and Arthur Powell, '07, did fine work for Syracuse. Last year the Normalites beat the local five.

GOVERNING BOARD MEETS.

Important Business Transacted--Nominations—Dates for Elections.

A very important meeting of the Athletic Governing Board was held last night at 8 o'clock. After the discussion of some important matters, which were not given out for publication, the Board recommended that the Medical College protest on the recent election, be not considered favorably.

The report of the football management was approved and a vote of thanks was extended to Manager Rubin for his excellent work. The financial report on football showed that the University made money this season.

The election of Navy officials, also track, was postponed because several men for these offices were not eligible on account of their studies.

Of the Senators in the Fifty-eighth Congress, which is now in session, fifty-eight are college graduates. Of the Congressmen, two hundred and fifteen out of three hundred and eighty-two, are college men.

A disease that in some ways resembles typhoid fever has broken out among the Williams College students and ten men are already prostrated with it. Physicians at first seemed to think that it was a form of grip, but they now say that it is a form of fever, although they will not admit it is typhoid. The infirmary is filled with sick students. It is believed that the disease may have come from impure milk.

The University of California has been obliged to refuse an invitation to make an extensive exhibition at the St. Louis World's Fair. On account of limited funds the regents of the university have decided to make but a small display the school of mines will be given the greatest attention. At Stanford University the faculty has refused to place exhibits at the Exposition because it is against the policy of Stanford in any way to advertise the university.

The women's college record for the 100-yard dash has been broken by Miss Laura Clement, class of '07, at the annual field day of Wellesley College. The time was 18½. The previous record held at Vassar was 14 2-5.

THE GIRL FROM DIXIE.

This evening a large crowd of the students will witness the play "The Girl from Dixie at the Wieting.

Syracuse college songs will be one of the specialties sung the great chorus.

THANKSGIVING FESTIVAL.

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. will give a most enjoyable entertainment Thanksgiving evening for those students who remain in the city during the vacation.

The entertainment or Harvest Festival, as it is called, will consist of playing good old fun-producing games, also musical selections. Light refreshments will be served. Every student is cordially invited.

CHANCELLOR DAY VISITS BUFFALO.

Chancellor Day preached in the Plymouth Ave. M. E. Church Sunday morning and in the Delaware Ave. M. E. Church in the evening.

Dr. W. C. Wilbur '86, is pastor of the Plymouth Church. The Chancellor was entertained by the Buffalo Alumni Saturday evening.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI.

Mr. Frederick Jackson '07, was initiated into the local chapter of Phi Delta Theta Friday night. He is a well known musical composer of this city.

Mr. Harry V. Bonner ex-'06, who entered Princeton as a sophomore this fall, has left Princeton owing to the sudden death of his father.

On Wednesday afternoon of this week occurs the marriage of Harry V. Boyd '03 to Miss Nellie Gertrude Goodrich of Pultney, N. Y. The ceremony will be performed at the bride's home.

Leverett I. Longhrea ex-'05, is at present in the employ of the Prudential Life Insurance Company.

C. E. Miller '06, left Saturday for his home in Herkimer, to spend his Thanksgiving vacation.

Harry D, Stokes '06, engineer, has resumed his college work.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The Historical department has invited Syracuse High School to join in a series of historical lectures and entertainments to take place after Christmas. The first entertainments will consist of two lectures by W. K. Wickes on "The Foundation of the Federal Constitution" and "Men and Measures from Washington to Jackson," a patriotic concert by High School students, four lectures by Prof. W. H. Mace on anti-slavery and a patriotic concert by University students. This program will be given under the direction of Morton Adkins, instructor in Fine Arts College.

DEPARTMENT OF PEDAGOGY.

The report of the state preliminary examinations was received by Dr. Street recently. Quite a large per cent of the one hundred thirty-five candidates were successful. It was impossible to determine just how many, as a large number had taken part of the examinations previously and in other places. Three candidates, Messrs Goldstone, Kelsey and Wilmot passed all of the examinations at one trial.

PROFESSOR SWEET'S LECTURE.

Professor Sweet's lecture before the Engineer's Association yesterday afternoon was enjoyed by all who attended. In discussing "Accuracy in Mechanical Work" he brought out many points of interest and value to engineers. The most interesting feature of his lecture was the fact that he related only personal experiences. Dean Kent also gave some of his experiences in accurate mechanical work.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR ORANGE FIVE.

The Basketball Team Has First Class Material to Draw From—The Schedule Partly Arranged.

The Varsity basketball team starts out this year with excellent prospects. In the past few years the Orange has not had any decided success in this branch of sport. In fact Syracuse has lost some of her prestige from defeat at the hands of smaller colleges.

This year Syracuse without a doubt will have a better basketball team than she ever had. Besides the old men who are back Captain Houseknecht '05, has some excellent material at his command in the freshman class. This includes Powell, Kirchgasser, Millen, Coit, Evans and Hanke.

The basketball schedule so far as arranged follows:

December 14—St. Lawrence at Canton.

Decembes 15—Potsdam at Potsdam.

December 19—Open date.

Correspondence is now being carried on with a big college for that date.

January 18—Open date here.

January 30—Colgate at Syracuse.

February 10—Williams at Williamstown, Mass.

February 11—Willistown at Easthampton, Mass.

February 13—R. P. I. at Troy.

February 12—Open date.

February 17—St. Johns at Syracuse.

February 19—Alleghany at Meadville, Pa.

February 20—Oberlin at Oberlin, O.

March 2—St. Johns at Manlius.

March 11—Colgate at Hamilton.

THE UNIVERSITY NAVY.

Work in the crews will commence after the Christmas holidays, Coach Ten Eyck is expecting to move to Syracuse with his family in January.

The Athletic Board intend to give the coach better equipment for his crews than they had have heretofore A new eight oared shell will be added to the craft already possessed by the University.

The prospects for a winning Varsity and freshman crew are very bright. Three men of last year's Varsity are in college and seven men from last year's star freshman eight. With these men as a nucleus Coach Ten Eyck will doubtless turn out a winning crew.

The chances for a first class freshman eight are very good, so far as material at present is concerned.

If you have no ambition, take Wendell's Ambition Pills, 50c. at Larned & Barker's.

H. MONMOUTH SMITH,

MAN AND MONEY READY.

Five Hundred Dollars to be Donated to Public Institutions.

Once for all we wish to impress on the minds of the students that the Original Syracuse Glove Factory, 222 West Fayette street, is the only glove factory in Syracuse and the only place where you can leave your measure and have your kid gloves made to order.

And to make this doubly impressive, we will donate to the leading hospitals in this city the sum of five hundred dollars in equal parts, upon the receipt of the address of any other straight, legitimate kid glove factory, located within the corporate limits of the city of Syracuse.

Dealers, as you are probably aware, are not manufacturers, yet there are some who are trying through cunningly arranged advertisements to create an impression that they manufacture kid gloves. They do not! They simply buy from the manufacture and sell at a large retailer's profit (as the season is short) while we as the only kid glove factory in the city making all kinds of kid gloves to order, including those for artificial hands, sell direct to the people at manufacturer's prices, which means a saving of one-half.

Take these prices, for instance, for this month only: Lady's and gent's $1.50, $2.00 and $2.50 kid gloves made to order for $1.00.

Lady's gloves reaching to elbow and shoulder; worth in every store $2.50 and $3, we make to order for $1.25 and $1.50 respectively.

We are also closing out 5,000 pairs of gloves of all kinds, ladies', gent's and children's, ranging in price from $1.00 $1.25 to $1.50, your choice for 50c. Also higher grade gloves at prices lower than any other glove dealer.

Ladies' gloves cleaned 5c pair. All gloves purchased of us kept clean free of charge. Open evenings,

Remember the number, 222 West Fayette street.

The Daily Orange will resume its duties of serving the public with the opening of college next Monday. The management have endeavored so far to serve the students as best it could. We have made mistakes, but have always endeavored to correct them. Many typographical errors have crept in through carelessness of the printer, even after proofs have been corrected.

Hereafter we shall endeavor to serve the best interests of the University better than ever before, both in news and delivery of papers.

The Daily Orange wishes everyone a most enjoyoble vacation. It also urges that the students, who return home, do their best in furthering the best interests of Syracuse. Inasmuch as each one brings honor to himself, he honors Syracuse; he also disgraces the University as he disgraces himself. It is our duty to do our best to uphold the high standard of Old Syracuse.

The following is taken from the last issue of "Hamilton Life."—This week ends our football season, and after Saturday's game we will turn our attention to other things, but before we leave football let us give the biggest kind of a sendoff to Coach Sweetland. There is not a man in College who can sufficient ly express his appreciation of what Mr. Sweet and has done for our team, but at any rate we can do the best we are able and at least let him know how deeply he has won the heart of every Hamilton man.

Owing to the fact that the Faculty of the University of Chicago received many petitions from the students, to the effect that the Christmas vacation was so long that they did not get their money's worth, the autumn quarter will be lengthened one week. In addition the Faculty found it hardly possible to finish the courses in ten and one-half weeks.

FRATERNITY HISTORY.

PSI UPSILON.

The history of the Pi Chapter of the Psi Upsilon in Syracuse University commences in 1875 though its tradi tions go back of that date some twelve years to old Genesee College in Lima.

It was in 1863 that a number of the students in Genesee College formed a society known as Upsilon Kappa which though local, thrived sufficiently to maintain its identity when the old institution was a thing of the past, having moved to this city and become Syracuse University.

This local society of Upsilon Kappa petitioned for a chapter of the Psi Upsilon Fraternity, which was granted by the National Convention of the fraternity held with the Columbia chapter in April 1875.

Thus the society of Upsilon Kappa formally became the Pi Chapter of Psi Upsilon on June 8, 1875 At this time the rooms of the chapter were in the Clary Block on Clinton Street but were moved the following f all to the Hendricks Block. These quarters were retained by the Chapter for about fifteen years when more commodious rooms were rented in the White Memorial Block. These rooms were used as a chapter hall until the opening of the house now occupied by the chapter.

Through the efforts of some of the alumni of the chapter a new chapter house became an assured fact and on January 20, 1898, the House at the corner of University and College Place was formally opened.

When the chapter house was built, it was the most modern on the hill and has since undergone many extensive improvements, on the interior The active chapter is composed of thirtytwo men, twentytwo of whom room in the house. The unusally large number of men, who room in the house has helped to bring about the present thriving condition of the chapter.

Barrie and the Reporters.

James M. Barrie, the novelist, has no patience with reporters who try to pry into his private affairs. On one occasion he was asked to pen a short autobiography. At first he refused and then, when the reporter began to coax him, he stopped him, took up his pen and wrote as follows: "On arrival in London it was Mr. Barrie's first object to make a collection of choice cigars. Though the author of 'My Lady Nicotine' does not himself smoke, his grocer's message boy does. Mr. Barrie's pet animal is the whale. He feeds it on ripe chestnuts."

Painted by Gaslight.

Some of Solomon J. Solomon's most attractive pictures have been made by gaslight. He has accustomed himself to artificial light, and the Academician considers that every artist should do so, especially in London, where it so often happens that the sun ceases to shine for days at a stretch. The portrait of Mr. Zangwill, one of his most successful pictures, was painted in less than six hours.

Probably the Largest.

The largest plow in the world, perhaps, is owned by Richard Gird, of San Bernardino, Cal. This immense sod-turner stands 18 feet high, and weighs 36,000 pounds. It runs by steam, is provided with 12 12-inch plowshares, and is capable of plowing 50 acres of land daily. It consumes from one to 1½ tons of coal per day, and usually travels at the rate of four miles an hour.

Stewed Oysters.

Put a quart of oysters on the fire in their own liquor. The moment they begin to boil, skim them out, and add to the liquor a half pint of hot cream, salt, and cayenne pepper to taste. Skim it well, take it off the fire, add to the oysters an ounce and a half of butter broken into small pieces. Serve immediately.—Good Housekeeper.

No one should forget the contests and prizes offered by the 1905 Onondagan Board. They comprise a short story contest, an illustration contest, Photograph contests and a grind contest. There are three cash prizes offered for each contest. For further information consult the business Manager, Mr. Douglass, Phi Gamma Delta chapter house, or the editor, Mr. Rider, at 606 Croton St. SEE BULLETIN in Liberal Arts College.

On Tuesday, December 1st, basketball practice will be resumed.

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING OF THE COLLEGE YEAR BY THE STUDENTS OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY.

VOL 1. No. 61. SYRACUSE, N. Y., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

SYRACUSE TO MEET YALE

The Orange Will Play the Blue Basket Ball Five Here on December 18—Excellent Schedule.

For the first time in the history of Syracuse University, a team representing Yale will play a Syracuse 'Varsity team in this city. On December 18 Syracuse meets the crack Yale team in a game which promises to be a battle royal. It certainly gives Syracuse a chance to even up matters in athletics for this year.

The Yale game is not the only first-class game which the 'Varsity has this fall. Three trips will be taken. On the northern trip, which occurs before Christmas, Syracuse will meet St Lawrence and Pottsdam Normal. On the Eastern trip, shortly after mid years, the 'Varsity will try conclusions with Williams, Wesleyan and Rensselaer and others. During the Western trip, coming the following week, games will be played with Allegheny, Oberlin and Wooster University. In several cases Syracuse will this winter play teams not met hitherto.

Basket ball does not, like the other athletics, receive the support of the Governing Board. It relies entirely upon the enthusiasm and loyalty of the general student body. Manager Rice has decided this year to inaugurate a system of season tickets. The regular admission price to games will be twenty-five cents, but to the Yale game fifty cents.

The season tickets have been put on sale at a dollar each. These are good for entrance to all games, 'Varsity or Freshman, including the Yale game; and there will be at least four 'Varsity games besides the games the Freshmen have under consideration with Cascadilla, Cazenovia, Colgate Freshmen, etc.

Everything points to the most successful season in the history of the University. Last year's 'Varsity team is practically intact, and a number of crack players have entered this fall. A large number of men are trying for positions, and enthusiasm for basket ball never ran higher. Coach Scott is confident of having a far better team than last year. All that is needed now is the hearty support of the student body. A large number of season tickets have already been sold; and, as the seating capacity of the old gym is of necessity limited, students will do well to apply for tickets at once. They may be procured of the manager, from any member of the team, or at the treasurer's office. For the Yale game all seats will be reserved, holders of season tickets being given first choice.

The complete tentative schedule, so far as it has been arranged, is as follows:

THE PSI UPSILON BANQUET.

A most enjoyable and well attended banquet was held last Tuesday night, at the Waldorf Astoria in New York by members of Psi Upsilon, to commemorate the seventieth anniversary of the founding of Psi Upsilon. The following alumni of Syracuse University were present: James M. Gilbert '75, W. H. Shuart '75, C. N. Cobb '76, A. Ames Howlett '81, F. E. Trowbridge '82, Steven B. Ayres '82, Charles O. Dewey '85, W. H. Ives '91, Wm. H. Rowe '91, Wm. L. Morgan '94, Eugene Murray '95, Theodore A. Waugh '99, C. E. Hungerford '99, W. E. Wittenberg '99.

Prof. Wm. Wickes, formerly a Syracusan, made one of the principal speeches.

Mr. Gilbert Wildman '04, and Mr. John Hill '05 were present from the local chapter.

FINE ARTS NOTES.

The subject for composition in painting department for the coming week is "Thanksgiving."

The Chorus, which has been steadily improving under the careful direction of Professor Phillips, is to give its first concert some time in January. The Chorus is doing good work, although a few more tenors are needed.

THE HARVEST FESTIVAL.

The Union Christian Associations gave a very pleasant entertainment last Thursday evening in Room 56 to all those students who remained in the city during the vacation.

Games were played and light refreshments served. Corn stalks and other things of similar nature were used for decorations.

The Bible study department of the Y. M. C. A. of Syracuse University is planning to hold a Bible Institute here on January 17th. W. S. Cooper of New York city is holding a series of meetings around the state.

Leon D. Heustis, a graduate from the university in the class of 1903, who has been traveling through the West with the Maude Adams company, has secured a position as chemist in the coke department of the Solvay Process company.

THE PHIS CONVENTION

The Alpha Province Convention of Phi Delta Theta a Great Success—Closed by a Grand Banquet.

One of the most successful and enthusiastic province conevntions of Phi Delta Theta was brought to a close last Thursday night by a grand banquet at the Yates.

On Wednesday evening a very enjoyable ball was given at the Empire Hall in honor of the visiting delegates.

The hall was decorated in honor of the occasion with fraternity emblems and the flags of the various colleges in the province. The stage was banked with palms, back of which the full University Orchestra of fou teen pieces furnished the music for the dancers. A Phi Delta Theta banner was displayed in front of the stage.

A new feature of college dances, a buffet lunch, was served on the lower floor. Among the guests of the ball was Dr. John Edwin Brown of Columbus, O., the grand president of the fraternity.

About eighty delegates and members of the fraternity were in attendance at the banquet last Thursday evening.

The banquet tables were set in the form of a Greek Epsilon in honor of the Syracuse chapter, and the men on the toast list faced the other members. A carnation, the fraternity flower, was placed at every plate. The flags of the various colleges were hung about the banquet hall intertwined with the fraternity emblem.

The dinner cards were unique, the front page showing a college student arrayed in cap and gown, holding up a number of college flags with his left hand and the fraternity shield with the other. Upon the shield was printed "Alpha Province of Phi Delta Theta Convention," and date. Just above the shield was an engraving of Crouse College, which when lifted up showed a steaming turkey on a plate. The inside pages of the card were devoted to the menu and toast list, and an engraving of the University Oval was placed on the back.

Dr. Balcom Shaw of New York city was the toastmaster, and he called for the following responses:

"Brotherhood in the Bond," J. Robert Rubin, New York Epsilon, '04; "With Brains, Sir," Hon. Julius Marshall Mayer, New York Delta, '86; "Once a Phi, Always a Phi," Arthur M. McCrilliss, historian, G. C., Rhode Island Alpha; "Our Government," John Edwin Brown, president Grand Council, Ohio Beta, '84; "The Ideal Fraternity," T. M. Phetteplace, president Alpha Province East, Rhode Island Alpha; "Tribute to Robert Morrison," Francis B. Cullen, New York Beta, '97; "Alumni Spirit," B. M. L. Ernst, president Alpha Province West, New York Delta, '02; "Across the Duty Line," A. C. Sellery, Quebec Alpha, '04.

The business session Thursday morning was one of the most important sessions of the convention. The delegates voted to recommend to the Grand Council the granting of a charter to a body of men in Pennsylvania State College. They also voted to meet in the next province convention at Burlington, Vt, under the auspices of the University of Vermont chapter during Thanksgiving week, 1905. The national convention will be held at Atlanta, Ga., next year.

They passed a number of resolutions thanking the Yale's management, the members of the University and Citizens clubs and the members of the local chapter and city alumni for their kindnesses during the convocation.

Thursday afternoon the delegates and their women friends occupied the first three rows at the Wieting Opera House at the matinee performance of "The Silver Slipper."

CORNS, bunions and ingrowing nails removed by Dr Jones, 217 Montgomery Street, opposite the Yates. Office hours, 8:30 to 12, 1-6, 7-8. Est. 1870.

The convention programs which were printed at the June Press for Psi Delta Theta were a credit to the fraternity and to the printer.

MAN AND MONEY READY.

Five Hundred Dollars to be Donated to Public Institutions.

Once for all we wish to impress on the minds of the students that the Original Syracuse Glove Factory, 222 West Fayette street, is the only glove factory in Syracuse and the only place where you can leave your measure and have your kid gloves made to order.

And to make this doubly impressive, we will donate to the leading hospitals in this city the sum of five hundred dollars in equal parts, upon the receipt of the address of any other straight, legitimate kid glove factory, located within the corporate limits of the city of Syracuse.

Dealers, as you are probably aware, are not manufacturers, yet there are some who are trying through cunningly arranged advertisements to create an impression that they manufacture kid gloves. They do not! They simply buy from the manufacture and sell at a large retailer's profit (as the season is short) while we as the only kid glove factory in the city making all kinds of kid gloves to order, including those for artificial hands, sell direct to the people at manufacturer's prices, which means a saving of one-half.

Take these prices, for instance, for this month only: Lady's and gent's $1.50, $3.00 and $2.50 kid gloves made to order for $1.00.

Lady's gloves reaching to elbow and shoulder; worth in every store $3.50 and $3, we make to order for $1.25 and $1 50 respectively.

We are also closing out 5,000 pairs of gloves of all kinds, ladies', gent's and children's, ranging in price from $1.00 $1.25 to $1.50, your choice for 50c. Also higher grade gloves at prices lower than any other glove dealer.

Ladies' gloves cleaned 5c pair. All gloves purchased of us kept clean free of charge. Open evenings.

Remember the number, 222 West Fayette street.

The Daily Orange announces Mr. G. Harold Merry '05, as assistant business manager.

A goodly number of men have participated in cross country running three times a week, for the past five or more weeks. They have done this with no reward in view, but sacrificed time and pleasure only that they may be in condition next Spring.

It seems that cross country running should get some recognition as a sport in our growing University. In most of the larger colleges of the East this branch of athletics is well advanced.

Perhaps it would not be amiss for the two upper classes to offer a small silver cup as a prize to the class cross country team that won from all its competitors. Such class to have its numerals inscribed on the cup, and hold possession of the cup for one year. If any class won this honor three years in succession the cup should be their property, and a new prize offered. Individual prizes for first place and for time could also be given. The first race of this kind to take place within the next six weeks.

A HARVARD STAR.

If Le Moyne, the Brookline, Mass., boy, lives up to expectations while at Harvard, he will graduate from the university with the reputation of being one of the greatest, if not the greatest, athlete the college world has ever produced.

Le Moyne entered Harvard this fall as a freshman, and his coming was hailed with delight by those who have the future of athletic sports there most at heart, for he already had a reputation in interscholastic circles as a shot-putter, an oarsman, a swimmer, a broad jumper, a baseball and football player that is of the highest and most enviable character.

Although but 20 years of age, the product of interscholastic coaching only, and following rules for training that only he himself laid down, Le Moyne is a wonder in almost any game or sport that requires strength, pluck or skill. He has hurled the 16 pound shot the phenomenal distance of 45 feet 9¼ inches, pulled an oar in a four-oared shell that was nearly equal to the force of the other three, covered 9 feet 4 inches in a standing broad jump, played a star game both in the field and at the bat on the Brookline High and Stone's school teams, has swam 60 yards in world's record time. He made the Harvard 'varsity team in this, his freshman year, and played a remarkably good game behind the line.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI.

The marriage of Miss Clara Bell Johnson and George J. Champlin, Jr., of Buffalo took place Tuesday, Nov. 24, at the home of the bride's parents in West Castle street in the presence of about 150 guests.

Miss Johnson was attended by Miss Edith Kinney of Flushing, L. I., as maid of honor and the best man was Claire Kidd Light of Oswego.

The bride was graduated from Syracuse University with the class of 1900 and is a member of the Tri-Delta sorority, and the groom, ex-99, Syracuse University, is a Psi Upsilon man. Conspicuous among the guests were the fraternity friends of the bride and groom who added to the pleasure of the occasion by frequently singing college and fraternity songs.

Mr. and Mrs. Champlin will make their home in Buffalo.

Rev. Robert B Adams '98, of Buffalo, was unable to be present at the marriage on account of sickness.

THE BLOCK LIGHT.

The Block Light; which is guaranteed to produce a light equal to three hundred candlepower, burning but one mantle, is superior in brilliancy to four of the so-called best burners combined. To get a light equal to the Block Light you would need four other burners, which would necessitate four mantles; each would consume about six feet of gas per hour, equal to twenty-four feet, while the Block Light will use about four and one-half feet, showing a saving of three extra mantles and nineteen and one-half feet of gas. The Block Light will cost less than one half cent per hour for consumption and will give a light superior in power to the four others combined, which would cost two and one-half cents per hour; the economy of gas and mantles is thus apparent. Headquarters, 5 Warren street.

THE YALE GAME.

The Management in Doubt About Place to Play--The Gymnasium Inadequate.

The management of the basketball five is in doubt about the place to have the Yale-Syracuse game. It is a recognized fact that our present gymnasium is inadequate for such a contest. The running track only could be used as a gallery. This would not hold the crowd of students desiring to see the contest.

If the game were played in the gymnasium a serious accident would be liable to occur from overcrowding the gallery. Further, the spectators would not be satisfied with accomodations, and concerted cheering of the right kind would be out of the question.

If this most important game were held in the city Armory all these difficulties would vanish. A large crowd of students would be on hand to give the Yale team a correct idea of Syracuse from every standpoint

Those who contend for the game being held down town say the Syracuse alumni would then realize the necessity of a new gymnasium on the Hill.

This important question is still hanging fire. Manager Rice is also assured of the band being present if the contest is held in the city Armory. Indications point favorably toward that location.

PHI KAPPA PSI BANQUET.

The 15th annual banquet of the Phi Kappa Psi Association of New York City was held last Saturday evening at the Waldorf-Astoria. D. J. Kelly '04 and Albert Jennings '04 were the delegates from the local chapter. A solid gold souvenir in the shape of a fraternity emblem was placed at each plate, the gift of Oscar, the celebrated Waldorf chef, who has served the banquet for many years.

NO NUMERALS FOR TRACK MEET.

The track committee, of which Prof. W. M. Smallwood is chairman, has decided not to award numerals for the preliminary track meets. Not only will no numerals be awarded this year, but the same rule will hold for all similar meets which may be held in the future. These inter-class meets, as is well known, are only of a preliminary nature. It is thought by the committee that the effort exerted in these meets is not on a par with that in the football or baseball games.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Dr. Hargitt gave an informal reception to the students in Senior Biological Seminar last night at his home in Walnut Ave.

P. D. Barnhart of this city has given the University several valuable mineral specimens from Western mines.

The Kappa Alpha Theta Alumnae will meet this afternoon with Miss Leslie West.

ALL-AMERICAN ELEVEN.

The question of the best football combinatian that can be gotten together, from the showing made for this fall, is now being discussed generally. The consensus of opinion as seen in several of the leading Eastern newspapers is the following:

In making up an All-American football team scarcely any two men will agree, but with one or two exceptions it is practically an easy matter to name the stars of the college gridiron this year. Most everyone will agree that Princeton had the two best ends in the country in Davis and Henry, although Bowditch of Harvard and Rafferty and Shevlin of Yale should come in for honorable mention. Hogan of Yale looms up as to right tackle and Knowlton of Harvard would acceptably fill the position at left tackle, not only on account of his defensive work, but also for his ability as a ground gainer.

It would be a difficult matter to find two better guards than Gilman of Dartmouth, or De Witt of Princeton, while Hooper of Dartmouth is distinctly an All-American center. On his season' work Witham of Dartmouth heads the list of quarterbacks. Mitchell of Yale is an ideal left halfback when his punting is taken into consideration, while Hurley of Harvard is named for right halfback. He has not been so brilliant as some other men, but he has played throughout the year in a consistently creditable manner. Schoellkopf of Harvard is entitled to the position of fullback.

This selection gives Princeton, Dartmouth, and Harvard three players each, with two men to Yale.

Davis, left end ..... Princeton
Knowlton, left tackle..... Harvard
Gilman, left guard..... Dartmouth
Hooper, center- ..... Dartmouth
EeWitt, right guard-..... Princeton
Hogan, right tackle..-..... Yale
Henry, right end..... Princeton
Witham, quarterback..... Dartmouth
Mitchell, left halfback..... Yale
Hurley, right halfback..... Harvard
Schoellkopf, fullback..... Harvard

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI.

The friends of Miss Cora Scott, '05, will hear with regret of the death of her mother. Mrs. Scott died of heart failure on Saturday night last.

Professors F. J. Holzworth and W. H. Metzler attended the meeting of the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Middle States and Maryland, held with Columbia University during the Thanksgiving recess.

Mr. C. D. Skinner '03 was called to Milanville, Pa., last week by the illness of his father.

Among the Thanksgiving visitors in town were Leon G. Haley, founder of the University Weekly, and W. A. Stevens, leader of last year's Glee Club.

The Department of Zoology has just issued, and now has ready for distribution, a neat volume composed of contributions by members of this department since 1891. The articles are largely by Dr. Hargitt, though each of the other professors and instructors have at least one article. This volume is the first collection of similar papers published by any department of the University.

OTHER COLLEGES.

News Gathered from Various Colleges of the Country.

The Woman's League at the University of Minnesota is endeavoring to procure sufficient funds to erect a Woman's building on the campus. The building would be used for a girls' club-house, meals would be served, and a place of meeting offered to all women students. If the plans are successful and the building erected the club-house will be the place where social events will take place, and will be made the center of women's activity.

The trophy which the Columbia University of New York will probably send on to St. Louis to be exhibited in the Trophy Room of the Physical Culture Department during the Exposition, will be the old Henley shell, a four-oared boat about fifty feet in length. The Henley shell is the only boat which was propelled by American oarsmen won at Henley. The Columbia crew of 1878 rowed in it and captured the Visitor's Cup.

Three appointments of a new kind, to be known as honorary curatorship have been made by the corporation of Harvard University in the university library. The object of the new appointments is to secure the interest and services of persons especially competent to advise the library in regard to purchases in special fields.

The proceeds from the Stanford-California game this year amounted to $25,000.

President Eliot of Harvard will speak before the students of the University of Michigan on December 8. His subject is "Democratic Remedies for Industrial Strife."

In an informal talk given recently before the women students at the University of Michigan, the speaker, an English lady, said, "The English girl is not so busy as her American sister. The class of English women corresponding to our American college women never fit themselves for anything. They study simply to get an education and for general culture. They know more about cooking and housekeeping than does the average American girl. The English colleges aim towards specialization and tend to make the students narrow minded. There are no coeducational schools in England, and this accounts in some degree for the English girl's diffident attitude toward men. Of course the English girls are athletic. They think nothing of walking twenty-five miles a day. The English girls' lack of freedom and her dependence on others, added to the strict conventionalities of the country, render her far from self-reliant. It is an awful thing for an English girl to be left without money. School teachers have no social position among the British; and for the most part, men are employed for even the youngest scholars."

An epidemic of typhoid fever has broken out at two eastern colleges, Brown and Williams. Nineteen students are affected.

The Athletic Governing Board was much surprised at its last meeting when it was found necessary to postpone the election for two student offices, because a number of the candidates for places were not up in their studies.

It is gratifying to note that the Board is looking out for the best interests of Syracuse by such strict ruling. But it is also a lamentable fact that out of such a large student body here, we cannot secure a half dozen first rate men for any student office, no matter how exacting. We have the men in our ranks for the places, and the warning given by the Board will doubtless produce good results.

Manager Earl Rice of the 'Varsity basketball has arranged the best schedule that Syracuse has ever had in this branch of sport. It is in keeping with the excellent team we have this year. The schedule was arranged under great disadvantages. Heretofore the Orange has not had the best of teams in basketball. It was this fact that the manager had to work against. He is to be commended on his very successful work.

FRATERNITY HISTORY.

PHI KAPPA PSI.

The records of the Grand Arch Council of the fraternity show that upon September 9th, 1871, a charter was granted to petitioners from the then new Syracuse University, but for reasons unknown the chapter was not established. In April, 1885, the following members of the local society of Kappa Delta were, by authority of another charter, made the charter members of New York Beta of Phi Kappa Psi: A. E. Brigden, A. W. Broadway, G. B. Deuel, H. D. Wadsworth, Eugene Wiseman, J. G. Cleveland, C. H. Longergon, A. C. Howe and E. G. Eldridge.

During the history of the local chapter two District Councils of the fraternity have been held in Syracuse. The first district council was held in 1890 at the old Hotel Leland. The second council was held last April at which D. J. Kelly '04 was elected Archon of the second district. From 1886 until 1896 the chapter house was located at 705 University Ave. On October 19, 1896, the present chapter house in College Place was formally opened with the annual initiation banquet. During the Christmas recess of 1902 the chapter house was badly damaged by fire, but was rebuilt and ready for occupancy by the end of the Easter vacation.

The present membership of New York Beta of Phi Kappa Psi is twenty-eight.

The special feature of the Cornell exhibit at the St. Louis exhibition will be a minature model of the Cornell campus, now being constructed by Professor Ogden of the college of civil engineering. The model will be of plaster of paris with raised buildings of wood and minature trees. The coloring will be carefully reproduced. The model will probably be brought back to Ithaca after the exhibition and placed in one of the university buildings.

THE BLOCK LIGHT.

The Block Light; which is guaranteed to produce a light equal to three hundred candlepower, burning but one mantle, is superior in brilliancy to four of the so-called best burners combined. To get a light equal to the Block Light you would need four other burners, which would necessitate four mantles; each would consume about six feet of gas per hour, equal to twenty-four feet, while the Block Light will use about four and one-half feet, showing a saving of three extra mantles and nineteen and one-half feet of gas. The Block Light will cost less than one-half cent per hour for consumption and will give a light superior in power to the four others combined, which would cost two and one-half cents per hour; the economy of gas and mantles is thus apparent. VOL 1. No. 63. SYRACUSE, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

THE COLLEGE ELEVENS.

How the Experts Rank the Leading Elevens—The East and West.

The usual post-season discussion on the relative position of the college elevens is now going on.

As for the ranking of the various big college elevens in the East, in view of the great beating which Dartmouth administered to Brown on Thanksgiving Day friends of the heavy New Hampshire men believe they are entitled to third place instead of Harvard, which after its good game against Yale seemed to be favored by some in spite of the fact that the Dartmouth eleven had put it over the Crimson a few weeks earlier.

Dartmouth had a wonderful team this fall and throughout the season there is no question but that the New Hampshire eleven played a far more consistent game than did Harvard or for that matter many of the so-called big elevens. After the 61-to-0 score which the Dartmouth warriors rolled up against the men from Brown last Thursday there seems to be strong reason for Dartmouth's claims.

According to one of the best posted football experts in the country, the rank of the first dozen college elevens in the East this year is as follows:

First, Princeton; second, Yale; third, Dartmouth; fourth, Harvard; fifth, Columbia; sixth, Indiana; seventh, West Point; eighth, Pennsylvania; ninth, Holy Cross; tenth, Amherst; eleventh, Lehigh; twelfth, Cornell.

The honors between the East and the West during the present season seems to rest with the East. The only two games of any real importance between Eastern and Western elevens were those between West Point and the University of Chicago and that played last week between the Indians and Northwestern. West Point defeated Chicago 10 to 6 and the Indians beat Northwestern 28 to 0. It is to be regretted that Michigan, which as usual has carried off most of the gridiron honors in the West, did not have a game with one of the big Eastern elevens.

In the number of points scored during the season, Michigan is a leader with all the important elevens of the country. Her total was 489. Only six points were scored against Michigan, these being made by the University of Minnesota in a tie game. In the East Princeton the best showing in point of points made and lost. The Tigers rolled up 259 points against their opponents, winning every game and allowing their goal line to be crossed but once and then by Yale. Yale is next to Old Nassau, with 312 points scored, to 26 against her. Of the 26 adverse tallies, ten were made by Holy Cross, five by West Point and eleven by Princeton. Dartmouth scored 242 points and had 23 scored against her. Of these 23 Princeton made 17 in the only game which the New Hampshire players lost The honor of being the only other eleven to cross the Dartmouth goal line belongs to Wesleyan, who gathered in six points by a touchdown and the resultant goal. Pennsylvania made 364 tallies, to 57 by her opponents. Columbia made 18 of the adverse points, Harvard 17, the Indians 16 and Bucknell 6. Harvard's showing in points won and lost was very poor, being 150 to 59. Amherst was the first college to score on and beat the Crimson: making five of the 57 points. Of the rest the Indians made eleven, Pennsylvania ten, Dartmouth eleven and Yale sixteen.

SMITH COLLEGE NOTES.

The repairs on the Corliss engine are nearly completed and it is expected that it will be in operation today. It was found necessary to raise the large fly wheel from its bearings and remove them. The heating of the shaft, due to failure of the oil to feed properly, had melted the surface of the babbitt and made it rough. This had to be smoothed carefully before the bearing would work properly. Messrs. Sweet and Harper have had a difficult task and may be congratulated upon its successful termination.

Some samples of different grades of iron and steel for use in the testing machine have been received from Morris Machine Works of Baldwinsville.

Mr. A. H. Sweet, the mechanician, has moved his family here from Ithaca.

THE FOOTBALL SMOKER.

The smoker to be given in honor of this fall's football squad will be held at the Phi Delta Theta house Thursday evening. The election of a captain for next year's football eleven will be held at this meeting. The candidates are Earl Boland, Joe Lane and Robert Park. The time will also be arranged for getting the team picture taken.

RECEPTION AT WINCHELL HALL.

On Friday evening from eight to ten, in the parlors of Winchell Hall, an informal reception will be held in honor of Miss Ruth Paxson, student secretary of the Young Women's Christian Association. All professors' wives and girls of the University are most cordially invited to be present.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI.

Miss Millie Louise Sarles, ex-'98, was married to Dr. Arthur Conklin Payne on Tuesday, Nov. 24, at the home of the bride's parents in Liberty, N. Y.

W. J. Boyd, '05, has returned from a trip to Virginia which he took for the purpose of regaining his health,

John Dean, '05, of Hamilton College, was a recent visitor on the Hill.

Mr. C. E. Grove of Franklinville, N. Y., was the guest of Ralph B. Holmes, '06, during the Thanksgiving vacation.

Mr. Reginald E. A. Pitman of Oswego is the guest of Mr. John R. Train at the Orange Club House.

COLSON TO COACH AT HARVARD

It was announced by the Harvard Crimson recently that F. D. Colson of Cornell, for four years coxswain of the 'varsity crew there, will come to Harvard to coach the 'varsity crew for the annual race with Yale University in June. It is expected that a radical change will be made in the methods of rowing at Harvard.

Captain Dillingham of the Cambridge eight announced that a committee, consisting of E. C. Storrow, '89, G. S. Mumford, '87, and F. L. Higginson, Jr., 1900, has been appointed to confer with the captain, instead of a single graduate head coach. Cooperating with this committee, Captain Dillingham said Mr. Colson of Cornell will coach the university crew.

It is understood that the arrangement with Mr. Colson was brought about through the influence of Professor White, the new chairman of the athletic committee at Harvard, who is a firm believer in Cornell's methods of rowing.

Colson is a graduate of Cornell University, and for the last four years he has been an instructor in the Cornell College of Law. He has received a leave of absence for the second half of the present year, and while at Harvard in the capacity of a coach, he will familiarize himself with the methods of instruction and administration at the law school. In his fourth year as coxswain on the 'varsity at Cornell, Mr. Colson was captain. For the last four years he has coached the freshman crews at Ithaca. He also has been closely associated with Charles Courtney, the well-known professional coach.

Prizes amounting to $2,555 have been offered by the College Essay Publishing Company of Boston, Mass., to be competed for by students of any college in the United States. The student will be allowed to write on any of the following subjects: (1) Literature—including essays and history—papers on psychology, on sociology and on scientific subjects; (2) Poetry; (3) College incidents and anecdotes; (4) drawings; (5) papers that have won college prizes or have been printed in college periodicals. There will be five departments in the competition: Senior, Junior, Sophomore, Freshman and Post Graduate. In each of these five departments three prizes of $150 each will be awarded to the best papers in group one; five purses of $30 each to the best poems; and other prizes of lesser amount. A member of a freshman class will compete with freshmen only.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Men entitled to their block S can secure them from the custodian by presenting the card properly signed by the secretary.

During the past week the office and private laboratories of the Chemistry Department have been wired for electric lights.

It has been officially announced that Harvard will have Mr. Colson, a graduate of Cornell, as head coach of her crews for next spring. At the same time Harvard will not relinquish graduate coaching in this branch of athletics. She has therefore named three graduates who will assist Mr. Colson in his coaching.

The Daily Orange recently took the stand that practically the same system should be adopted for football here next fall. We urged that the head coach also be a graduate, but if none could be found that we should obtain a first class head coach elsewhere, and have several graduates of Syracuse as his assistants.

We still urge in the interests of the students that this system be adopted. We believe that the example of Harvard is worthy of thorough consideration in solving our own problem.

RYDER'S

One Way of Doing It.

From Paris comes an amusing bit of information. In order to look one's prettiest it is, of course, essential to have a curl or two on the forehead. It has been found difficult to achieve this when motoring, but the Parisinne overcomes the difficulty with great success by providing herself with detachable curls and fixing them securely to her hat, which in its turn is held in place by a motoring veil tied under her chin.

A Good Motto.

It would be difficult to find in the story of Sir Henry Stanley's adventurous life a more characteristic trait of the man than the answer he gave to his first employer when asked what he could do. "Anything," came the prompt and confident reply, "that a boy of my age and strength could be expected to do." This saying might well have been adopted as the explorer's life motto.

Our Total Farming Area.

The total area used for farming purposes in the United States is 841,000,000 acres, an area larger than England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, France, Germany, Austria, Spain, Japan and the Transvaal. There are 10,438,000 persons engaged in the agricultural pursuits, while all other industries employ but 18,845,000. One-third of the people are, therefore, devoted to farming.

Pa Was to Blame.

"Jane, why don't you stay at home evenings, instead of walking around with that young man?"

"It's all pa's fault."

"Your pa's fault? Why?"

"He insisted on lighting the house with electricity, and you can't turn electricity down."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Their Numbers Are Increasing.

Of women sanitary inspectors there are over 40 in England and Wales, six in Scotland, and five in Ireland, about 140 women being engaged in various kinds of sanitary work. Under the home office there are seven lady factory inspectors, four under the local government board and five under the L. C. C.

Very Different.

"Women are very different from men."

"Of course, they are, but what difference do you wish to specify?"

"Men become members of 'ancient' orders of this and that and the other, but women must join the very newest organizations."—Detroit Free Press.

To Clean Glass.

Wash windows, mirrors, glass over pictures, etc., with water as hot as can be used, containing a few drops of ammonia. Polish at once with a dry linen towel. They will shine and keep clean longer than when washed with soap.

News Gathered from Various Colleges of the Country.

The seventeenth annual convention of eastern schools and colleges was held at Columbia University last Friday and Saturday. The general topic discussed was The Elective System in Secondary Schools. President Remsen of Johns Hopkins University spoke on Some Unsolved Educational Problems. On Saturday the subject for discussion was Athletics in their Mutual Relations to Schools and Colleges.

That the Yale Commons is not a place to throw food about on the tables and floor and that Yale students should act as gentlemen anyway, is the point made in a communication published recently in the Yale News. The writer says: "Of the eight hundred and odd men who take their meals at the dining hall there are a few, possibly as many as a dozen, who make it a practice to throw food about at the different tables or on the floor. It is humiliating to invite some alumnus or some visitor from abroad to the hall. Such conduct is degrading the finest dining hall in the country to the condition of a Bowery restaurant.

THE BLOCK LIGHT.

The Block Light; which is guaranteed to produce a light equal to three hundred candlepower, burning but one mantle, is superior in brilliancy to four of the so-called best burners combined. To get a light equal to the Block Light you would need four other burners, which would necessitate four mantles; each would consume about six feet of gas per hour, equal to twenty-four feet, while the Block Light will use about four and one-half feet, showing a saving of three extra mantles and nineteen and one-half feet of gas. The Block Light will cost less than one-half cent per hour for consumption and will give a light superior in power to the four others combined, which would cost two and one-half cents per hour; the economy of gas and mantles is thus apparent. VOL 1. No. 64. SYRACUSE, N. Y., THURSDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

SOPHOMORE'S PRESIDENT CAPTURED BY 1907.

Freshman Banquet a Great Surprise--Held at Midnight in Globe Hotel.

After weeks of waiting and watching by the sophomores, the 1907 banquet came as a complete surprise. The news of the great banquet was not definetly known by the 1906 president Oscar Brown, until 7.30 p. m.

Even after the sophs were awakened by the freshman plans, the arrangements were so perfect that no serious hindrance occured.

The 1906 men tried to capture various prominent freshmen, but in nearly every case failed. Some of the first year men however were handled rather roughly both on the Hill and near the hotel.

The banquet took place at midnight at the Globe Hotel. Nearly two hundred freshmen with their fair ladies were in attendance.

The following responded to toasts, Robert Sheldon acting as toastmaster; President Arthur Hartigan, Messrs Harry Woolever and A. Ferris, the Misses Virginia Emens and Johnson.

At 8.30 o'clock the 1907 men captured Oscar Brown, president of the sophs; and Curtess last year's 'varsity coxswain. They kept these men and entertained them in fitting manner. The whole affair was a great success,

FOOTBALL STATISTICS.

H. A. Curtiss, law '07, was born in Portland, Maine, Feb. 19, 1883. He prepared for college in Newburyport High School at Newbury, Mass., from which school he was graduated in 1902. He entered Syracuse University this fall and during the football season filled the position of halfback and fullback. Weight, 175 pounds; height, 5 feet 10½ inches.

O. D. Parker, law '06, half back, was born August 11, 1880, at Corry, Penn. He was graduated from Jamestown High School, Jamestown, N. Y., in 1902 and entered Syracuse that fall. While a member of Jamestown High School, Parker played fullback on the football team of that school. He is 5 feet 7 inches in height and weighs 165 pounds

L. E. Burrell, end, resides in Canisteo, N. Y., where he was born November 30, 1882. While attending Canisteo High School, he was very prominent in athletics, being captain of both the baseball and football teams. He entered the philosophical course of Syracuse University in the fall of 1902, and last fall entered the Law College. Weight, 145 pounds; height, 5 feet 6 inches.

W. J. Crawford, law '07, is a resident of Cazenovia, where he was born May 23, 1884. Before entering Syracuse he attended Cazenovia Seminary for three years. He played guard, tackle and fullback on the football team supported by that institution. In 1902 he attend-

READING OF OTHELLO

Professor F. D. Losey is to give a reading of the tragedy, "Othello", in Crouse College hall, Thursday, Dec. 10. This reading is to be given under the auspices of the English Club. This club is to manage the affair.

The reading of this, one of the greatest plays of Shakespere, will be of special interest just at this time because the large class, which is taking up the critical study of Shakespere's plays under Professor Losey has just finished an extended examination of the text.

Professor Losey at first intended to give a formal reading of the entire play, but since the English Club has decided to give "King Lear" in April, he has felt that he could not give the time that would be necessary to give the reading satisfactorily. The reading arranged for will be about an hour and a half in length, omitting the comparatively unimportant parts.

Professor Losey last year gave a very satisfactory reading of "Macbeth" after the class had finished reading the text. There were a large number present and very favorable comments were given on all sides. From this it is thought that a reading of "Othello" given at this time will be very well attended.

The entire receipts will be expended by the English Club for the purchase of old English manuscripts. These volumes, which are well bound, will be a very valuable addition to the department library and for this purpose it will be necessary to raise the sum of $200.

Further plans will be discussed at the meeting of the Shakespere class this morning. Mr. Paterson, president of the English Club, will present the matter to the class. The tickets will be placed on sale this morning. The price is twenty-five cents.

CHANCELLOR SPEAKS IN CHAPEL.

Chancellor James R, Day gave the students, who attended chapel yesterday, a brief talk on study as a brain developer. As usual it was clear and concise. He said some young people made a mistake in trying to get into their life work too early.

AT THE BASTABLE.

"Alphonse and Gaston" a musical play based on Opper's comic drawings, will be the attraction for the rest of the week. There are many pretty girls and catchy musical pieces in it.

THE GERMAN CLUB.

"Der Deutsche Verein" met Tuesday the 1st of December, in the gymnasium with Dr. Holzwarth presiding. Short anecdotes were related by various members. The Messrs. Henderson and Birdsall rendered several instrumental selections, Dr. Otto and Miss L. Kupfer a vocal duet. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in games and songs. Refreshments were served.

Prof. C. C. Bushnell will give in the Greek Room of the Hall of Languages a lecture upon Italy, illustrated by the lantern before two divisions of Latin I at 3:00 p. m., Thursday, Dec. 3. Visitors are welcome.

FRESHMEN CREW CANDIDATES.

The 1907 Men Called Out by Robert Stone, Varsity Captain—Promising Prospects.

More than fifty freshmen turned out at 6:15 p. m. at Smith College yesterday, and reported to Robert Stone, captain of the Varsity, as candidates for the 1907 crew.

Captain Stone considers the men as promising material. He will not put them at work on the machines until after the Christmas holidays. At that time Coach Ten Eyck will be here to take full charge

The men who report before the holidays will be given cross country running three times a week, except when the weather is bad, when the candidates will be given indoor training.

Regular work on the machines will be in order for both Varsity and freshman candidates after the holidays. The prospect for winning crews this year is very bright. For the Varsity there will be three of last June's boat, and seven of the great 1906 eight.

THE HARVARD STADIUM

Harvard's mammoth new stadium, which was used in the great gridiron battle between Harvard and Yale, is the finest structure of its kind in all the world.

Built in the shape of an immense horseshoe around a quarter mile cinder track and looming up into the air to such a height that it makes one dizzy to look towards the ground far below, the vast amphitheater at once has all the massiveness and grandeur of the old playgrounds at Rome and Athens, where gladiators used to die and kings used to applaud in days gone by.

Approximately, the stadium cost $2 0,000, of which $100,000 was given by the members of the class of '79 and the remainder was turned in by Harvard's athletic committee out of funds saved from the receipts of football and other games for several years past. With the latter sum the foundations and substructure were built, while with the money given by the old grads. the superstructure was erected. In acknowledgement of their gift the '79 boys, many with heads already streaked with gray, sat in the center section on the Harvard side, at the Yale game, where they cheered lustily for the eleven and were, in turn, cheered lustily by Crimson undergraduates.

Scarcely six months ago Harvard and Yale were playing baseball on a smooth green grass diamond where the present huge structure stands. Work, indeed, did not begin until after classday in June, but since then things have been pushed forward with a celerity that has few parallels in modern engineering. Credit for this progress is almost entirely due to Professor Ira N. Hollis, former chairman of Harvard's athletic committee, from whom the first suggestion of a stadium first came and who has had personal supervision of every detail connected with its construction. It is also curious to note in this connection that a large number of Harvard men (students in the Lawrence Scientific School) have been employed on the work, so that the stadium today represents the thought, the money, the ideas, the planning and the manual labor of Harvard men.

As it stood at the time of the Yale game, the stadium, plus the temporary wooden seats at the end of the horseshoe, had an official seating capacity of 34,475, with an increased capacity of 3,500 seats erected in odd corners of the field. The total capacity thus was 37,975, seats and it is no exaggeration to say that with those who stood on the sidelines and were admitted by special order to other field privileges, close on to 40,000 persons witnessed the game.

Interest in Orange aquatics has been aroused by the first call to the 1907 men by the 'Varsity Captain, Robert Stone. The prospects for winning 'Varsity and freshman crews are most promising, as shown in the article on page one.

The idea that a man has no chance to make the 'Varsity this year because he has not had previous experience is fallacious.

Captain Stone wishes every man who has the physical strength to come out and try for the 'Varsity. Every position in the boat is open to competition.

It is probable that the freshman class will turn out the largest and best amount of freshman crew material ever seen at Syracuse.

Every man in college should take an interest in this distinctive branch of Syracuse athletics The Orange standard was taken well to the front at Poughkeepsie last summer by our 'Varsity and great freshman eights All loyal Syracusans hope for even better results next summer under the able coaching of Mr. Ten Eyck.

THE BLOCK LIGHT.

The Block Light; which is guaranteed to produce a light equal to three hundred candlepower, burning but one mantle, is superior in brilliancy to four of the so-called best burners combined. To get a light equal to the Block Light you would need four other burners, which would necessitate four mantles; each would consume about six feet of gas per hour, equal to twenty-four feet, while the Block Light will use about four and one-half feet, showing a saving of three extra mantles and nineteen and one-half feet of gas. The Block Light will cost less than one-half cent per hour for consumption and will give a light superior in power to the four others combined, which would cost two and one-half cents per hour; the economy of gas and mantles is thus apparent. PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING OF THE COLLEGE YEAR BY THE STUDENTS OF SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY.

VOL 1. No. 65. SYRACUSE, N. Y., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

THE JUNIOR PROMENADE.

One of the Greatest Social Functions of the Year--To be Held December 17 in the Alhambra.

The Junior Promenade will be given December 17, in the new Alhambra by Monx Head. The Junior men in this society have been working and planning for several weeks on this important social function. It will be the most largely attended and successful Prom ever held, according to the present outlook.

The complaint is going around the Hill even now that most of the desirable young ladies are already taken. A larger influx of young men and women from out of town will occur at this time than ever before at similar functions.

Many college men from New York state and elsewhere are coming on the invitation of their Syracuse friends. Amherst, Colgate, Cornell, Hamilton, Columbia, the University of Buffalo and several other eastern colleges will be represented in this social gathering.

The sophomore cotillion will not be held this year, and the quota of men intending to go to that affair will be in evidence at the Junior function.

Monx Head has nearly perfected arrangements for everything in connection with the Prom. Frank M. Bohr, chairman of the poster contest, wishes it understood that Saturday, December 5, is the last day on which posters can be handed in.

The tickets have been on sale for two weeks past, and are being rapidly disposed of. They can be obtained from any of the following Juniors, Frank M. Bohr, George Wendt, Edward Greenland, Harry B. Yard, J. Arthur Distin, Frank Brundage and Erie Ackley.

THE DEBATING SOCIETIES.

The class debating societies held their regular meetings last evening. The men in the societies are doing good honest work, which augurs well for the coming interclass and intercollegiate debates.

The Senior Debate club contended over the question: Resolved, That the protective tariff advocated by Joseph Chamberlin would contribute to the industrial welfare of the British Empire.

Affirmative—Warren, Ferguson, and Sowers. Negative—Heal, Baldrey and McLachlan.

The Junior class society discussed the question: Resolved, That athletics as presently conducted in the larger American colleges do not tend to promote the best moral, intellectual and physical welfare of the student body.

The Sophomore Debate club had the question to decide: Resolved, That some form of compulsory arbitration should be established to settle the disputes between capital and labor when such disputes interfere with the common interests of the community.

Affirmative—Wilcox, Grant, Chandler, Becker, alternate. Negative—Collings, Anderson, Jacobson, Curtiss, alternate.

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIP.

The trustees of the will of the late Mr. C. J. Rhodes have prepared the following memorandum for the information of college authorities, and candidates for scholarships in the United States.

The first election of scholars in the United States under the Rhodes bequest will be made between February and May, 1904. A qualifying examination will be held within this period in each state and territory, or at centres which can be easily reached. This is intended to give assurance that all candidates are fully qualified to enter on a course of study at Oxford University.

The Rhodes scholars will be selected from candidates who have successfully passed this examination. One scholar will be chosen from each state and territory to which scholarships are assigned.

Candidates must be prepared for questions on the following: Arithmetic, complete as studied in the grade schools; either elementary algebra or plane geometry; Greek and Latin grammar; Latin prose composition, Greek and Latin authors as studied in the high schools of the state.

The papers will be prepared by examiners appointed by the trustees, and will be sent to each center, where, at a date publicly announced, the examination will be held under proper supervision, and the papers returned to the examiners.

Scholars must have reached the end of their sophomore year in some recognized degree-granting university or college of the United States. Scholars must be unmarried, citizens of the United States, and between nineteen and twenty five years of age.

Candidates may compete either in the state in which they are pursuing their education, or in the state in which they live Candidates for scholarship should, during the month of January, 1904, notify the chairman of the committee of selection in the state or territory for which they apply, or the head of the university appointing to the scholarship of their intention to present themselves for examination.

The men to whom these scholarships are awarded are each to receive $1,500 a year, and are to study for three years at Oxford University. Each student may choose his college at Oxford, as there is no restriction in the will. No student is to be disqualified for election to scholarship on account of race or religious opinion: in the selection character and manliness are to count as much as scholarship.

"Oxford As It Is," by Mr. Louis Dyer '74 of Harvard and Baliol College, a small pamphlet for the use of American candidates, containing all essential information in a condensed form, can be obtained from Macmillan & Co., Fifth Avenue, New York City.

OTHER COLLEGES.

News Gathered from Various Colleges of the Country.

The student-body at Stanford has begun the consideration of adopting the honor system, which has long been in successful operation at Princeton and a few other eastern universities The plan provides for the removal of matters of discipline from the faculty into the hands of the students. This applies especially to the matter of cheating or "cribbing" in examinations. Under this scheme the professors and instructors would be relieved of the burden of detecting students who use unfair methods in examinations, and the students would be placed strictly upon their honor. The students themselves would detect and punish by dismissal from college any of their classmates who received aid or employed other dishonest means in examinations. A thorough discussion has begun and the measure will probably be voted upon at the student-body election in December.

The students at Northwestern University are urging the faculty to purchase the old Evanston boat club and turn it into a students' club and commons. It is felt that a place of meeting for the whole student-body would give great impetus to the consolidation of Northwestern spirit. At present there is no place where the men can assemble. The projectors of the new plan feel their efforts may be successful.

The Medical building at the University of Minnesota has become the point of attack of a band of sneak thieves who within the last few days have taken six overcoats and $50 belonging to students.

The Dramatic Club at Brown University has chosen Sheridan's "Rivals" for its Spring presentation.

Now that the women in the English classes at Northwestern University have exhausted their adjectives describing man's vanity and general worthlessness the men have entered the adjective hurling contest by declaring the women to be "silly, gossipy, insipid, and the possessors of cat-like hair and Jersey-cow eyes."

The total registration at Harvard is 4,291.

Yale has chosen as the three judges for the annual Yale-Harvard debate, the following: President, W. H. P. Faunce of Brown University; Police Commissioner Francis V. Greene of New York and John G. Milburn of Buffalo.

FINE ARTS NOTES.

The new fraternity Alpha Sigma Mu composed of the men of the musical department will hold its first annual banquet at the Warner Thursday evening.

The "Lady of Shalott" is the subject given to the painting students for the compositions for the remainder of this term.

It is expected that the first meeting of the Fine Art Fakirs will be held next week.

Next Thursday Professor Losey will give a public reading of "Othello" in Crouse college. This will be done under the auspices of the English Club, and with a most worthy object. The desire of the club is to raise a sum of money to buy new books and manuscripts for the department library.

The students in the Shakespere and English classes are very enthusiastic over the matter. They are working earnestly and hard for success, and should be given the hearty support of all the students.

MAKING FICTION.

The sensational story in yesterday's Post-Standard about the Freshman banquet was quite a strain on the imagination it seems. The incident of a 1907 young lady escaping through a first floor window from some sophomores, was twisted so that it appeared a young man rescued her by catching her as she jumped from an upper story.

BELLE MEAD SWEETS.

A FEW TOASTS.

THEY ARE OLD BUT RETAIN THEIR FLAVOR LIKE BELLE MEAD SWEETS.

Here's real pain to our sham friends,
And Champagne to our real friends,
And Belle Mead Sweets to our best friends.
Here's to bride and sister-in-law
Here's to groom and father-in-law
Here's to sister and brother-in-law
Here's to friends and friends-in-law
But you need not fear your motherinlaw
If
You feed her on Belle Mead Sweets.
Come in the evening
Or come in the morning
Come when you're looked for
Or come without warning
A thousand welcomes
You'll find here before you
And the oftener you come here
The more I adore you
Because
You always bring Belle Mead Sweets.

RYDER'S

Kaiser and His Sons.

So keen is the German emperor on his younger sons obtaining a thorough knowledge of warfare that he insists that some portion of their day shall be devoted to playing at soldiers. The youngsters receive periodical instruction to build fortifications of earth and mud, and the result of their labors is criticised by a military expert. The crown prince, by the way, is skilled as a carpenter, while the kaiser himself, having been taught to design buildings as a youth, is capable of following the profession of an architect.

Disraeli Was a Coward.

The late earl of Beaconsfield was gifted with any amount of political and moral courage, but he was an abject coward physically. When he was still plain Mr. Disraeli his wife once said of him: "Benjamin is the greatest coward I ever saw. Why, do you know I always have to pull the string of his shower bath?" And the great man was fain to confess that this was actually the case.

Chinese Plows.

Chinese farmers use a plow that is very small and with but one handle, the moldboard having but a few inches of surface. It simply scratches the top of the soil and is frequently drawn by men and women. The Chinese have no conception of deep plowing and it would be contrary to their traditional agricultural training to turn the valuable surface soil underneath.

Notable Relic.

The wine flagon of Admiral Bruey's captured by Lord Nelson and given by him to Lady Hamilton, was recently sold in a London auction room. The flagon is engraved on one side, "Nelson to Emma, in commemoration of the victory of the Nile, Vanguard, September 29, 1798. My fortieth birthday."

When the Japs Are Pleased.

In some parts of Japan the people have a queer way of showing their appreciation of fine acting. They throw portions of their clothing on the stage and after the performance redeem the articles, the money going to the actor or actress who has excited their admiration.

After Midnight.

"Just think," said Mr. Staylate, "this is the first time I've seen you in nearly two months."

"Yes," replied Miss Bord, suppressing a yawn.

"Did—er—anyone call on you last night?"

"Last night?" she repeated, ostentatiously glancing at the clock. "No one but you."—Philadelphia Press.

THE BLOCK LIGHT.

The Block Light; which is guaranteed to produce a light equal to three hundred candlepower, burning but one mantle, is superior in brilliancy to four of the so-called best burners combined. To get a light equal to the Block Light you would need four other burners, which would necessitate four mantles; each would consume about six feet of gas per hour, equal to twenty-four feet, while the Block Light will use about four and one-half feet, showing a saving of three extra mantles and nineteen and one-half feet of gas. The Block Light will cost less than one half cent per hour for consumption and will give a light superior in power to the four others combined, which would cost two and one-half cents per hour; the economy of gas and mantles is thus apparent. VOL 1. No. 66. SYRACUSE, N. Y., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1903. PRICE TWO CENTS

THE BAND CONCERT.

An Excellent Program to be Given in Crouse College on December 16-- Third Annual Concert.

The University Band will give its third annual concert in John Crouse College of Fine Arts on Wednesday evening, December 16. The Band has been practicing faithfully since college opened. It promises to give the students the best band concert ever heard on the Hill.

The University Band is a permanent feature in the student life. It has had a hard, up-hill struggle for existence since its establishment. The management and those interested in it still stick everlasting at work, and but for their unfailing effort the University would lack this essential feature of a large university.

The manager, C. Claire Bateman, 1904, promises a first class program for the concert. Several new features will be introduced that are certain to please the student body.

The concert comes the evening before the Junior Prom, and there will be present at it many out of town guests. The price for the concert is moderate. Tickets may be secured from Manager Bateman or any member of the band.

PERSONAL AND ALUMNI.

One of the weddings of interest to Syracusans occurred Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. C. McHuron, No. 213 Cortland avenue, when her daughter, Miss Blanche Marie McHuron, became the wife of Charles Jerome Jewell, '99-ex, of this city.

The ceremony was performed by the groom's father, Rev. C. E. Jewell of Geneva, formerly pastor of the Furman Street M. E. Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewell left for Boston and other places in the East on their wedding trip.

The bride is well known in social circles, and the groom is a successful young dentist, a graduate of the University of Buffalo, a former student in Syracuse University and a member of the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity.

ROBERT PARK CAPTAIN.

Robert Park 1605, was elected captain of next year's football eleven, at the Smoker held at the Phi Delta Theta house. "Bob" Park prepared at the Syracuse High School and entered the University in the fall of 1901. He played substitute half back his first two years. This year he played regularly as half back or full back.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Senior records for the 1905 Onondagan should be handed in at once. No records will be received after Dec. 19. Records may be handed to any member of the Committee.

The members of the Senior Class Debating Society will meet next Tuesday at Ryder's to have their pictures taken.

AT THE BASTABLE.

It is claimed that the production of the new musical comedy "The Good Old Summer Time" which begins a week's engagement at the Bastable on Monday will be a revalation to the patrons of popular priced theatres, as nothing so lavishly costumed and staged and presenting so large a company has ever been seen outside of the highest priced houses. The press of Chicago and St. Louis are unanimous in their praise of the new production, espesially of its chorus singing and magnificent costuming and staging, pronouncing it superior to anything in the musical comedy line seen in those cities in recent years. The company is headed by George "Honey Boy" Evans, who has long been a popular vaudeville and minstrel star. Mr. Evans is well known as the author of the song "In The Good Old Summer Time" from which the new piece takes its title.

Because the football men have left the training table at the dormitory at Northwestern University, and in order to keep the building occupied until spring, the athletic association has decided to "board students at a nominal figure." Horace Butterworth is to be landlord.

OTHER COLLEGES.

News Gathered from Various Colleges of the Country.

At the International Livestock Exposition, held in Chicago this week, was held the third annual convention of the American Federation of Agricultural Students. The organization was formed in December, 1901, and purposes the advancement of the interests of all agricultural students and graduates. Recognizing a need for more universal acquaintance with men in their business the students of the nine largest agricultural schools of the West have taken this means of promoting fellowship. The colleges of agriculture represented are Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, Purdue, South Dakota, and Guelph, Ont. Each institution sends a representative to take part in the annual program and a delegation of students to attend the banquet and students' judging contest. Last evening was college night at the exposition.

A silver cup has been presented to the University of California to be competed for by different debating clubs. On the trophy will be engraved the names of the members of winning teams. until the cup comes into permanent possession of one of the societies.

NEW FOOTBALL RULES.

The many football men and others, who, in the early season were dissatisfied with the new rules of this fall, have come to a favorable view of the same after the try out of the season.

Now that the season is over there is no longer any doubt that the new rules have come to stay; or rather, the more open style of play brought about by the new rules has come to stay. The rules themselves will probably be further modified along the lines of the changes made last winter and the tendency is to lessen still more, smashing and hammering tactics of the game. Since early in the season there has been heard in no quarter the criticism that the new rules were confusing. There was much talk to some such effect on the part of the old time coaches before the season actually got under way, but when once the new rules got a practical test and their use showed beyond question that open play, end runs and spectacular gains went with them of necessity, talk of that sort died away and during the playing of the important games of the last few weeks, with their superabundance of kicking and open play of all sorts, not a single word of real complaint has been heard in any quarter against them. On the other hand, the cry is for more changes along the same lines.

One eminent football expert and critic says on this subject:
